Tuna Boat Seized By Peru

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Peruvian naval vessels seized an American tuna fishing boat after firing on it and four sister boats today more than 20 miles off the coast of Peru, according to reports reaching Washington.

U.S. officials said they had received reports that two of the American boats, including the one taken into port, were damaged by the gunfire.

Both the White House and the State Department showed concern over the reports. Neither said it could confirm them immediately.

The White House said if reports of the incident were correct, "we would of course look on this matter with utmost concern."

Ronald Ziegler, White House press secretary, said President Nixon was looking into the report of the latest of a series of incidents involving U.S. tuna fleets off Peru.

Rep. Thomas M. Pelly, R-Wash., said the two vessels, which he identified as the Mariner and the San Juan,—both believed to be out of San Diego, Calif. —were fired on and damaged by Peruvian gunboats.

The Mariner was then taken into a Peruvian port, Pelly said. At last report, he said, the San Juan had been chased into waters claimed by Ecuador.

Pelly said the reports, from San Diego, placed the Mariner 23 miles at sea when attacked. The San Juan, he said, was last reported trying to out run a Peruvian gun boat and been pursued to a point 15 miles within waters claimed by Ecuador.

Several Latin American countries claim jurisdiction up to 200 miles out to sea. The claims are not recognized by the United

Bomb Threat Empties Center

An anonymous bomb threat emptied the Marin County Civic Center at 10 a.m. today, sending occupants into the street (above) and furnishing them an extra escalator ride (right) when the all-clear sounded.

Sheriff's deputies, led by Undersheriff Sidney Stinson, searched all four floors of the structure and reported they could find nothing out of the ordinary.

County Administrator Alan Bruce declined to reveal the name of the woman employee who got the threatening call about 9 a.m. He said the male caller told her that a bomb had been planted in the building and she should leave.

Bruce said he was notified between 9:15 and 9:30 and immediately called the sheriff, who ran a check of the building. "Then we made a mutual decision to evacuate." The building was cleared in five minutes.

About 500 employees, the assessment appeals board members and several visiting citizens marched out toward the parking area and stayed outside for about 20 minutes until the sheriff's deputies gave the all-clear sign.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said this is the tihird time that the building has been cleared since it opened in 1962. "I think the first one was also a bomb scare."

Nixon Forms Agency With Agnew As Boss

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today created a new "Office of Intergovernmental Relations" in charge of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew. Nixon assigned it the job of "strengthening federal, state and local relations."

The President signed an executive order in the Cabinet room, with Agnew alongside, setting up the new agency.

"By this action the vice president will become more directly and vitally involved in our efforts to move government closer to the people and to make it more responsive to their will," Nixon said in a statement.

Former Gov. Nils Aboe of South Dakota, a Republican, was named director of the new office.

The office, under Agnew's supervision, is to serve as a clearing house for the prompt handling and solution of federal-state-local problems brought to the attention of the White House by state or local officials, the executive order said.

Other functions include encouraging maximum cooperation among federal, state and local agencies and helping to make "the federal executive more sensitive and receptive to the views of state and local officials and to serve as the focal point where specific difficulties may be resolved," Nixon said.

The President expressed the hope that the new office will assure state and local officials access to the highest offices of the federal government and he said its overriding objective would be to bring together federal, state and local governments "in order to provide a more balance system of government."

"I want to wish the vice president well in his new assignment," Nixon said after he had signed the order in the Cabinet room.

Klan Boss Set To Enter Prison

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—Robert M. Shelton, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, surrendered today to federal marshals to begin a one-year prison term for refusing to show to a congressional committee records of his "invisible empire."

The balding, 38-year-old Shelton, accompanied by attorney Fred Blanton Jr., walked into the office of U.S. Marshal Roy L. Call shortly before 8 a.m.

The Klan chieftain was convicted Sept. 14, 1968 of contempt of Congress for refusing to turn over to the House Unamerican Activities Committee, records, books, tax returns and other secret papers.

Striking teachers capitulated today at San Jose State College, a bomb blast echoed on the empty San Francisco State College campus last night and 36 students, teachers and other demonstrators at the University of California in Berkeley face charges following a wild outburt on campus.

Effect of the San Jose development could not immediately be determined at San Francisco State, where the American Federation of Teachers local also is out on strike.

San Jose State teachers have voted to return to work today but have failed to ratify a settlement of their strike that began Jan. 8.

"We're badly split," said an AFT spokesman in reporting the 42-25 vote, with one abstention, to return to the job today, the last day of registration for the spring semester. Classes resume Monday.

He added that after the vote and a 13-hour debate followed on the strike settlement, the president, treasurer, and acting secretary of the campus AFT local all resigned. The administration-offered settlement was rejected 24 to 7.

Secret Memo Bares Disruption Strategy

The Black Panther Party is responsible for organizing protests by Negro students at some Bay Area high schools.

Its role is disclosed in a confidential memorandum prepared for student organizers, which was dropped by a student as he left a black students' meeting at an Oakland high school, and has come into the possession of the Independent-Journal.

The four-paged mimeographed instructions, titled "Organization of the Black High School Student — Some Basic Guidelines" does not refer to the Black Panther Party by name. However, it says that members of the "hard core steering committee" set up to organize the black students "should meet as many times a week as possible with a member of the BPPNC, who will provide a link between them and the party." And again: "Their first loyalty must be to the BPPNC, from which they will receive direct orders."

BPPNC stands for Black Panther Party National Committee.

The instructions go into detail on just how black students shall be brought to protest. The pattern prescribed has been followed quite closely in uprisings at several schools which were ostensibly organized by the Black Students Union.

The "basic guidelines" call for a "hard core steering committee," an "off-campus group," and an "umbrella organization."

The hard core steering committee, says the memorandum, "must be made up of trained, disciplined bloods who attend the high school," Besides meeting "as many times a week as possible with a member of the BPPNC," it says, "these hard-core bloods should attend party meetings and should be active members of the party, if possible. . . For security reasons the groups should be small, possibly five or six. They should be as uptight or more uptight than the average party member."

Further, it says, members of this group will require "several months of intensive study and training . . . before they will be able to carry on the functions of the party at their school."

The off-campus group is described as follows:

"These hard-core brothers will comprise the central committee of a black nationalist organization . . . who will hold their meetings off-campus." Its work will include "passing out leaflets, selling newspapers, talking to fellow black students, etc."

Members of this group "must be given at least one session a week in . . . black history, political philosophy, organizing techniques, karate, and any other subjects which the party leaders see as being necessary."

Policy for the off-campus group "will be set by the BPPNC, through the hard-core steering committee."

Creating the "umbrella organization" is the first job for the organization on campus. It should be set up to give all black students a chance to discuss whatever problems they wish, says the memorandum, "and no black student should be forced out as long as he is sincere in trying to get the problems solved." But, "It must be understood that this is a black

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan's defenders said today that at the moment Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was shot, Sirhan "was out of contact with reality, in a trance in which he had no voluntary control over his will, his judgment, his feelings or his action."

The 24-year-old Jordanian was pictured as "an immature, emotionally disturbed and mentally ill youth who wrote in a memorandum at the time of the 1967 Arab-Israeli war that "he wants to be recorded by history as the man who triggered off the last war."

Emile Zola Berman, one of three attorneys defending Sirhan on a charge he murdered Kennedy, told the jury in opening arguments that Sirhan had fantasies in which "he was often a hero and saviour of the people."

"In the realities of life, however, he was small, helpless, isolated, confused and bewildered by emotions over which he had no control. He was unable to plan or think clearly, unable to maintain any meaningful direction to his life", the attorney said.

Bomb Rips Trade Area, Injuring 27

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges reopened today with clerks using blackboards and chalk in place of electronic quotation boards torn up by a time bomb that wrecked the trading floor and injured 27 persons.

Charles Neapole, president of the Montreal Stock Exchange, had announced after the explosion yesterday that business would not resume until Monday.

The bomb exploded over the trading floor in a corner of the visitors' gallery, scattering debris over 50 visitors and 300 persons on the floor below. Five of the 27 injured suffered severe cuts.

Several minutes before the explosion, which occurred about 40 minutes before the 3 p.m. closing, police received an anonymous tip that an explosive device had been planted in the 47-story building housing the exchange on Victoria Square, in the heart of the financial district.

It was the third explosion in Montreal this week and the eighth this year. During similar incidents several years ago, separatist groups seeking the secession of Quebec from Canada usually scrawled the letters of their organization at the site, but there have been no such clues this year.

Explosions Monday and Tuesday were directed at Canadian armed forces buildings.

B52s Pound Routes Leading Into Saigon

SAIGON (UPI)—In the heaviest bombing of 1969, U.S. B52s dropped 2.5 million pounds of bombs on positions of some 40,000 Communist troops threatening Saigon, military spokesmen said today.

The bombing the past 48 hours struck 14 guerrilla strongholds on trails leading to the capital where American and Allied troops have been mobilized to meet a Communist offensive in the surrounding 11 provinces.

Communist forces in South Vietnam are scheduled to open a weeklong cease-fire tomorrow morning in observance of the Tet lunar new year holidays. Informed South Vietnamese government sources said the Allies probably will call a 36 to 48 hour truce. But the Communists used last year's Tet for their greatest nationwide offensive against cities and Allied intelligence said they are planning to try again this holiday season.

An unarmed U.S. Army UH1 ambulance helicopter was shot down 30 miles northwest of Saigon, wounding two crewmen.

Inside Saigon, where GIs now go armed even to mess halls, Viet Cong terrorists hand grenaded two South Vietnamese offices. They tried to blow up a U.S. Navy compound power generator but an alert guard spotted the bomb which was safely removed.

Wilson Pays Berlin Visit

BERLIN (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson came to West Berlin today reaffirming Britain's duty to see that the city's freedom is preserved.

The British leader arrived from Bonn as the Soviet Union and East Germany put on more pressure in their attempt to force transfer of the West German presidential election out of this surrounded city.

"We shall continue—you can count on this—to do all that is in our power to ensure that your freedom is preserved," he told a luncheon in Charlottenburg Castle.

"I would like to take this opportunity to renew once again the British commitment to Berlin. Britain stands and will stand firmly by its pledge to guarantee the continued freedom of the city and its inhabitants and it will continue to support all the efforts which are being made to alleviate, to temper, the human problems caused by the division of your city."

Wilson called the Communist wall dividing the city "perhaps the most dramatic of all demonstrations of the bankruptcy of the system it represents."

A Valentine's Gift: $12,500 Salary Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marin County's two congressmen, Reps. Don Clausen, R-First District, and William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, saw their salary jump today from $30,000 a year to $42,500.

Likewise, salaries for the state's two U.S. senators, George Murphy, a Republican, and Alan Cranston, a Democrat, was hiked the same amount.

The increase is the biggest in the history of Congress and a far cry from the one-time scale of $6 a day.

The raise took effect automatically as sort of Valentine's Day present that Congress bestowed upon itself by doing nothing to turn it down.

Besides the biggest raise in history for the lawmakers, it also was the first time they didn't have to take the political risk of actually voting on it.

Under a provision Congress put into a 1967 pay bill, the President recommends congressional salary increases which take effect automatically 30 days later unless the House or Senate vetoes them.

The raises were recommended by President Johnson just before he left office. The Senate rejected a veto attempt, but in the House the Rules Committee kept a similar motion from reaching the floor.

Under the sale law, varying increases also went into effect for cabinet members, federal judges and other high federal office-holders.

Although some members will no doubt complain that the current boost is not enough and others that it is too much, there's little question that the $42,500 will go farther than the meager wages paid the first congressmen.

"In Congress there are about five persons who look like gentlemen. All the rest come in the filthiest dress and are well indeed if they look like farmers," a British diplomat wrote home in 1805.

The scale then was $6 a day, an amount set in 1789 and unchanged until 1818 when the rate was increased $2.

Congressmen also got an allowance of $6 for every 20 miles they had to travel to get to Washington and back home—once. Now representatives are paid in full for one trip home each month Congress is in session, plus an extra one, and senators get seven.

Students Battle

KYOTO, Japan (AP) — At least 200 students were injured in a series of clashes between opposing student factions at the strife-torn Kyoto University campus today.

Police said about 1,000 students battled five hours with sticks, steel pipes, rocks and bottles. The rival factions were fighting over an attempt to call off an indefinite boycott of classes on the campus.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Storms In Texas

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Huge tides sent water surging into homes and played havoc in several towns on Galveston Bay on the Upper Texas Coast today as vicious thunderstorms pounded the area.

Winds clocked unofficially at up to 83 miles per hour hurled sea water into low areas, hitting hard at Baytown and other points east and southeast of Houston around the Manned Spacecraft Center.

The flooding occurred while a broad stretch of Texas' coastal plain was under a tornado watch.

African Jailed

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—John Okello, the self-styled field marshall who led the 1964 revolution on Zanzibar Island, was sentened to three years in jail today for being in Kenya illegally.

The court gave Okello the maximum sentence and ordered him deported to his native Uganda on compleiton of the prison term.

The prosecution told the court that Okello, a prohibition immigrant in Kenya, had been trained in revolutionary systems in Cuba.

Okello told the magistrate that he had no emnity toward the Kenya government. He also denied a charge that he trained a group of people to defy the government.

Red Radio Silent

VIENNA (AP) — Radio Vltava, broadcasting Soviet propaganda since Moscow's troops invaded Czechoslovakia last Aug. 21, has gone off the air, Radio Prague says.

The Prague report said the Soviet occupation radio stopped transmitting yesterday morning. A few hours later the East German national anthem was heard on the same wave length, followed by a routine East German radio broadcast.

Most Czechoslovaks believed Radio Vltava broadcast from East Germany because its announcers spoke with a heavy German accent. Czechoslovak critics of the occupation repeatedly demanded that the station be silenced.

Bomb Rips Trade Area, Injuring 27

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges reopened today with clerks using blackboards and chalk in place of electronic quotation boards torn up by a time bomb that wrecked the trading floor and injured 27 persons.

Charles Neapole, president of the Montreal Stock Exchange, had announced after the explosion yesterday that business would not resume until Monday.

The bomb exploded over the trading floor in a corner of the visitors' gallery, scattering debris over 50 visitors and 300 persons on the floor below. Five of the 27 injured suffered severe cuts.

Several minutes before the explosion, which occurred about 40 minutes before the 3 p.m. closing, police received an anonymous tip that an explosive device had been planted in the 47-story building housing the exchange on Victoria Square, in the heart of the financial district.

It was the third explosion in Montreal this week and the eighth this year. During similar incidents several years ago, separatist groups seeking the secession of Quebec from Canada usually scrawled the letters of their organization at the site, but there have been no such clues this year.

Explosions Monday and Tuesday were directed at Canadian armed forces buildings.

Mafia Boss Genovese Dies In Jail

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vito Genovese, the major underworld figure in the United States and leader of the Mafia, died in a federal prison today. He was 71.

Genovese, died at 2:30 a.m. EST of congestive heart failure at the Medical Center for Federal Prisoners in Springfield, Mo., the Federal Bureau of Prisons announced. He was serving a 15-year narcotics smuggling sentence begun in 1959.

Genovese is reputed to have convened the notorious Apalachin, N.Y. meeting of Mafia mobsters Nov. 14, 1957, to announce he was taking over the Cosa Nostra.

LINKED TO PURGE

He is alleged to have subsequently ordered the unsuccessful murder attempt on Frank Costello, since deported, and the killing of syndicate executioner Albert Anastasia in a New York City barbershop.

Unidentified members of his family were at his bedside when he lay in a coma throughout yesterday.

Genovese's reputed heirs to the New York "family" are Gerardo "Jerry" Catena of Newark, N.J., and Tommy Eboli, also known as Tommy Ryan, of New York City.

Genovese and Catena were identified by imprisoned informer Joseph Valachi as two of the 12 "commissioners" who run organized crime operations in the United States for the Cosa Nostra. Of the 12, five were from New York where Genovese was the most powerful.

Genovese was born Nov. 21, 1897, in Resigliano, Italy. He entered the United States as a permanent resident May 23, 1913 at New York City and was naturalized Nov. 25, 1936 in U.S. District Court there.

If he had lived to serve out his 15-year sentence, he would have been automatically deported for a crime of moral turpitude.

Israeli Jets Hit Jordan Arab Base

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two Israeli jet fighters struck a suspected Arab guerrilla pocket inside Jordan today, the Israeli army announced.

Israeli ground troops backed up the 25-minute air assault with firing across the border. A spokesman said the guerrillas at the Qatef outpost, inside Jordan just south of the Sea of Galilee, had fired bazookas and small arms at an army patrol.

Jordan reported two attacks by Israeli jets, one lasting 30 minutes and another an hour later. A spokesman said napalm bombs were dropped but Jordanian forces suffered no losses.

Another Israeli patrol came under light fire as it moved down a street last night in the occupied town of Hebron, south of Jerusalem. The patrol returned the fire.

The army said there were no Israeli casualties in either incident.

Israel's second largest political group, the Gahal party, voted early today to remain in the coalition government headed by Premier Levi Eshkol, ending three days of political uncertainty.

The Gahal party was angered by Eshkol's statement in an interview with Newsweek magazine that his government was willing to give up much of the territory seized in the 1967 war. The Gahalites want Israel to keep all of the occupied areas.

Pueblo Probers Flying East To See Spy Ship

CORONADO (AP) — The five admirals on the court of inquiry investigating the capture of the USS Pueblo were to fly across the continent today to get a "working knowledge" of an intelligence ship.

Accompanied by their counsel and counsel for the Pueblo's skipper, the admirals planned to inspect the USS Palm Beach at Norfolk, Va., before flying back here tomorrow afternoon.

The skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, will remain in San Diego. Looking tanned and rested, Bucher was recalled yesterday as a witness to clarify certain points about his own intelligence ship's capture by North Koreans and to comment on testimony from other witness since he opened the testimony three weeks ago with a lengthy, sometimes anguished account.

When asked, Bucher told the court he had differences with his second in command over organization of the Pueblo, but said there was no personality clash.

Bucher also said he could have steered the Pueblo from below decks, "but with great difficulty," to avoid casualties if he fled North Korean gunfire.

And he said he couldn't drill his crew extensively because it would have interfered with intelligence gathering. Some crewmen have said they weren't drilled in destroying secret materials.

The admirals "want to get a good working knowledge of what an intelligence ship looks like in general," a Navy spokesman said in announcing the trip. He gave no specifics.

The Palm Beach is described as 200 tons larger than the Pueblo and has different compartmentation.

During Bucher's appearance yesterday, Rear Adm. Allen Bergner, court member, asked if there was any personality clash between Bucher and his executive officer, Lt. Edward Murphy Jr., of San Diego.

Bucher said "there was nothing that was not resolved readily by my just making a decision . . . If you put it in terms of a personality clash, that's being a little too harsh . . . A difference of opinion, but never at any time was there a personality clash per se."

This was the first indication of any differences between the two.

Genovese is reputed to have convened the notorious Apalachin, N.Y. meeting of Mafia mobsters Nov. 14, 1957, to announce he was taking over the Cosa Nostra.

LINKED TO PURGE

He is alleged to have subsequently ordered the unsuccessful murder attempt on Frank Costello, since deported, and the killing of syndicate executioner Albert Anastasia in a New York City barbershop.

Unidentified members of his family were at his bedside when he lay in a coma throughout yesterday.

Genovese's reputed heirs to the New York "family" are Gerardo "Jerry" Catena of Newark, N.J., and Tommy Eboli, also known as Tommy Ryan, of New York City.

Genovese and Catena were identified by imprisoned informer Joseph Valachi as two of the 12 "commissioners" who run organized crime operations in the United States for the Cosa Nostra. Of the 12, five were from New York where Genovese was the most powerful.

Genovese was born Nov. 21, 1897, in Resigliano, Italy. He entered the United States as a permanent resident May 23, 1913 at New York City and was naturalized Nov. 25, 1936 in U.S. District Court there.

If he had lived to serve out his 15-year sentence, he would have been automatically deported for a crime of moral turpitude.

Israeli Jets Hit Jordan Arab Base

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two Israeli jet fighters struck a suspected Arab guerrilla pocket inside Jordan today, the Israeli army announced.

Israeli ground troops backed up the 25-minute air assault with firing across the border. A spokesman said the guerrillas at the Qatef outpost, inside Jordan just south of the Sea of Galilee, had fired bazookas and small arms at an army patrol.

Jordan reported two attacks by Israeli jets, one lasting 30 minutes and another an hour later. A spokesman said napalm bombs were dropped but Jordanian forces suffered no losses.

Another Israeli patrol came under light fire as it moved down a street last night in the occupied town of Hebron, south of Jerusalem. The patrol returned the fire.

The army said there were no Israeli casualties in either incident.

Israel's second largest political group, the Gahal party, voted early today to remain in the coalition government headed by Premier Levi Eshkol, ending three days of political uncertainty.

The Gahal party was angered by Eshkol's statement in an interview with Newsweek magazine that his government was willing to give up much of the territory seized in the 1967 war. The Gahalites want Israel to keep all of the occupied areas.

Pueblo Probers Flying East To See Spy Ship

CORONADO (AP) — The five admirals on the court of inquiry investigating the capture of the USS Pueblo were to fly across the continent today to get a "working knowledge" of an intelligence ship.

Accompanied by their counsel and counsel for the Pueblo's skipper, the admirals planned to inspect the USS Palm Beach at Norfolk, Va., before flying back here tomorrow afternoon.

The skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, will remain in San Diego. Looking tanned and rested, Bucher was recalled yesterday as a witness to clarify certain points about his own intelligence ship's capture by North Koreans and to comment on testimony from other witness since he opened the testimony three weeks ago with a lengthy, sometimes anguished account.

When asked, Bucher told the court he had differences with his second in command over organization of the Pueblo, but said there was no personality clash.

Bucher also said he could have steered the Pueblo from below decks, "but with great difficulty," to avoid casualties if he fled North Korean gunfire.

And he said he couldn't drill his crew extensively because it would have interfered with intelligence gathering. Some crewmen have said they weren't drilled in destroying secret materials.

The admirals "want to get a good working knowledge of what an intelligence ship looks like in general," a Navy spokesman said in announcing the trip. He gave no specifics.

The Palm Beach is described as 200 tons larger than the Pueblo and has different compartmentation.

During Bucher's appearance yesterday, Rear Adm. Allen Bergner, court member, asked if there was any personality clash between Bucher and his executive officer, Lt. Edward Murphy Jr., of San Diego.

Bucher said "there was nothing that was not resolved readily by my just making a decision . . . If you put it in terms of a personality clash, that's being a little too harsh . . . A difference of opinion, but never at any time was there a personality clash per se."

This was the first indication of any differences between the two.

FBI Agent Says JFK Shot Only From Rear

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — An FBI photographic expert testified at Clay Shaw's conspiracy trial today that the famed home movie on President John F. Kennedy's assassination shows the bullets which killed Kennedy came from the rear.

Lyndal Shaneyfelt of Alexandria, Va., said that, even though the President's head snaps backward, close examination of the film shows the bloody halo was thrown forward.

"Did you take into consideration the movements of the President's body?" Shaneyfelt was asked under cross-examination.

"No, merely the direction of the matter flying through the air," Shaneyfelt replied.

The film was screened again today for the jury over futile defense objections.

"There is no reasonable basis for reshowing this movie—it's simply a state attempt to accentuate a particular part of evidence," said defense attorney F. Irvin Dymond.

The 20-second color film, shot as the President's motorcade passed near the Texas School Book Depository, shows Kennedy's head snap back in a bloody spray.

The film was a prime exhibit in the state's contention that Kennedy was hit by bullets from more than one direction—instead of being shot by a lone sniper behind him.

Shaneyfelt was the 26th state witness called. Earlier, Buell Frazier of Irving, Tex., was cross-examined about Lee Harvey Oswald, the man named as the assassin.

Dymond concentrated on whether Frazier ever saw Oswald when he was unshaven or dirty.

"No, I did not," said Frazier, who gave Oswald a ride to work on the day Kennedy was shot.

The key state witness against Shaw, 55, the retired businessman charged with conspiring to murder the President, had testified Oswald was a dirty, unshaven beatnik type.

SIRHAN

plead a defense of "diminished responsibility."

In California, diminished responsibility recognizes that a defendant may be legally sane yet not fully responsible for his actions.

Berman said Sirhan bought the death gun six months before the June 5 assassination of Kennedy to use for sport and found that shooting "gave him strange sense of release."

Berman said Sirhan "admired and loved" Kennedy.

"Then came another shot," Berman said. "In early June of 1968 Sen. Kennedy . . . said in essence that if he were President that he would send 50 Phantom jets to Israel.

"That did it!"

Berman said "Sirhan will tell you himself from this witness stand that he never thought he ever would kill Kennedy but that through his mystic mind power he could fantasize about it and relieve that feeling of emptiness inside him."

"We have told you that from the beginning that he did in fact fire the shot that killed Sen. Kennedy, Berman said.

"The killing was unplanned and undeliberate, impulsive and without premeditation or malice, totally a product of a sick, obsessed mind and personality.

"At the actual moment of shooting he was out of contact with reality, in a trance in which he had no voluntary control over his will, his judgment, his feelings or his action."

Berman said the defense will back up his arguments 'through great men in the field of psychiatry or psychology, by tests that run the gamut of hypnosis, interviews and known and accepted psychological tests."

These witnesses will prove, Berman said, "Sirhan did not have the mental capacity to have the mental states that are the essential elements of murder: Namely, to maturely and meaningfully premeditate, deliberate or reflect on the gravity of the fact, nor form an intent to kill nor harbor malice aforethought as these are defined by the laws of California."

never have the opportunity to serve, and this could cause embarrassment to the county supervisors," said Mayor Helen Putnam of Petaluma, the association president.

The supervisors are required to appoint a representative of the association.

The Napa suit challenges the constitutionality of state legislation calling for a third director for Marin and Sonoma counties to the bridge board.

"If we're going to allow every suit that comes along to halt our actions, we might as well stop holding meetings," Rohnert Park Councilman Warren Hopkins said, gaining support for an immediate vote.

Councilman Phillip L. Joerger of Petaluma also called for action, citing the recent selection of a director by the Marin County Association of Mayors and Councilmen.

The Marin association's choice, Mayor Dean N. Meyer of Mill Valley, was subsequently appointed by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Mayor Arthur Roberts of Rohnert Park said the mayors' group had not been aware of the Marin action in making their decision to delay and suggested the board might rescind its recommendation. Calling on the officials to be more aggressive, he said: "The appointee will be aware of the Napa suit and possible consequences — this should limit any embarrassment."

The association also argued at length on the manner in which to select the nominee. It finally approved Joerger's resolution to waive the association bylaws and hold a full membership vote by secret ballot rather than have the directors make the decision.

Five candidates were presented to the group: Lucius, the ultimate winner; Mayor Lewis A. Meyers of Santa Rosa, Councilman Kenneth C. Colin of Petaluma, Councilman Vernon P. Smith of Rohnert Park, and Councilman Thomas R. Klinker Jr. of Sebastopol.

On the first ballot, the two top vote-getters were Lucius with 12 and Meyers with six. Claiming the vote was not a clear majority, the group selected between the two on a second ballot and chose Lucius by a 21 to 8 margin.

A retired Marin colonel, Lucius has served on the Healdsburg council since 1966. He is employed as a food consultant and adviser in dehydrated food products for various firms.

day AWOL clause of the education code, every instance is being treated individually as prescribed by the trustees," Clark said.

"This means no guarantees," said an AFT spokesman.

A homemade bomb exploded late last night in front of the Gallery Lounge on the deserted campus of San Francisco State College, shattering the stillness that prevailed during the troubled school's semester break.

The bomb broke two five-foot by seven-foot plate glass windows at one entrance to the empty lounge.

The campus was so deserted when police and firemen arrived, it took a full 15 minutes to locate the source of the blast.

Yesterday was the first day of regular registration for the spring semester at the 18,000-student campus.

While most members of the community were handling the business of setting up classes, college officials and a city judge took action against nearly 250 participants in recent turmoil at the school.

About 240 students, whose names were extracted from police records, received mailed notices ordering them to appear before a three-member college disciplinary committee beginning Tuesday.

Six other demonstrators were ordered to spend from 10 to 30 days in jail for violating their probations by participating in protest rallies. Municipal Judge Joseph P. Kennedy handed down the sentences to students he had put on probation last spring for taking part in an antiwar demonstration on campus.

The judge put over the case of an assistant professor of philosophy, 29-year-old Anatole Ben Anton, until a probation report is completed. The judge continued the probation of a co-ed with a small son.

The wildest outburst in the 3-week-old strike by some students at the University of California campus yesterday produced three dozen arrests, including 22 students and several picketing teachers.

About 150 highway patrolmen and Alameda County sheriff's deputies made repeated sweeps through about 1,000 chanting, screaming militants in Sproul Plaza and at Sather Gate.

Militants, reinforced by radical protesters from nearby San Francisco State, hurled textbooks, firecrackers, and obscenities at police. They chanted "pigs off campus" at officers.

Despite the many arrests, there were no serious incidents of violence.

Among those arrested was Conn Hallinan, head of the American Federation of Teachers local at the campus. A teaching assistant, he is the son of San Francisco attorney Vincent Hallinan.

FBI Agent Says JFK Shot Only From Rear

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — An FBI photographic expert testified at Clay Shaw's conspiracy trial today that the famed home movie on President John F. Kennedy's assassination shows the bullets which killed Kennedy came from the rear.

Lyndal Shaneyfelt of Alexandria, Va., said that, even though the President's head snaps backward close examination of the film shows the bloody halo was thrown forward.

"Did you take into consideration the movements of the President's body?" Shaneyfelt was asked under cross-examination.

"No, merely the direction of the matter flying through the air," Shaneyfelt replied.

The film was screened again today for the jury over futile defense objections.

"There is no reasonable basis for reshowing this movie—it's simply a state attempt to accentuate a particular part of evidence," said defense attorney F. Irvin Dymond.

The 20-second color film, shot as the President's motorcade passed near the Texas School Book Depository, shows Kennedy's head snap back in a bloody spray.

The film was a prime exhibit in the state's contention that Kennedy was hit by bullets from more than one direction—instead of being shot by a lone sniper behind him.

Shaneyfelt was the 26th state witness called. Earlier, Buell Frazier of Irving, Tex., was cross-examined about Lee Harvey Oswald, the man named as the assassin.

Dymond concentrated on whether Frazier ever saw Oswald when he was unshaven or dirty.

"No, I did not," said Frazier, who gave Oswald a ride to work on the day Kennedy was shot.

The key state witness against Shaw, 55, the retired businessman charged with conspiring to murder the President, had testified Oswald was a dirty, unshaven beatnik type.

plead a defense of "diminished responsibility."

In California, diminished responsibility recognizes that a defendant may be legally sane yet not fully responsible for his actions.

Berman said Sirhan bought the death gun six months before the June 5 assassination of Kennedy to use for sport and found that shooting "gave him strange sense of release."

Berman said Sirhan "admired and loved" Kennedy.

"Then came another shot," Berman said. "In early June of 1968 Sen. Kennedy . . . said in essence that if he were President that he would send 50 Phantom jets to Israel.

"That did it!"

Berman said "Sirhan will tell you himself from this witness stand that he never thought he ever would kill Kennedy but that through his mystic mind power he could fantasize about it and relieve that feeling of emptiness inside him."

"We have told you that from the beginning that he did in fact fire the shot that killed Sen. Kennedy, Berman said.

"The killing was unplanned and undeliberate, impulsive and without premeditation or malice, totally a product of a sick, obsessed mind and personality.

"At the actual moment of shooting he was out of contact with reality, in a trance in which he had no voluntary control over his will, his judgment, his feelings or his action."

Berman said the defense will back up his arguments 'through great men in the field of psychiatry or psychology, by tests that run the gamut of hypnosis, interviews and known and accepted psychological tests."

These witnesses will prove, Berman said, "Sirhan did not have the mental capacity to have the mental states that are the essential elements of murder: Namely, to maturely and meaningfully premeditate, deliberate or reflect on the gravity of the fact, nor form an intent to kill nor harbor malice aforethought as these are defined by the laws of California."

never have the opportunity to serve, and this could cause embarrassment to the county supervisors," said Mayor Helen Putnam of Petaluma, the association president.

The supervisors are required to appoint a representative of the association.

The Napa suit challenges the constitutionality of state legislation calling for a third director for Marin and Sonoma counties to the bridge board.

"If we're going to allow every suit that comes along to halt our actions, we might as well stop holding meetings," Rohnert Park Councilman Warren Hopkins said, gaining support for an immediate vote.

Councilman Phillip L. Joerger of Petaluma also called for action, citing the recent selection of a director by the Marin County Association of Mayors and Councilmen.

The Marin association's choice, Mayor Dean N. Meyer of Mill Valley, was subsequently appointed by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Mayor Arthur Roberts of Rohnert Park said the mayors' group had not been aware of the Marin action in making their decision to delay and suggested the board might rescind its recommendation. Calling on the officials to be more aggressive, he said: "The appointee will be aware of the Napa suit and possible consequences — this should limit any embarrassment."

The association also argued at length on the manner in which to select the nominee. It finally approved Joerger's resolution to waive the association bylaws and hold a full membership vote by secret ballot rather than have the directors make the decision.

Five candidates were presented to the group: Lucius, the ultimate winner; Mayor Lewis A. Meyers of Santa Rosa, Councilman Kenneth C. Colin of Petaluma, Councilman Vernon P. Smith of Rohnert Park, and Councilman Thomas R. Klinker Jr. of Sebastopol.

On the first ballot, the two top vote-getters were Lucius with 12 and Meyers with six. Claiming the vote was not a clear majority, the group selected between the two on a second ballot and chose Lucius by a 21 to 8 margin.

A retired Marin colonel, Lucius has served on the Healdsburg council since 1966. He is employed as a food consultant and adviser in dehydrated food products for various firms.

day AWOL clause of the education code, every instance is being treated individually as prescribed by the trustees," Clark said.

"This means no guarantees," said an AFT spokesman.

A homemade bomb exploded late last night in front of the Gallery Lounge on the deserted campus of San Francisco State College, shattering the stillness that prevailed during the troubled school's semester break.

The bomb broke two five-foot by seven-foot plate glass windows at one entrance to the empty lounge.

The campus was so deserted when police and firemen arrived, it took a full 15 minutes to locate the source of the blast.

Yesterday was the first day of regular registration for the spring semester at the 18,000-student campus.

While most members of the community were handling the business of setting up classes, college officials and a city judge took action against nearly 250 participants in recent turmoil at the school.

About 240 students, whose names were extracted from police records, received mailed notices ordering them to appear before a three-member college disciplinary committee beginning Tuesday.

Six other demonstrators were ordered to spend from 10 to 30 days in jail for violating their probations by participating in protest rallies. Municipal Judge Joseph P. Kennedy handed down the sentences to students he had put on probation last spring for taking part in an antiwar demonstration on campus.

The judge put over the case of an assistant professor of philosophy, 29-year-old Anatole Ben Anton, until a probation report is completed. The judge continued the probation of a co-ed with a small son.

The wildest outburst in the 3-week-old strike by some students at the University of California campus yesterday produced three dozen arrests, including 22 students and several picketing teachers.

About 150 highway patrolmen and Alameda County sheriff's deputies made repeated sweeps through about 1,000 chanting, screaming militants in Sproul Plaza and at Sather Gate.

Militants, reinforced by radical protesters from nearby San Francisco State, hurled textbooks, firecrackers, and obscenities at police. They chanted "pigs off campus" at officers.

Despite the many arrests, there were no serious incidents of violence.

Among those arrested was Conn Hallinan, head of the American Federation of Teachers local at the campus. A teaching assistant, he is the son of San Francisco attorney Vincent Hallinan.

Farmer Explains His Job Decision

NEW YORK (AP) — James Farmer said last night he accepted the post of assistant secretary of health, education and welfare because "I haven't given up the belief that it is possible to make the establishment work on behalf of the poor and the blacks."

"At least I must try," he said in a speech at the Brooklyn College Student Center.

The former chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality, who ran unsuccessfully as a Republican for a Brooklyn congressional seat last November, said of President Richard M. Nixon, "I've said some very mean things about him. But he's the only president we have. If he fails, then we all fail."

NINE SHOW UP

Session Pinpoints Apathy Of Students

By CHARLES YOAKUM

A symposium on public apathy dramatically proved its point last night at Redwood High School.

Nine persons showed up.

Those who did attend heard four students blame apathy for today's unrest on college and high school campuses.

In the three-hour symposium was sponsored by the fledging "Chautauqua 69," — an organization which says it represents the "un-committed middle" of the population and hopes to hold public meetings on various topics of interest.

All four of the students who spoke painted pictures of mass apathy on high school and college campuses, which allows student radicals to gain control of student legislatures, newspapers and other important positions and thus be in a position to cause campus unrest.

Isabell Schmid, a senior at Redwood, repeated that recently her school took student body elections "out of the classroom" and made them a voluntary "out of class" function. She said that the turnout was about 30 per cent.

She lumped apathetic students into two catagories. "One," she said, "finds high school not very challenging and grows away from the campus. These are the intellectually higher students."

"The other group," she continued, "is those students who know they will be forced to go directly to work after high school and therefore give high school a small role in their lives."

Richard Grey, a 1968 graduate of Redwood High and now a freshman at Stanford University, said that, "At Stanford, 90 per cent of the students take no part of student politics," and because of this, the radicals control the student legislature and the student paper.

Grey said he was a staff member of a "conservation underground newspaper" which competes with the "liberal Stanford Daily."

Both Grey and Miss Schmid agreed that the reason apathy exists on campus is that the students feel that elected or appointed student leaders really don't have any authority.

Mrs. Marion Allred, a student and member of the student legislature at Oakland's Merritt College, said that "it is almost impossible to get people to run against Black Students Union candidates at Merritt."

Mrs. Allred attributed much of the apathy at her college to just plain fear.

"You don't know what it's like to have a crowd of people waiting for you at the doorway of the school. Or when you leave."

She said that Merritt was the first school to offer a black studies program — starting it in 1965.

"In the beginning, it was a good program," she said, "but now its merely used for propaganda and the screaming of obscenities."

Robert Figari of Tiburon, now attending the University of California at Davis, also used a recent election at school to illustrate apathy, noting that at Davis only 30 per cent of the students voted. "And that was up 20 per cent from the last election," he added.

Figari, son of Mrs. Marshall Figari, founder of "Chautauqua 69," said that "student apathy is not so much a lack of interest as it is a feeling the students have that everything is being done for them."

Figari said that it was time students began shaking off the apathy and presenting ideas for "a better system" if they didn't like the existing one.

Figari said he too was seeking "the right answer" but repudiated the tactics now being used by student radicals. "I can't see destroying everything and replacing it with nothing," he said.

Also speaking briefly at the symposium were Howard B. Waldron, of San Francisco State's engineering department; Richard Geno, a U.C. Berkeley graduate; Michael J. Collins, a Drake teacher, and David R. Ilchert of the federal Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Waldron outlined issues of the strike, Geno — founder of the Silent Majority Against Revolutionary Tactics (SMART) told of that organization's functions, Collins spoke on teaching government to persons seeking naturalization and Ilchert told of his department's function in examining prospective new citizens on their knowledge of U.S. government and history.

Inmate Breaks Both Legs In Escape Attempt

A San Quentin Prison inmate broke both his legs yesterday when he dropped outside the prison wall in an escape attempt.

John Strehle was reported in satisfactory condition today in the prison hospital.

Strehle, 31, committed from Los Angeles for auto theft, climbed a drain pipe to the kitchen roof and was sighted by a guard while hanging from a five-story ledge.

The tower guard, who spotted him hanging by his fingertips from a window ledge, placed a shell in the chamber of his rifle and at that point Strehle let go.

DELAYED STORM REACTION

Farmer Explains His Job Decision

NEW YORK (AP) — James Farmer said last night he accepted the post of assistant secretary of health, education and welfare because "I haven't given up the belief that it is possible to make the establishment work on behalf of the poor and the blacks."

"At least I must try," he said in a speech at the Brooklyn College Student Center.

The former chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality, who ran unsuccessfully as a Republican for a Brooklyn congressional seat last November, said of President Richard M. Nixon, "I've said some very mean things about him. But he's the only president we have. If he fails, then we all fail."

NINE SHOW UP

Session Pinpoints Apathy Of Students

By CHARLES YOAKUM

A symposium on public apathy dramatically proved its point last night at Redwood High School.

Nine persons showed up.

Those who did attend heard four students blame apathy for today's unrest on college and high school campuses.

In the three-hour symposium was sponsored by the fledging "Chautauqua 69," — an organization which says it represents the "un-committed middle" of the population and hopes to hold public meetings on various topics of interest.

All four of the students who spoke painted pictures of mass apathy on high school and college campuses, which allows student radicals to gain control of student legislatures, newspapers and other important positions and thus be in a position to cause campus unrest.

Isabell Schmid, a senior at Redwood, repeated that recently her school took student body elections "out of the classroom" and made them a voluntary "out of class" function. She said that the turnout was about 30 per cent.

She lumped apathetic students into two catagories. "One," she said, "finds high school not very challenging and grows away from the campus. These are the intellectually higher students."

"The other group," she continued, "is those students who know they will be forced to go directly to work after high school and therefore give high school a small role in their lives."

Richard Grey, a 1968 graduate of Redwood High and now a freshman at Stanford University, said that, "At Stanford, 90 per cent of the students take no part of student politics," and because of this, the radicals control the student legislature and the student paper.

Grey said he was a staff member of a "conservation underground newspaper" which competes with the "liberal Stanford Daily."

Both Grey and Miss Schmid agreed that the reason apathy exists on campus is that the students feel that elected or appointed student leaders really don't have any authority.

Mrs. Marion Allred, a student and member of the student legislature at Oakland's Merritt College, said that "it is almost impossible to get people to run against Black Students Union candidates at Merritt."

Mrs. Allred attributed much of the apathy at her college to just plain fear.

"You don't know what it's like to have a crowd of people waiting for you at the doorway of the school. Or when you leave."

She said that Merritt was the first school to offer a black studies program — starting it in 1965.

"In the beginning, it was a good program," she said, "but now its merely used for propaganda and the screaming of obscenities."

Robert Figari of Tiburon, now attending the University of California at Davis, also used a recent election at school to illustrate apathy, noting that at Davis only 30 per cent of the students voted. "And that was up 20 per cent from the last election," he added.

Figari, son of Mrs. Marshall Figari, founder of "Chautauqua 69," said that "student apathy is not so much a lack of interest as it is a feeling the students have that everything is being done for them."

Figari said that it was time students began shaking off the apathy and presenting ideas for "a better system" if they didn't like the existing one.

Figari said he too was seeking "the right answer" but repudiated the tactics now being used by student radicals. "I can't see destroying everything and replacing it with nothing," he said.

Also speaking briefly at the symposium were Howard B. Waldron, of San Francisco State's engineering department; Richard Geno, a U.C. Berkeley graduate; Michael J. Collins, a Drake teacher, and David R. Ilchert of the federal Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Waldron outlined issues of the strike, Geno — founder of the Silent Majority Against Revolutionary Tactics (SMART) told of that organization's functions, Collins spoke on teaching government to persons seeking naturalization and Ilchert told of his department's function in examining prospective new citizens on their knowledge of U.S. government and history.

GUARDSMEN CHECK COLLEGIANS

The University of Wisconsin campus at Madison is one of the newest scenes of student protests. Yesterday, National Guard troops, some 1,000 strong, used bayonetted rifles to keep students off the street. The students attempted to block streets around the 33,000 student campus. organization, no whites allowed."

The memorandum continues: "The purpose of the umbrella organization will be to bring about a united front of the bourgeois and ghetto black factions at the school. . . Bloods for the OCG (off-campus group) could be recruited from those who attend its meetings. Through this organization, strikes, boycotts and rallies could be started."

With the three organizations — hard-core steering committee, off-campus group, and umbrella organization — set up, the memorandum outlines ways of bringing action. These include a black school bulletin, which "should immediately be started by the OCG" and distributed free.

Most important in mobilization activity by the off-campus group, says the memorandum, "is the day-to-day blowing to the bloods on campus. There can be no substitute for this! At lunch time, before and after school, and when feasible during classroom time, discussions on topics ranging from world to school to personal problems should be encouraged. . . OCG members should press their teachers to let them lead discussions on black nationalism, black history, world problems, and other topics as they come up."

Simpler things may provide the vehicle for protest, however, the organizers are told: "If the OCG and the umbrella organization decide to key on the bad food at the cafeteria, this should be the topic that the organizers direct their attention to."

The memorandum also urges running an all-black slate of candidates for as many student offices as possible. "Once in office they would continue to work for the interests of the black students through direction from the OCG," it says.

It urges also organizing black athletes, "potentially the most powerful student forces at the school," remarking: "It should be realized that during a riot or other disturbances among black students these are the mercenary forces which Whitey uses to patrol the halls or otherwise quell the violence."

It continues: "The threat of all the black athletes walking off the field during a school boycott can be a very powerful weapon when negotiating with school officials, but a lot of groundwork must be laid because this is usually the most reactionary element of the high school."

Black social events (described as "all-blood events") are advocated to keep up interest. "The OCG should hold regular on-campus lectures and discussions if possible."

These steps, says the memorandum, lead to "turning the school black:"

"Every symbol at the school should be turned into a black symbol if possible, so as to further get the black student looking to the OCG to solve his problems." Black talent productions, bongo drummer corps, etc., are urged.

Action should be determined and directed by the off-campus group, says the outline. "The OCG must constantly come up with new areas to protest and mobilize with, so that they aren't continually calling for the same old thing such as a school boycott."

Boycotts should be used sparingly, it suggests, with more emphasis on mass rallies.

"One tactic could be to have 200 or 300 bloods break up the school board meeting to protest a certain action. . . Such action as burning the school down or jumping on white students should only be taken at later stages of the struggle, and only if the OCG is not directly involved in the rebellions (publicly). The thing the OCG must always remember is that its function is to mobilize the black students to take over their school, only to destroy that school if the administration forces give it no alternative."

The memorandum closes with the words: "Black power! A change gonna come!"

An effort was made to obtain comment from George Mason Murray, Black Panther minister of education under whom the program apparently would be run, but Oakland central headquarters of the Black Panther Party reported he was not available.

Career College Held Unlikely To Pay Off

Several hundred girls including some from Marin, who paid $1,600 to enroll at the now defunct Patricia Stevens Career College on Sutter Street in San Francisco, probably cannot recover losses because the company is broke, a referee in bankruptcy declared yesterday at the Civic Center.

Referee Conley S. Brown of Eureka, sitting in the board of supervisors' chambers, appointed William Grover of Eureka as trustee to take over any of the assets the company may have.

'At first Blush, it looks as if there will be no money in bankruptcy, so the girls probably won't be able to recover," said referee Brown.

Frank M. and Louise Bergstrom of 108 Caribe Isle, Ignacio, operators of the school to teach fashion merchandizing, testified yesterday that they got a franchise and started the school in September 1967. Financing, which they had counted on, fell through, and they had to fold last October.

Stuart Kaplan, attorney for the Bergstroms, said that an affiliated school, called the Patricia Stevens Finishing and Modeling School at 111 O'Farrel Street, offered to take over the portion of the course which Patricia Stevens Career School was unable to finish.

Kaplan said the defunct school had "several hundred" girls enrolled at one time, including "perhaps a dozen" from Marin County.

Bloods for the OCG (off-campus group) could be recruited from those who attend its meetings. Through this organization, strikes, boycotts and rallies could be started."

With the three organizations — hard-core steering committee, off-campus group, and umbrella organization — set up, the memorandum outlines ways of bringing action. These include a black school bulletin, which "should immediately be started by the OCG" and distributed free.

Most important in mobilization activity by the off-campus group, says the memorandum, "is the day-to-day blowing to the bloods on campus. There can be no substitute for this! At lunch time, before and after school, and when feasible during classroom time, discussions on topics ranging from world to school to personal problems should be encouraged. . . OCG members should press their teachers to let them lead discussions on black nationalism, black history, world problems, and other topics as they come up."

Simpler things may provide the vehicle for protest, however, the organizers are told: "If the OCG and the umbrella organization decide to key on the bad food at the cafeteria, this should be the topic that the organizers direct their attention to."

The memorandum also urges running an all-black slate of candidates for as many student offices as possible. "Once in office they would continue to work for the interests of the black students through direction from the OCG," it says.

It urges also organizing black athletes, "potentially the most powerful student forces at the school," remarking: "It should be realized that during a riot or other disturbances among black students these are the mercenary forces which Whitey uses to patrol the halls or otherwise quell the violence."

It continues: "The threat of all the black athletes walking off the field during a school boycott can be a very powerful weapon when negotiating with school officials, but a lot of groundwork must be laid because this is usually the most reactionary element of the high school."

Black social events (described as "all-blood events") are advocated to keep up interest. "The OCG should hold regular on-campus lectures and discussions if possible."

These steps, says the memorandum, lead to "turning the school black:"

"Every symbol at the school should be turned into a black symbol if possible, so as to further get the black student looking to the OCG to solve his problems." Black talent productions, bongo drummer corps, etc., are urged.

Action should be determined and directed by the off-campus group, says the outline. "The OCG must constantly come up with new areas to protest and mobilize with, so that they aren't continually calling for the same old thing such as a school boycott."

Boycotts should be used sparingly, it suggests, with more emphasis on mass rallies.

"One tactic could be to have 200 or 300 bloods break up the school board meeting to protest a certain action. . . Such action as burning the school down or jumping on white students should only be taken at later stages of the struggle, and only if the OCG is not directly involved in the rebellions (publicly). The thing the OCG must always remember is that its function is to mobilize the black students to take over their school, only to destroy that school if the administration forces give it no alternative."

The memorandum closes with the words: "Black power! A change gonna come!"

An effort was made to obtain comment from George Mason Murray, Black Panther minister of education under whom the program apparently would be run, but Oakland central headquarters of the Black Panther Party reported he was not available.

JACK BENNY
Going strong at 75

Jack Benny 'Observes' 39th Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Anyone else who was born Feb. 14, 1894, would be 75 today. Not Benjamin Kubelsky. He's still only 39.

"I don't tell anybody my right age," said Kubelsky—better known as Jack Benny — last night. "I say I'm 39 and I feel it."

How does he keep feeling 39?

"I keep saying it all the time."

Benny, the straight-faced comedian who has made a fortune out of jokes about his own stinginess, was in New York for several television appearances. He said he was returning to Los Angeles today.

Asked in a telephone interview how it felt to be 39 going on 75, Benny said "fine," then added, "I'm in bed with a bad cold." He said there was no difference between being 39 today and 39—26 years ago.

Benny, the son of a Polish immigrant, wasn't always 39.

His perpetual youth didn't begin until he was 50 in 1944.

As part of one of Benny's weekly radio shows, his script writers had someone ask him how old he was. For no particular reasons, the script writers had him answer "36." The next year, also on the air, he celebrated his 37th birthday. He was 37 for two years, then three before finally turning 39 in 1950.

Benny almost turned 40 once. "A few years ago when we were doing the television series we had a show in which I was finally going to celebrate my 40th birthday," he recalled in an interview on his 74th birthday.

Board Votes Rules Against Segregation

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The State Board of Education, adopting what experts term the nation's first hard-and-fast definition of racial imbalance, is calling for an end to de facto segregation in some California school districts.

But legall, the state cannot force local school districts to comply,Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of schools, said after the board's decision yesterday.

The board voted 9-0 to adopt a policy that defines segregation as existing whenever there is an imbalance of 15 or more percentage points either way when comparing a single school's racial makeup with the school district on the whole.

Thus, as an example, a school with 40 per cent Negro students and 60 per cent white students would be considered racially imbalanced if the overall school district was 25 per cent Negro and 75 per cent white.

EARLIER GUIDELINE

Previously, one unofficial guideline used in various states held that segregation would exist if a school had more than 50 per cent minority students.

The new school policy was incorporated as an amendment to the State Administrative Code, which exerts say has the force of law in California.

De facto segregation has been alleged against several school districts in the state, including the San Francisco, Los Angeles and Pasadena districts.

The state's Commission on Equal Opportunities in Education would seek compliance from imbalanced school districts.

"Some districts are going to disregard this," Rafferty told the board. "I think you might as well face it."

NO ENFORCEMENT

Dr. John Ford of San Diego, a Negro member of the board, agreed that the state has no legal power to enforce the regulations. But he said each school district has a moral responsibility to comply.

Jose Rafael Ramos, comission chairman, stated in the amendment proposal that "failure of local districts to . . . exert all effort toward such a standard, in the face of current challenges to eliminate inequities in education, perhaps will make it necessary to seek and establish increased state authority."

Edward Maddox, vice chairma of the commission, said California's schools are becoming increasingly segregated.

Approval of the amendments heads off what Maddox called "a forward march toward disaster."

Opponents include J C. Chambers, a member of the Los Angeles School Board.

Ordinance To Be Aimed At Hippies

The Sonoma County Mayors' and Councilmen's Association was told last night that the county is preparing an ordinance to prohibit sitting, reclining and sleeping on streets and sidewalks. (Another story on page 1.)

Sonoma County Dist. Atty. Kiernan Hyland told the association the ordinance is aimed at curbing hippies in the Russian River resort area where they often block traffic. He recommended that cities with a similar problem work with the county to achieve a uniform ordinance.

Dr. Charles W. Norton, director of the Sonoma County Mental Health Service, spoke in general terms of drug problems, saying that it now involves all economic levels of society and that a study is under way to determine the extent of the problem in Sonoma County.

Driver's Injuries Minor In Accident

Catherine D. Cross, 24, of 2323 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, was treated for multiple bruises and scrapes yesterday after her car overturned on Highway 101 in Sausalito, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

The accident occurred at 8:45 a.m. Miss Cross, according to the highway patrol, said she reached back for her purse as she drove north, then oversteered when she turned forward again. The car skidded, overturned, hit the center divider and landed upright.

'Young Turk' Expects Burns Ouster Move

A coalition of junior Democratic and Republican state senators hopes to overthrow the old guard in the upper house in three or four weeks, a leader of the "Young Turk" group declared last night before a Democratic group in Corte Madera.

Sen. Anthony C. Beilensen, D-Los Angeles, speaking before the Marin Democratic Assembly, conceded it will be hard to unseat the leadership, now led by Senate Pro Tem Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, "because several Republican senators, including the one from this county (Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael) will not desert Burns."

The loyalty of McCarthy and several other GOP senators to Burns, charged Beilenson, is "apparently because they owe something to some lobbyist — they're afraid not to support Burns because they'll lose committee chairmanships."

Beilenson said he did not know who would get Burns' seat, but doubted it would be McCarthy, who said two weeks ago he would try for Burns' seat if the GOP won the special election to be held in Contra Costa County. The upper house is split 20-19 in favor of the GOP, and the GOP would have a clear majority if it captures the seat vacated by the death of Sen. George Miller Jr., D-Martinez.

Beilenson cited Marin's other legislator, Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, as "one of the outstanding Republicans in the Assembly today."

Beilenson also said that the change to annual general sessions of the Legislature had accomplished little. The legislators still "bumble along" and leave action on all bills to the last day of the session, he said.

Beilenson, who predicted that Gov. Ronald Reagan will not seek a second term, criticized Reagan for what he termed "do-nothingism."

About 50 persons attended the dinner talk at Bob's of Marin.

School Board Asks Crackdown On Stray Dogs

The Larkspur School District board last night asked the communities of Corte Madera and Larkspur for a crackdown on stray dogs.

"They knock over children, get in lunches, fight on school grounds and even snip at somebody now and then," said Supt. Milton Cohen. "It's become quite a problem."

The City-County Services Committee of Marin, he reported, has recommended that municipalities and the county adopt a uniform control ordinance requiring animals to be under the control at all times and authorizing human society officers to issue citations to offenders.

The Larkspur School District board also:

INSURANCE — Asked for a new insurance cost total from the John Barry Insurance Agency of Larkspur to be included in the 1969-70 preliminary budget. Cohen estimated an 8 per cent increase in total premiums, now fixed at about $4,500 annually.

ORGANIZATION — Heard Trustee Curtis P. Kamai, the board's representative on the Marin County Committee on School District Organization, review the four unification plans within the Tamalpais High School District under consideration by the committee.

FUNDS — Received a federal grant of $18,950 for library books and audio-visual equipment.

CLASSES — Approved operaion of two classes for handicapped students to be run by the county schools office at Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

ADJOURNED — Adjourned until 8 p.m. Feb. 27 at the district office.

Tadlock New Safety Panel Chairman

Hubert Tadlock, accountant-auditor for the Marin County schools department, was elected chairman of the Marin County Safety Commission yesterday.

He succeeeds Mario Balestrieri, deputy director of public works, who resigned from the commission because of pressure of work.

Michael King, assistant public works director who replaced Balestrieri, was elected vice chairman.

Commissioners reviewed five accidents involving county employees and found one preventable accident, involving Deputy Sheriff Wyman Tong. The deputy, in pursuit of purse snatch suspects, tried to drive across railroad tracks next to Bridgeway Boulevard near Sausalito on Jan. 3. His patrol car stopped and hit the ground inside the tracks, flinging the deputy against the windshield and breaking the glass. Commissioners issued a reprimand.

Another accident involving Sheriff's Inspector Kenneth Irving was ruled non-preventable. Commissioners, however, asked Irving's superior, Lt. Guido Battaglia, to appear before the commission to explain why the accident report was turned in late. Irving said his patrol car was dented while he had it parked in the sheriff's parking lot at the courthouse on Sept. 4 last year. Irving said he reported the mishap orally to Battaglia, but did not turn in a written report.

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A boundary change in the Petaluma launching facility project area will be presented to the state Harbors and Watercraft Commission when it meets here at 9 a.m. Monday in the Resources Building, 1416 Ninth Street.

The commission previously approved the city's application for state and federal funds for the project, but deed problems have required minor changes in the boundary of the project, thus the commission must approve the changes before the city can get the funds.

Also on the agenda is a proposed study of water pollution by boats and a staff presentation of projects proposed for 1970-71.

Northridge Street Plan Being Opposed

Corte Madera Avenue Homeowners Association board members have agreed to ask the Corte Madera Town Council and Planning Commission to disapprove the City of Mill Valley's proposed Northridge street plan, Dr. Sheldon Schwebel, member, reported yesterday.

If effected the plan would result in increased traffic on Corte Madera Avenue, which now receives 350 cars per hour, Schwegel said.

Board members will hold a general membership meeting at 8 p.m.,, April 2, at Dr. Schwebel's home at 347 Corte Madera Avenue.

Flu Outbreak Shuts Catholic High School

Marin Catholic High School sent its students home today because seven of its 45 teachers were out with the flu, while student absenteeism because of sickness was increasing.

School officials, who said 120 of the school's 815 students were absent yesterday, sent students home as they arrived at their home rooms this morning. The county school superintendent's office said it has received no reports of public school closings or unusually heavy absenteeism.

The Marin Catholic closing came as state health officials warned that a new outbreak of influenza had hit the state. They said the latest outbreak was of Type B influenza, which is similar to the so-called Hong Kong flu strain which hit the state in epidemic proportions earlier ths year.

Health officials in both Marin and Sonoma Counties said so far they have had no reports of the Type B influenza virus in Marin or Southern Sonoma. They also said there has been no big increase in influenza cases.

Dr. Marilyn Hicks, assistant officer for Marin, said, however, "I suppose we'll have it like everybody else if it's in the rest of the state." She said symptoms of the Type B influenza — fever, headaches and body pains — are similar to the Hong Kong, or Type A, influenza. But, she added, you can still get Type B even if you have already suffered through the Hong Kong flu.

F. C. Jordan of the Sonoma County health office said state health officials had reported outbreaks of influenza in the county but county officials are not convinced the flu is of the Type B variety. In any case, he said, all the cases reported so far are north of Santa Rosa.

State Health Director Dr. Louis F. Saylor said the Type B outbreak poses a serious problem to the state because it could mean "two epidemics back-to-back" and because there are no large supplies of Type B vacine available.

He said the current outbreak in Calfironia was first identified in Walnut Creek with other outbreaks reported in Del Norte, Humboldt, San Bernardino and Sonoma counties. It is posible, he said, that teh state will experience only "localized occurrences" of the Type B virus.

New Satellite Will Be Busy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new Intelsat III satellite is about to become very busy relaying television coverage of two newsworthy events—President Nixon's trip to Europe, and the flight of Apollo 9.

Comsat said today that broadcasters already have booked about 40 hours of satellite time for television coverage from Europe to the United States of the nine-day tour by the President from Feb. 23 through March 3.

Comsat also has received, from abroad, requests for more than 17 hours of satellite time for TV coverage of the Apollo 9 earth-orbital mission Feb. 28 through March 10.

Flu Outbreak Shuts Catholic High School

Marin Catholic High School sent its students home today because seven of its 45 teachers were out with the flu, while student absenteeism because of sickness was increasing.

School officials, who said 120 of the school's 815 students were absent yesterday, sent students home as they arrived at their home rooms this morning. The county school superintendent's office said it has received no reports of public school closings or unusually heavy absenteeism.

The Marin Catholic closing came as state health officials warned that a new outbreak of influenza had hit the state. They said the latest outbreak was of Type B influenza, which is similar to the so-called Hong Kong flu strain which hit the state in epidemic proportions earlier ths year.

Health officials in both Marin and Sonoma Counties said so far they have had no reports of the Type B influenza virus in Marin or Southern Sonoma. They also said there has been no big increase in influenza cases.

Dr. Marilyn Hicks, assistant officer for Marin, said, however, "I suppose we'll have it like everybody else if it's in the rest of the state." Indigent Legal Aid Problems Are Aired

Marin County Human Rights Commission could not meet officially last night because of lack of a quorum, but several commissioners met informally at the Civic Center to discuss legal aid for indigents.

Commissioner Lawrence A. Mayer, chairman of the legal advisory committee said that the Neighborhood Legal Aid Society, which operates in the Albert Building in San Rafael, is suffering from lack of space.

Another drawback, said Mayer, is that the legal aid society cannot handle criminal cases because of a restriction in its charter. All criminal cases are referred to the public defender, and the public defender can take a case only after the defendant has been arraigned.

Commissioner Bella Aaron pointed out that the public defender system is good, but the office is overloaded. She said one solution would be to get a list of volunteer attorneys who are willing to give legal aid to indigents involved in criminal cases.

Mayer, Mrs. AAaron, James Quiett and Rev. Francis Geddes were present last night, one short of a quorum.

Marin City Center Chief Quits Post

Charles W. Story, director of the Manzanita Center in Marin City, has resigned in roundabout fashion, and board members today refused to disclose his reason for quitting.

Story last week sent copies of his resignation letter to each member of the Marin City Community Services District board, and so, according to Chairman Douglas J. Quiett, the board can claim that it has not received such a resignation officially.

In a special meeting last night, the board made interim arrangements to run the center until a new director is hired, though it has taken no official notice yet of Story's resignation.

Story reportedly remarked at the meeting that he hoped to take a college job, but had no firm commitment.

Chairman Quiett said Story's resignation will be taken up officially, and the letter made public, at next Thursday's board meeting. He declined to say why Story was leaving, and other board members referred inquiries to the chairman. Story was not available for comment.

Story, a graduate of California Western University, worked four years with the Boys' Club of San Diego before coming Manzanita Center director in August 1967, at a salary of $11,000. He helped direct construction of the new center building, which was dedicated in April 1968.

Last night, the district board agreed to "$15 to $20 a week" raises, Quiett said, for staff members Margaret Beauchamp and Daniel Winter for their added duties after Story leaves and until a new director is hired.

Catholic Scholars Honored By School

An honors assembly was held last night at Marin Catholic High School's auditorium in tribute to the academic performance of 254 honor students, including four National Merit Scholarships finalists.

The four seniors qualifying for the scholarship competition, whose results will be announced April 30 are Katherine Colwell of San Anselmo, William Ramirez of Kentfield and Paul E. Butterworth and David M. Webb of San Rafael.

Water Boiling To Be Continued

Residents of Paradise Ranch Estates near Inverness were advised today by county environmental health department officials to continue boiling their drinking and cooking water.

Residents have been boiling water since Feb. 3 when bacteria was detected in it. Officials said the county health department will continue testing the water until the bacteria have been eliminated.

No illnesses have been reported as a result of the bacteria which only occasionally are dangerous to human health. Health authorities have identified the source of the bacteria as the coliform organism which sometimes developes during heavy winter rains.

Additional chlorine has been used in treatment of the water since the bacteria were discovered.

Three Members Resign Council

Three seats are vacant on the Marin City Council, which canceled its regularly scheduled meeting last night because of a lack of a quorum.

Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr., chairman, announced that Mrs. Helen Washington and Ephorn Freeman, representatives of low rental housing, have resigned from the council.

Banks also declared vacant the seat of Perison Knighten, a representative of the cooperative apartments, who has failed to attend meetings.

The council is scheduled to meet at 8 p.m. Feb. 27 at the Manzanita Center, Marin City.

Agreement Reached On Dredging

The Bel Marin Keys Community Service District board last night reached agreement with lending companies and Hydraulic Dredge of Oakland for dredging in the lagoon and waterways of the district, according to Mrs. James L. Zoeller, board secretary.

The district, she reported, will pay an additional $3,000 and the five lending firms in the area an additional $20,000 for the dredging, which will make the channel one foot less deep than first planned.

The original contract was for $53,775 and the new one for $76,775.

When the dredging company started the work, it found much more material to be removed than anticipated, she said. The new contract calls for removal of all material to five feet below low water where the original one called for removal to six feet below low water, she said.

The board also signed a contract with Jack L. Kinney for a 17-acre site in addition to the originally agreed upon 40 acres for spoils dumping, Mrs. Zoeller said.

The dredge, which has been shut down for the past three weeks, should be back in operation next week, she said.

The board voted to spend $250 for playground equipment for Montego Park, she said.

Suspect Booked For Card Theft

A San Rafael man was arrested on suspicion of forgery and possession of stolen credit cards today after police said they noticed he was driving with the wrong license plates.

George Edward Taylor, 822 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, was stopped by police because he was driving with New Mexico license plates after having been observed with California plates the day before.

Police reported he had bought two new tires and some gasoline totaling $32 with stolen credit cards.

He is being held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $2,500 bail.

Oil Workers Barred On Secondary Boycott

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— U.S. Dist. Judge Stanley Weigel ordered striking oil workers at Standard Oil's Richmond refinery yesterday to stop picketing truck and ship terminals and retail outlets doing business with the refinery.

He granted a preliminary injunction asked by the National Labor Relations Board against Richmond Local 1-561 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union and its Denver-based international. The union struck the refinery Jan. 4 after its contract expired Dec. 31.

The petition for injunction included photographs of pickets at the Port of Oakland Howard Terminal and Matsn Terminals and at the truck terminal of Ringsby Truck Lines in Oakland.

It said that since Jan. 6 pickets have been following trucks to terminals and picketing there, as well as other customers accepting deliveries from Standard's refineries. The NLRB said such picketing is an illegal secondary boycott under federal law.

"The evidence before me is literally overwhelming that there has been and threatens to continue to be action in violation of the law," Weigel said in granting the petition.

About 500 strikers returned to work today at the Shell Development Co. plant in Emeryville with a two-year contract generally following the terms of other settlements in the nationwide OCAW strike.

Health seekers in Iran cake their boides with black mud from Lake Urmia to relieve arthritis, rheumatism and other aches and pains, the National Geographic Society says. They lie in the thick, malodorous mud for hours, then bathe in the waters.

Downtown Study Leaders Named

Chairmen and vice chairmen for three subcommittees were named last night by the Novato Downtown Study Committee, according to City Mgr. Charles A Brown.

Charles Lewis was named chairman and Ross M. Tankersley vice chairman of the land use committee. Carolyn Crabtree was made chairman and Dr. Daniel J. Aughney vice chairman of the appearance committee. Chester A. Hibbert was named chairman and Larry L. Heon vice chairman of the circulation committee.

Additional members for each committee will be selected later, Brown said.

The committee suggested that future requests for use permits be sent to Sedway and Cooke, San Francisco planning firm, for its opinion before the permits go before the planning commission. The San Francisco firm will make the federally-assisted downtown study when the funds are available.

The committee changed its meeting time from 4 pm., to 7 a.m. each Thursday, according to Brown.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House science office, the Defense Department and the space agency will undertake a new study "to try to evolve a whole new space program proposal," President Nixon's science adviser says.

The study, he said, will be aimed at determining "what the space program should be in the next 10 years," following the American landing on the moon.

Space Program Review Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House science office, the Defense Department and the space agency will undertake a new study "to try to evolve a whole new space program proposal," President Nixon's science adviser says.

Dr. Lee A. DuBridge announced the study yesterday. He said the three agencies should have a proposal for Nixon by Sept. 1.

The study, he said, will be aimed at determining "what the space program should be in the next 10 years," following the American landing on the moon.

Petalumans Oppose Apartments Proposal

A large contingent of East Petalumans is expected to attend the city council meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. to protest the rezoning of 16.5 acres on Ely Boulevard South at East Washington Street.

The rezoning to permit apartments construction was approved over the objections of the Petaluma Gardens Homeowners Association by the planning commission on Feb. 4. The association will be joined by representatives of the East Petaluma Civic Association in charging the apartments will lower property values and place a heavy burden on local schools.

Inmate Asks Delay In Murder Trial

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — An attorney for a San Quentin Prison inmate accused of murdering a Lake County sheriff's deputy Oct. 11, 1967, asked yesterday that the convict's March 3 trial date be put off.

John Lynn, 24, and Larry Taylor, 22, also an inmate at San Quentin, had been scheduled to face trial before San Francisco Superior Court Judge Joseph Karesh beginning last Monday. The date was pushed up to March 3 because of the heavy court calendar in San Francisco.

Lynn's attorney has asked for further delay so Lynn can be given more psychiatric tests, a request on which the court has yet to act.

Taylor and Lynn are charged with shooting to death Deputy David Hoyt in the Lake County Courthouse with another deputy's gun. The two men and another convict, Raymond Pettis, 24, were en route to arraignment there on a variety of charges stemming from their escape Sept. 24, 1967, from the Konocti Conservation Camp.

Pettis strangled himself in his San Quentin cell 11 days after the slaying.

The trial was transferred to San Francisco from Lake County because of pretrial publicity.

Both convicts, now in San Quentin, have pleaded innocent to the murder charge and one of attempted escape from the courthouse. Lynn also has pleaded innocent to a charge of assault by a life prisoner.

The pair also faces a later trial on charges of robbery, burglary and car theft at large after escaping the conservation camp. They won a change of venue from Lake to Marin County on those charges.

Flood Control Panel To Study Plans For Creek

The Ross Valley Flood Control Advisory board will meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Larkspur City Hall to discuss encroachments on Corte Madera Creek from Greenbrae to San Anselmo city limits.

The advisory board, headed by Neil R. Brixon, will try to set policy on whether or not encroachments such as docks and floats should be allowed on the creek, and if so, what kind of encroachments.

Charles E. Murphy, county flood control engineer, said that several encroachments now exist. These existed before the Army Corps of Engineers started flood control improvements.

Now, however, new applications are coming in, and the advisory board wants to set a policy and make recommendations to the corps, said Murphy.

Petaluman Seeks Board Re-election

Margaret Kullberg, 1036 Stage Gulch Road, Petaluma, filed candidacy papers yesterday for re-election to the Old Adobe School board.

Mrs. Kullberg is the first incumbent to file. The seats of Albin Bionda and James Gambanini will also be up for election on April 15. Robert E. Daly of Petaluma has filed for the Old Adobe race.

Marin Women

MRS. EARL DUNPHY, wife of Sausalito's mayor, studies the pattern she and other women of the Altar Society of the Star of the Sea Church will use in making new vestments for the church. She expects that this project will be her main occupation for some time. Her home, family and church are her main interests. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

Church And Family Interests Busy Sausalito Mayor's Wife

(One of a series of interviews with wives of Marin County mayors.)

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Mrs. Earl Dunphy, wife of Sausalito's mayor, is a native Sausalitan who has lived in Sausalito 58 years, 37 of them in the same house on Filbert Street where she and her husband have lived since their marriage in 1932.

Mrs. Dunphy is the daughter of James Doyle, who was chief of police in Sausalito 18 years until he retired in 1948. Her brother is Francis Doyle of Mill Valley.

A graduate of Tamalpais High School, Blanche Doyle attended San Francisco State College two years before her marriage to Earl Dunphy, who is a machinist with the San Francisco Newspaper Publishing Company in San Francisco.

They have two daughters, Patricia — Mrs. James M. McCallister of Strawberry, who has six children, and Joan —Mrs. Richard Mason of San Mateo, who has two.

"My main interests are my family and grandchildren," Mrs. Dunphy said "but I am very much in activities of the Star of the Sea Church here in Sausalito. I like to do decorating for it and I am chairman of the Altar Society.

Mrs. Dunphy says that while she is not at all active in politics, as her husband has been more than 30 years, she is deeply interested in city affairs.

"We get a lot of mail and phone calls, and there are many interruptions by phone calls, some of them in the middle of dinner, but I don't mind," she says. "Life would be dull without them."

The mayor's wife has seen many changes take place in Sausalito over the years, the main ones being that there were few tourists or tourist attractions and she used to know everyone in town. She liked the friendliness then but feels there has been much progress that is worth while.

The Dunphys share an interest in gardening and art — their house is filled with paintings done by the mayor's brother — and they enjoy watching the ever-changing aspects of the unusually good view of the Bay and hills they have from their living room and porch.

Mrs. Walter A. Andersen Heads Marin Garden Club

Mrs. Walter A. Andersen of San Anselmo will be installed president of the Garden Society of Marin tomorrow night at the club's annual banquet at 7 p.m. in Alexander Hall, San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

The new president formerly served as club president five years ago and has also been publicity chairman and twice served as vice president. She is currently corresponding secretary in the Marin Bonsai Club and a past president of the Triple Ten Club of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., a group of executive secretaries. Mrs. Andersen was employed as executive secretary to the rate department manager of PG and E in San Francisco.

She attended El Centro Junior College and studied insurance brokerage management at Golden Gate College and interior decoration at the University of California Extension.

The Andersens, who are now retired, have lived in Marin 20 years, and they are parents of Walter Alden Andersen, vice president of the Bank of New York City; Jackson P. Andersen of Daly City, who is with Select Magazines, Inc.

District P-TA Gives New Award

Mrs. William Rudee, member of the Santa Rosa Board of Education and a long-time worker on community programs designed to help young people, has received the first continuing service award from the 14th District Parent-Teacher Association. The presentation was made by Dr. Mitchell Soso, superintendent of the Santa Rosa city schools.

In presenting the award to Mrs. Rudee, Dr. Soso called attention to her conscientious work with the Board of Education on which she has served since 1965. He noted her activites as moderator of the Education Round Table formerly sponsored by the schools and establishing a program of volunteer aides in the Santa Rosa schools.

Dr. Soso also spoke of Mrs. Rudee's service with the 14th District P-TA. The mother of four children is a past president and program chairman of the 14th District. She was one of the leaders of the district's recent explorations of family life education courses. Mrs. Rudee had previously received an honorary life membership from Santa Rosa High School P-TA.

The continuing service award has been established by the California Congress of Parents and Teachers as a method of honoring those individuals who have received an honorary life membership but are continuing their outstanding work on behalf of young people.

When someone is honored with an Honorary Life Membership, 25 dollars is sent to the student loan and scholarship fund. Since the first loan was granted in 1925, a total of $3,650,336 has been granted to enable many students to receive higher education or vocational training.

During World War II, the California P-TA added to its program of scholarships and fellowships, at first only for students preparing to enter elementary education, later for psychiatric social work, child welfare, special education, couseling and guidance, nursing, secondary education, international relations and children's library service.

Since the program began 11,300 students and teachers have benefited from these funds. Last year 6,607 honorary life memberships were awarded in California, and 421 special donations were made to the honorary life membership fund. This year, $158,000 will be granted in loans to California students and teachers, and $104,000 will be given in scholarships and fellowships.

An honorary life membership has a lot of "give" at both ends.

Try Using Different Flowers On Valentine Dinner Table Tonight

Although its origin is uncertain, Valentine's has become one of the most traditional days on the calendar. And traditionally, the popular way of saying "I love you" on Feb. 14 has called for the expansive use of the color red, the all-too familiar hearts and cherubs complete with bows and arrows, greeting cards and, of course, red roses.

For those who are advocates of custom, following the formula is always the safest of tried roads. However, this is the decade of change, of breaking with tradition and the ways of the establishment, of the individualist who looks for something other than the social norm.

IN THE LANGUAGE OF FLOWERS each blossome has its own particular meaning, according to Florists' Transworld Delivery designers. And, for that special someone on Valentine's, they suggest a floral bouquet to express the traditional sentiments of the day. In the arrangement above, lavender orchids say, "beautiful lady," the white roses, "you're heavenly," and the blue violets, "I'll be true always."

So, too, in expressing our sentiments to friends and loved ones on Valentine's Day, why stick to the usual red hearts and roses? Instead, stray from the routine and try a bit of creative individualism in keeping with the times.

If you are one of those people looking for a different way to deliver your Valentine message, the romantic "language of flowers" provides the perfect vehicle. Each of the many flowers, with its own special meaning, offers endearing terms to express the emotions of love and friendship.

For example, blue violets say, "I'll be true, always;" the pink carnations, "I'll never forget you;" the chrysanthemum, "You're a wonderful friend;" the white gardenia, "you're lovely;" the iris, "your friendship means much to me;" the orchid, "beautiful lady;" pansies, "thinking of you;" and the white (not red) rose, "you're heavenly."

So, in recommending a departure from tradition, a unique and meaningful Valentine's message can be conveyed by giving a specially created floral arrangement of any of these flowers, or a mixed combination.

Needless to say, the romantic aura of this "language of flowers" Valentine will be long remembered by the recipient, as will the thought that went into making it something more than the expected.

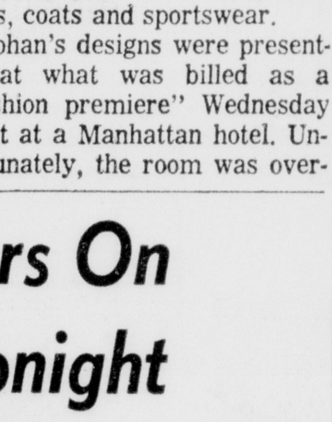
Dior Shows First Men's Wear

By LOUISE COOK

NEW YORK (AP) — Much ado about nothing too surprising. That just about sums up the showing of designer Marc Bohan's first collection of Christian Dior menswear.

Dior has been hanging around the fringes of the men's fashion industry for some time with items like ties, handkerchiefs and pajamas.



Now, apparently encouraged by the success of men like Bill Blass and Pierre Cardin, Bohan, the slender, 43-year-old who has been Dior's star designer since 1961, has gone all the way with suits, coats and sportswear.

Bohan's designs were presented at what was billed as a "fashion premiere" Wednesday night at a Manhattan hotel. Unfortunately, the room was overcrowded, preventing most of the audience from getting more than a glimpse of the clothes. The commentary—by orchestra leader Skitch Henderson—never matched the costumes on the models. And the clothes were typical Dior—attractive, elegant, wearable. But not very exciting.

Suits were fitted with long jackets and deep—13-inch—single vents in the back. Lapels were wide, trousers slightly belled at the bottom. Jackets were about equally divided between single and double-breasted and two and three-button.

One encouraging note was the heavy use of brown to break up the traditional blue, gray and olive that always dominates menswear collections.

The best part of the show was the presentation of the "Boutique Collection," a group of one-of-a-kind outfits described by Dior as avant garde.

Included was a camel hair walking suit with mink paw lining; a single-breasted, four-button suit in a color that can only be described as lavender; and a collarless evening suit of burgundy velvet with matching, jewel-encrusted weskit. Another interesting evening outfit was the white silk dinner jacket worn with trousers that sat low on the hip.

Bohan himself wore a double-breasted navy pin stripe suit with wide lapels and three buttons. He wore a solid navy tie and a red and blue paisley handkerchief in his breast pocket.

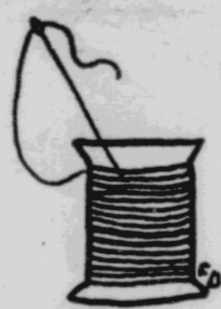
MRS. EARL DUNPHY, wife of Sausalito's mayor, studies the pattern she and other women of the Altar Society of the Star of the Sea Church will use in making new vestments for the church. She expects that this project will be her main occupation for some time. Her home, family and church are her main interests. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

Church And Family Interests Busy Sausalito Mayor's Wife

(One of a series of interviews with wives of Marin County mayors.)

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Mrs. Earl Dunphy, wife of Sausalito's mayor, is a native Sausalitan who has lived in Sausalito 58 years, 37 of them in the same house on Filbert Street where she and her husband have lived since their marriage in 1932.



Mrs. Dunphy is the daughter of James Doyle, who was chief of police in Sausalito 18 years until he retired in 1948. Her brother is Francis Doyle of Mill Valley.

A graduate of Tamalpais High School, Blanche Doyle attended San Francisco State College two years before her marriage to Earl Dunphy, who is a machinist with the San Francisco Newspaper Publishing Company in San Francisco.

They have two daughters, Patricia — Mrs. James M. McCallister of Strawberry, who has six children, and Joan —Mrs. Richard Mason of San Mateo, who has two.

"My main interests are my family and grandchildren," Mrs. Dunphy said "but I am very much in activities of the Star of the Sea Church here in Sausalito. I like to do decorating for it and I am chairman of the Altar Society.

Mrs. Dunphy says that while she is not at all active in politics, as her husband has been more than 30 years, she is deeply interested in city affairs.

"We get a lot of mail and phone calls, and there are many interruptions by phone calls, some of them in the middle of dinner, but I don't mind," she says. "Life would be dull without them."

The mayor's wife has seen many changes take place in Sausalito over the years, the main ones being that there were few tourists or tourist attractions and she used to know everyone in town. She liked the friendliness then but feels there has been much progress that is worth while.

The Dunphys share an interest in gardening and art — their house is filled with paintings done by the mayor's brother — and they enjoy watching the ever-changing aspects of the unusually good view of the Bay and hills they have from their living room and porch.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'Little Brown Child' Brings Blessings To Blond Brothers

DEAR HELEN:

I feel qualified to answer questions about mixed-race adoptions (as asked by one of your readers) because we are the adoptive parents of a little brown child.

My husband and I were blessed with three natural-born, healthy, beautiful blond sons. For health reasons, we felt it unadvisable to have another child, although we did desire a daughter.

We decided to adopt a child, and in talking with the Childrens Home Society, we found there was a category of child called "hard-to-adopt." These included children who were beyond the infant stage, children with medical problems, and children of minority heritage, especially those of mixed-racial background.

We felt that our kind of home was one in which a child of any background would be welcomed, loved and accepted. Consequently, we adopted a little daughter of a minority race, with brown skin, black hair, and big black eyes.

Lisa is 16 months old now, and a lovely, happy child. She is adored by her brother and shown off with much pride as "our little adopted sister."

There were some objections from friends, and even a few relatives who felt this was not proper, and indeed would cause a hardship on the boys to have to defend such a sister. However, most of these feelings slipped away as people actually saw and could hold the baby. It is easy to be prejudiced to an idea or a group of unknown people, but rare to have negative feelings against one sweet little baby.

I would urge anyone thinking of a mixed-race adoption to give it much thought, as this is not for everyone. We have found our family is always in the limelight I am sure most of the attention is just curiosity, for the contrast between the children is striking. On occasion, I have had people question my moral integrity and this if, of course, upsetting.

The most important advice I could give would be: Go to a good licensed adoption agency — state, county or private — and talk it over with them. Be completely honest in how you feel. They will help you evaluate those feelings.

More families who are willing to show love and acceptance of all races are desperately needed in our world today. All children should be accepted and loved for themselves. What better way to live this love than to take a child of a different racial background into your family? —MRS.D.C.

P.S. We feel so strongly about this matter we are planning to adopt another daughter of mixed racial heritage.

DEAR HELEN:

You said you wished more people would show the positive side on the race question. I couldn't agree more.

We are the parents of two children, one Caucasian, born to us, and one of Negro-Caucasian mixture. We are members of an organization, "Transracial Adoptive Parents," which includes over 100 families in the Chicago area. We say to interested parents: "Come on in, the water's fine!"

We all recognize the many problems that can occur as our children grow up, but we also are terribly aware of the alternative, which is a series of foster homes or no family, at all, as you so correctly pointed out, Helen.

— MRS. S.G.

DEAR HELEN:

About mixed-race adoptions: "Mixing" does not make people change their ideas nor does it control their comments. I feel the "different race" child would be far happier in a dorm with other half-breeds, just as retarded children are happier in state homes, among their own kind. — FROM DALLAS

Homes Are Susceptible

NEW YORK (WMNS) — School fire drills are taken for granted but fire is 200 times more likely to break out in your home.

First step in remedying this situation, say fire authorities, is a family council. Children should be warned that the major danger is not the flames but accompanying deadly gases and smoke. A speedy escape is essential. There is never time to gather up favorite belongings or pets.

Since most fires break out between midnight and six a.m., bedroom doors should be closed every night to help protect sleepers. Each bedroom should have two planned escape routes. In case of fire, test the door before opening it. If it is warm to the touch, use the alternate escape route.

To prevent the inhalation of suffocating gases, you should try to cover your nose and mouth with a pillow or wet cloth. Crouch as you run because the air near the floor is cooler and cleaner.

Anna Nancarrow Recites Vows With Gary L. Keck

St. Patrick's Church in San Jose was the setting for the wedding Feb. 1 of Anna Edith Nancarrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Robert Nancarrow of Mill Valley, and Lt. Gary Lee Keck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lee Keck of Albany.

MRS. GARY LEE KECK

The bride's cousin, Joanna Miller of San Jose, was her maid of honor, and bridesmaids were the twin sisters of the bridegroom, Mrs. James Honer and Carol Keck, both of Albany, and Heide Conner of Oakland.

Kevin William Keck served his brother as best man, and ushers were the bride's brother, Jack Nancarrow of Mill Valley, Capt. Roger L. Paine of San Francisco and William Berry of Concord.

Immediately following the ceremony a champagne reception was held in the Cardinal Room of Mariani's Restaurant in Santa Clara.

After a wedding trip to Las Vegas, the Grand Canyon, Carlsbad Caverns and Juarez, Mexico, the couple will live in Lawton, Okla., near Fort Sill, where Lt. Keck is assigned with the Army Artillery and Missile School.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'Little Brown Child' Brings Blessings To Blond Brothers

DEAR HELEN:

I feel qualified to answer questions about mixed-race adoptions (as asked by one of your readers) because we are the adoptive parents of a little brown child.

My husband and I were blessed with three natural-born, healthy, beautiful blond sons. For health reasons, we felt it unadvisable to have another child, although we did desire a daughter.

We decided to adopt a child, and in talking with the Childrens Home Society, we found there was a category of child called "hard-to-adopt." These included children who were beyond the infant stage, children with medical problems, and children of minority heritage, especially those of mixed-racial background.

We felt that our kind of home was one in which a child of any background would be welcomed, loved and accepted. Consequently, we adopted a little daughter of a minority race, with brown skin, black hair, and big black eyes.

Lisa is 16 months old now, and a lovely, happy child. She is adored by her brother and shown off with much pride as "our little adopted sister."

There were some objections from friends, and even a few relatives who felt this was not proper, and indeed would cause a hardship on the boys to have to defend such a sister. However, most of these feelings slipped away as people actually saw and could hold the baby. It is easy to be prejudiced to an idea or a group of unknown people, but rare to have negative feelings against one sweet little baby.

I would urge anyone thinking of a mixed-race adoption to give it much thought, as this is not for everyone. We have found our family is always in the limelight I am sure most of the attention is just curiosity, for the contrast between the children is striking. On occasion, I have had people question my moral integrity and this if, of course, upsetting.

The most important advice I could give would be: Go to a good licensed adoption agency — state, county or private — and talk it over with them. Be completely honest in how you feel. They will help you evaluate those feelings.

More families who are willing to show love and acceptance of all races are desperately needed in our world today. All children should be accepted and loved for themselves. What better way to live this love than to take a child of a different racial background into your family? —MRS.D.C.

P.S. We feel so strongly about this matter we are planning to adopt another daughter of mixed racial heritage.

DEAR HELEN:

You said you wished more people would show the positive side on the race question. I couldn't agree more.

We are the parents of two children, one Caucasian, born to us, and one of Negro-Caucasian mixture. We are members of an organization, "Transracial Adoptive Parents," which includes over 100 families in the Chicago area. We say to interested parents: "Come on in, the water's fine!"

We all recognize the many problems that can occur as our children grow up, but we also are terribly aware of the alternative, which is a series of foster homes or no family, at all, as you so correctly pointed out, Helen.

— MRS. S.G.

DEAR HELEN:

About mixed-race adoptions: "Mixing" does not make people change their ideas nor does it control their comments. I feel the "different race" child would be far happier in a dorm with other half-breeds, just as retarded children are happier in state homes, among their own kind. — FROM DALLAS

NEW YORK (WMNS) — School fire drills are taken for granted but fire is 200 times more likely to break out in your home.

First step in remedying this situation, say fire authorities, is a family council. Children should be warned that the major danger is not the flames but accompanying deadly gases and smoke. A speedy escape is essential. There is never time to gather up favorite belongings or pets.

Since most fires break out between midnight and six a.m., bedroom doors should be closed every night to help protect sleepers. Each bedroom should have two planned escape routes. In case of fire, test the door before opening it. If it is warm to the touch, use the alternate escape route.

To prevent the inhalation of suffocating gases, you should try to cover your nose and mouth with a pillow or wet cloth. Crouch as you run because the air near the floor is cooler and cleaner.

Food Prices To Climb, But Per Cent Spent On Groceries May Be Lower

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The government reported that Americans will spend more than ever for food this year, but the percentage of the average family income spent for groceries may be the lowest ever.

The Agriculture Department predicted that consumers will spend a record $105.5 billion to $106 billion for food in 1969, up from $101 billion in 1968.

But Stephen J. Hiemstra, a department specialist in food economics, predicted the average American family will spend a record low of 17 per cent to 17.1 per cent of his after-tax earnings for food this year.

Last year, 17.2 per cent of disposable consumer income was used to buy food, either groceries or meals in restaurants, the department said.

In a report called "National Food Situation," the Agriculture Department predicted higher retail prices this year for beef, eggs, dairy products, cereal, bakery products, soft drinks and cocoa products.

Lower prices are expected for fruits, vegetables, poultry and pork.

Earlier, government economists predicted that retail food prices this year would average 2 per cent to 2.5 per cent above those of 1968. Prices grocery stores were expected to increase about 1 to 2 per cent, while restaurant meals probably will rise about 5 per cent.

Compared to the 1957-59 period, the department said, all food prices during 1968 were up 19.3 per cent. This included an increase of 15.9 per cent in groceries and 36.3 per cent for restaurant meals.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

Is the parent an intruder when he or she attempts to teach the child to read? Is he "butting into" what is the school teacher's prerogative when he introduces the youngster to the wonderful world of thep rinted word, even before the child has entered school? A reading specialist for the San Rafael city schools answers those and other related questions in tomorrow's I-J weekend supplement, and the answers may not be the ones you expect.

Some people, says Kirby Atterbury of Tiburon, have fallen in love with Great Britain and some with Greece, "but I just happen to be nuts about Portugal." As a result, he has been there no less than 24 times. The big attarction for restaurateur Atterbury is the wine of Portugal. And Atterbury has established himself as an expert on Portuguese vintages. He discusses Portugal, its people and its grapes in tomorrow's Marin Magazine.

Registered nurses from Marin County, District 28 of California Nurses' Association, will join more than a thousand other CNA members, Sunday through Friday at the Association's 58th Biennial Convention in San Francisco. Virginia Anderson is district president.

Business, clinical and educational sessions will take place during the six-day meeting at the San Francisco Hilton, with Helen Hancock, R.N. of Alhambra, CNA president presiding.

Official delegates from Marin County include Mmes. Ann Walsh, Wallace Lafrenz, Wayne Rawlings, Miss Lois Toler and Miss Anderson. Alternates include Mmes. Rosalee Nixon, Gordon Havstad, Michael Abraham, Lauren Elkin and William Dillon. Mrs. Charles Quinn and Mrs. Mary Schmidt are members of the board of CNA and will attend in that capacity.

Speaking on the convention theme, "Commitment to Nursing Action" Sunday will be Mrs. Evelyn Cohelan, R.N., Ed.D., vice president of the American Nurses' Association and wife of U. S. Congressman Jeffery Cohelan of Oakland.

Other prominent speakers will cover such subjects as "Keeping the Patient Alive," "The Birth of an Exceptional Child," "Implications of Recent Legislation in the Mental Health Field" and "Emergency Health Preparedness on a Community Level."

Awards of highest commendation will be presented by California Nurses' Association to members, both retired deans of the schools of nursing, Mrs. Lulu Wolf Hassenplug of the University of California at Los Angeles and Miss Helen Nahm of the U. C. Medical Center.

Members of the Student Nurses' Association of California will convene at the same hotel Saturday through Tuesday, for their state convention. During this session, the Student Nurse of the Year for California will be named.

YACHTSMEN WILL be attending the annual stag dinner at San Francisco Yacht Club at 6 p.m. Saturday at the Belvedere clubhouse.

Retiring Commodore, Dr. Lawrence Custer of San Francisco, is chairman.

THE ANNUAL Masquerade Ball of Petaluma Lodge of Hermann Sons and Hermann Sisters will be held Saturday at Hermann Sons Hall, Petaluma. Prizes will be given for best costumes.

A MARDI GRAS costume and midnight buffet supper dance will be sponsored by Blessed Sacrament Parish on Saturday evening from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the parish auditorium. Costumes are optional.

Mrs. Keith Ballard is chairman and assisting her are Mmes. Jason Fewell, Raymond Kirner, Henry Kirner, Cliff Cameron, George Hatt, Ronald Swanson, Robert Figone and Edwin Bullian.

Mmes. George Grady and Thomas Schalich are reservations chairmen. Tickets will be available at the door.

SCHOLARSHIP FUNDING will be the topic of the Presidents' Assembly of Marin at its meeting Monday at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Hillis in Santa Venetia. The board will meet at 11 a.m. and luncheon is set for noon. Mrs. Ada Fusselman, scholarship chairman, will report on the awards, and a silent auction will be held to benefit the scholarships.

A WELL-KNOWN Marin home-economist, Mrs. Janet Kaplan, will conduct a six-weeks series on simplified gourmet cooking on Wednesday mornings in the Magnolia Tea Room at the Marin Art and Garden Club grounds in Ross. Reservations may be made by contacting the Center office.

Sponsoring the course is the Center Path Finders, whose president, Mrs. John Gentles, commented, "To keep a feeling of informality and friendliness and give ample opportunity for observation, note-taking, dabbling, and sampling the various delicacies to be prepared, the class size will be limited."

Mrs. Kaplan pointed out, "We aim to show how delightful menus can be prepared with simple, easy, yet unusual recipes that require more thought and ingenuity than high budget."

Mrs. Kaplan is a graduate of University of California at Davis. She has eight years of teaching background in Marin, in home economics, plus experience in recipe testing, home appliance demonstration, and lecturing on budgeting and marketing. She and her husband Myron have resided in Marin 13 years and reside in Larkspur with their two daughters.

MRS. BEN B. Hirsch of Belvedere has been elected to a third term as president of Belvedere Guild I of Sunny Hills.

The Guild specializes in hand knit and sewn items. In production is a prototype of what Ruth Hirsch calls "A chenille-Chanel jacket" for display at the all Belvedere Guilds June tea. Other items will be made for the Grape Festival in October.

Other incoming officers are Mmes. H. J. McGlynn, vice president; E. J. Perry, treasurer, and Lewis Merlo, secretary.

Arrange Pictures

Arrange pictures step-wise to glamorize your staircase, suggests the Picture and Frame Institute. With the returning vogue for two story houses, many new homeowners have the opportunity to make an attractive gallery of a stairway.

William is a graduate of Terra Linda High School and the University of Southern California.

Following a wedding trip to New Orleans, the couple will travel to Ocala, Fla., where the bridegroom will begin spring training with the Boston Red Sox Baseball Team.

Food Prices To Climb, But Per Cent Spent On Groceries May Be Lower

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The government reported that Americans will spend more than ever for food this year, but the percentage of the average family income spent for groceries may be the lowest ever.

The Agriculture Department predicted that consumers will spend a record $105.5 billion to $106 billion for food in 1969, up from $101 billion in 1968.

But Stephen J. Hiemstra, a department specialist in food economics, predicted the average American family will spend a record low of 17 per cent to 17.1 per cent of his after-tax earnings for food this year.

Last year, 17.2 per cent of disposable consumer income was used to buy food, either groceries or meals in restaurants, the department said.

In a report called "National Food Situation," the Agriculture Department predicted higher retail prices this year for beef, eggs, dairy products, cereal, bakery products, soft drinks and cocoa products.

Lower prices are expected for fruits, vegetables, poultry and pork.

Earlier, government economists predicted that retail food prices this year would average 2 per cent to 2.5 per cent above those of 1968. Prices grocery stores were expected to increase about 1 to 2 per cent, while restaurant meals probably will rise about 5 per cent.

Compared to the 1957-59 period, the department said, all food prices during 1968 were up 19.3 per cent. This included an increase of 15.9 per cent in groceries and 36.3 per cent for restaurant meals.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY
Is the parent an intruder when he or she attempts to teach the child to read? Is he "butting into" what is the school teacher's prerogative when he introduces the youngster to the wonderful world of thep rinted word, even before the child has entered school? A reading specialist for the San Rafael city schools answers those and other related questions in tomorrow's I-J weekend supplement, and the answers may not be the ones you expect.
Some people, says Kirby Atterbury of Tiburon, have fallen in love with Great Britain and some with Greece, "but I just happen to be nuts about Portugal." As a result, he has been there no less than 24 times. The big attarction for restaurateur Atterbury is the wine of Portugal. And Atterbury has established himself as an expert on Portuguese vintages. He discusses Portugal, its people and its grapes in tomorrow's Marin Magazine.

Dominican's New Concert Series Has Good Start

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Dominican College's new Music Associates Concert Series, sponsored by the music department, opened auspiciously last night with a fine chamber music recital by soprano Joan Smith, flutist Darrell Parker and pianist harpsichordist Fae McNally.

Caleruego Hall is acoustically right for such intimate presentations — much better than Angelico Hall when a stage is not required.

While the musicians were a well-matched trio and the program well-chosen to display their talents, Miss Smith was the outstanding performer. We have heard her several times, and this was the best work we have heard from her.

All three musicians were at their best in the finale of the program, Schubert's "The Shepherd on the Rock," in which Miss Smith showed instrumental ability in negotiating wide intervals and smooth control.

Her clear, light vocal quality made a beautiful combination with the flute in a cantata by Alessandro Scarlatti and especially in the cantata "The Morning" by Thomas Arne with McNally accompanying on the harpsichord. Parker played with admirable dexterity but a more full bodied tone would have been nice when he was accompanying the voice.

While McNally's and Parker's performance on the harpsichord and flute of the J. S. Bach Sonata in E Flat Major was technically proficient, there was not enough contrast in the tempi of the movements. The first allegro was more like an andante, the siciliano was not quite slow enough, but the final movement was a true allegro.

McNally's piano solo, the Brahms Intermezzo, Opus 118, No. 2 was played with too much rubato for our taste. We have heard him to much better advantage in the Inverness summer music festival.

The chickadee is the state bird of Massachusetts.

The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board. FAMILY:

"Great Race" — Elaborate comedy-parody takes place in 1908. Two rival daredevils in a round the world auto race. Great fun!

"High, Wild and Free" — Filmed in northern British Columbia. Photographer Gordon Eastman gives us a tribute to some of the last unspoiled country left on the northern hemisphere. Excellent, especially for lovers of the out-of-doors.

"Swiss Family Robinson" — Adventure story is a delight for all ages.

"Yellow Submarine" — Sparkling animated cartoon featuring special humor and music of the Beatles will appeal to those interested in new techniques of cartooning.

ADULTS AND TEENS:

"Bullitt" — Melodrama involves gangsters, police and an ambitious politician. Violence goes all out in blood and gore for its shock effect.

"Charly" — Poignant dramatization of a fictional case history of first human subject of a new type of brain surgery on a mentally retarded young man. Thought-provoking, sensitive performances from the cast.

"Grand Slam" — Intricate scheme for stealing $10 million in diamonds . . . good suspense.

"Salt and Pepper" — Played as comedy spoof with emphasis on so much violence, ingenious methods of killing people and constant shooting the plot gets completely lost.

"Up the Down Staircase" — Excellent drama. Realistic portrayal of young woman who teaches in New York's slum area. Touchy moments delicately handled. Humor smoothly interwoven.

BORDERLINE
(Most sources say Adults Only)

"Bonnie and Clyde" — Young man teams with pretty waitress, one grand spree. They wantonly kill and rob. Treating armed robbery and coldblooded murder as comedy will offend many people. Explicit sex and sadistic violence are revolting.

"Night They Raided Minsky's" — Filmed in New York's lower East Side set in the 1920's film recreates the burlesque shows with bawdy skits, double entendre and is garish and at times offensive.

ADULTS ONLY:

"Barbarella" — Adult comic strip goes so far beyond mere vulgarity in sex, nudity and perverted brutality that it is close to pronography.

"Candy" — A 17-year-old girl wanders through a series of sexual adventures with the strangest assortment of characters ever presented on the screen. Massively dull, ugly pornography.

"Faces" — Two middle-aged people find their marriage empty and seek satisfaction elsewhere. Dialogue is pretentious and there is much profanity and sex.

"I'll Never Forget What's His Name" — Cynical satire about a young man who rebels against his tyrannical boss. Violence and explicit sex are most offensive.

"Secret Ceremony" — A sham mother-daughter relationship in this unrewarding melodrama about the perverse games sick people play. Like a freak show it leaves one with nothing but a disagreeable aftertaste. (Parents Magazine).

"Thomas Crown Affair" — Plotting and execution of big bank robbery is ingenious. Criminal and investigator become involved in torrid love affair. Crime pays well in this case. Very modern treatment. All phases of immorality are taken for granted.

Orion, the most brilliant constellation in the northern skies, is best seen during January.

The lilac is the state flower of New Hampshire.

(Most sources say Adults Only)

"Bonnie and Clyde" — Young man teams with pretty waitress, one grand spree. They wantonly kill and rob. Treating armed robbery and coldblooded murder as comedy will offend many people. Explicit sex and sadistic violence are revolting.

"Night They Raided Minsky's" — Filmed in New York's lower East Side set in the 1920's film recreates the burlesque shows with bawdy skits, double entendre and is garish and at times offensive.

ADULTS ONLY:

"Barbarella" — Adult comic strip goes so far beyond mere vulgarity in sex, nudity and perverted brutality that it is close to pronography.

"Candy" — A 17-year-old girl wanders through a series of sexual adventures with the strangest assortment of characters ever presented on the screen. Massively dull, ugly pornography.

"Faces" — Two middle-aged people find their marriage empty and seek satisfaction elsewhere. Dialogue is pretentious and there is much profanity and sex.

"I'll Never Forget What's His Name" — Cynical satire about a young man who rebels against his tyrannical boss. Violence and explicit sex are most offensive.

"Secret Ceremony" — A sham mother-daughter relationship in this unrewarding melodrama about the perverse games sick people play. Like a freak show it leaves one with nothing but a disagreeable aftertaste. (Parents Magazine).

"Thomas Crown Affair" — Plotting and execution of big bank robbery is ingenious. Criminal and investigator become involved in torrid love affair. Crime pays well in this case. Very modern treatment. All phases of immorality are taken for granted.

Orion, the most brilliant constellation in the northern skies, is best seen during January.

The lilac is the state flower of New Hampshire.

Marin Dining And Wining

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Restaurant Scene Continues To Change Fast Around Marin

Although at least four new restaurants not yet opened and some forthcoming changes were mentioned in our new Dining and Wining Guide published yesterday, others continue to come to notice.

Last Saturday the Hansa House Family Buffet at Northgate Fashion Mall closed permanently. The space will now be used for other purposes, possibly a breezeway connecting the mall to the west parking area, which has been badly needed, and maybe one or more stores in the remainder.

It was not a matter of poor business for the restaurant that caused the closing. Manning's, Inc., owner of the Hansa House, did well (better than its predecessor restaurant at that address) but the company had no long term lease on the property.

Undoubtedly Manning's will reopen in another Marin location, and I understand a somewhat different type of operation is planned. It may be a plush dining house and cocktail lounge.

Meanwhile the company is opening Solomon Grundy's — a new steakhouse and lounge at the Berkeley Marina next Monday. It is built out over the water and I am told that this is what is contemplated for Marin. However, at this writing, no lease had been signed.

ANOTHER CHANGE has just been confirmed.

Very soon — perhaps in a week or so — Burge's Drive-In at Ignacio will close down for two to three months for a complete remodeling and a new type of operation.

Ed Burge is having a banquet room to seat 100 constructed, and also a cocktail lounge with a capacity of 65. Tables and booths will be installed, the drive-in features will be discontinued and the place will be conducted as a coffee shop and family-type restaurant. Next year we'll include it in the new Dining and Wining Guide.

There will be a change of name, of course, but undoubtedly "Burge's" will figure in it in some way. It has been called that for more than 15 years and the term has identification value.

ONE OF THE FEW restaurants in the county that had a good word for business in January was Le Chalet Basque in Santa Venetia. Frequently the first month of the year is a letdown after the holiday season, and it happened again this year.

Both dining rooms were kept busy if not filled. If the same pace continues I can just see chef Bernard Epstein deciding to add still more dishes to his already extended list of entrees. If I am not mistaken the menu has more than 30 now. That's more than the number featured by some restaurants twice the size.

I'm not sure I'd approve if I had to pay the bills for all that food, but evidently it's one thing responsible for bringing in the customers. And Bernard claims that practically every item is ordered often enough to justify continuing serving it.

There are new chairs now in the upper dining room, adding to the improvements program which seems to be a continuous thing here.

HOUNDSTOOTH INN, 10 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael has a new menu, with most dishes available at both lunch and dinner hours. Available are a variety of omelets, sandwhiches (both hot and cold), salads, diet specials and side orders. Top menu figure is $2.75 which is reasonable enough, and daily specials that are added intermittently also manage to stay under that price.

In the popular sandwich department, grilled Reuben on rye goes for $1.40, hot pastrami at $1.50, hot roast beef at $1.65 and abalone at $1.75.

Hours are from 11:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Closed Mondays.

NOTHING HAS BEEN MENTIONED here recently about the proposed Senor Alfredo's Mexican Restaurant going into San Anselmo, but construction is in progress and you should be able to look for an opening in another month or six weeks.

Senor Alfredo's will occupy a portion of the former Safeway store on San Anselmo Avenue. The greater part of the building is being converted into San Anselmo's new Post Office. This should be ready by the first of March. Al Barthel won't have his restaurant completed until the middle or end of the month.

Meanwhile he's been acquiring more and more furnishings and Mexican artifacts and may have time for still another trip south of the border for an additional supply before his opening.

SUNDAY $3.95 BRUNCH at Cafe Bon Vin, San Anselmo continues to attract visitors. This may seem to be high for that type of meal, but it includes champagne and a choice of at least nine different brunch entrees at that price, plus a few others in higher brackets. Also supplied are fruit, several kinds of bread and a special coffee.

Just figure it this way: After all that eating you won't be inclined to make another trip out for Sunday dinner.

This week Fred Cherry has a new dinner menu out, featuring a banquet of flaming dishes. Next Wednesday's provincial dinner piece de resistance is veau Marengo. Price for the meal is $4 and there's an added $2 for the preliminary wine tasting, which really should be included to get the full benefit of the evening.

JOHN JOHNSON AND BOB MOHER opened their second Booby's restaurant in December. That new one, located in Modesto, apparently has taken hold almost as well as the one at 3741 Redwood Highway north of San Rafael.

Perhaps the output in Modesto isn't quite up to this one yet. The Marin "shack" serves close to 7,000 customers a month.

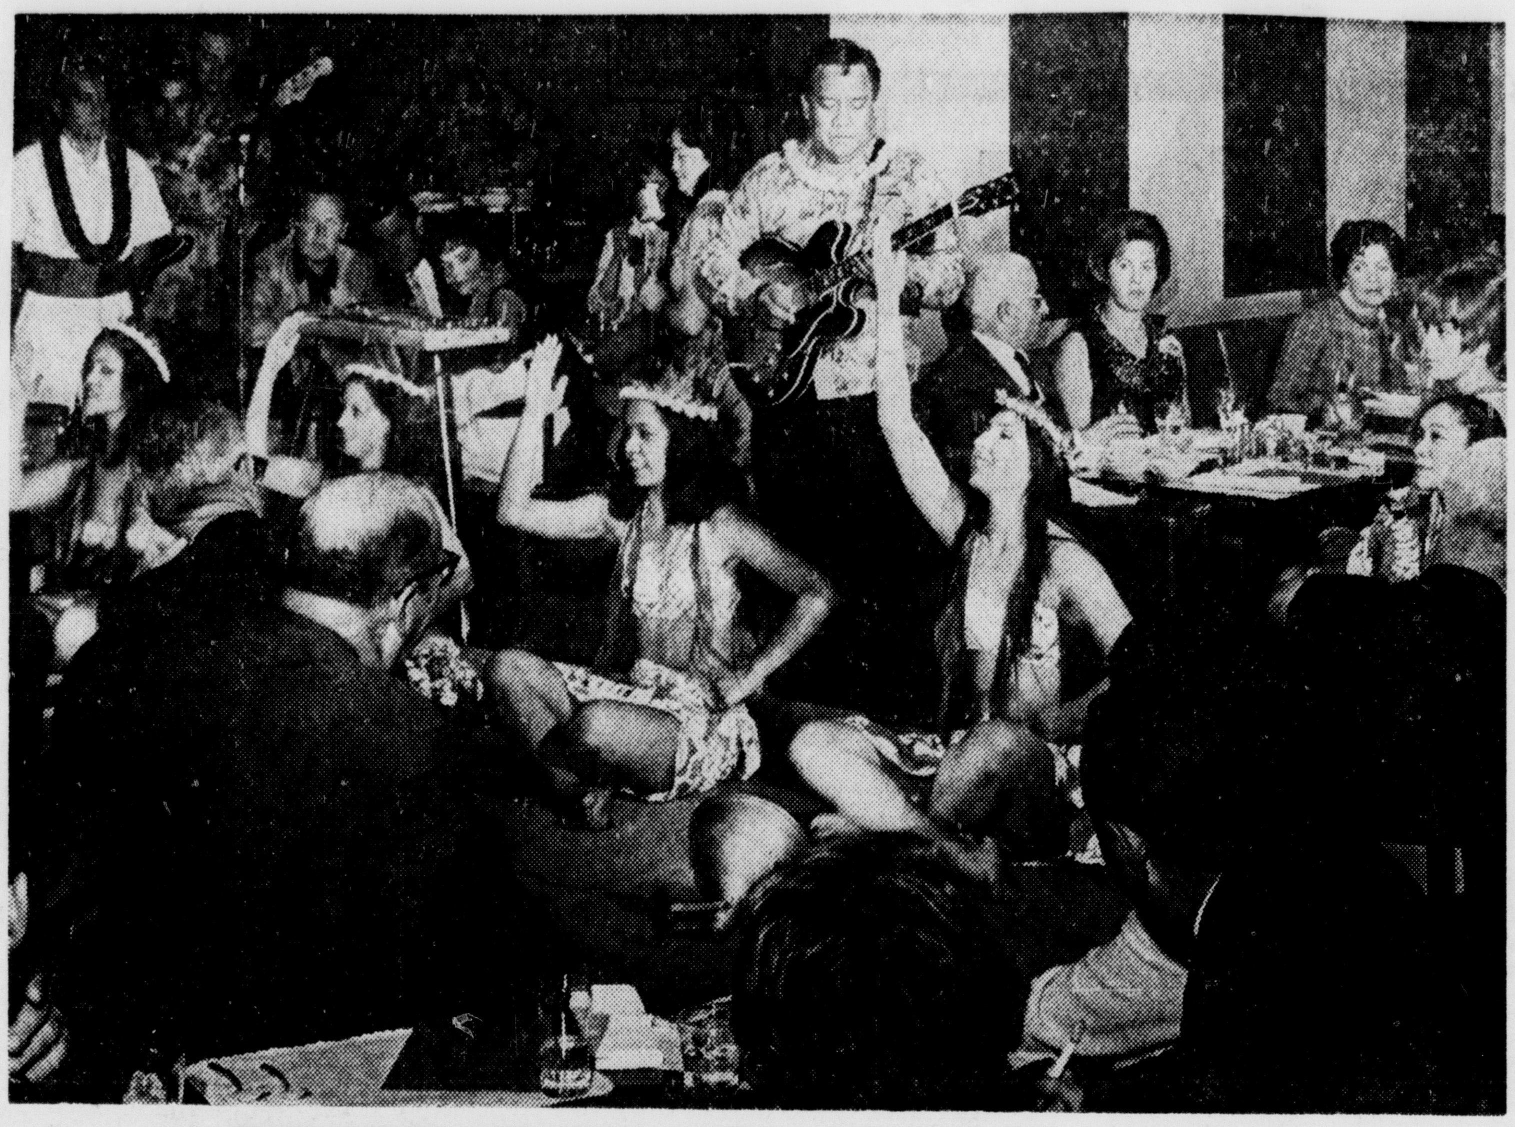
John and Bob have no intentions of stopping with these two. It's in their mind to develop a restaurant chain, which can be accomplished technically with just one more link.

Biggest sellers at Booby's are its roast beef sandwiches, and wouldn't you know it, hamburgers.

YESTERDAY'S new Dining and Wining Guide featured 29 Sonoma restaurants in addition to almost four times that many in Marin County.

This was the first year that Sonoma County became an official part of our restaurant "beat." Obviously it may be some time before we are able to give it the same coverage as we give Marin, since almost all our circulation is here.

In time we may be able to provide a more extensive Sonoma list. Meanwhile, if there are dineries in that area you consider to be particularly interesting and worthy of coverage we's like to hear about them.



CELEBRATION AT LIN FA GARDENS

Once a year Lin Fa Gardens at Northgate Shopping Center is the scene of a gala anniversary party. Polynesian singers, dancers and musicians are brought in to entertain the diners. Fifth anniversary party tonight features floor shows at 8:30 and 10:30 p.m.

Proposed Budget Includes Chunk For A Bay Park

An appropriation of $86,250 from the 1964 Beaches and Parks Bond Act fund, to help Marin Acquire a bay front park in the China Camp-McNear's Beach area, is in Gov. Ronald Reagan's budget for 1969-70.

This assurance came yesterday from William Penn Mott Jr., director of the state Department of Parks and Recreation, in a letter to Pierre W. Joske, county director of beaches and parks.

The county budget this year includes $189,000 for acquisition of a bay front park. The addition of $86,250 from the state bond act would bring the total to $275,250.

Joske said the county has also asked for federal help from the land and water conservation fund to pay for the park.

Although the exact location for a bay front park has not been pinpointed, Joske said the logical area would be China Camp or McNear's Beach.

Marin Dining And Wining

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Restaurant Scene Continues To Change Fast Around Marin

Although at least four new restaurants not yet opened and some forthcoming changes were mentioned in our new Dining and Wining Guide published yesterday, others continue to come to notice.

Last Saturday the Hansa House Family Buffet at Northgate Fashion Mall closed permanently. The space will now be used for other purposes, possibly a breezeway connecting the mall to the west parking area, which has been badly needed, and maybe one or more stores in the remainder.

It was not a matter of poor business for the restaurant that caused the closing. Manning's, Inc., owner of the Hansa House, did well (better than its predecessor restaurant at that address) but the company had no long term lease on the property.

Undoubtedly Manning's will reopen in another Marin location, and I understand a somewhat different type of operation is planned. It may be a plush dining house and cocktail lounge.

Meanwhile the company is opening Solomon Grundy's — a new steakhouse and lounge at the Berkeley Marina next Monday. It is built out over the water and I am told that this is what is contemplated for Marin. However, at this writing, no lease had been signed.

ANOTHER CHANGE has just been confirmed.

Very soon — perhaps in a week or so — Burge's Drive-In at Ignacio will close down for two to three months for a complete remodeling and a new type of operation.

Ed Burge is having a banquet room to seat 100 constructed, and also a cocktail lounge with a capacity of 65. Tables and booths will be installed, the drive-in features will be discontinued and the place will be conducted as a coffee shop and family-type restaurant. Next year we'll include it in the new Dining and Wining Guide.

There will be a change of name, of course, but undoubtedly "Burge's" will figure in it in some way. It has been called that for more than 15 years and the term has identification value.

ONE OF THE FEW restaurants in the county that had a good word for business in January was Le Chalet Basque in Santa Venetia. Frequently the first month of the year is a letdown after the holiday season, and it happened again this year.

Both dining rooms were kept busy if not filled. If the same pace continues I can just see chef Bernard Epstein deciding to add still more dishes to his already extended list of entrees. If I am not mistaken the menu has more than 30 now. That's more than the number featured by some restaurants twice the size.

I'm not sure I'd approve if I had to pay the bills for all that food, but evidently it's one thing responsible for bringing in the customers. And Bernard claims that practically every item is ordered often enough to justify continuing serving it.

There are new chairs now in the upper dining room, adding to the improvements program which seems to be a continuous thing here.

HOUNDSTOOTH INN. 10 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael has a new menu, with most dishes available at both lunch and dinner hours. Available are a variety of omelets, sandwhiches (both hot and cold), salads, diet specials and side orders. Top menu figure is $2.75 which is reasonable enough, and daily specials that are added intermittently also manage to stay under that price.

In the popular sandwich department, grilled Reuben on rye goes for $1.40, hot pastrami at $1.50, hot roast beef at $1.65 and abalone at $1.75.

Hours are from 11:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Closed Mondays.

NOTHING HAS BEEN MENTIONED here recently about the proposed Senor Alfredo's Mexican Restaurant going into San Anselmo, but construction is in progress and you should be able to look for an opening in another month or six weeks.

Senor Alfredo's will occupy a portion of the former Safeway store on San Anselmo Avenue. The greater part of the building is being converted into San Anselmo's new Post Office. This should be ready by the first of March. Al Barthel won't have his restaurant completed until the middle or end of the month.

Meanwhile he's been acquiring more and more furnishings and Mexican artifacts and may have time for still another trip south of the border for an additional supply before his opening.

SUNDAY $3.95 BRUNCH at Cafe Bon Vin, San Anselmo continues to attract visitors. This may seem to be high for that type of meal, but it includes champagne and a choice of at least nine different brunch entrees at that price, plus a few others in higher brackets. Also supplied are fruit, several kinds of bread and a special coffee.

Just figure it this way: After all that eating you won't be inclined to make another trip out for Sunday dinner.

This week Fred Cherry has a new dinner menu out, featuring a banquet of flaming dishes. Next Wednesday's provincial dinner piece de resistance is veau Marengo. Price for the meal is $4 and there's an added $2 for the preliminary wine tasting, which really should be included to get the full benefit of the evening.

JOHN JOHNSON AND BOB MOHER opened their second Booby's restaurant in December. That new one, located in Modesto, apparently has taken hold almost as well as the one at 3741 Redwood Highway north of San Rafael.

Perhaps the output in Modesto isn't quite up to this one yet. The Marin "shack" serves close to 7,000 customers a month.

John and Bob have no intentions of stopping with these two. It's in their mind to develop a restaurant chain, which can be accomplished technically with just one more link.

Biggest sellers at Booby's are its roast beef sandwiches, and wouldn't you know it, hamburgers.

YESTERDAY'S new Dining and Wining Guide featured 29 Sonoma restaurants in addition to almost four times that many in Marin County.

This was the first year that Sonoma County became an official part of our restaurant "beat." Obviously it may be some time before we are able to give it the same coverage as we give Marin, since almost all our circulation is here.

In time we may be able to provide a more extensive Sonoma list. Meanwhile, if there are dineries in that area you consider to be particularly interesting and worthy of coverage we's like to hear about them.

Convicted Drug Dealer Sentenced

A 25-year-old Mill Valley man who, narcotic agents said, was a large dealer in marijuana in the San Geronimo Valley yesterday was given a 5 year-to life sentence in state prison.

William Richard Schraps, who was arrested in a county-wide narcotics raid last February, had pleaded guilty to three counts of selling marijuana. An additional charge of selling LSD was dismissed at the request of the district attorney.

Judge Harold J. Haley, who sentenced Schraps, had committed him to the California Medical Facility at Vacaville for diagnosis prior to the sentencing. Both the Marin County Probation Office and the district attorney had recommended Schraps be sent to prison.

Crew Fights New Oil Leak; Opinions Differ

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — Workmen on an offshore oil well platform struggled today to contain a fresh leak that formed a new slick of crude oil eight miles off the southern California coast.

The flow of oil from fissures in the ocean bottom was a fraction of an earlier leak which spewed more than 230,000 gallons of oil to the surface where winds pushed it onto 30 miles of beaches.

Estimates of the rate of flow from the new leak varied between 2,100 and 120 gallons daily, depending on whether a state official or Union Oil Co. spokesman was questioned.

Oilworkers today readied a huge drum which they planned to lower on top of the major portion of the leaking fissures. The leaking oil would be sucked up through a hose inserted through the top of the drum and pumped into barges for disposal.

The process was likened to a "reverse funnel" which would prevent additional oil escaping on the surface of the Pacific where it could pollute more miles of beaches.

Tugboats dragged a contraption formed from two 800-foot long booms lashed together in a V-shape which would skim the slick from the surface, weather permitting.

The prevailing winds today tended to push the new slick toward the shore but the Coast Guard said there were no confirmed reports that the new oil had contaminated any beaches as yet.

Crews were still spreading straw and chemicals on the sand on both sides of Santa Barbara to sop up the gummy mess from the earlier, 12-day leak which was thought sealed a week ago.

President Fred L. Hartley of Union Oil, which operates the platform six miles off the coast, said the new leak was "residual oil and gas coming up from the formation" which was the source of the original leak. It was "expected to work itself out," said the spokesman.

Paul De Faco, regional director of the federal Air and Water Pollution Control Administration, said the new oil leak developed Wednesday.

De Faco said of Union's statement that the leak was residual oil, "it may have been oil that was not bled off before, or it may be something else."

If the leak was actually a renewal of the original flow, it would be difficult to halt. The original well which erupted in an undersea gusher has been plugged with tons of drilling mud and cement.

Sewer Board Studies New Manhole Lids

A new, lighter type of manhole cover was described to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District directors last night by Gerry Baker, representing Phoenix Iron Works.

Baker said his product fits more tightly because it its machine edged, and therefore cuts down on storm infiltration.

The directors asked engineer J. Warren Nute to study the new cover and make a recommendation.

The Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District directors also:

EASEMENTS — Asked attorney Philip Assaf to check a request by Gallinas Village Community Services District that the sanitary district either blacktop or spray the 10-foot utility easements that run from street to street in Gallinas Village.

BACK FLOW — Asked Director William Brook to prepare a news release to inform the people what steps they can take in case of sewer overflows.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned to 7:30 p.m. Feb. 27 at the district office, 300 Smith Ranch Road.

Boat Storage Area Proposed

A small boat storage area and dock should be temporarily located adjacent to the city's sewage treatment plant on Sycamore Avenue, a Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission subcommittee agreed last night.

According to parks and recreation director Don Dimitratos, the two-member subcommittee, Sarah Davis and George M. Cagwin, said permanent facilities for the small boats should not be constructed until the city's property on Richardson Bay, west of Enchanted Knolls, has been filled.

An additional three to four feet of fill is due to be placed on the land east of Project 17 and adjacent to the city's proposed small craft harbor within the next six to eight months, Dimitratos said.

The subcommittee will make its recommendations at the Feb. 24 parks and recreation commission meeting at 8 p.m. in the Mill Valley Library board room.

Temblor Wakes Vancouver Area

SEATTLE (AP) — A brief earthquake woke residents of northwest Washington and British Columbia today, but no damage or injuries were reported.

University of Washington seismologist Norman Rasmussen said the tremor was centered 70 to 80 miles northwest of Seattle and measured 3.5 to 4 on the Richter scale. It lasted about 20 seconds.

The quake rattled windows and shook books and dishes from shelves. Police switchboards in several cities were flooded with calls.

Walkaway Prisoner Is Back In Custody

A 20-year-old prisoner, who walked out of Marin Superior Court Monday and disappeared, was back in custody today.

The California Highway Patrol booked Robert Bruce Jones, a transient, into Marin County Jail on suspicion of car theft, escaping from custody and possession of marijuana after stopping him in a car at 5:15 p.m. yesterday on Highway 101 in Alto.

Jones appearing in Superior Court Monday, pleaded innocent to a charge of car theft, and then walked out the door instead of taking his place among jail prisoners. A baliff ran after him, but Jones disappeared.

Yesterday, the highway patrol said, a patrolman flagged down a car with no license plates and found Jones at the wheel. A check showed the car was reported stolen from Adele P. Baker of Redwood Ranch, Ignacio, and Jones was sought for escaping.

While Jones was being booked into jail again, officers said, he tried to hide a marijuana cigarette tucked into his waistband.

Jones was jailed without bail on the new charges and was to appear today in Marin Municipal Court. Before he escaped Monday, a preliminary hearing on the initial car theft charge was set for March 17 in Superior Court.

Estimates of the rate of flow from the new leak varied between 2,100 and 120 gallons daily, depending on whether a state official or Union Oil Co. spokesman was questioned.

Oilworkers today readied a huge drum which they planned to lower on top of the major portion of the leaking fissures. The leaking oil would be sucked up through a hose inserted through the top of the drum and pumped into barges for disposal.

The process was likened to a "reverse funnel" which would prevent additional oil escaping on the surface of the Pacific where it could pollute more miles of beaches.

Tugboats dragged a contraption formed from two 800-foot long booms lashed together in a V-shape which would skim the slick from the surface, weather permitting.

The prevailing winds today tended to push the new slick toward the shore but the Coast Guard said there were no confirmed reports that the new oil had contaminated any beaches as yet.

Crews were still spreading straw and chemicals on the sand on both sides of Santa Barbara to sop up the gummy mess from the earlier, 12-day leak which was thought sealed a week ago.

President Fred L. Hartley of Union Oil, which operates the platform six miles off the coast, said the new leak was "residual oil and gas coming up from the formation" which was the source of the original leak. It was "expected to work itself out," said the spokesman.

Paul De Faco, regional director of the federal Air and Water Pollution Control Administration, said the new oil leak developed Wednesday.

De Faco said of Union's statement that the leak was residual oil, "it may have been oil that was not bled off before, or it may be something else."

If the leak was actually a renewal of the original flow, it would be difficult to halt. The original well which erupted in an undersea gusher has been plugged with tons of drilling mud and cement.

Sewer Board Studies New Manhole Lids

A new, lighter type of manhole cover was described to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District directors last night by Gerry Baker, representing Phoenix Iron Works.

Baker said his product fits more tightly because it its machine edged, and therefore cuts down on storm infiltration.

The directors asked engineer J. Warren Nute to study the new cover and make a recommendation.

The Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District directors also:

EASEMENTS — Asked attorney Philip Assaf to check a request by Gallinas Village Community Services District that the sanitary district either blacktop or spray the 10-foot utility easements that run from street to street in Gallinas Village.

BACK FLOW — Asked Director William Brook to prepare a news release to inform the people what steps they can take in case of sewer overflows.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned to 7:30 p.m. Feb. 27 at the district office, 300 Smith Ranch Road.

Boat Storage Area Proposed

A small boat storage area and dock should be temporarily located adjacent to the city's sewage treatment plant on Sycamore Avenue, a Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission subcommittee agreed last night.

According to parks and recreation director Don Dimitratos, the two-member subcommittee, Sarah Davis and George M. Cagwin, said permanent facilities for the small boats should not be constructed until the city's property on Richardson Bay, west of Enchanted Knolls, has been filled.

An additional three to four feet of fill is due to be placed on the land east of Project 17 and adjacent to the city's proposed small craft harbor within the next six to eight months, Dimitratos said.

The subcommittee will make its recommendations at the Feb. 24 parks and recreation commission meeting at 8 p.m. in the Mill Valley Library board room.

Temblor Wakes Vancouver Area

SEATTLE (AP) — A brief earthquake woke residents of northwest Washington and British Columbia today, but no damage or injuries were reported.

University of Washington seismologist Norman Rasmussen said the tremor was centered 70 to 80 miles northwest of Seattle and measured 3.5 to 4 on the Richter scale. It lasted about 20 seconds.

The quake rattled windows and shook books and dishes from shelves. Police switchboards in several cities were flooded with calls.

Walkaway Prisoner Is Back In Custody

A 20-year-old prisoner, who walked out of Marin Superior Court Monday and disappeared, was back in custody today.

The California Highway Patrol booked Robert Bruce Jones, a transient, into Marin County Jail on suspicion of car theft, escaping from custody and possession of marijuana after stopping him in a car at 5:15 p.m. yesterday on Highway 101 in Alto.

Jones appearing in Superior Court Monday, pleaded innocent to a charge of car theft, and then walked out the door instead of taking his place among jail prisoners. A baliff ran after him, but Jones disappeared.

Yesterday, the highway patrol said, a patrolman flagged down a car with no license plates and found Jones at the wheel. A check showed the car was reported stolen from Adele P. Baker of Redwood Ranch, Ignacio, and Jones was sought for escaping.

While Jones was being booked into jail again, officers said, he tried to hide a marijuana cigarette tucked into his waistband.

Jones was jailed without bail on the new charges and was to appear today in Marin Municipal Court. Before he escaped Monday, a preliminary hearing on the initial car theft charge was set for March 17 in Superior Court.

Black Leader Views Anti-Jewish Feelings

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Wilfred T. Ussery, national chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality, said yesterday Jewish businessmen are to blame for what he described as animosity of Negroes toward Jews.

The split, the Negro leader said, is "a product of how the Jewish people function as entrepreneurs in the black community."

Ussery denounced Israel as an aggressor in the Mideast. He called a news conference to report on his presence recently at the second International Conference in Support of Arab Peoples at Cairo.

Pressed about the disaffection of American Jews and Negroes, Ussery said it has come about "because one of the most important problems plaguing communities economically is the cash flow out of black communities."

He said $35 billion comes into black areas, and all but $8 billion flows out to "white suburbia, the corner drug store, the grocery store, the landlord."

"Those businesses are owned by Jewish entrepreneurs," he said.

In response to a question, Ussery said just because the Jew himself had been an object of oppression for centuries was "no reason why we should be the recipient of that kind of oppression."

On the Mideast situation, Ussery branded Israel as an invader of Arab lands and a country that accepted the support of racist South Africa to maintain its own existence.

"There is no record of Israel ever voting against the Republic of South Africa," he said. "This is of great concern to the black people in this country.

"Israel exists in its present perimeter as the result of one aggression after another and in each case having that aggression condemned by the United Nations."

The leader of the 3,000-member organization charged that Israel's land "formerly was held by the Palestinians . . . and because of Israel the Arabs of Palestine as a people no longer exist."

SYNANON CONTINUES TO GROW

Synanon's new "town hall," a social and recreation center at the institution's headquarters on Tomales Bay, can be seen under construction (left) in this aerial view by Independent-Journal photographer Bob Hax, taken yesterday from the plane of San Rafael pilot Oscar E. Montgomery. Synanon, famous for its drug rehabilitation program and "games" therapy, received a $25,000 grant from the Kresge Foundation last year for the addition to its plant, but most of the work is volunteered by foundation friends.

Injuries Are Fatal To Girl Struck By Car

Six-year-old Toni Cameron of San Rafael died yesterday of internal injuries about two hours after she was struck by a car while on her way to school at about 8:30 a.m .

Her death was the second traffic death fatality in Marin County so far this year, compared to none at the same time a year ago.

Toni, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cameron of 15 G Street, was hit while crossing Fourth Street at G Street, San Rafael police said.

Charles Von Loewenfeldt, 52, of 430 Forbes Avenue, the driver, told police his vision was impaired by equipment around a manhole at the intersection. He was driving east on Fourth Street.

Von Loewenfeldt, according to police, said he had stopped at the crosswalk at the corner to let a child across, started again and felt a bump. A witness said the back wheel of his car passed over the child.

Police said the child was not in the crosswalk when the accident occurred.

An autopsy was pending at Harry M. Williams Mortuary.

Gnoss Field Fatal Crash Cause Denied

A federal air safety investigator in Oakland said today he has not completed his investigation of the Dec. 26 airplane crash at Gnoss Field north of Novato which killed a flight instructor and his student pilot.

William Slater, of the National Transportation Safety Board in Oakland, said a Jan. 31 Independent-Journal story which said he had attributed the cause of the crash to icing of the carburetor was not accurate.

Slater said the report was based on a reporter's misinterpretation of his discussion about possible causes of the crash. He said he had reported that the crash "could" have been caused by carburetor icing, but added that the cause might have been any of a variety of other things, ranging from a collision with a bird to a pilot heart attack.

The field investigation of the crash will not be completed for at least another three months, Slater said, and the blame for the crash, to be determined by the safety board's analysts in Washington, will not be assigned until after he files his report. It is not his function to determine the cause of the crash, he said.

The crash killed student pilot William J. Filkorn, 31, of Mill Valley, and instructor Stephen McCaffrey, 23, of Santa Rosa.

It still has not been determined who was flying the Piper Cherokee 140 although Filkorn was in the pilot's seat of the dual-control plane.

New Student Club Sets A Car Wash

A car wash will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday by the members of the Chevelier, newly formed auto club, at the Grant Nelson service station at Novato Boulevard and Center Road, Novato, according to Kerry Atkinson, car wash chairman.

Chevelier is composed of members from both Novato and San Marin high schools, Atkinson said.

Mothers' Patrol Held Solution To Molesters

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

Concerned mothers should band together to patrol the shady, quiet street of Ross to scare off potential child molesters, Town Councilman Natalie G. Lewis told a group of upset parents last night.

She proposed the mother patrols during a meeting in which parents, concerned over the latest in a series of indecent exposures in the community, demanded increased police protection.

"We're just asking for these people (sex perverts) to come here," one mother told the council as she and others urged that the four-man Ross police force be increased by at least two and preferably three or four men. "Some day some little girl is not going to come home."

Another mother, angrily telling the council it should go further than its present plans to hire one extra policeman, added, "Our children aren't protected. We're raising them in a state of fear." She said talking of only one more policeman was "rationalizing the status quo."

The father of the 7-year-old victim of the most recent exposure incident urged that the council consider hiring at least two more men.

Council members, however, under the current tax rate. The hiring, they agreed would have to wait on next fiscal year's budget setting.

Insisting that the number of exposure incidents — one so far this year, nine last year and six in the three preceding years — was "not that dramatic," Mrs Lewis chided the parents for expecting too much of the police.

"Mothers ought to take more responsibility instead of complaining to the police," she said, suggesting the mother patrols concentrate on Lagunitas Road, Laurel Grove Avenue and Shady Lane where most of the incidents have occurred.

She said the best weapon against further incidents was "more involvement," adding: "Our police force suffers from the quiet, relaxed attitudes most of us have."

Mayor Frederick S. Allen and Councilman W. James Dawson vigorously supported Mrs. Lewis' insistence that the force should be expanded by only one man.

Dawson told the parents. "From my standpoint, sitting on this council, it comes down to a matter of dollars and cents." He said the town could easily afford one more policeman, that two more would be uneconomical and that the town "absolutely cannot afford" more than that. The current police budget is about $54,000 but overtime costs already this year will push it closer to $60,000, he said.

Dawson also said the number of child molestings in Ross was not out of line with the number in similar communities and said the Ross police force, in size and salaries, compares favorably with other Marin County forces.

He endorsed Mrs. Lewis' mother patrol idea, saying, "You can't always shift the burden to somebody else. You sometines have to take the burden yourself."

This was echoed by Councilman Roy Farrington Jones who urged more "parental assistance" in teaching children how to protect themselves. Allen suggested also that parents urge their children to walk to and from school in groups.

The Ross Town Council Also:

MISSILES — Refused to consider a resolution, suggested from the audience, opposing installation of Sentinel missiles in Marin County. Allen and Dawson contended the proposed system was really none of their business, adding that decisions on deployment of the missiles should be left up "to the experts in Washington."

STOP SIGNS — Approved temporary installation of three stop signs at Chestnut Avenue and Bridge Road and Willow Avenue and Bridge Road pending further study on whether the signs are needed permanently.

POLICE — Approved the hiring of Walter Fischer to the police force at $584 a month to replace a policeman who resigned.

FIREMEN — Approved the sending of commendation letters to John Malarin, who served 22 years as a volunteer fireman, and Enrico Marchisco, who had 28 years service with the fire department.

MEETING — Set its next meeting for 8 p.m. Feb. 27 to meet with Army engineers for a report on plans for the Corte Madera Creek project.

SUBDIVISION — Approved an informal subdivision on land owned by Mrs. Joseph W. Crawford at 47 Lagunitas Road.

ORDINANCES — Adopted several routine ordinances providing for changes and amendments to various city codes.

Time In Prison On Two Charges

Kenneth Wayne Bailey, 20, of Fairfax, was sentenced yesterday to state prison for a term of one year to life for two counts of second degree robbery and one of a lewd or lascivious act with a child.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court ordered that the sentences for the offences run conurrently.

Bailey, who had been indicted by the Marin Grand Jury, committed the acts on July 20, 1968 in Fairfax.

Trial Is Set On Marijuana Selling

Jury trial for Patrick Courtney, 40, of Gate 5 near Sausalito, who is charged with selling marijuana, was set yesterday for the week of March 24 in Marin Superior Court.

Courtney was arrested in a narcotics roudup in February 1968.

Driver Cuts Heel In Auto Collision

Roberta Thorsen, 33, of Woodacre, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut heel following an automobile collision at 1:20 p.m. yesterday at Third and B streets, San Rafael, police reported.

The driver of the other car was Shelley Estes, 19, of 407 First Street, San Rafael.

Art Commission To Draft Policy

Mill Valley Art Commission members last night agreed to develop a written statement of purposes and goals for discussion with the city's parks and recreation and planning commissions, Commissioner Gloria Wachs reported.

Mrs. Wachs, chairman Sali Lieberman and Commissioner Laura Devendorf were named to the committee which will prepare the statement. Commissioner Ann O'Hanlon will prepare a slide show of European parks and recreational facilities to accompany the written statement, Mrs. Wachs said.

Commissioners received requests from artists Art Grant and Dinah Hazell to exhibit in the library gallery this fall. The scheduling of exhibit dates will be worked out by the gallery committee, Mrs. Wachs said.

Commissioners also heard that a workshop group conducted by Mrs. O'Hanlon will exhibit in the library gallery during March.

Higher Property Density On Agenda

A request for higher density for property, owned by Manuel Gomez, northwest of the Christian Science Church on Camino Alto, will be considered by the Mill Valley City Council at 8 p.m. Monday in city hall.

Also scheduled is a call for bids for landscaping plans for lower Millver Avenue and East Blithedale Avenue extension, appointments to the library board and art and parks and recreation commissions, imporvements to Carmelita Avenue and discussion of the Bay Area regional organization proposal.

Students At Vallecito Attend ACT

Two eighth grade classes at Vallecito School in Dixie School District were dismissed at 11 a.m. yesterday so pupils could attend a matinee of "In White America" at Marine's Memorial Theater in San Francisco.

The trip to the play was arranged by the Council of Music and Arts, a district-wide parent group, according to Earl Thomason, Vallecito principal. The council provided transportation, he said. Tickets cost the pupils $3 each.

Pupils from the two homeroom classes were permitted to attend classes with other homerooms during the remainder of the day if they did not wish to make the trip, the principal said. Some parents kept their children home, however.

"In White America" is a play constructed around writings and speeches regarding racial relations in American history. It is intended as a "shocker." In his review of the San Francisco production, which is by American Conservatory Theater, Independent-Journal drama critic Karl Barron wrote yesterday:

"A young cast seems diffident about smashing the play's nastiness down the throat of the audience."

Pen Contains An Explosive

A ball point pen, possibly containing an explosive, was confiscated by Ross police last night from a drainage tunnel near 223 Redwood Road.

Mrs. Willie M. Fritz of that address telephoned police at about 9:30 p.m. when she noticed a light from the culvert. Inside a coffee can in the tunnel, police found a burning candle attached to a ball point pen that contained a clear liquid.

The device was sent to the state authorities for laboratory analysis.

Trustee Contests For Three Boards

New filings for county school boards have created the first real election contests in three school districts, Kentfield, Ross and Laguna.

In Kentfield, Robert H. Berry, an accountant, has filed to join incumbents John R. B. Ellis and Gloria M. Riccardi and school music consultant Valda Kulka in the race for the district board's three vacancies.

A contest for the three vacancies on the Ross board was also created with the filing of advertising man William G. Morrisey. Incumbent Van Norden Logan and Martin S. Chase and Sally Ann Rakow already had filed.

Laguna also has a contest for its two seats with the filing of Petaluma truck driver William J. Berretta who will oppose incumbent Thomas G. Ielmorini and Donald J. Moreda.

Other new filings included:

Fairfax: incumbents George C. Stone and Jane S. Durr.

Marin Junior College District: Winston J. Arnett of Sa Rafael.

Novato: incumbent Marett B. Boissevain and contractor A. J. Bresnan.

San Anselmo: incumbent Pieter Toal.

Sausalito: Charles Gerald Clear, retired industrial scientist.

There still have been no filings in Bolinas-Stinson, with two terms up; Lagunitas, with three; Lincoln, with two; Nicasio, two; Tomales Bay, three; Union, two; or West Marin, three.

International Film Series Set At Sonoma State

A series of international film classics will be shown this semester at Sonoma State College as a project of the Aquariun Club.

The series will begin today with showings at 7 and 9 p.m. in Darwin Hall of two American films, "Casablanca" and "The Cage." The films will also be shown Sunday at the same times.

Other films scheduled include "War of the Buttons" from France and "Valentin" from Mexico on Feb. 28 and March 1; "The Bridge" from Germany and "Ersatz" from Czechoslovakia on March 14 and 15; "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow" from Italy on April 18 and 19; "The Shop on Main Street," from Czechoslovakia on May 2 and 3; and "My Name Is Ivan," from Russia on May 16 and 17.

Passenger's Foot Brings Accident

A 50-year-old Corte Madera woman suffered a cut lip when her car hit a tree, highway divider and parked car at 12:15 a.m. today in San Rafael, because a passenger stepped on her foot, forcing it down on the gas pedal, police reported.

Kathleen Whetzter of 23 Redwood Avenue, was treated at Marin General Hospital.

The passenger, Edgar Woodrow Blackburn, 43, of 230 Monte Vista, Larkspur, was cited by police for interferring with the driver of a car, but no reason was given for the action.

The car finally came to a halt after hitting a parked vehicle at Bellam Avenue and Verdi Street.

Completion Date Asked At Tomales

The Tomales High School District board last night asked for a definite date for the completion, and any request for an extension of time, for the new high school, according to Supt. Anthony Matulich.

Matulich was instructed to have the architect, Marshall and Boles, consult with the contractor, Olsen and Baum, to set the date.

The building is approximately 75 per cent completed and is expected to be finished in May, but will not be occupied until next September, according to Matulich.

The Tomales High School District board also:

BONDS — Heard a report from Matulich that $46,000 in five-year bonds was sold to the firm of Bateman, Eichler, Hill, Richards Inc. of San Francisco at an interest rate of 4.984 per cent.

COMMITTEE — Adopted a proposal by Matulich that a vocational agricultural advisory committee be created. Its members will be named later.

LEAVE — Adopted a resolution whereby employees may get leave for a death in the family, an appearance in court, or for any other reason the board deems valid.

WORKSHOP — Approved holding in-service workshops on two Saturdays and paying the teachers $25 per day for them. The dates of the workshop will be set later.

APPLICATION — Approved an application for $4,925 to the federal government, to be matched by the district, for counseling and guidance service.

ACCREDITATION — Heard a report from vice principal Leal L. Fenton that a team from the Western Association of Schools and Colleges had made an accreditation survey of the high school on Feb. 3, 4 and 5.

AUDIT — Accepted for study the annual audit from Deaton and Roberts of Petaluma, but postponed accepting it until the boards March 13 meeting.

SYNANON CONTINUES TO GROW

Synanon's new "town hall," a social and recreation center at the institution's headquarters on Tomales Bay, can be seen under construction (left) in this aerial view by Independent-Journal photographer Bob Hax, taken yesterday from the plane of San Rafael pilot Oscar E. Montgomery. Synanon, famous for its drug rehabilitation program and "games" therapy, received a $25,000 grant from the Kresge Foundation last year for the addition to its plant, but most of the work is volunteered by foundation friends.

Injuries Are Fatal To Girl Struck By Car

Six-year-old Toni Cameron of San Rafael died yesterday of internal injuries about two hours after she was struck by a car while on her way to school at about 8:30 a.m .

Her death was the second traffic death fatality in Marin County so far this year, compared to none at the same time a year ago.

Toni, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cameron of 15 G Street, was hit while crossing Fourth Street at G Street, San Rafael police said.

Charles Von Loewenfeldt, 52, of 430 Forbes Avenue, the driver, told police his vision was impaired by equipment around a manhole at the intersection. He was driving east on Fourth Street.

Von Loewenfeldt, according to police, said he had stopped at the crosswalk at the corner to let a child across, started again and felt a bump. A witness said the back wheel of his car passed over the child.

Police said the child was not in the crosswalk when the accident occurred.

An autopsy was pending at Harry M. Williams Mortuary.

Gnoss Field Fatal Crash Cause Denied

A federal air safety investigator in Oakland said today he has not completed his investigation of the Dec. 26 airplane crash at Gnoss Field north of Novato which killed a flight instructor and his student pilot.

William Slater, of the National Transportation Safety Board in Oakland, said a Jan. 31 Independent - Journal story which said he had attributed the cause of the crash to icing of the carburetor was not accurate.

Slater said the report was based on a reporter's misinterpretation of his discussion about possible causes of the crash. He said he had reported that the crash "could" have been caused by carburetor icing, but added that the cause might have been any of a variety of other things, ranging from a collision with a bird to a pilot heart attack.

The field investigation of the crash will not be completed for at least another three months, Slater said, and the blame for the crash, to be determined by the safety board's analysts in Washington, will not be assigned until after he files his report. It is not his function to determine the cause of the crash, he said.

The crash killed student pilot William J. Filkorn, 31, of Mill Valley, and instructor Stephen McCaffrey, 23, of Santa Rosa.

It still has not been determined who was flying the Piper Cherokee 140 although Filkorn was in the pilot's seat of the dual-control plane.

New Student Club Sets A Car Wash

A car wash will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday by the members of the Chevelier, newly formed auto club, at the Grant Nelson service station at Novato Boulevard and Center Road, Novato, according to Kerry Atkinson, car wash chairman.

Chevelier is composed of members from both Novato and San Marin high schools, Atkinson said.

Mothers' Patrol Held Solution To Molesters

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

Concerned mothers should band together to patrol the shady, quiet street of Ross to scare off potential child molesters, Town Councilman Natalie G. Lewis told a group of upset parents last night.

She proposed the mother patrols during a meeting in which parents, concerned over the latest in a series of indecent exposures in the community, demanded increased police protection.

"We're just asking for these people (sex perverts) to come here," one mother told the council as she and others urged that the four-man Ross police force be increased by at least two and preferably three or four men. "Some day some little girl is not going to come home."

Another mother, angrily telling the council it should go further than its present plans to hire one extra policeman, added, "Our children aren't protected. We're raising them in a state of fear." She said talking of only one more policeman was "rationalizing the status quo."

The father of the 7-year-old victim of the most recent exposure incident urged that the council consider hiring at least two more men.

Council members, however, under the current tax rate. The hiring, they agreed would have to wait on next fiscal year's budget setting.

Insisting that the number of exposure incidents — one so far this year, nine last year and six in the three preceding years — was "not that dramatic," Mrs Lewis chided the parents for expecting too much of the police.

"Mothers ought to take more responsibility instead of complaining to the police," she said, suggesting the mother patrols concentrate on Lagunitas Road, Laurel Grove Avenue and Shady Lane where most of the incidents have occurred.

She said the best weapon against further incidents was "more involvement," adding: "Our police force suffers from the quiet, relaxed attitudes most of us have."

Mayor Frederick S. Allen and Councilman W. James Dawson vigorously supported Mrs. Lewis' insistence that the force should be expanded by only one man.

Dawson told the parents. "From my standpoint, sitting on this council, it comes down to a matter of dollars and cents." He said the town could easily afford one more policeman, that two more would be uneconomical and that the town "absolutely cannot afford" more than that. The current police budget is about $54,000 but overtime costs already this year will push it closer to $60,000, he said.

Dawson also said the number of child molestings in Ross was not out of line with the number in similar communities and said the Ross police force, in size and salaries, compares favorably with other Marin County forces.

He endorsed Mrs. Lewis' mother patrol idea, saying, "You can't always shift the burden to somebody else. You sometimes have to take the burden yourself."

This was echoed by Councilman Roy Farrington Jones who urged more "parental assistance" in teaching children how to protect themselves. Allen suggested also that parents urge their children to walk to and from school in groups.

The Ross Town Council Also:

MISSILES — Refused to consider a resolution, suggested from the audience, opposing installation of Sentinel missiles in Marin County. Allen and Dawson contended the proposed system was really none of their business, adding that decisions on deployment of the missiles should be left up "to the experts in Washington."

STOP SIGNS — Approved temporary installation of three stop signs at Chestnut Avenue and Bridge Road and Willow Avenue and Bridge Road pending further study on whether the signs are needed permanently.

POLICE — Approved the hiring of Walter Fischer to the police force at $584 a month to replace a policeman who resigned.

FIREMEN — Approved the sending of commendation letters to John Malarin, who served 22 years as a volunteer fireman, and Enrico Marchisco, who had 28 years service with the fire department.

MEETING — Set its next meeting for 8 p.m. Feb. 27 to meet with Army engineers for a report on plans for the Corte Madera Creek project.

SUBDIVISION — Approved an informal subdivision on land owned by Mrs. Joseph W. Crawford at 47 Lagunitas Road.

ORDINANCES — Adopted several routine ordinances providing for changes and amendments to various city codes.

Time In Prison On Two Charges

Kenneth Wayne Bailey, 20, of Fairfax, was sentenced yesterday to state prison for a term of one year to life for two counts of second degree robbery and one of a lewd or lascivious act with a child.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court ordered that the sentences for the offences run conurrently.

Bailey, who had been indicted by the Marin Grand Jury, committed the acts on July 20, 1968 in Fairfax.

Trial Is Set On Marijuana Selling

Jury trial for Patrick Courtney, 40, of Gate 5 near Sausalito, who is charged with selling marijuana, was set yesterday for the week of March 24 in Marin Superior Court.

Courtney was arrested in a narcotics roudup in February 1968.

Driver Cuts Heel In Auto Collision

Roberta Thorsen, 33, of Woodacre, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut heel following an automobile collision at 1:20 p.m. yesterday at Third and B streets, San Rafael, police reported.

The driver of the other car was Shelley Estes, 19, of 407 First Street, San Rafael.

Art Commission To Draft Policy

Mill Valley Art Commission members last night agreed to develop a written statement of purposes and goals for discussion with the city's parks and recreation and planning commissions, Commissioner Gloria Wachs reported.

Mrs. Wachs, chairman Sali Lieberman and Commissioner Laura Devendorf were named to the committee which will prepare the statement. Commissioner Ann O'Hanlon will prepare a slide show of European parks and recreational facilities to accompany the written statement, Mrs. Wachs said.

Commissioners received requests from artists Art Grant and Dinah Hazell to exhibit in the library gallery this fall. The scheduling of exhibit dates will be worked out by the gallery committee, Mrs. Wachs said.

Commissioners also heard that a workshop group conducted by Mrs. O'Hanlon will exhibit in the library gallery during March.

Higher Property Density On Agenda

A request for higher density for property, owned by Manuel Gomez, northwest of the Christian Science Church on Camino Alto, will be considered by the Mill Valley City Council at 8 p.m. Monday in city hall.

Also scheduled is a call for bids for landscaping plans for lower Millver Avenue and East Blithedale Avenue extension, appointments to the library board and art and parks and recreation commissions, imporvements to Carmelita Avenue and discussion of the Bay Area regional organization proposal.

Students At Vallecito Attend ACT

Two eighth grade classes at Vallecito School in Dixie School District were dismissed at 11 a.m. yesterday so pupils could attend a matinee of "In White America" at Marine's Memorial Theater in San Francisco.

The trip to the play was arranged by the Council of Music and Arts, a district-wide parent group, according to Earl Thomason, Vallecito principal. The council provided transportation, he said. Tickets cost the pupils $3 each.

Pupils from the two homeroom classes were permitted to attend classes with other homerooms during the remainder of the day if they did not wish to make the trip, the principal said. Some parents kept their children home, however.

"In White America" is a play constructed around writings and speeches regarding racial relations in American history. It is intended as a "shocker." In his review of the San Francisco production, which is by American Conservatory Theater, Independent-Journal drama critic Karl Barron wrote yesterday:

"A young cast seems diffident about smashing the play's nastiness down the throat of the audience."

Pen Contains An Explosive

A ball point pen, possibly containing an explosive, was confiscated by Ross police last night from a drainage tunnel near 223 Redwood Road.

Mrs. Willie M. Fritz of that address telephoned police at about 9:30 p.m. when she noticed a light from the culvert. Inside a coffee can in the tunnel, police found a burning candle attached to a ball point pen that contained a clear liquid.

The device was sent to the state authorities for laboratory analysis.

Trustee Contests For Three Boards

New filings for county school boards have created the first real election contests in three school districts, Kentfield, Ross and Laguna.

In Kentfield, Robert H. Berry, an accountant, has filed to join incumbents John R. B. Ellis and Gloria M. Riccardi and school music consultant Valda Kulka in the race for the district board's three vacancies.

A contest for the three vacancies on the Ross board was also created with the filing of advertising man William G. Morrisey. Incumbent Van Norden Logan and Martin S. Chase and Sally Ann Rakow already had filed.

Black Leader Views Anti-Jewish Feelings

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Wilfred T. Ussery, national chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality, said yesterday Jewish businessmen are to blame for what he described as animosity of Negroes toward Jews.

The split, the Negro leader said, is "a product of how the Jewish people function as entrepreneurs in the black community."

Ussery denounced Israel as an aggressor in the Mideast. He called a news conference to report on his presence recently at the second International Conference in Support of Arab Peoples at Cairo.

Pressed about the disaffection of American Jews and Negroes, Ussery said it has come about "because one of the most important problems plaguing communities economically is the cash flow out of black communities."

He said $35 billion comes into black areas, and all but $8 billion flows out to "white suburbia, the corner drug store, the grocery store, the landlord."

"Those businesses are owned by Jewish entrepreneurs," he said.

In response to a question, Ussery said just because the Jew himself had been an object of oppression for centuries was "no reason why we should be the recipient of that kind of oppression."

On the Mideast situation, Ussery branded Israel as an invader of Arab lands and a country that accepted the support of racist South Africa to maintain its own existence.

"There is no record of Israel ever voting against the Republic of South Africa," he said. "This is of great concern to the black people in this country.

"Israel exists in its present perimeter as the result of one aggression after another and in each case having that aggression condemned by the United Nations."

The leader of the 3,000-member organization charged that Israel's land "formerly was held by the Palestinians . . . and because of Israel the Arabs of Palestine as a people no longer exist."

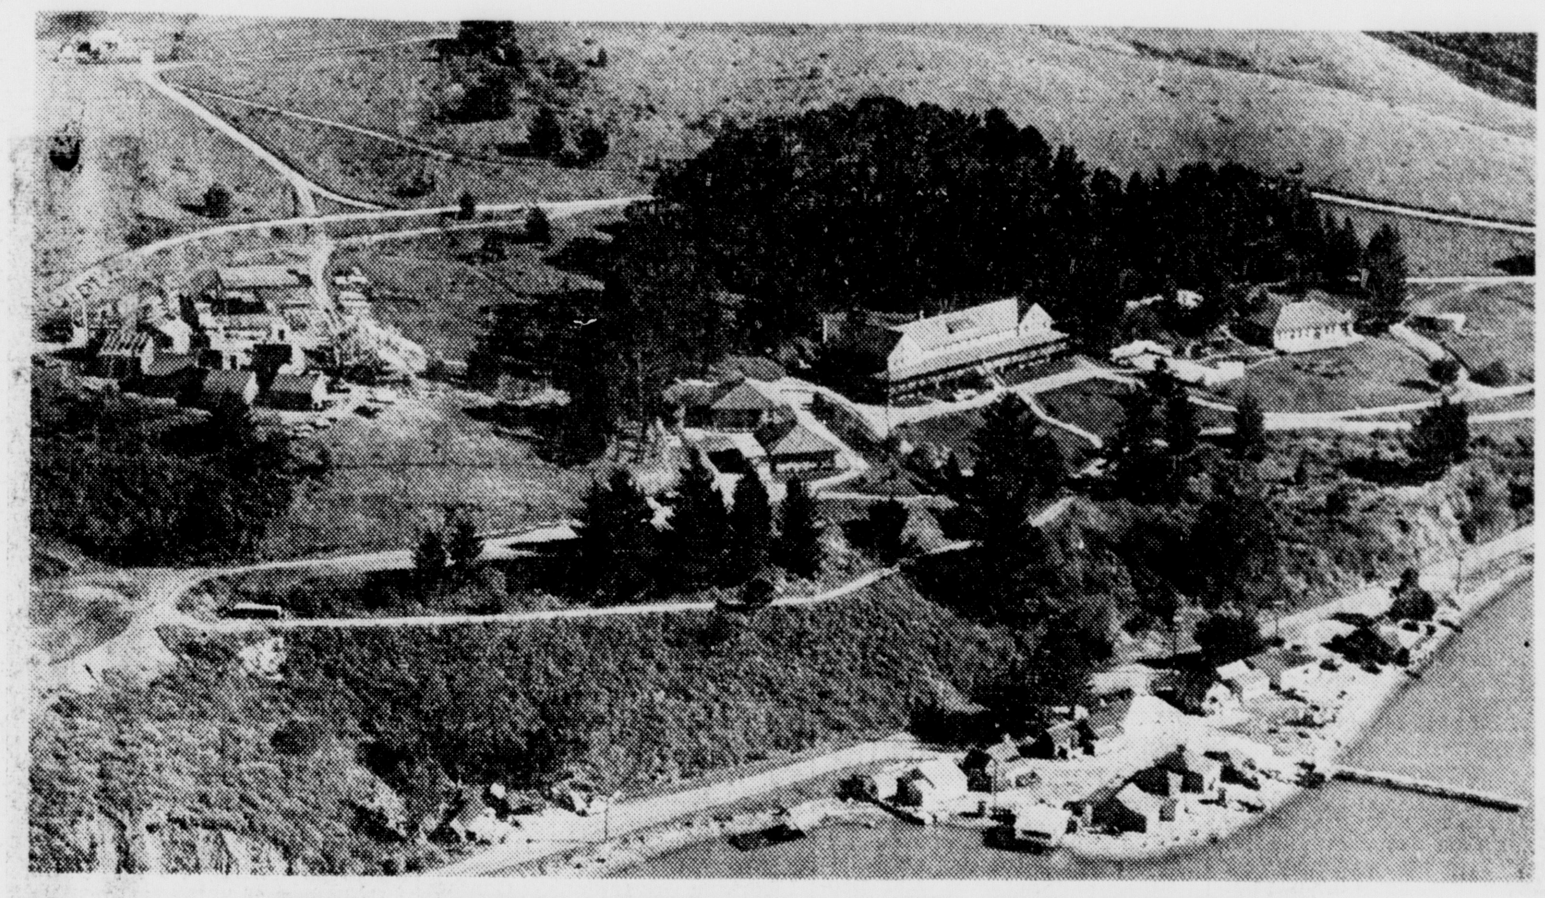
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY
THIRD SECTION SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1969 23



SYNANON CONTINUES TO GROW

Synanon's new "town hall," a social and recreation center at the institution's headquarters on Tomales Bay, can be seen under construction (left) in this aerial view by Independent-Journal photographer Bob Hax, taken yesterday from the plane of San Rafael pilot Oscar E. Montgomery. Synanon, famous for its drug rehabilitation program and "games" therapy, received a $25,000 grant from the Kresge Foundation last year for the addition to its plant, but most of the work is volunteered by foundation friends.

Injuries Are Fatal To Girl Struck By Car

Six-year-old Toni Cameron of San Rafael died yesterday of internal injuries about two hours after she was struck by a car while on her way to school at about 8:30 a.m .

Her death was the second traffic death fatality in Marin County so far this year, compared to none at the same time a year ago.

Toni, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cameron of 15 G Street, was hit while crossing Fourth Street at G Street, San Rafael police said.

Charles Von Loewenfeldt, 52, of 430 Forbes Avenue, the driver, told police his vision was impaired by equipment around a manhole at the intersection. He was driving east on Fourth Street.

Von Loewenfeldt, according to police, said he had stopped at the crosswalk at the corner to let a child across, started again and felt a bump. A witness said the back wheel of his car passed over the child.

Police said the child was not in the crosswalk when the accident occurred.

An autopsy was pending at Harry M. Williams Mortuary.

Gnoss Field Fatal Crash Cause Denied

A federal air safety investigator in Oakland said today he has not completed his investigation of the Dec. 26 airplane crash at Gnoss Field north of Novato which killed a flight instructor and his student pilot.

William Slater, of the National Transportation Safety Board in Oakland, said a Jan. 31 Independent - Journal story which said he had attributed the cause of the crash to icing of the carburetor was not accurate.

Slater said the report was based on a reporter's misinterpretation of his discussion about possible causes of the crash. He said he had reported that the crash "could" have been caused by carburetor icing, but added that the cause might have been any of a variety of other things, ranging from a collision with a bird to a pilot heart attack.

The field investigation of the crash will not be completed for at least another three months, Slater said, and the blame for the crash, to be determined by the safety board's analysts in Washington, will not be assigned until after he files his report. It is not his function to determine the cause of the crash, he said.

The crash killed student pilot William J. Filkorn, 31, of Mill Valley, and instructor Stephen McCaffrey, 23, of Santa Rosa.

It still has not been determined who was flying the Piper Cherokee 140 although Filkorn was in the pilot's seat of the dual-control plane.

New Student Club Sets A Car Wash

A car wash will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday by the members of the Chevelier, newly formed auto club, at the Grant Nelson service station at Novato Boulevard and Center Road, Novato, according to Kerry Atkinson, car wash chairman.

Chevelier is composed of members from both Novato and San Marin high schools, Atkinson said.

Mothers' Patrol Held Solution To Molesters

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

Concerned mothers should band together to patrol the shady, quiet street of Ross to scare off potential child molesters, Town Councilman Natalie G. Lewis told a group of upset parents last night.

She proposed the mother patrols during a meeting in which parents, concerned over the latest in a series of indecent exposures in the community, demanded increased police protection.

"We're just asking for these people (sex perverts) to come here," one mother told the council as she and others urged that the four-man Ross police force be increased by at least two and preferably three or four men. "Some day some little girl is not going to come home."

Another mother, angrily telling the council it should go further than its present plans to hire one extra policeman, added, "Our children aren't protected. We're raising them in a state of fear." She said talking of only one more policeman was "rationalizing the status quo."

The father of the 7-year-old victim of the most recent exposure incident urged that the council consider hiring at least two more men.

Council members, however, under the current tax rate. The hiring, they agreed would have to wait on next fiscal year's budget setting.

Insisting that the number of exposure incidents — one so far this year, nine last year and six in the three preceding years — was "not that dramatic," Mrs Lewis chided the parents for expecting too much of the police.

"Mothers ought to take more responsibility instead of complaining to the police," she said, suggesting the mother patrols concentrate on Lagunitas Road, Laurel Grove Avenue and Shady Lane where most of the incidents have occurred.

She said the best weapon against further incidents was "more involvement," adding: "Our police force suffers from the quiet, relaxed attitudes most of us have."

Mayor Frederick S. Allen and Councilman W. James Dawson vigorously supported Mrs. Lewis' insistence that the force should be expanded by only one man.

Dawson told the parents. "From my standpoint, sitting on this council, it comes down to a matter of dollars and cents." He said the town could easily afford one more policeman, that two more would be uneconomical and that the town "absolutely cannot afford" more than that. The current police budget is about $54,000 but overtime costs already this year will push it closer to $60,000, he said.

Dawson also said the number of child molestings in Ross was not out of line with the number in similar communities and said the Ross police force, in size and salaries, compares favorably with other Marin County forces.

He endorsed Mrs. Lewis' mother patrol idea, saying, "You can't always shift the burden to somebody else. You sometines have to take the burden yourself."

This was echoed by Councilman Roy Farrington Jones who urged more "parental assistance" in teaching children how to protect themselves. Allen suggested also that parents urge their children to walk to and from school in groups.

The Ross Town Council Also:

MISSILES — Refused to consider a resolution, suggested from the audience, opposing installation of Sentinel missiles in Marin County. Allen and Dawson contended the proposed system was really none of their business, adding that decisions on deployment of the missiles should be left up "to the experts in Washington."

STOP SIGNS — Approved temporary installation of three stop signs at Chestnut Avenue and Bridge Road and Willow Avenue and Bridge Road pending further study on whether the signs are needed permanently.

POLICE — Approved the hiring of Walter Fischer to the police force at $584 a month to replace a policeman who resigned.

FIREMEN — Approved the sending of commendation letters to John Malarin, who served 22 years as a volunteer fireman, and Enrico Marchisco, who had 28 years service with the fire department.

MEETING — Set its next meeting for 8 p.m. Feb. 27 to meet with Army engineers for a report on plans for the Corte Madera Creek project.

SUBDIVISION — Approved an informal subdivision on land owned by Mrs. Joseph W. Crawford at 47 Lagunitas Road.

ORDINANCES — Adopted several routine ordinances providing for changes and amendments to various city codes.

Time In Prison On Two Charges

Kenneth Wayne Bailey, 20, of Fairfax, was sentenced yesterday to state prison for a term of one year to life for two counts of second degree robbery and one of a lewd or lascivious act with a child.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court ordered that the sentences for the offences run conurrently.

Bailey, who had been indicted by the Marin Grand Jury, committed the acts on July 20, 1968 in Fairfax.

Trial Is Set On Marijuana Selling

Jury trial for Patrick Courtney, 40, of Gate 5 near Sausalito, who is charged with selling marijuana, was set yesterday for the week of March 24 in Marin Superior Court.

Courtney was arrested in a narcotics roudup in February 1968.

Driver Cuts Heel In Auto Collision

Roberta Thorsen, 33, of Woodacre, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut heel following an automobile collision at 1:20 p.m. yesterday at Third and B streets, San Rafael, police reported.

The driver of the other car was Shelley Estes, 19, of 407 First Street, San Rafael.

Higher Property Density On Agenda

A request for higher density for property, owned by Manuel Gomez, northwest of the Christian Science Church on Camino Alto, will be considered by the Mill Valley City Council at 8 p.m. Monday in city hall.

Also scheduled is a call for bids for landscaping plans for lower Millver Avenue and East Blithedale Avenue extension, appointments to the library board and art and parks and recreation commissions, imporvements to Carmelita Avenue and discussion of the Bay Area regional organization proposal.

Art Commission To Draft Policy

Mill Valley Art Commission members last night agreed to develop a written statement of purposes and goals for discussion with the city's parks and recreation and planning commissions, Commissioner Gloria Wachs reported.

Mrs. Wachs, chairman Sali Lieberman and Commissioner Laura Devendorf were named to the committee which will prepare the statement. Commissioner Ann O'Hanlon will prepare a slide show of European parks and recreational facilities to accompany the written statement, Mrs. Wachs said.

Commissioners received requests from artists Art Grant and Dinah Hazell to exhibit in the library gallery this fall. The scheduling of exhibit dates will be worked out by the gallery committee, Mrs. Wachs said.

Commissioners also heard that a workshop group conducted by Mrs. O'Hanlon will exhibit in the library gallery during March.

Students At Vallecito Attend ACT

Two eighth grade classes at Vallecito School in Dixie School District were dismissed at 11 a.m. yesterday so pupils could attend a matinee of "In White America" at Marine's Memorial Theater in San Francisco.

The trip to the play was arranged by the Council of Music and Arts, a district-wide parent group, according to Earl Thomason, Vallecito principal. The council provided transportation, he said. Tickets cost the pupils $3 each.

Pupils from the two homeroom classes were permitted to attend classes with other homerooms during the remainder of the day if they did not wish to make the trip, the principal said. Some parents kept their children home, however.

"In White America" is a play constructed around writings and speeches regarding racial relations in American history. It is intended as a "shocker." In his review of the San Francisco production, which is by American Conservatory Theater, Independent-Journal drama critic Karl Barron wrote yesterday:

"A young cast seems diffident about smashing the play's nastiness down the throat of the audience."

Pen Contains An Explosive

A ball point pen, possibly containing an explosive, was confiscated by Ross police last night from a drainage tunnel near 223 Redwood Road.

Mrs. Willie M. Fritz of that address telephoned police at about 9:30 p.m. when she noticed a light from the culvert. Inside a coffee can in the tunnel, police found a burning candle attached to a ball point pen that contained a clear liquid.

The device was sent to the state authorities for laboratory analysis.

Trustee Contests For Three Boards

New filings for county school boards have created the first real election contests in three school districts, Kentfield, Ross and Laguna.

In Kentfield, Robert H. Berry, an accountant, has filed to join incumbents John R. B. Ellis and Gloria M. Riccardi and school music consultant Valda Kulka in the race for the district board's three vacancies.

A contest for the three vacancies on the Ross board was also created with the filing of advertising man William G. Morrisey. Incumbent Van Norden Logan and Martin S. Chase and Sally Ann Rakow already had filed.

Laguna also has a contest for its two seats with the filing of Petaluma truck driver William J. Berretta who will oppose incumbent Thomas G. Ielmorini and Donald J. Moreda.

Other new filings included:

Fairfax: incumbents George C. Stone and Jane S. Durr.

Marin Junior College District: Winston J. Arnett of Sa Rafael.

Novato: incumbent Marett B. Boissevain and contractor A. J. Bresnan.

San Anselmo: incumbent Pieter Toal.

Sausalito: Charles Gerald Clear, retired industrial scientist.

There still have been no filings in Bolinas-Stinson, with two terms up; Lagunitas, with three; Lincoln, with two; Nicasio, two; Tomales Bay, three; Union, two; or West Marin, three.

International Film Series Set At Sonoma State

A series of international film classics will be shown this semester at Sonoma State College as a project of the Aquariun Club.

The series will begin today with showings at 7 and 9 p.m. in Darwin Hall of two American films, "Casablanca" and "The Cage." The films will also be shown Sunday at the same times.

Other films scheduled include "War of the Buttons" from France and "Valentin" from Mexico on Feb. 28 and March 1; "The Bridge" from Germany and "Ersatz" from Czechoslovakia on March 14 and 15; "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow" from Italy on April 18 and 19; "The Shop on Main Street," from Czechoslovakia on May 2 and 3; and "My Name Is Ivan," from Russia on May 16 and 17.

The Japanese film "Yojimbo" will be shown Monday from 3 to 6 p.m. in Stevenson Hall at the college under the sponsorship of the lectures and concerts division of the associated students.

The Samari film directed by Akira Kurosawa has English subtitles.

Passenger's Foot Brings Accident

A 50-year-old Corte Madera woman suffered a cut lip when her car hit a tree, highway divider and parked car at 12:15 a.m. today in San Rafael, because a passenger stepped on her foot, forcing it down on the gas pedal, police reported.

Kathleen Whetzter of 23 Redwood Avenue, was treated at Marin General Hospital.

The passenger, Edgar Woodrow Blackburn, 43, of 230 Monte Vista, Larkspur, was cited by police for interferring with the driver of a car, but no reason was given for the action.

The car finally came to a halt after hitting a parked vehicle at Bellam Avenue and Verdi Street.

Completion Date Asked At Tomales

The Tomales High School District board last night asked for a definite date for the completion, and any request for an extension of time, for the new high school, according to Supt.Anthony Matulich.

Matulich was instructed to have the architect, Marshall and Boles, consult with the contractor, Olsen and Baum, to set the date.

The building is approximately 75 per cent completed and is expected to be finished in May, but will not be occupied until next September, according to Matulich.

The Tomales High School District board also:

BONDS — Heard a report from Matulich that $46,000 in five-year bonds was sold to the firm of Bateman, Eichler, Hill, Richards Inc. of San Francisco at an interest rate of 4.984 per cent.

COMMITTEE — Adopted a proposal by Matulich that a vocational agricultural advisory committee be created. Its members will be named later.

LEAVE — Adopted a resolution whereby employees may get leave for a death in the family, an appearance in court, or for any other reason the board deems valid.

WORKSHOP — Approved holding in-service workshops on two Saturdays and paying the teachers $25 per day for them. The dates of the workshop will be set later.

APPLICATION — Approved an application for $4,925 to the federal government, to be matched by the district, for counseling and guidance service.

ACCREDITATION — Heard a report from vice principal Leal L. Fenton that a team from the Western Association of Schools and Colleges had made an accreditation survey of the high school on Feb. 3, 4 and 5.

AUDIT — Accepted for study the annual audit from Deaton and Roberts of Petaluma, but postponed accepting it until the boards March 13 meeting.

Demo Says GOP 'Bought' Election

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— Democratic Assemblyman Bob Moretti says Republicans won control of the Assembly in the November general election because they "simply outspent Democrats" in their campaigns.

Moretti yesterday issued figures based on secretary of state records which showed 11 Republicans and three Democrats spent more than $40,000 on their Assembly campaigns. But in every case Republicans spent more than the Democrats. (Assemblymen receive $16,000 annual pay plus allowances overaging $4,000; they serve two-year terms.)

"Several close districts were won by Republicans not because they had better candidates, not because they worked harder nor because they were better organized," the Van Nuys lawmaker said. "They simply outspent Denocrats."

Moretti said the figures prove that "elections can be and are being bought."

The assemblyman said $2.7 million was spent by both parties on campaigns for the 80 Assembly seats. Republicans won 41 and Democrats 39 of the $16,000-a-year post. Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, spent a total of $8,491 getting re-elected.

Republicans spent 58 per cent of the total of $1.57 million while Democrats spent $1.1 million or 41 per cent.

He set the GOP average at $19,724 on each district while Democrats averaged $13,974.

The biggest spender, according to Moretti's figures, was Assemblyman Henry Arklin, R-Pacoima, whose campaign paid out $79,637 to defeat incumbent Democrat David Negri. Negri's unsuccessful bid for re-election cost $34,536.

Arklin won by only 1,782 votes.

Republican Assemblyman Don MacGillivray, Santa Barbara, spent $64,365 defeating Democratic caucus chairman Winfield Shoemaker, whose campaign cost $61,950.

Republican Bruce Nestande spent $57,773 in an unsuccessful attempt to defeat Assemblyman Ken Cory, D-Garden Grove. Cory's campaign cost $49,853.

Republican Gordon Browning spent $45,989 trying to unseat Assemblyman Harvey Johnson, D-El Monte, whose campaign totaled $45,767.

Assemblyman Edwin L. Z'Berg, D-Sacramento, retained his seat at a cost of $27,991. His Republican opponent, Fred Corfee, spent $42,553.

The campaign of Republican Caucus Chairman Don Mulford, Piedmont, paid out $53,437 to retain his seat against Democrat Kenneth Meade who spent $26,985.

Republican Assemblyman Earle P. Crandall, San Jose, retained his seat at a cost of $50,697 compared to $33,180 spent by Democrat Marc Poche.

Republican Woodrow Smith spent $52,096 in an unsuccessful attempt to defeat Assemblyman Mike Cullen, D-Long Beach. Cullen's campaign cost $31,509.

Democratic Assemblyman Walter Karabian, Monterey park, held his seat at a cost of $39,234. His Republican opponent, Norma Yocum, spent $55,942.

Assemblyman William Campbell, R-Hacienda Heights, spent $48,491 to hold his seat against Democrat Philip Soto, who spent $21,709.

Republican Assemblyman Floyd Wakefield, South Gate, spent $40,859 in his successful campaign for re-election against Democrat Harold Prokop who spent $19,584.

Tax Rebate An Issue; Bagley Raps Proposals

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan and Senate Democrats are ready for a fight over how much tax should be rebated and when.

Democrats want 20 per cent this year. Reagan wants 10 per cent next year.

With both houses of the legislature in their usual three-day weekend recess, Democrats were hoping for GOP support in their effort.

And Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R- San Rafael, new chairman of the lower house Revenue and Taxation Committee, objected to both plans as "one - shot" proposals and not long range.

Senate Democratic leader George R. Moscone, who said he had the full backing of the 19 - member Democratic caucus in the upper house, introduced the 20 per cent proposal yesterday.

Moscone, San Francisco, denounced Reagan's proposed 1970 measure as an "election year handout."

"The taxpayers need relief now from the $1 billion tax hike imposed two years ago," he said, referring to the 1967 tax increase package requested by Reagan and approved by the legislature.

Moscone said that middle-income families with a tax bill of $500 filing joint returns would receive a $100 refund on their 1968 liability. He said under Reagan's plan the same family would get $50 back in 1970 on 1969 taxes owed.

The rebate under Moscone's bill would be made on tax returns due April 15 and would be made before Dec. 31. It is an urgency measure that becomes effective upon the governor's signature.

"Before passing out any single - shot proposal, we're going to try to put together a more meaningful package, one that gives relief but also restructures the whole tax system to make it more fair," Bagley said.

Bagley said a tax reform report prepared by a special commission headed by state Controller Houston I. Flournoy could point the way for restructuring California's taxes.

The commission was appointed by Reagan to recommend overhaul of procedures. Its report is expected within two weeks.

Voting Age Initiative Suggested

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sen. George Moscone, D - San Francisco, says that if the Senate does not pass his bill to lower the voting age to 18 this year, he may take the issue directly to the public, via an initiative.

Moscone, who introduced similar legislation in 1967 and 1968 only to see it voted down on the Senate floor, said in an interview yesterday that it's time the people were allowed to express their views on lowering the voting age.

Under the initiative, a proposed constitutional amendment can be put on the ballot if 8 per cent of all those who voted for governor in the last election sign a petition. Once on the ballot, a simple majority is needed to make it law.

The State Constitution Revision Commission said it would make a final proposal on the voting age question when it meets today. It has three alternatives: to state a specific age, to let the legislature set the age, or to set a range within which the legislature would choose the voting age.

There also are four bills in the Assembly that would lower the voting age — two to age 19 and two to 18.

TV Receiver Stolen

The theft of a $100 television set sometime last week was reported by Myra J. Talbot of 524 Bret Harte Road, San Rafael, police said yesterday.

Festival Theater Names Executive

Jack M. Atkin of 565 Quietwood Drive, Marinwood, has been appointed to the newly-created post of administrative director of the Festival Theater in San Anselmo in a move to relieve the artistic staff of administrative tasks.

Atkins, who has completed graduate studies at the San Francisco Theological Seminary, has served on the theater board and was promition director four years ago.

The new administrator also will have the job of providing long range financial support for the theater, reported Peter Pike, board president.

The board also appointed Mrs. George Ford as office manager and Don R. Deane as consultant in community relations.

SPENCER WILLIAMS
Nixon post hinted

Williams May Replace Cecil Poole

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Human Resources Secretary Spencer Williams may be nominated by President Nixon as U.S. attorney for northern California, replacing Democrat Cecil Poole.

Political sources disclosed yesterday that Williams was holding discussions with the administration as the leading prospect for the post, with headquarters in San Francisco.

Williams, 46, was an unsuccessful candidate for state attorney general in 1966. He was defeated by incumbent Democrat Thomas C. Lynch despite a GOP sweep of other statewide offices.

He was appointed by Reagan as one of four top cabinet officers at a $28,000-a-year salary. His agency has been involved in repeated controversy. It administers the state's social welfare programs and the costly Medi-Cal program.

Lucian B. Vandegrift, former Butte County district attorney, would be considered the top prospect to replace Williams if the former Santa Clara County counsel resigns from his state post.

Poole, a Negro, first was appointed U.S. attorney by President Kennedy on June 7, 1961. He was continued in the post by President Johnson and was twice nominated by Johnson last year for a federal judgeship.

But U.S. Senator George Murphy opposed Poole's selection as a judge.

The second nomination later was withdrawn by Nixon although the president said he may resubmit some of the judgeships of the Johnson administration.

Novato Is Facing Pollution Order

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — A cease and desist order against the Novato Sanitary District to stop it from polluting the Petaluma River and Novato Creek was asked yesterday by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board.

The order, to be drawn by the district staff, will go before the board for formal adoption at its next meeting, 10 a.m. March 13 in the State Building, 1111 Jackson Street.

The board's executive officer, Fred H. Dierker, said he could not tell how much time the district would be given to comply with the order until the staff studied the matter further. The order would require the district either to improve its treatment. of sewage waste or to relocate its discharge pipes away from recreational areas and into deeper water.

A similar order was issued against the Bolinas Community Public Utility District several years ago, but never enforced because the regional board wanted to give time for a joint sewage facility with the Stinson Beach County Water District. Tomorrow is the deadline for the two West Marin districts to file a joint construction schedule with the regional board, and Dierker said none has yet been received.

Pollution Issue Stalls Leases For Oil, Gas

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — No oil or gas leases should be granted in San Pablo Bay by the state Lands Commission until it can ensure that drilling will not cause water pollution, the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board voted yesterday.

Citing the disastrous oil pollution of Southern California's coast by the leak at a Union Oil Co. offshore well, the board unanimously adopted a motion declaring "there is a need for assurance" that the same thing would happen in the bay.

The motion also asked the state Water Resources Control Board to draw standards to ensure that oil and gas drilling will not cause pollution, and to investigate the adequacy of safeguards on existing leases in Suisun Bay, where one gas well already is being drilled.

The commission last week held hearings in Solano and Contra Costa counties on leases proposed in their end of the bay, and official and public opposition was virtually unanimous.

The commission's staff last year considered leases in Marin County's portion of the bay, too, but dropped the idea in the face of strong opposition.

Legislation Is Being Asked For Marina Holding Tanks

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — State legislation to require holding tanks on boats with toilets and pumping facilities at marinas to empty them was asked yesterday by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board.

The board, adopting the proposal by its staff, asked that the legislation be recommended to the State Water Resource's Control Board by a panel of the state board that has been studying water pollution by boats.

The panel already has recommended houseboats either connect to shore sewage facilities or have holding tanks, but has not yet reported its recommendation to the state board.

The legislation proposed by the regional board would not put all boats and all marinas under the regulation at present, but would apply it only to marinas designated by the board as posing a pollution hazard.

There was no opposition to the staff's proposal, and it was adopted unanimously, reported the board's executive officer, Fred H. Dierker.

Vatican, Czechs Begin Talks To Better Relations

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI disclosed today that the Vatican and Czechoslovakia's government have opened negotiations to improve relations between the Roman Catholic Church and the Communist regime in Prague.

The pontiff made the disclosure in a special audience for more than 1,000 Roman Catholics who came here on a religious pilgrimage from Czechoslovakia.

The pontiff voiced hopes for the achievement of religious and civil peace in Czechoslovakia and said he also hoped for a solution to outstanding questions regarding the Church in Czechoslovakia.

Alain Delon, Wife Divorced

PARIS (AP) — Film star Alain Delon and his actress wife Nathalie, two figures in the investigation of the murder of Delon's bodyguard, were divorced today.

The divorce was granted on the basis of mutual mental anguish.

Custody of the couple's son, Anthony, was given to the actress.

Delon was questioned yesterday again on the murder of Stefan Markovic last September.

Police expect to interrogate Nathalie at a later date. The actress, who is now making a film in Rome, has acknowledged that she was a good friend of Markovic.

The biggest of U.S. national parks and monuments is Katmai National Monument in Alaska.

PG&E Faces Quiz About Advertising

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The propriety of charging customers of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for the utility's advertising will be questioned in the California Public Utility Commission's current hearing on proposed gas rate increases of $37 million a year, a PUC attorney said yesterday.

The mammoth utility, which has no competition, spends $225 million a year on promoting gas and electricity, its advertising and publicity manager, James McCollum, told the Independent-Journal Monday.

The commission attorney, David R. Larrouy, asked to comment on an Independent-Journal report that 25,000 Marin customers of PG&E last week received monthly bills stuffed with an advertisement for a private residential, said "matters of that type will be the subject of scrutiny during the course of the rate hearings." He represents the PUC staff in the hearing.

The Marin bill stuffing, he said, will be cited specifically when he raises the issue. The bill stuffing is offered free to any developer building 10 or more homes to PG&E's standards, McCollum reported.

"It's a part of our cost of doing business to get our share of the consumer's dollars and to lower customer rates," McCollum said.

Larrouy, however, noted that PG&E customers have no other utility to turn to, so there may be no justification for the advertising.

Under current PUC policy, there is no bar to PG&E's charging customers for advertising costs.

Noting U.S. technical and financial ties with Italian space research, Borman said, "I hope it is the start of a new age of cooperation in space drawing us earthmen closer together."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Older Doctors Hide The Truth When Patient Suffers Cancer

VAN DELLEN

Several weeks ago, we wrote about sick or disabled people who deny that anything is wrong.

Dr. Edwin A. Weinstein, Washington psychiatrist, found that these people had a characteristic makeup related to the way they adapted to stress.

Examples included the diabetic who refuses to take insulin because he really "does not have diabetes."

ESTIMATES ALSO indicate that from 9 to 13 per cent of those with tuberculosis deny the illness, even when they cough up blood. The same occurs to many with cancer. Thirty per cent of patients who entered Memorial Hospital in New York with signs of malignancy delayed consultation for three or more months.

Furthermore, the more conspicuous the symptom, the longer they delayed seeking help. Those who procrastinated also were reluctant to discuss the problem with their spouse or a close friend.

ALL OF US ARE GUILTY of this to a lesser degree. Every day we are greeted with "How are you this morning?" Our usual reply is "Fine" even though we ache all over, have a belly-ache, or are exhausted.

Just to be facetious, I now reply "With my hands" or "Lousy."

A poll was conducted among physicians several years ago, and they were asked whether they would want to be told they had cancer; a yes answer was obtained from 85 per cent of the internists and G. P.'s and from 93 per cent of the surgeons. Approximately 97.6 per cent of all child specialists and 100 per cent of the skin specialists answered in the affirmative.

Dermatologists do not see many patients with terminal cancer and are more inclined to say yes.

Attitudes vary with age. When asked whether they told the truth to cancer victims, 65 per cent of the doctors (40 to 65 years of age) replied yes, but only 39 per cent over 65 years did so. In other words, the closer one is to death himself the more inclined he is to withhold the truth.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

ROUTE OF DYSENTERY

A reader writes: How is amebic dysentery caught?

REPLY

By consuming liquids and uncooked foods containing the cysts of the Entameba histolytica. In 1933, an epidemic in Chicago was caused by the drinking water in a hotel which was contaminated by a cross-connection with the sewage pipes.

GANGLION ON WRIST

I. S. writes: Could a lump on the wrist become cancerous?

REPLY

Any lump may become malignant but a ganglion on the wrist seldom does. Such cysts often disappear after injections of hydrocortisone or prednisolone. Surgery is used when these injections are unsuccessful.

FAINTING AND PULSE

W. B. writes: When a person faints, is it possible to feel his pulse?

REPLY

The pulse is weak and thready and occasionally it is impossible to detect at the wrist. Fainting, more closely than any other condition, mimics death.

IRREGULAR DISEASE

D. T. writes: What is an atypical disease?

REPLY

One that follows an irregular pattern. In appendicitis, for example, pain usually is in the lower right side of the abdomen, but in an atypical case, the left side may be involved.

Today's Health Hint—Worn-out electrical cords may cause a fire.

Marin College's Enrollment Reflects S.F. State Unrest

Students are fleeing the turmoil at San Francisco State in large numbers and enrolling at other Bay Area colleges, Marin Junior College District trustees were told last night.

Dr. Louis H. Herkenhoff, acting College of Marin president, reported up to 100 former San Francisco State students had enrolled for the spring semester at the Kentfield campus. Refugee enrollment at other Bay Area schools was reported heavier, Herkenhoff said, noting that Merrit College in Oakland and other schools in the Peralta Junior College District were "inundated."

He reported that the addition of San Francisco State students at the College of Marin probably accounted for the fact that total spring enrollment of 6,105 nearly equalled that of the fall, 6,209. Usually, spring enrollment is substantially lower, Herkenhoff said.

The college president reported that 5,102 students enrolled in the spring of 1968, reflecting a 21 per cent increase this year.

Herkenhoff said that the period during which enrolled students may add classes to their schedule has been extended through Wednesday because of the higher enrollment.

Herkenhoff said the Kentfield campus appeared "unusually crowded" and reported the addition of several study sections to the curriculum to meet student needs.

However, a number of drama and physics students appeared before the board to express a need for extra classes or laboratory space. The board directed Herkenhoff and his staff to see if the needs can be met.

Board President Theodore C. Wellman said the campus crowding pointed up the critical need for passage of the 77-cent override tax to be voted on by district voters April 15.

The Marin Junior College Board Also:

SUPERINTENDENT — Said it would act at Thursday's meeting on whether to name a district superintendent soon or wait until 1970, as favored by faculty members. The superintendent's appointment is part of a new district structure to be implemented if voters approve the override tax.

RAISE — Took no action on a request by the Associated Students to raise by $28 the salary of Paul Hogan, student center custodain, on the recommendation of Herkenhoff and the classified personnel committee. The committee said it was reluctant to review Hogan's salary and not the others in the nonteaching category.

CENTER — Asked the college staff to make recommendations for improvement of the student center after Trustees Elizabeth M. Deedy and Robert E. Rogers complained of noise, poor lighting and potential health hazards. Constant custodial care would be required to keep the building clean, the board was told.

BOLINEAS — Received a report that the number of group visits at the college marine station in Bolinas increased from 38 in 1966-67 to 65 in 1967-68.

PARKING — Approved preliminary plans for a new parking lot near the physical education complex.

ROGERS — Welcomed the return of Trustee Robert E. Oliver after two months' illness.

Teen Picks Jail Over Haircut

HAMPTON, Va. (AP) — A 16-year-old Hampton boy today valued his hair more than his time and as a result drew a 10-day jail sentence.

Russell Wayne Moore appeared in Hampton Juvenile Court on a drunk charge. After hearing the charge, Judge Macy M. Carnel told the youth he would dismiss the matter if Moore would cut his long hair, which was combed down over the forehead.

"I'm not going to get my hair cut," Moore said.

Carnel ordered the youth to jail and Sgt. R. T. Countryma, court bailiff, took him away.

Archdiocese Denies Hike In Tuition

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The Archdiocese of San Francisco yesterday flatly denied broadcast reports that tuition for all Catholic schools in the archdiocese, which includes Marin County, would be increased.

While he conceded that tuition increases are "always under consideration," Brother Oliver Aiu, assistant superintendent of secondary schools for the archdiocese, said no decision has been or will be made soon to boost tuition costs.

A San Francisco television station had reported that the archdiocese's department of education had decided on increased tuition, but that the higher school costs would not be piled on the poorer parish members who send their children to parochial schools.

Aiu said he and other Catholic officials were surprised by the report and said "there has been absolutely no indication of an increase." He added that there was "nothing extraordinary" in the education board discussing possible tuition increases as a normal part of its budget planning.

In any event, he said no official decision on any tuition changes would be made until the archdiocese's budget preparation was "much further along." The budget will not be completed until late spring.

Demo Says GOP 'Bought' Election

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— Democratic Assemblyman Bob Moretti says Republicans won control of the Assembly in the November general election because they "simply outspent Democrats" in their campaigns.

Moretti yesterday issued figures based on secretary of state records which showed 11 Republicans and three Democrats spent more than $40,000 on their Assembly campaigns. But in every case Republicans spent more than the Democrats. (Assemblymen receive $16,000 annual pay plus allowances overaging $4,000; they serve two-year terms.)

"Several close districts were won by Republicans not because they had better candidates, not because they worked harder nor because they were better organized," the Van Nuys lawmaker said. "They simply outspent Denocrats."

Moretti said the figures prove that "elections can be and are being bought."

The assemblyman said $2.7 million was spent by both parties on campaigns for the 80 Assembly seats. Republicans won 41 and Democrats 39 of the $16,000-a-year post. Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, spent a total of $8,491 getting re-elected.

Republicans spent 58 per cent of the total of $1.57 million while Democrats spent $1.1 million or 41 per cent.

He set the GOP average at $19,724 on each district while Democrats averaged $13,974.

The biggest spender, according to Moretti's figures, was Assemblyman Henry Arklin, R-Pacoima, whose campaign paid out $79,637 to defeat incumbent Democrat David Negri. Negri's unsuccessful bid for re-election cost $34,536.

Arklin won by only 1,782 votes.

Republican Assemblyman Don MacGillivray, Santa Barbara, spent $64.365 defeating Democratic caucus chairman Winfield Shoemaker, whose campaign cost $61.950.

Republican Bruce Nestande spent $57,773 in an unsuccessful attempt to defeat Assemblyman Ken Cory, D-Garden Grove. Cory's campaign cost $49.853.

Republican Gordon Browning spent $45,989 trying to unseat Assemblyman Harvey Johnson, D-El Monte, whose campaign totaled $45,767.

Assemblyman Edwin L. Z'Berg, D-Sacramento, retained his seat at a cost of $27,991. His Republican opponent, Fred Corfee, spent $42,553.

The campaign of Republican Caucus Chairman Don Mulford, Piedmont, paid out $53,437 to retain his seat against Democrat Kenneth Meade who spent $26,985.

Republican Assemblyman Earle P. Crandall, San Jose, retained his seat at a cost of $50,697 compared to $33,180 spent by Democrat Marc Poche.

Republican Woodrow Smith spent $52,096 in an unsuccessful attempt to defeat Assemblyman Mike Cullen, D-Long Beach. Cullen's campaign cost $31,509.

Democratic Assemblyman Walter Karabian, Monterey park, held his seat at a cost of $39,234. His Republican opponent, Norma Yocum, spent $55,942.

Assemblyman William Campbell, R-Hacienda Heights, spent $48,491 to hold his seat against Democrat Philip Soto, who spent $21,709.

Republican Assemblyman Floyd Wakefield, South Gate, spent $40,859 in his successful campaign for re-election against Democrat Harold Prokop who spent $19,584.

Tax Rebate An Issue; Bagley Raps Proposals

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan and Senate Democrats are ready for a fight over how much tax should be rebated and when.

Democrats want 20 per cent this year. Reagan wants 10 per cent next year.

With both houses of the legislature in their usual three-day weekend recess, Democrats were hoping for GOP support in their effort.

And Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R- San Rafael, new chairman of the lower house Revenue and Taxation Committee, objected to both plans as "one - shot" proposals and not long range.

Senate Democratic leader George R. Moscone, who said he had the full backing of the 19-member Democratic caucus in the upper house, introduced the 20 per cent proposal yesterday.

Moscone, San Francisco, denounced Reagan's proposed 1970 measure as an "election year handout."

"The taxpayers need relief now from the $1 billion tax hike imposed two years ago," he said, referring to the 1967 tax increase package requested by Reagan and approved by the legislature.

Moscone said that middle-income families with a tax bill of $500 filing joint returns would receive a $100 refund on their 1968 liability. He said under Reagan's plan the same family would get $50 back in 1970 on 1969 taxes owed.

The rebate under Moscone's bill would be made on tax returns due April 15 and would be made before Dec. 31. It is an urgency measure that becomes effective upon the governor's signature.

"Before passing out any single - shot proposal, we're going to try to put together a more meaningful package, one that gives relief but also restructures the whole tax system to make it more fair," Bagley said.

Bagley said a tax reform report prepared by a special commission headed by state Controller Houston I. Flournoy could point the way for restructuring California's taxes.

The commission was appointed by Reagan to recommend overhaul of procedures. Its report is expected within two weeks.

Voting Age Initiative Suggested

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sen. George Moscone, D - San Francisco, says that if the Senate does not pass his bill to lower the voting age to 18 this year, he may take the issue directly to the public, via an initiative.

Moscone, who introduced similar legislation in 1967 and 1968 only to see it voted down on the Senate floor, said in an interview yesterday that it's time the people were allowed to express their views on lowering the voting age.

Under the initiative, a proposed constitutional amendment can be put on the ballot if 8 per cent of all those who voted for governor in the last election sign a petition. Once on the ballot, a simple majority is needed to make it law.

The State Constitution Revision Commission said it would make a final proposal on the voting age question when it meets today. It has three alternatives: to state a specific age, to let the legislature set the age, or to set a range within which the legislature would choose the voting age.

There also are four bills in the Assembly that would lower the voting age — two to age 19 and two to 18.

Festival Theater Names Executive

Jack M. Atkin of 565 Quietwood Drive, Marinwood, has been appointed to the newly-created post of administrative director of the Festival Theater in San Anselmo in a move to relieve the artistic staff of administrative tasks.

Atkins, who has completed graduate studies at the San Francisco Theological Seminary, has served on the theater board and was promition director four years ago.

The new administrator also will have the job of providing long range financial support for the theater, reported Peter Pike, board president.

The board also appointed Mrs. George Ford as office manager and Don R. Deane as consultant in community relations.

SPENCER WILLIAMS
Nixon post hinted

Williams May Replace Cecil Poole

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Human Resources Secretary Spencer Williams may be nominated by President Nixon as U.S. attorney for northern California, replacing Democrat Cecil Poole.

Political sources disclosed yesterday that Williams was holding discussions with the administration as the leading prospect for the post, with headquarters in San Francisco.

Williams, 46, was an unsuccessful candidate for state attorney general in 1966. He was defeated by incumbent Democrat Thomas C. Lynch despite a GOP sweep of other statewide offices.

He was appointed by Reagan as one of four top cabinet officers at a $28,000-a-year salary. His agency has been involved in repeated controversy. It administers the state's social welfare programs and the costly Medi-Cal program.

Lucian B. Vandegrift, former Butte County district attorney, would be considered the top prospect to replace Williams if the former Santa Clara County counsel resigns from his state post.

Poole, a Negro, first was appointed U.S. attorney by President Kennedy on June 7, 1961. He was continued in the post by President Johnson and was twice nominated by Johnson last year for a federal judgeship.

But U.S. Senator George Murphy opposed Poole's selection as a judge.

The second nomination later was withdrawn by Nixon although the president said he may resubmit some of the judgeships of the Johnson administration.

Novato Is Facing Pollution Order

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — A cease and desist order against the Novato Sanitary District to stop it from polluting the Petaluma River and Novato Creek was asked yesterday by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board.

The order, to be drawn by the district staff, will go before the board for formal adoption at its next meeting, 10 a.m. March 13 in the State Building, 1111 Jackson Street.

The board's executive officer, Fred H. Dierker, said he could not tell how much time the district would be given to comply with the order until the staff studied the matter further. The order would require the district either to improve its treatment. of sewage waste or to relocate its discharge pipes away from recreational areas and into deeper water.

A similar order was issued against the Bolinas Community Public Utility District several years ago, but never enforced because the regional board wanted to give time for a joint sewage facility with the Stinson Beach County Water District. Tomorrow is the deadline for the two West Marin districts to file a joint construction schedule with the regional board, and Dierker said none has yet been received.

Pollution Issue Stalls Leases For Oil, Gas

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — No oil or gas leases should be granted in San Pablo Bay by the state Lands Commission until it can ensure that drilling will not cause water pollution, the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board voted yesterday.

Citing the disastrous oil pollution of Southern California's coast by the leak at a Union Oil Co. offshore well, the board unanimously adopted a motion declaring "there is a need for assurance" that the same thing would happen in the bay.

The motion also asked the state Water Resources Control Board to draw standards to ensure that oil and gas drilling will not cause pollution, and to investigate the adequacy of safeguards on existing leases in Suisun Bay, where one gas well already is being drilled.

The commission last week held hearings in Solano and Contra Costa counties on leases proposed in their end of the bay, and official and public opposition was virtually unanimous.

The commission's staff last year considered leases in Marin County's portion of the bay, too, but dropped the idea in the face of strong opposition.

Legislation Is Being Asked For Marina Holding Tanks

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — State legislation to require holding tanks on boats with toilets and pumping facilities at marinas to empty them was asked yesterday by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board.

The board, adopting the proposal by its staff, asked that the legislation be recommended to the State Water Resource's Control Board by a panel of the state board that has been studying water pollution by boats.

The panel already has recommended houseboats either connect to shore sewage facilities or have holding tanks, but has not yet reported its recommendation to the state board.

The legislation proposed by the regional board would not put all boats and all marinas under the regulation at present, but would apply it only to marinas designated by the board as posing a pollution hazard.

There was no opposition to the staff's proposal, and it was adopted unanimously, reported the board's executive officer, Fred H. Dierker.

Vatican, Czechs Begin Talks To Better Relations

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI disclosed today that the Vatican and Czechoslovakia's government have opened negotiations to improve relations between the Roman Catholic Church and the Communist regime in Prague.

The pontiff made the disclosure in a special audience for more than 1,000 Roman Catholics who came here on a religious pilgrimage from Czechoslovakia.

The pontiff voiced hopes for the achievement of religious and civil peace in Czechoslovakia and said he also hoped for a solution to outstanding questions regarding the Church in Czechoslovakia.

Alain Delon, Wife Divorced

PARIS (AP) — Film star Alain Delon and his actress wife Nathalie, two figures in the investigation of the murder of Delon's bodyguard, were divorced today.

The divorce was granted on the basis of mutual mental anguish.

Custody of the couple's son, Anthony, was given to the actress.

Delon was questioned yesterday again on the murder of Stefan Markovic last September.

Police expect to interrogate Nathalie at a later date. The actress, who is now making a film in Rome, has acknowledged that she was a good friend of Markovic.

The biggest of U.S. national parks and monuments is Katmai National Monument in Alaska.

PG&E Faces Quiz About Advertising

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The propriety of charging customers of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for the utility's advertising will be questioned in the California Public Utility Commission's current hearing on proposed gas rate increases of $37 million a year, a PUC attorney said yesterday.

The mammoth utility, which has no competition, spends $225 million a year on promoting gas and electricity, its advertising and publicity manager, James McCollum, told the Independent-Journal Monday.

The commission attorney, David R. Larrouy, asked to comment on an Independent-Journal report that 25,000 Marin customers of PG&E last week received monthly bills stuffed with an advertisement for a private residential, said "matters of that type will be the subject of scrutiny during the course of the rate hearings." He represents the PUC staff in the hearing.

The Marin bill stuffing, he said, will be cited specifically when he raises the issue. The bill stuffing is offered free to any developer building 10 or more homes to PG&E's standards, McCollum reported.

"It's a part of our cost of doing business to get our share of the consumer's dollars and to lower customer rates," McCollum said.

Larrouy, however, noted that PG&E customers have no other utility to turn to, so there may be no justification for the advertising.

Under current PUC policy, there is no bar to PG&E's charging customers for advertising costs.

Noting U.S. technical and financial ties with Italian space research, Borman said, "I hope it is the start of a new age of cooperation in space drawing us earthmen closer together."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Older Doctors Hide The Truth When Patient Suffers Cancer

VAN DELLEN

Several weeks ago, we wrote about sick or disabled people who deny that anything is wrong.

Dr. Edwin A. Weinstein, Washington psychiatrist, found that these people had a characteristic makeup related to the way they adapted to stress.

Examples included the diabetic who refuses to take insulin because he really "does not have diabetes."

ESTIMATES ALSO indicate that from 9 to 13 per cent of those with tuberculosis deny the illness, even when they cough up blood. The same occurs to many with cancer. Thirty per cent of patients who entered Memorial Hospital in New York with signs of malignancy delayed consultation for three or more months.

Furthermore, the more conspicuous the symptom, the longer they delayed seeking help. Those who procrastinated also were reluctant to discuss the problem with their spouse or a close friend.

ALL OF US ARE GUILTY of this to a lesser degree. Every day we are greeted with "How are you this morning?" Our usual reply is "Fine" even though we ache all over, have a belly-ache, or are exhausted.

Just to be facetious, I now reply "With my hands" or "Lousy."

A poll was conducted among physicians several years ago, and they were asked whether they would want to be told they had cancer; a yes answer was obtained from 85 per cent of the internists and G. P.'s and from 93 per cent of the surgeons. Approximately 97.6 per cent of all child specialists and 100 per cent of the skin specialists answered in the affirmative.

Dermatologists do not see many patients with terminal cancer and are more inclined to say yes.

Attitudes vary with age. When asked whether they told the truth to cancer victims, 65 per cent of the doctors (40 to 65 years of age) replied yes, but only 39 per cent over 65 years did so. In other words, the closer one is to death himself the more inclined he is to withhold the truth.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

ROUTE OF DYSENTERY

A reader writes: How is amebic dysentery caught?

REPLY

By consuming liquids and uncooked foods containing the cysts of the Entameba histolytica. In 1933, an epidemic in Chicago was caused by the drinking water in a hotel which was contaminated by a cross-connection with the sewage pipes.

GANGLION ON WRIST

I. S. writes: Could a lump on the wrist become cancerous?

REPLY

Any lump may become malignant but a ganglion on the wrist seldom does. Such cysts often disappear after injections of hydrocortisone or prednisolone. Surgery is used when these injections are unsuccessful.

FAINTING AND PULSE

W. B. writes: When a person faints, is it possible to feel his pulse?

REPLY

The pulse is weak and thready and occasionally it is impossible to detect at the wrist. Fainting, more closely than any other condition, mimics death.

IRREGULAR DISEASE

D. T. writes: What is an atypical disease?

REPLY

One that follows an irregular pattern. In appendicitis, for example, pain usually is in the lower right side of the abdomen, but in an atypical case, the left side may be involved.

Marin College's Enrollment Reflects S.F. State Unrest

Students are fleeing the turmoil at San Francisco State in large numbers and enrolling at other Bay Area colleges, Marin Junior College District trustees were told last night.

Dr. Louis H. Herkenhoff, acting College of Marin president, reported up to 100 former San Francisco State students had enrolled for the spring semester at the Kentfield campus. Refugee enrollment at other Bay Area schools was reported heavier, Herkenhoff said, noting that Merrit College in Oakland and other schools in the Peralta Junior College District were "inundated."

He reported that the addition of San Francisco State students at the College of Marin probably accounted for the fact that total spring enrollment of 6.105 nearly equalled that of the fall, 6,209. Usually, spring enrollment is substantially lower, Herkenhoff said.

The college president reported that 5,102 students enrolled in the spring of 1968, reflecting a 21 per cent increase this year.

Herkenhoff said that the period during which enrolled students may add classes to their schedule has been extended through Wednesday because of the higher enrollment.

Herkenhoff said the Kentfield campus appeared "unusually crowded" and reported the addition of several study sections to the curriculum to meet student needs.

However, a number of drama and physics students appeared before the board to express a need for extra classes or laboratory space. The board directed Herkenhoff and his staff to see if the needs can be met.

Board President Theodore C. Wellman said the campus crowding pointed up the critical need for passage of the 77-cent override tax to be voted on by district voters April 15.

The Marin Junior College Board Also:

SUPERINTENDENT — Said it would act at Thursday's meeting on whether to name a district superintendent soon or wait until 1970, as favored by faculty members. The superintendent's appointment is part of a new district structure to be implemented if voters approve the override tax.

RAISE — Took no action on a request by the Associated Students to raise by $28 the salary of Paul Hogan, student center custodain, on the recommendation of Herkenhoff and the classified personnel committee. The committee said it was reluctant to review Hogan's salary and not the others in the nonteaching category.

CENTER — Asked the college staff to make recommendations for improvement of the student center after Trustees Elizabeth M. Deedy and Robert E. Rogers complained of noise, poor lighting and potential health hazards. Constant custodial care would be required to keep the building clean, the board was told.

BOLINEAS — Received a report that the number of group visits at the college marine station in Bolinas increased from 38 in 1966-67 to 65 in 1967-68.

PARKING — Approved preliminary plans for a new parking lot near the physical education complex.

ROGERS — Welcomed the return of Trustee Robert E. Oliver after two months' illness.

Teen Picks Jail Over Haircut

HAMPTON, Va. (AP) — A 16-year-old Hampton boy today valued his hair more than his time and as a result drew a 10-day jail sentence.

Russell Wayne Moore appeared in Hampton Juvenile Court on a drunk charge. After hearing the charge, Judge Macy M. Carmel told the youth he would dismiss the matter if Moore would cut his long hair, which was combed down over the forehead.

"I'm not going to get my hair cut," Moore said.

Carmel ordered the youth to jail and Sgt. R. T. Countryma, court bailiff, took him away.

Luehring To Talk

Dale W. Luehring, general manager of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, will be the guest speaker at the 41st annual Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce dinner and installation of officers Feb. 21 at Sabella's restaurant. Dinner will be at 7:30 p.m., with a social hour beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Werber Loses Round Over Drug Evidence

Entertainment tycoon Frank N. Werber and his friend Judith Anne Sloper lost a round in their narcotics case yesterday when Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court ruled that evidence in the case had been obtained legally.

Werber and Miss Sloper, charged with possessing and cultivating marijuana on their home on DeSilva Island in Richardson Bay, had claimed that law enforcement officers entered their home the night of Oct. 14 without knocking and without announcing their entry.

After a hearing of several days, Judge Haley denied their motion to suppress evidence.

Customs and narcotics agents arrested the couple and two other persons after 258 pounds of Mexican marijuana was left in the garage of the Werber home by Stanley Mulligan and Charles Barrett, owners of Latitude 38 in Sausalito.

Werber, Barrett and Mulligan face federal charges of conspiracy to import marijuana. Werber alone faces a federal charge of importing the weed.

Charged with possession of marijuana for sale as a result of the raid are Bryce Staples Wilson of Kentfield and Frank J. Mathieson of San Anselmo.

Judge Haley ordered Werber, Miss Sloper, Wilson and Mathison to appear in Superior Court Monday at 9:30 a.m. to enter pleas.

Plea Is Set By Youth In Police Push

Carl Vestal Hayes, 19, Corte Madera, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of pushing a Corte Madera policeman and causing him to break his hip.

Police said they were called to the home of Hayes' grandparents at 2 Harbor Drive, Corte Madera, at 6:45 a.m. Monday because of a family disturbance.

During a fracas that ensued, Hayes, who said he was AWOL from the Army, smashed a bottle and pushed Officer George Koehler, who fell with his leg pinned under him.

Koehler, who was reported in good condition at Marin General Hospital, will be off work for six months according to his fellow officers.

Hayes, who was first sent to the Oakland Army Base, was returned to Marin and is in the county jail in lieu of $1,875 bail.

He is to enter a plea to the charge today.

Driver Reports Forced Ride

A Santa Rosa man was forced at gunpoint Wednesday to drive a hitchhiker to San Rafael and then to Stinson Beach, San Rafael police reported yesterday.

Angelo Anthony Flores told officers he picked up the hitchhiker on his way to work and the man pulled a gun and ordered him to go to San Rafael.

In San Rafael, he asked the man if he could stop and call his boss to report he would be late for work. Instead, Flores said, he called his wife, Lori Flores and asked her to notify authorities.

The man, about 23 years old, unshaven and with long sandy colored hair, then forced Flores to drive him to Stinson Beach where he got out of the car and went on his way, Flores reported.

Polish Moonshine

WARSAW (UPI) — Alcohol consumption rose last year by 8 per cent and a Polish newspaper said today much of it was moonshine. The paper, Gols Pracy, said police seized 30 illegal stills in Warsaw in 1968, almost twice as many as the year before.

Fire Kills Five; Caesarian-Born Baby Succumbs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five persons died last night as a fire roared quickly through a Northeast Washington rooming house, and a newborn child of one of the victims died minutes after it was delivered by caesarean section.

The bodies of two children, believed to be under 10, were found with that of an adult on the third floor of the four-story building. Another adult died on the fourth floor.

The mother, Glenna Hammond, about 32, died shortly after she arrived at a hospital. She apparently was fatally injured in a leap from an upper floor of the building.

An infant about 9 months old was admitted to D.C. general hospital in undetermined condition. Fire Capt. Anthony Mileo said children playing with matches in a first-floor room touched off the blaze.

Hourihan New Kiwanis Leader

John J. Hourihan, a San Rafael real estate broker, is the new president of the Ross Valley Kiwanis Club, succeeding Martin Hanzlik.

Elected with Hourihan were Lawrence B. Malkin, first vice president; Roger Fields, second vice president, and Dr. Ronald O. Plambeck, Dr. Warren R. Westerhoff, Ralph Peterson, William Mair, Edwin Roberts, Warren Binzley, Charles E. Monte, Jerry Frazier, Al Modet and Lawrence A. Lindberg, directors.

Eugene Farrar was renominated for a second term as secretary. Spenser Abrams was appointed to the new position of secretary emeritus.

Archdiocese Denies Hike In Tuition

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The Archdiocese of San Francisco yesterday flatly denied broadcast reports that tuition for all Catholic schools in the archdiocese, which includes Marin County, would be increased.

While he conceded that tuition increases are "always under consideration," Brother Oliver Aiu, assistant superintendent of secondary schools for the archdiocese, said no decision has been or will be made soon to boost tuition costs.

A San Francisco television station had reported that the archdiocese's department of education had decided on increased tuition, but that the higher school costs would not be piled on the poorer parish members who send their children to parochial schools.

Aiu said he and other Catholic officials were surprised by the report and said "there has been absolutely no indication of an increase." He added that there was "nothing extraordinary" in the education board discussing possible tuition increases as a normal part of its budget planning.

In any event, he said no official decision on any tuition changes would be made until the archdiocese's budget preparation was "much further along." The budget will not be completed until late spring.

Ted Williams To Become Senators' Manager

WASHINGTON (AP) — The lowly Washington Senators, seeking to counter-act the magic name of football's Vince Lombardi, have come up with a storybook name of their own and hired headline-making slugger Ted Williams as manager.

"I cannot immediately deliver a new team, but it is possible to get a storybook manager," said Bob Short, the Minneapolis millionaire who purchased the team last December and took full control of it two weeks ago.

Williams could not be reached for comment, but a source close to the famous slugger told The Associated Press that Williams was ready to sign a long-term contract.

"It's so good he can't afford to turn it down," the source said.

In Columbia, S.C., Williams said he has noting new to add about his returning to baseball as manager of the Washington Senators.

'My atorneys are handling everything," said Williams, who was in Columbia for a brief time on business.

'At this time, I cannot reveal anything. Seriously, there is nothing new at this time," he added.

Williams, the last player ever to hit .40, said he had met with Bob Short.

"The man is one of the most exciting individuals I've ever met," said Williams. "It pleased me that he thought I could actually do something for Washington."

Williams is still vice president of the Red Sox.

Earlier, the 50-year-old Williams had confirmed he was considering what he called "the most fantastic offer I've ever received."

The hiring of Williams was just as fantastic, and as shocking as the Washington Redskins' recent coup of grabbing Lombardi. A few years ago, the last of baseball's .400 hitters had said, "You couldn't pay me enough to manage." He said then he had turned down two offers to manage, presumably from the Boston Red Sox.

In Boston, where Williams still is a vice president of the Red Sox, the team for which he starred from 1939-60, General Manager Dick O'Connell confirmed Short had received permission to talk to Williams.

In fact, Williams still is drawing deferred salary from his playing days. For tax purposes, he was paid only $65,000 during several years of an estimated $103,000 contract. He also represents Sears, Roebuck and Co. as a representative for their fishing equipment at a reported $80,000 annually.

During a brilliant but stormy career, interrupted twice for almost five years of service as a Marine pilot, Williams compiled a lifetime batting average of .344, hit 521 home runs and won the American League batting title six times, hitting .406 in 1941. He was elected to the Hall of Fame the first year he became eligible.

Williams retired for the first time after the 1954 season but came back a month into the 1955 season and played through 1960. He then devoted most of his time to his fishing enterprises, while also serving as a hitting instructor for the Red Sox.

His career was marred by feuds with fans and writers in Boston. He was fined for spitting incidents on the field and also made headlines with his blasts at "gutless" draft boards and "phony" politicians concerning his recall to active Marine duty in Korea.

Williams replaces Jim Lemon, who piloted the Senators to a last-place finish in the American League last season. Short fired Lemon and General Manager George Selkirk two weeks ago.

White Sox Open Training

No Strike By Players, Just Yet

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — A total of 21 players, including veteran catcher Russ Nixon, were in uniform today as the Chicago White Sox opened spring training in the face of a threatened big league player strike.

At the same time, Vice President Ed Short said he was informed in a New York call from John Gaherin, an owner negotiator in the current pension dispute, that the player group this weekend was considering what Gaherin termed a "very generous settlement."

BATTERIES

Manager Al Lopez sent a squad of 15 pitchers and six catchers, but including only 12 rostered players, through a light morning drill as the White Sox became the first of the 24 major league clubs to launch spring training.

A surprise appearance was made by Nixon, a 12-year-major league veteran, who last December was drafted from the Louisville roster of the Boston Red Sox.

"I talked to a number of veteran players," explained Nixon. "None of them felt I should jeopardize my career because after all every year is vital after you serve 12." Nixon said he spent the winter doing carpenter work, adding, "You got to keep busy when you have four kids."

OSINSKI

The only other established player to report was pitcher Dan Osinski, a former Red Sox player who was acquired from Hawaii last October.

Also among the rostered players were rookie pitchers Mickey Abarbanel, Billy Wynne, Don Secrist, Mickey Vandehey, Paul Edmudson, Jim Magnuson and Fred Rath.

Among the four rostered catchers were Nixon, Ed Herrmann, Doug Adams and Gail Hopkins, last season a first baseman-utility man. Among the nonrostered players was Danny Murphy, a $125,000 bonus baby with the Chicago Cubs in 1960, who is trying to make the big league for the ninth year. Originally an outfielder, Murphy now is a pitcher and last year had a 3-3 record as a reliever for Hawaii.

POLL PLAYERS

Short said in his long phone talk with Gaherin that Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Players Association, was expected to poll key player representatives over the weekend and submit a reply to the owners on Monday.

"I am not at liberty to discuss points of the proposed settlement, but Gaherin expressed confidence that this was a good offer," said Short.

Short said he planned to confer with Gary Peters, a pitcher who is the chief spokesman for the White Sox veterans.

FOOTBALL WORLD

Huff Comes Out Of Retirement

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sam Huff's return to pro football as linebacker and coach with Vince Lombardi's Washington Redskins was the most prominent of a number of developments in the sport yesterday.

Huff called his one-year retirement "the worst year I've spent in my life." And Lombardi told a press conference "we both came out of retirement in the same year."

Two other coaches and two other players also signed pro football contracts yesterday.

Charlie Sumner, an assistant coach for six years with the Oakland Raiders, signed as defensive backfield coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers. Sumner joins John Bridgers and Walt Hackett on the staff of Chuck Noll, the Steelers ' new head coach.

Jesse Richardson, defensive line coach of the Boston Patriots, was re-hired by Clive Rush, the club's new head coach.

Mike Holovak, former general manager and coach of the Patriots, was reported by the Boston Globe to be in line for the job of director of player personnel with the New York Jets. George Sauer left that job to succeed Holovak as the Patriots' GM, joing Rush, a former New York assistant coach.

Dave Costa, Denver's defensive captain, signed his 1969 contract with the Broncos and Dave Cutler, a linebacker and kicker from Vancouver, British Columbia, agreed to terms with the Green Bay Packers.

Negro Gets Key Post In San Jose Sports

SAN JOSE (AP) — San Jose State College yesterday named Lang Stanley, a Negro, as assistant athletic director.

Recently most of the school's Negro athletes presented a list of demands, one of which was that a member of their race be named an assistant to athletic director Bob Bronzan.

San Jose's athletic program has been beset by racial problems this school year.

Seven Negro football players refused to play against Brigham Young and lost their scholarships, then three Negro basketball players refused to play for several games in sympathy with the football players.

Stanley, a 1957 graduate of San Jose, was voted the school's Athlete of the Year 1956 when he won the NCAA 880-yard track title and set collegiate 440 and 880-yard records. He was selected as an alternate on the 1956 U.S. Olympic team.

He is one of the founders of the Southern California Striders, which annually fields one of the top non-collegiate track teams in the country. For the past year he has been office manager of a large insurance agency.

In announcing his appointment, Bronzan said, "Lang Stanley was an outstanding athlete and a fine student. He has proved himself to be a capable and successful businessman.

"Further, he has demonstrated his interest and ambition to help minority students attain their full potential. We are delighted to have him join our staff."

Of the seven football players who lost their scholarships, two have since been told they will regain their scholarships in the spring.

Oaks Dump Kentucky Colonels

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Oaks answered the Kentucky Colonels' "twin barrels" of long range shooters Darel Carrier and Louis Dampier with twin barrels of their own last night.

Forwards Doug Moe and Gary Bradds contributed 27 apiece as the Oaks downed the Colonels 122-109 before 6,384 at the Oakland Arena.

Meanwhile, Dampier and Carrier, the top two scorers in the ABA from outside the three-point 25-foot range, were held to 19 and 13, respectively.

The victory left the Oaks at 41-8 far atop the ABA Western Division and snapped a two - game losing streak. They meet New Orleans at the Arena tomorrow night

Yellowed Clipping Tells Of Rare Feat

BELIEVE-IT-OR-NOT — Ever hear of a pitcher striking out a batter and catching the third strike himself?

As it is rather unusual, neither had I until Francis A. Baptiste of San Anselmo sent me a yellowed clipping describing the baseball rarity as accomplished by Tony Freitas, a left-handed chucker who grew up in Mill Valley and went on to become a major league and Pacific Coast League star back in the days when dad was a lad.

Freitas, who now lives in Sacramento, accomplished the freakish putout while pitching for the Sacramento Solons several years ago. The third strike hit the catcher's chest protector and bounced out to the pitcher's mound where the startled Freitas caught the ball for the putout.

Played Outfield Behind Freitas

Baptiste, who played outfield behind Freitas at Tamalpais High School for Coach G. T. "Pop" Wendering back in the mid-20's, sent another clipping that told about Freitas pitching a 2-0 no-hitter for Sacramento against the Oakland Oaks. Little Tony had quite a career.

MENTION OF Wendering brings to mind the prep baseball dynasty he built at Tam before retiring in the late 1940s.

Pop, a stern taskmaster, won the North Bay League championship virtually every year and produced such major leaguers as Freitas, Sam Chapman, Art Schallock, Joe DeMaestri and Karl Olson, a pretty fair recond for a small school.

Marin Has Its Diamond Talent

SPEAKING OF such, the Marin County Athletic League had its share of diamond talent last season as no less than four of our 1968 prep stars have been drafted by the pros.

Kenny Johnson, Redwood High's flashy shortstop, was the first of the group to be plucked, by the Yankees, and already has a minor league season under his belt.

Also drafted from our sandlots are Tom Thomas of Novato and Dave Edson of Terra Linda, both by the California Angels, and Gary Welch of San Rafael by the Los Angeles Dodgers. Edson had the distinction of being drafted by two clubs as the Kansas City Athletics picked him in the regular draft last June while the Angels tabbed him in last month's special grab bag. Edson and Thomas presently are attending Menlo College.

Semi-Pro Hurler Also Drafted

Another local draftee is Bill Clarke who pitched for Joe Anselmo's semi-pro San Rafael Braves last summer. Atlanta plucked the right hander.

MIKE CONVIS of the Drake High School faculty checks in to announce the fourth annual Drake Car and Boat Show is scheduled May 25 at the Northgate Shopping Center in Terra Linda. Mike is a bit early with the announcement, explaining he wants to give car enthusiasts plenty of time to arrange their spring schedule.

Proceeds pay for scholarship to worthy Drake High seniors. In 1965 the show paid for one scholarship; this year, says Mike, ". . . we'll award six of them. We're growing."

Only Room For Par Golfers

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The $100,000 Phoenix Open appeared ready to close today for golfers who don't shoot par or better.

Going into the second round were seven who fired six-under-par 65 for their first 18 holes over the friendly Arizona Country Club course and 82 had bettered the par 71. Another 26 had matched it.

Only the low 70 and ties survive the cut after this second tour of the 6,389-yard, par 35-36 layout.

Leading the way into today's play were Terry Wilcox, Dutch Harrison, John Jacobs, Billy Maxwell, Lee Elder, Miller Barber, and Larry Ziegler.

Wilcox, of Bronxville, N.Y., drew top billing only because he punctuated his round with a hole-in-one on the 154-yard 15th hole. There was no special prize except that without the ace, the 30-year-old New Yorker wouldn't have been with the leaders.

Neither would have been Maxwell and Elder if each hadn't scored an eagle 3 on the 477-yard, par 5, fifth.

Pressing at 66 were Hugh Royer, Frank Beard, Ron Funseth, Paul Harney, and Jerry Barber as the jam resembled a rush hour freeway.

Ten more, including Canadian George Knudson, the defending champion, were jammed in at 67 among the par busting brigade which didn't include Billy Casper, Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, who all skipped this competition.

The Wilcox ace came with some vocal encouragment from the golfer.

After deciding on a No. 5 iron from the tee, Wilcox said, "I hollered at the ball to make it to the green. It landed three feet short of the cup and jumped right in."

Wilcox also put his tee shot within two feet of the cup on the 148-yard seventh but had to be content with a birdie.

Jacobs, 23, whose older brother Tommy is a tour veteran, shot his lowest round since joining the Professional Golfers' Association tour for eight tournaments last year.

He admitted to playing conservatively on the second nine when he took a 35 compared to his 30 on the opening side.

And for the old folks, in came Dutch Harrison who five times has been national seniors champion. At 58, the Arkansas traveler played his usual rapid pace for a round which included birdie putts of 20 and 35 feet on the 11th and 12th holes.

"I pulled awfully well," said Harrison who turned pro in 1930, before some of his co-leaders were born.

IT'S TIME FOR SALMON FISHING

"There are a lot of fish out there," is the report for the opening of the ocean salmon fishing season tomorrow in waters south of Tomales Point.

Most party boats in Sausalito report reservations are sold out for tomorrow's opener, but there are a few openings left.

The limit will be three fish per person per day until March 1 when the 1969 regulations go into effect, reducing the limit to two fish.

Drag boat operators and crab fishermen have reported plenty of fish available for the opener.

Arab Pulls Another Net Upset

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — The Americans who battle for two semifinal spots in the U.S. National Indoor Tennis Championships tonight will be hard put topping the intriguing match-up of foreigners already in the round of four.

In the all-foreign quarter-finals last night, darkhorse Ismael el Shafei recorded another stunning upset while advancing along with Torben Ulrich, the bearded Dane, who beat El Shafei's father in Davis Cup play 21 years ago.

El Shafei, 22-year-old national champion of the United Arab Republic, polished off Mark Cox, the number 2 foreign seed from England, 9-7, 6-4. He previously had eliminated Cliff Richey, the defending champion and No. 4 American seed.

Ulrich, who sluffs off questions about his age, but is believed to be 40 or 41, rallied to beat Ove Bengtson of Sweden, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4. Ulrich was seeded fourth among foreigners in the 48-man draw.

In tonight's matches, second-seeded American, Clark Graebner, plays veteran Ron Holmberg and Stan Smith, the No. 3 domestic seed, takes on Charlie Pasarell, who won the tournament in 1966 and 1967.

Lettermen Teams In Basketball Game

The Block S.R. basketball team of San Rafael High School, composed of varsity lettermen, will host the Block T.L. basketball team of Terra Linda High in a game today at 5 p.m. in the main gym.

Astrojet Golf Gets Started

RANCHO LA COSTA (UPI) — Bill Mazeroski of the Pittsburg Pirates and Paul Krause of the Minnesota Vikings launch a bid today for their third straight title in the $30,000 Astrojet Golf Classic.

The 54-hole tournament at the La Costa Country Club teams a baseball star with his football counterpart. First prize in the best ball affair is $10,000.

Teams led by Jim Lonborg of the Boston Red Sox and Ron Santo of the Chicago Cubs shot 56s yesterday to tie for low net best ball honors in the pro-am prelude.

Lonborg's team consisted of Cliff Otto, Jim Braden and Dave Brinker while Santo's partners were Daryl Lamonica of the Oakland Raiders, Abe Lipsey and Jack Rickey.

The classic ends Sunday.

McCoy Wins State Title

OAKLAND (AP) — Rangy Ralph McCoy of Richmond won the vacant California middleweight championship last night at the Oakland Auditorium with a 12-round decision over Charley Austin of San Diego.

The 27-year-old McCoy closed with a rush over the 30-year-old veteran to win on all three cards. Judges Frank Carter and Jack Downey voted 6-4 and 6-5 for McCoy while referee Tony Bosnich had McCoy far in front 7-2.

McCoy, 158, took his ninth victory against two losses while Austin, 159½, suffered his 29th defeat. He has 31 victories and three draws.

A crowd of 2,438 paid $8,504.

In a companion bout scheduled for 10 rounds, Jimmy Lester, 160½, San Francisco, made Gene Bryant, 159½, Las Vegas, his 27th knockout victim when the fight was stopped in the ninth.

Injury Bug Again Bugging Warriors

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The injury bug is bugging the San Francisco Warriors again.

The Warriors, racked by injuries earlier in the National Basketball Association season, face the Philadelphia 76ers tonight without veteran forward Rudy La Russo, and he is doubtful for tomorrow night's game at New York.

La Russo injured his back in Tuesday night's victory over Atlanta and missed Wednesday night's 120-110 loss at Baltimore.

Werber Loses Round Over Drug Evidence

Entertainment tycoon Frank N. Werber and his friend Judith Anne Sloper lost a round in their narcotics case yesterday when Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court ruled that evidence in the case had been obtained legally.

Werber and Miss Sloper, charged with possessing and cultivating marijuana on their home on DeSilva Island in Richardson Bay, had claimed that law enforcement officers entered their home the night of Oct. 14 without knocking and without announcing their entry.

After a hearing of several days, Judge Haley denied their motion to suppress evidence.

Customs and narcotics agents arrested the couple and two other persons after 258 pounds of Mexican marijuana was left in the garage of the Werber home by Stanley Mulligan and Charles Barrett, owners of Latitude 38 in Sausalito.

Werber, Barrett and Mulligan face federal charges of conspiracy to import marijuana. Werber alone faces a federal charge of importing the weed.

Charged with possession of marijuana for sale as a result of the raid are Bryce Staples Wilson of Kentfield and Frank J. Mathieson of San Anselmo.

Judge Haley ordered Werber, Miss Sloper, Wilson and Mathison to appear in Superior Court Monday at 9:30 a.m. to enter pleas.

Plea Is Set By Youth In Police Push

Carl Vestal Hayes, 19, Corte Madera, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of pushing a Corte Madera policeman and causing him to break his hip.

Police said they were called to the home of Hayes' grandparents at 2 Harbor Drive, Corte Madera, at 6:45 a.m. Monday because of a family disturbance.

During a fracas that ensued, Hayes, who said he was AWOL from the Army, smashed a bottle and pushed Officer George Koehler, who fell with his leg pinned under him.

Koehler, who was reported in good condition at Marin General Hospital, will be off work for six months according to his fellow officers.

Hayes, who was first sent to the Oakland Army Base, was returned to Marin and is in the county jail in lieu of $1,875 bail.

He is to enter a plea to the charge today.

Driver Reports Forced Ride

A Santa Rosa man was forced at gunpoint Wednesday to drive a hitchhiker to San Rafael and then to Stinson Beach, San Rafael police reported yesterday.

Angelo Anthony Flores told officers he picked up the hitchhiker on his way to work and the man pulled a gun and ordered him to go to San Rafael.

In San Rafael, he asked the man if he could stop and call his boss to report he would be late for work. Instead, Flores said, he called his wife, Lori Flores and asked her to notify authorities.

The man, about 23 years old, unshaven and with long sandy colored hair, then forced Flores to drive him to Stinson Beach where he got out of the car and went on his way, Flores reported.

Polish Moonshine

WARSAW (UPI) — Alcohol consumption rose last year by 8 per cent and a Polish newspaper said today much of it was moonshine. The paper, Gols Pracy, said police seized 30 illegal stills in Warsaw in 1968, almost twice as many as the year before.

Fire Kills Five; Caesarian-Born Baby Succumbs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five persons died last night as a fire roared quickly through a Northeast Washington rooming house, and a newborn child of one of the victims died minutes after it was delivered by caesarean section.

The bodies of two children, believed to be under 10, were found with that of an adult on the third floor of the four-story building. Another adult died on the fourth floor.

The mother, Glenna Hammond, about 32, died shortly after she arrived at a hospital. She apparently was fatally injured in a leap from an upper floor of the building.

An infant about 9 months old was admitted to D.C. general hospital in undetermined condition. Fire Capt. Anthony Mileo said children playing with matches in a first-floor room touched off the blaze.

Elected with Hourihan were Lawrence B. Malkin, first vice president; Roger Fields, second vice president, and Dr. Ronald O. Plambeck, Dr. Warren R. Westerhoff, Ralph Peterson, William Mair, Edwin Roberts, Warren Binzley, Charles E. Monte, Jerry Frazier, Al Modet and Lawrence A. Lindberg, directors.

Eugene Farrar was renominated for a second term as secretary. Spenser Abrams was appointed to the new position of secretary emeritus.

Jets Receive Record Payoff

COMBINED AP & UPI

NEW YORK — The New York Jets received a record American Football League winner's share for the 1968 title game yesterday when each full return was listed at $7,007.91.

Milt Woodard, league president, announced that the Oakland Raiders collected a record for a losing team as each full share amounted to $5,349.42.

The Jets beat the Raiders 27-23 in the championship game.

NEW YORK — Baltimore's victory over Cleveland in the National Football League's 1968 championship game was worth $9,265 to each member of the Colt squad receiving a full share.

NFL President Art Modell said the Browns, who were beaten by the Colts 34-0, received $5,937 for each loser's share.

Both payoffs are the second highest in the 36-year history of the championship game.

Marin 'Cats Take Shot At Redwood

Redwood High School's streaking and multi-talented basketball team continues relentlessly on its merry way tonight while the survivors of the remaining contenders continue to clash.

The Giants, now on an eight-game Marin County Athletic League win streak, and an 8-1 won-lost record, host potentially dangerous and definetely angry Marin Catholic (2-7) in Larkspur.

Two contenders will clash when San Rafael (6-3) seeks to avenge one of its league losses as the Bulldogs host fading Terra Linda (5-4). In other games, current runnerup Novato (7-2) plays host to cross-town rival San Marin (1-8) and Tamalpais (4-5) visits Drake (3-6) in San Anselmo.

HURT PRIDE

Redwood breezed to a 65-50 win over Tamalpais Tuesday but the Giants may have to be at their sharpest against the Wildcats, whose pride took a severe beating in an upset loss to San Marin Tuesday.

Marin's Mike Murray is still one of the classiest ballplayers in the league and the 'Cats have a flock of angry players to throw into battle. The Giants should probably have more than the Wildcats, however. Jerry Piro, with a 19-point per game average, is the No. 4 scorer in the league, and is backed up by good height from 6-foot, 6-inch Pete Webb and Bill Challender.

Terra Linda whipped San Rafael 84-64 the last time around, but since then the Trojans have had their troubles, despite great work by forward Pat Purcell, the league's leading scorer.

UP 'N' DOWN

The Bulldogs, with good height and speed, have been up and down, too, but they've been sharper and are still within hearing distance of the top.

Novato should have little trouble with San Marin, despite the enormous boost provided by the Mustangs' first win. E. Hernberger, who scored 35 points against Terra Linda, and Steve McNally score enough points between them to beat entire teams. The Mustangs, even with classy Gary Howard, are neither deep enough nor tall enough to cope with the Hornets.

Tamalpais will be seeking to break a two-game losing streak after a promising start. The Indians whipped Drake the last time out, but may find things tougher away from home.

Clark Jamison is the shooter to stop for the Pirates while the Indians are more balanced.

Tonight's action starts with junior varsity preliminary games at 7 o'clock, followed at approximately 8:30 by the varsity games.

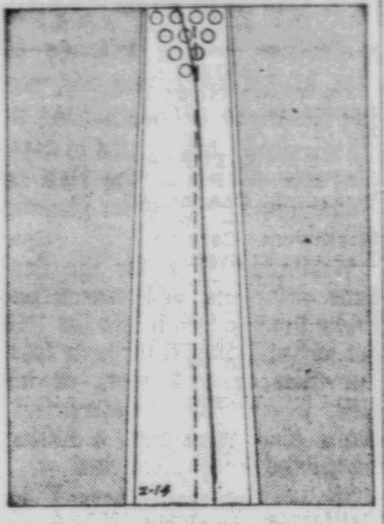
BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



If you find that the lanes are fast, not allowing the ball to hook normally, don't try to counteract this situation by giving the ball an exaggerated lift. Instead, move a few boards to the right of your usual starting point. If that doesn't get the ball up to the pocket, try slowing down a little.

Glover Leads Record-Setting Bowling Field

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Don Glover of Bakersfield, led a record-breaking field into today's match game semifinals of the Professional Bowlers Association $60,000 Ebonite Open.

Glover finished the four-game qualifying yesterday with 5,544 in a tournament which saw the 16th man set a record of 5,377. The old mark was 5,316, set in the Denver Open in 1967.

The 300-game record was tied when three more perfect games were shot in yesterday's round to bring the tournament total to six, a one-tourney mark set in the 1960 Albany, N.Y., meet.

Yesterday's 300s were rolled by Vic Vattista of New York City, Roger Fink of Lodi, and Eddy Patterson of Dallas. Ray Bluth of St. Louis, Bobby Cooper of Houston and Wayne Zahn of Atlanta had perfect games Wednesday.

The 16 semifinalists shoot 16 games today with the top five going for the $8,000 first prize in tomorrow's nationally televised finals.

Foursome Tourney

Mesdames Thomas Major, J. A. Gibbs, Lyle Bowman and Hodge Davidson teamed up yesterday to win the Marin Country Club's best ball foursome golf tournament at the Novato course with a total score of 142 strokes.

Miss Conti Sets Bowling Mark

By RALPH CHATOIAN

PENNY CONTI
Sets a record

Penny Conti has scored another Marin County first in league bowling.

She went over the 700 mark, the first woman to ever reach that plateau in Marin league competition. She had games of 246, 224 and 231 for a 701 set in the Weekenders League at Country Club Bowl.

That 701 series erased Bea Hoffmann' previous Marin high of 672 made last summer, also at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael.

Penny, who lives in San Rafael and works as a meter records clerk for Pacific Gas and Eelectric Co. in San Rafael, had only one open frame in the three games, a nearly impossible 4-6-10 split.

In her last game, she had to get at least one pin on a 6-10 leave to make it to 700. She got them both.

"I really didn't know that I had to get those pins for a 700 series," she admitted. "I knew I was close to a 700, but I just wasn't going to look up at the score."

The attractive Miss Conti bowls in four leagues, two on Wednesday and one each Tuesday and Friday. A 162 average bowler last year, she has hiked her average all the way to 185 this year in the Ladies 615 Classic. Previous to her 701, she had six series over the 600 mark this season. Prior to this season, her best effort was in the high 500s.

Penny, who has ben bowling 10 years, gives all the credit to her improvement this season to Mike Tauscher, a teammate of hers in a mixed league, who has been teaching her.

Tauscher, 168 blue book average, rolled a 696 series less than two weeks ago.

THIS AND THAT — Elmer Tynes, two-time Marin County Masters champion (1966-67) is back at it, rolling games of 203, 278 and 258 in the Lutheran Late League at Country Club for a whopping 739 series, one of three 700s rolled by men at the San Rafael lanes; Ray Miller rolled 222-256-233—711 and Frank Bernardi 217-269-215—701, both in the 905 Classic . . . Bill Henderson rolled a 279-671 in the 905 Classic for high game honors . . . Bea Hoffmann was the talk of the Bowlerettes League with that 235 game and 641 series . . . In the Mixed Mates at Greenbrae Lanes, Joe Purcell (153 avg.) rolled a 154 triplicate and Walt Carter came a pin away from a beauty, 202,201-202 . . . It was split-making time in the Novato Sportsmen League at Nave Lanes, Royal Druba cashing the 6-7-10, KTIM's Hugh Turner the 4-7-9-10, and Ray Barton, 5-9-10.

PICKIN' 'EM UP — Mike Tauscher's 628 led the 670 Scratch League when 29 games went over the 200 mark, causing league secretary Beatrice Hoffmann to exclaim, "Look out 905 Classic" . . . Sylvia Fenton picked up the 6-7-10 split in the Keglerettes League at Country Club . . . Peter Bekey led the scores in the TGIF League at the San Rafael lanes with a 234 game and 630 series, his first 600 series . . . Talk about splits, Max's Texaco team had 25 of them last time out and team champ was Clyde Brest with 11 of the dirty things . . . Chuck Akins (157 avg.) rolled 220-600 in the Twilite Twirlers at Country Club . . . Blue Stamp licking champs of the week are Gary Kinyon who won 10,000 of them at Pete Pantages, 5,000 at Country Club.

DOWN THE LANES — Top score of the Mixed Travel League came from Larry Williams, 626 series . . . Pat Costello took the lead of high series in the Lutheran Early League at Country Club with a 662 (246-238-178), and Stephen Graham bowled his first six, a 618 . . . Frank Davis (158 avg.) rolled a 234 in the Mixed Mates . . . Ed Perinoni went 78 pins over his average with a 223 line in the Hi-Lo's at Country Club Bowl, and Betty Miles missed her first 200 game by one lousy pin . . . First time 200s came from Betty Hillman, 200, and Karen Becker, 209, in the Monday Washday League at Nave Lanes . . . In the Merry Mixers League at Country Club, Erv Novak went 80 pins over his norm with a 231 line and Char Burr missed a 131 triplicate by just one pin.

JUNIOR DOINGS — Everbody was happy with the record turnout (32 teams, 57 doubles and 114 singles) in the Marin County Junior Bowling Association tourney the past two weekends at Greenbrae Lanes and Country Club Bowl. High scores of the tourney came from Keith Ray, 618 series, and Ron Gottheimer, 266 game. All-events scratch champ was Wayne Ziegler.

Ted Williams To Become Senators' Manager

WASHINGTON (AP) — The lowly Washington Senators, seeking to counter-act the magic name of football's Vince Lombardi, have come up with a storybook name of their own and hired headline-making slugger Ted Williams as manager.

"I cannot immediately deliver a new team, but it is possible to get a storybook manager," said Bob Short, the Minneapolis millionaire who purchased the team last December and took full control of it two weeks ago.

Williams could not be reached for comment, but a source close to the famous slugger told The Associated Press that Williams was ready to sign a long-term contract.

"It's so good he can't afford to turn it down," the source said.

In Columbia, S.C., Williams said he has noting new to add about his returning to baseball as manager of the Washington Senators.

'My atorneys are handling everything," said Williams, who was in Columbia for a brief time on business.

'At this time, I cannot reveal anything. Seriously, there is nothing new at this time," he added.

Williams, the last player ever to hit .40, said he had met with Bob Short.

"The man is one of the most exciting individuals I've ever met," said Williams. "It pleased me that he thought I could actually do something for Washington."

Williams is still vice president of the Red Sox.

Earlier, the 50-year-old Williams had confirmed he was considering what he called "the most fantastic offer I've ever received."

The hiring of Williams was just as fantastic, and as shocking as the Washington Redskins' recent coup of grabbing Lombardi. A few years ago, the last of baseball's .400 hitters had said, "You couldn't pay me enough to manage." He said then he had turned down two offers to manage, presumably from the Boston Red Sox.

In Boston, where Williams still is a vice president of the Red Sox, the team for which he starred from 1939-60, General Manager Dick O'Connell confirmed Short had received permission to talk to Williams.

In fact, Williams still is drawing deferred salary from his playing days. For tax purposes, he was paid only $65,000 during several years of an estimated $103,000 contract. He also represents Sears, Roebuck and Co. as a representative for their fishing equipment at a reported $80,000 annually.

During a brilliant but stormy career, interrupted twice for almost five years of service as a Marine pilot, Williams compiled a lifetime batting average of .344, hit 521 home runs and won the American League batting title six times, hitting .406 in 1941. He was elected to the Hall of Fame the first year he became eligible.

Williams retired for the first time after the 1954 season but came back a month into the 1955 season and played through 1960. He then devoted most of his time to his fishing enterprises, while also serving as a hitting instructor for the Red Sox.

His career was marred by feuds with fans and writers in Boston. He was fined for spitting incidents on the field and also made headlines with his blasts at "gutless" draft boards and "phony" politicians concerning his recall to active Marine duty in Korea.

Williams replaces Jim Lemon, who piloted the Senators to a last-place finish in the American League last season. Short fired Lemon and General Manager George Selkirk two weeks ago.

White Sox Open Training

No Strike By Players, Just Yet

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — A total of 21 players, including veteran catcher Russ Nixon, were in uniform today as the Chicago White Sox opened spring training in the face of a threatened big league player strike.

At the same time, Vice President Ed Short said he was informed in a New York call from John Gaherin, an owner negotiator in the current pension dispute, that the player group this weekend was considering what Gaherin termed a "very generous settlement."

BATTERIES

Manager Al Lopez sent a squad of 15 pitchers and six catchers, but including only 12 rostered players, through a light morning drill as the White Sox became the first of the 24 major league clubs to launch spring training.

A surprise appearance was made by Nixon, a 12-year-major league veteran, who last December was drafted from the Louisville roster of the Boston Red Sox.

"I talked to a number of veteran players," explained Nixon. "None of them felt I should jeopardize my career because after all every year is vital after you serve 12." Nixon said he spent the winter doing carpenter work, adding, "You got to keep busy when you have four kids."

OSINSKI

The only other established player to report was pitcher Dan Osinski, a former Red Sox player who was acquired from Hawaii last October.

Also among the rostered players were rookie pitchers Mickey Abarbanel, Billy Wynne, Don Secrist, Mickey Vandehey, Paul Edmudson, Jim Magnuson and Fred Rath.

Among the four rostered catchers were Nixon, Ed Herrmann, Doug Adams and Gail Hopkins, last season a first baseman-utility man. Among the nonrostered players was Danny Murphy, a $125,000 bonus baby with the Chicago Cubs in 1960, who is trying to make the big league for the ninth year. Originally an outfielder, Murphy now is a pitcher and last year had a 3-3 record as a reliever for Hawaii.

POLL PLAYERS

Short said in his long phone talk with Gaherin that Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Players Association, was expected to poll key player representatives over the weekend and submit a reply to the owners on Monday.

"I am not at liberty to discuss points of the proposed settlement, but Gaherin expressed confidence that this was a good offer," said Short.

Short said he planned to confer with Gary Peters, a pitcher who is the chief spokesman for the White Sox veterans.

Yellowed Clipping Tells Of Rare Feat

BELIEVE-IT-OR-NOT — Ever hear of a pitcher striking out a batter and catching the third strike himself?

As it is rather unusual, neither had I until Francis A. Baptiste of San Anselmo sent me a yellowed clipping describing the baseball rarity as accomplished by Tony Freitas, a left-handed chucker who grew up in Mill Valley and went on to become a major league and Pacific Coast League star back in the days when dad was a lad.

Freitas, who now lives in Sacramento, accomplished the freakish putout while pitching for the Sacramento Solons several years ago. The third strike hit the catcher's chest protector and bounced out to the pitcher's mound where the startled Freitas caught the ball for the putout.

Played Outfield Behind Freitas

Baptiste, who played outfield behind Freitas at Tamalpais High School for Coach G. T. "Pop" Wendering back in the mid-20's, sent another clipping that told about Freitas pitching a 2-0 no-hitter for Sacramento against the Oakland Oaks. Little Tony had quite a career.

MENTION OF Wendering brings to mind the prep baseball dynasty he built at Tam before retiring in the late 1940s.

Pop, a stern taskmaster, won the North Bay League championship virtually every year and produced such major leaguers as Freitas, Sam Chapman, Art Schallock, Joe DeMaestri and Karl Olson, a pretty fair recond for a small school.

Marin Has Its Diamond Talent

SPEAKING OF such, the Marin County Athletic League had its share of diamond talent last season as no less than four of our 1968 prep stars have been drafted by the pros.

Kenny Johnson, Redwood High's flashy shortstop, was the first of the group to be plucked, by the Yankees, and already has a minor league season under his belt.

Also drafted from our sandlots are Tom Thomas of Novato and Dave Edson of Terra Linda, both by the California Angels, and Gary Welch of San Rafael by the Los Angeles Dodgers. Edson had the distinction of being drafted by two clubs as the Kansas City Athletics picked him in the regular draft last June while the Angels tabbed him in last month's special grab bag. Edson and Thomas presently are attending Menlo College.

Semi-Pro Hurler Also Drafted

Another local draftee is Bill Clarke who pitched for Joe Anselmo's semi-pro San Rafael Braves last summer. Atlanta plucked the right hander.

MIKE CONVIS of the Drake High School faculty checks in to announce the fourth annual Drake Car and Boat Show is scheduled May 25 at the Northgate Shopping Center in Terra Linda. Mike is a bit early with the announcement, explaining he wants to give car enthusiasts plenty of time to arrange their spring schedule.

Proceeds pay for scholarship to worthy Drake High seniors. In 1965 the show paid for one scholarship; this year, says Mike, ". . . we'll award six of them. We're growing."

Only Room For Par Golfers

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The $100,000 Phoenix Open appeared ready to close today for golfers who don't shoot par or better.

Going into the second round were seven who fired six-under-par 65 for their first 18 holes over the friendly Arizona Country Club course and 82 had bettered the par 71. Another 26 had matched it.

Only the low 70 and ties survive the cut after this second tour of the 6,389-yard, par 35-36 layout.

Leading the way into today's play were Terry Wilcox, Dutch Harrison, John Jacobs, Billy Maxwell, Lee Elder, Miller Barber, and Larry Ziegler.

Wilcox, of Bronxville, N.Y., drew top billing only because he punctuated his round with a hole-in-one on the 154-yard 15th hole. There was no special prize except that without the ace, the 30-year-old New Yorker wouldn't have been with the leaders.

Neither would have been Maxwell and Elder if each hadn't scored an eagle 3 on the 477-yard, par 5, fifth.

Pressing at 66 were Hugh Royer, Frank Beard, Ron Funseth, Paul Harney, and Jerry Barber as the jam resembled a rush hour freeway.

Ten more, including Canadian George Knudson, the defending champion, were jammed in at 67 among the par busting brigade which didn't include Billy Casper, Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, who all skipped this competition.

The Wilcox ace came with some vocal encouragment from the golfer.

After deciding on a No. 5 iron from the tee, Wilcox said, "I hollered at the ball to make it to the green. It landed three feet short of the cup and jumped right in."

Wilcox also put his tee shot within two feet of the cup on the 148-yard seventh but had to be content with a birdie.

Jacobs, 23, whose older brother Tommy is a tour veteran, shot his lowest round since joining the Professional Golfers' Association tour for eight tournaments last year.

He admitted to playing conservatively on the second nine when he took a 35 compared to his 30 on the opening side.

And for the old folks, in came Dutch Harrison who five times has been national seniors champion. At 58, the Arkansas traveler played his usual rapid pace for a round which included birdie putts of 20 and 35 feet on the 11th and 12th holes.

"I pulled awfully well," said Harrison who turned pro in 1930, before some of his co-leaders were born.

IT'S TIME FOR SALMON FISHING

"There are a lot of fish out there," is the report for the opening of the ocean salmon fishing season tomorrow in waters south of Tomales Point.

Most party boats in Sausalito report reservations are sold out for tomorrow's opener, but there are a few openings left.

The limit will be three fish per person per day until March 1 when the 1969 regulations go into effect, reducing the limit to two fish.

Drag boat operators and crab fishermen have reported plenty of fish available for the opener.

Arab Pulls Another Net Upset

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — The Americans who battle for two semifinal spots in the U.S. National Indoor Tennis Championships tonight will be hard put topping the intriguing match-up of foreigners already in the round of four.

In the all-foreign quarter-finals last night, darkhorse Ismael el Shafei recorded another stunning upset while advancing along with Torben Ulrich, the bearded Dane, who beat El Shafei's father in Davis Cup play 21 years ago.

El Shafei, 22-year-old national champion of the United Arab Republic, polished off Mark Cox, the number 2 foreign seed from England, 9-7, 6-4. He previously had eliminated Cliff Richey, the defending champion and No. 4 American seed.

Ulrich, who sluffs off questions about his age, but is believed to be 40 or 41, rallied to beat Ove Bengtson of Sweden, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4. Ulrich was seeded fourth among foreigners in the 48-man draw.

In tonight's matches, second-seeded American, Clark Graebner, plays veteran Ron Holmberg and Stan Smith, the No. 3 domestic seed, takes on Charlie Pasarell, who won the tournament in 1966 and 1967.

Astrojet Golf Gets Started

RANCHO LA COSTA (UPI) — Bill Mazeroski of the Pittsburg Pirates and Paul Krause of the Minnesota Vikings launch a bid today for their third straight title in the $30,000 Astrojet Golf Classic.

The 54-hole tournament at the La Costa Country Club teams a baseball star with his football counterpart. First prize in the best ball affair is $10,000.

Teams led by Jim Lonborg of the Boston Red Sox and Ron Santo of the Chicago Cubs shot 56s yesterday to tie for low net best ball honors in the pro-am prelude.

Lonborg's team consisted of Cliff Otto, Jim Braden and Dave Brinker while Santo's partners were Daryl Lamonica of the Oakland Raiders, Abe Lipsey and Jack Rickey.

The classic ends Sunday.

Huff Comes Out Of Retirement

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sam Huff's return to pro football as linebacker and coach with Vince Lombardi's Washington Redskins was the most prominent of a number of developments in the sport yesterday.

Huff called his one-year retirement "the worst year I've spent in my life." And Lombardi told a press conference "we both came out of retirement in the same year."

Two other coaches and two other players also signed pro football contracts yesterday.

Charlie Sumner, an assistant coach for six years with the Oakland Raiders, signed as defensive backfield coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers. Sumner joins John Bridgers and Walt Hackett on the staff of Chuck Noll, the Steelers' new head coach.

Jesse Richardson, defensive line coach of the Boston Patriots, was re-hired by Clive Rush, the club's new head coach.

Mike Holovak, former general manager and coach of the Patriots, was reported by the Boston Globe to be in line for the job of director of player personnel with the New York Jets. George Sauer left that job to succeed Holovak as the Patriots' GM, joing Rush, a former New York assistant coach.

Dave Costa, Denver's defensive captain, signed his 1969 contract with the Broncos and Dave Cutler, a linebacker and kicker from Vancouver, British Columbia, agreed to terms with the Green Bay Packers.

Negro Gets Key Post In San Jose Sports

SAN JOSE (AP) — San Jose State College yesterday named Lang Stanley, a Negro, as assistant athletic director.

Recently most of the school's Negro athletes presented a list of demands, one of which was that a member of their race be named an assistant to athletic director Bob Bronzan.

San Jose's athletic program has been beset by racial problems this school year.

Seven Negro football players refused to play against Brigham Young and lost their scholarships, then three Negro basketball players refused to play for several games in sympathy with the football players.

Stanley, a 1957 graduate of San Jose, was voted the school's Athlete of the Year 1956 when he won the NCAA 880-yard track title and set collegiate 440 and 880-yard records. He was selected as an alternate on the 1956 U.S. Olympic team.

He is one of the founders of the Southern California Striders, which annually fields one of the top non-collegiate track teams in the country. For the past year he has been office manager of a large insurance agency.

In announcing his appointment, Bronzan said, "Lang Stanley was an outstanding athlete and a fine student. He has proved himself to be a capable and successful businessman.

"Further, he has demonstrated his interest and ambition to help minority students attain their full potential. We are delighted to have him join our staff."

Of the seven football players who lost their scholarships, two have since been told they will regain their scholarships in the spring.

McCoy Wins State Title

OAKLAND (AP) — Rangy Ralph McCoy of Richmond won the vacant California middleweight championship last night at the Oakland Auditorium with a 12-round decision over Charley Austin of San Diego.

The 27-year-old McCoy closed with a rush over the 30-year-old veteran to win on all three cards. Judges Frank Carter and Jack Downey voted 6-4 and 6-5 for McCoy while referee Tony Bosnich had McCoy far in front 7-2.

McCoy, 158, took his ninth victory against two losses while Austin, 159½, suffered his 29th defeat. He has 31 victories and three draws.

A crowd of 2,438 paid $8,504.

In a companion bout scheduled for 10 rounds, Jimmy Lester, 160½, San Francisco, made Gene Bryant, 159½, Las Vegas, his 27th knockout victim when the fight was stopped in the ninth.

Injury Bug Again Bugging Warriors

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The injury bug is bugging the San Francisco Warriors again.

The Warriors, racked by injuries earlier in the National Basketball Association season, face the Philadelphia 76ers tonight without veteran forward Rudy La Russo, and he is doubtful for tomorrow night's game at New York.

La Russo injured his back in Tuesday night's victory over Atlanta and missed Wednesday night's 120-110 loss at Baltimore.

Oaks Dump Kentucky Colonels

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Oaks answered the Kentucky Colonels' "twin barrels" of long range shooters Darel Carrier and Louis Dampier with twin barrels of their own last night.

Forwards Doug Moe and Gary Bradds contributed 27 apiece as the Oaks downed the Colonels 122-109 before 6,384 at the Oakland Arena.

Meanwhile, Dampier and Carrier, the top two scorers in the ABA from outside the three-point 25-foot range, were held to 19 and 13, respectively.

The victory left the Oaks at 41-8 far atop the ABA Western Division and snapped a two-game losing streak. They meet New Orleans at the Arena tomorrow night

HERB MICHELSON

A Tantalizing Idea To Save The Seals

OAKLAND — Nicely, considering all of the unkind things that have been happening to them, the Oakland Seals are proving that they are a pretty fair country ball club.

They lose two fine scorers, (Garry Jarrett, Bill Hicks) because of injuries for brief periods yet keep a winning pace. Their second best defenseman (long Bert Marshall) is hurt, yet damaging enemy penetration, save for the rigors of stacked-up scheduling, is prevented.

I wondered aloud to a Seals executive the other day about the possibility of the team cleaning up — or at least getting even — financially once the Stanley Cup playoffs roll around. (There are now less than 20 regular season games left to play in a campaign that seems to have started five years and 12 franchise shift requests ago.)

"HEAVENS, NO," said the fellow. "Because of extra expenses, we might even lose MORE money on the playoffs." That pessimism I am not quite yet ready to accept. But, in truth, Oakland's 53 owners are so deeply in the red now that the Cup playoffs would have to continue through 1984 for any profits to be visible.

And, ironically, the fact of these financial losses is what has convinced the National Hockey League's board of governors to keep the Seals in the Bay Area. Talk about the ambiguities of big business! (All right, I will.)

CLARENCE CAMPBELL, president of all that's right in professional hockey, never came right out and said it to us press people during his recent inspection trip.

So I asked. "Doesn't the board of governors consider that Barry van Gerbig and his 52 partners have been bad, inefficient boys who deserve to stew in their own juice until there's no juice (i. e., $) left?"

Instead of a no comment, Mr. Campbell gave me a "I can't speak for the attitude of the board of governors."

Later, an awfully reliable sports executive in the East Bay could. And, happily, did.

"BARRY WANTS to get out clean," said my man. "Not only clean; he wants to sell a profit to Buffalo or Vancouver or wherever. Can you imagine? A profit!"

I easily could imagine the desire of anybody to make a buck. After all, hockey is America (except for Toronto and Montreal) isn't it?

"That's just it," shrieked the awfully reliable fellow. "The hard-line hockey people in Toronto and Montreal don't feel van Gerbig has any right to profit after making such a mess with the franchise and club organization in Oakland. The board of governors would like nothing better than to see the Seals throw in the towel here and turn the franchise back to the league."

I'VE GOT the feeling, though, there's a middle ground to all of this, a way for Barry to get clean and the league to keep a team in the Bay Area and still maintain its pride.

That would be a local deal made by van Gerbig, with the league not getting involved as a middleman. Knots of syndicates are starting to form in places like Santa Clara County, Pittsburg and downtown Oakland.

THE MOST fascinating potential pitch for the Seals may come from my old friend Gerald E. Seltzer, the Roller Derby king. To him, hockey is just another game on skates — yet one that can draw in the Bay Area.

Jerry, at least, would give hockey the merchandising touch it has so sorely needed here the past two years. Although his kind of promotion may not be what the NHL board of governors would consider in the glorious tradition of hockey.

Yet, the idea is tantalizing.

University Suspends Haywood

DETROIT (AP) —The University of Detroit, often accused this season of having a one-man basketball team, now have the opportunity to prove otherwise in their next two games.

Spencer Haywood, the 6-foot-8 center who made sports headlines by leading the United States to the Olympic basketball title, was suspended yesterday by Coach Bob Calihan after striking a referee Wednesday at Toledo.

SPENCER HAYWOOD
Out two games

Haywood struck referee George Strauthers with a glancing blow after being told he was ejected from the game for allegedly hitting Toledo's Larry Miller.

This reportedly occurred after they tumbled to the floor with Toledo's Steve Mix during a tussle for a rebound. Detroit won the game 92-90.

"I can't justify what I did." Haywood explained yesterday at a news conference. "I asked the other referee (Jim Manilla) why I was thrown out and he said it was because I hit a player.

"I didn't think I had hit anyone and that's when I lost my temper."

Calihan said in a prepared statement: "The university recognizes the seriousness of the infraction. I made this recommentation and I feel it's a fair recommendation. I'm not concerned with what other institutions would do. This is our decision."

He said he didn't want to make the decision of what to do Wednesday night. "I considered it all night and all I was concerned with was what I would do with Spencer Haywood or anyone else on the team in a similar instance."

Haywood said he hoped there would be no demonstrations against Calihan over the suspension.

"If I thought the student body would do something like that, I would try to stop it," he said, adding, "I think it's a fair penalty."

Haywood will miss tomorrow night's game at Xavier and Tuesday's home game with Baldwin-Wallace. The incident also leaves uncertain the Titans' chance of taking their current 14-7 record to any post-season tournaments.

Luke Easter Returns As Part-Time Coach

CLEVELAND (AP) — Luke Easter, former Cleveland Indians' first baseman and home run slugger, will return to the club this season as a part-time coach.

General Manager Gabe Paul said yesterday that Easter would be with the Tribe for two weeks during spring training at Tucson, Ariz., and rejoin the club opening day.

Big Cage Weekend On Tap

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

This is the weekend that just about every Coast basketball title can be wrapped up.

In the Pacific Eight, for instance, UCLA could just about take it all by winning at Washington tomorrow night and Washington State Monday. The road tests in the Northwest for the nationally top-ranked Bruins figure to be as tough a test as they'll face all year as they drive for an unbeaten campaign.

Stanford and California host Oregon and Oregon State in weekend Pacific Eight games.

The West Coast Athletic Conference is idle tonight but tomorrow finds unbeaten Santa Clara ready to take a giant step toward the title if it can win at USF. Santa Barbara is at San Jose State, St. Mary's at UOP and Loyola at Pepperdine in other tussles tomorrow.

Clippers To Play Russ Soccermen

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—For the first time ever, a Russian soccer team of championship caliber will play in the United States.

The California Clippers yesterday announced they will host Dynamo Kiev, three-time Russian champs and the 1968 European Cup winner, in two exhibitions. The first is set for Feb. 23 at San Francisco's Kezar Stadium and the second March 2 at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Two more exhibitions may be played at a later date.

Marin 'Cats Take Shot At Redwood

Redwood High School's streaking and multi-talented basketball team continues relentlessly on its merry way tonight while the survivors of the remaining contenders continue to clash.

The Giants, now on an eight-game Marin County Athletic League win streak, and an 8-1 won-lost record, host potentially dangerous and definetely angry Marin Catholic (2-7) in Larkspur.

Two contenders will clash when San Rafael (6-3) seeks to avenge one of its league losses as the Bulldogs host fading Terra Linda (5-4). In other games, current runnerup Novato (7-2) plays host to cross-town rival San Marin (1-8) and Tamalpais (4-5) visits Drake (3-6) in San Anselmo.

HURT PRIDE

Redwood breezed to a 65-50 win over Tamalpais Tuesday but the Giants may have to be at their sharpest against the Wildcats, whose pride took a severe beating in an upset loss to San Marin Tuesday.

Marin's Mike Murray is still one of the classiest ballplayers in the league and the 'Cats have a flock of angry players to throw into battle. The Giants should probably have more than the Wildcats, however. Jerry Piro, with a 19-point per game average, is the No. 4 scorer in the league, and is backed up by good height from 6-foot, 6-inch Pete Webb and Bill Challender.

Terra Linda whipped San Rafael 84-64 the last time around, but since then the Trojans have had their troubles, despite great work by forward Pat Purcell, the league's leading scorer.

UP 'N' DOWN

The Bulldogs, with good height and speed, have been up and down, too, but they've been sharper and are still within hearing distance of the top.

Novato should have little trouble with San Marin, despite the enormous boost provided by the Mustangs' first win. E. Hernberger, who scored 35 points against Terra Linda, and Steve McNally score enough points between them to beat entire teams. The Mustangs, even with classy Gary Howard, are neither deep enough nor tall enough to cope with the Hornets.

Tamalpais will be seeking to break a two-game losing streak after a promising start. The Indians whipped Drake the last time out, but may find things tougher away from home.

Clark Jamison is the shooter to stop for the Pirates while the Indians are more balanced.

Tonight's action starts with junior varsity preliminary games at 7 o'clock, followed at approximately 8:30 by the varsity games.

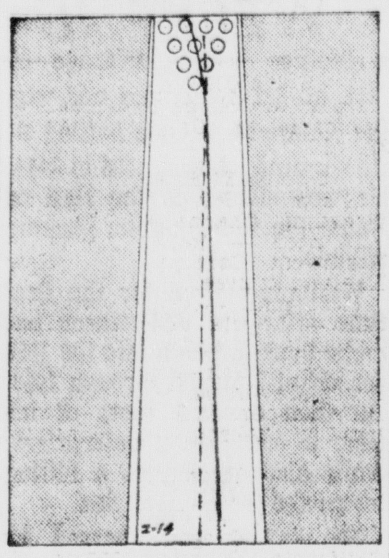
BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



If you find that the lanes are fast, not allowing the ball to hook normally, don't try to counteract this situation by giving the ball an exaggerated lift. Instead, move a few boards to the right of your usual starting point. If that doesn't get the ball up to the pocket, try slowing down a little.

Glover Leads Record-Setting Bowling Field

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Don Glover of Bakersfield, led a record-breaking field into today's match game semifinals of the Professional Bowlers Association $60,000 Ebonite Open.

Glover finished the four-game qualifying yesterday with 5,544 in a tournament which saw the 16th man set a record of 5,377. The old mark was 5,316, set in the Denver Open in 1967.

The 300-game record was tied when three more perfect games were shot in yesterday's round to bring the tournament total to six, a one-tourney mark set in the 1960 Albany, N.Y., meet.

Yesterday's 300s were rolled by Vic Vattista of New York City, Roger Fink of Lodi, and Eddy Patterson of Dallas. Ray Bluth of St. Louis, Bobby Cooper of Houston and Wayne Zahn of Atlanta had perfect games Wednesday.

The 16 semifinalists shoot 16 games today with the top five going for the $8,000 first prize in tomorrow's nationally televised finals.

Foursome Tourney

Mesdames Thomas Major, J. A. Gibbs, Lyle Bowman and Hodge Davidson teamed up yesterday to win the Marin Country Club's best ball foursome golf tournament at the Novato course with a total score of 142 strokes.

Miss Conti Sets Bowling Mark

By RALPH CHATOIAN

PENNY CONTI
Sets a record

Penny Conti has scored another Marin County first in league bowling.

She went over the 700 mark, the first woman to ever reach that plateau in Marin league competition. She had games of 246, 224 and 231 for a 701 set in the Weekenders League at Country Club Bowl.

That 701 series erased Bea Hoffmann' previous Marin high of 672 made last summer, also at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael.

Penny, who lives in San Rafael and works as a meter records clerk for Pacific Gas and Eelectric Co. in San Rafael, had only one open frame in the three games, a nearly impossible 4-6-10 split.

In her last game, she had to get at least one pin on a 6-10 leave to make it to 700. She got them both.

"I really didn't know that I had to get those pins for a 700 series," she admitted. "I knew I was close to a 700, but I just wasn't going to look up at the score."

The attractive Miss Conti bowls in four leagues, two on Wednesday and one each Tuesday and Friday. A 162 average bowler last year, she has hiked her average all the way to 185 this year in the Ladies 615 Classic. Previous to her 701, she had six series over the 600 mark this season. Prior to this season, her best effort was in the high 500s.

Penny, who has ben bowling 10 years, gives all the credit to her improvement this season to Mike Tauscher, a teammate of hers in a mixed league, who has been teaching her.

Tauscher, 168 blue book average, rolled a 696 series less than two weeks ago.

THIS AND THAT — Elmer Tynes, two-time Marin County Masters champion (1966-67) is back at it, rolling games of 203, 278 and 258 in the Lutheran Late League at Country Club for a whopping 739 series, one of three 700s rolled by men at the San Rafael lanes; Ray Miller rolled 222-256-233—711 and Frank Bernardi 217-269-215—701, both in the 905 Classic . . . Bill Henderson rolled a 279-671 in the 905 Classic for high game honors . . . Bea Hoffmann was the talk of the Bowlerettes League with that 235 game and 641 series . . . In the Mixed Mates at Greenbrae Lanes, Joe Purcell (153 avg.) rolled a 154 triplicate and Walt Carter came a pin away from a beauty, 202,201-202 . . . It was split-making time in the Novato Sportsmen League at Nave Lanes, Royal Druba cashing the 6-7-10, KTIM's Hugh Turner the 4-7-9-10, and Ray Barton, 5-9-10.

PICKIN' 'EM UP — Mike Tauscher's 628 led the 670 Scratch League when 29 games went over the 200 mark, causing league secretary Beatrice Hoffmann to exclaim, "Look out 905 Classic" . . . Sylvia Fenton picked up the 6-7-10 split in the Keglerettes League at Country Club . . . Peter Bekey led the scores in the TGIF League at the San Rafael lanes with a 234 game and 630 series, his first 600 series . . . Talk about splits, Max's Texaco team had 25 of them last time out and team champ was Clyde Brest with 11 of the dirty things . . . Chuck Akins (157 avg.) rolled 220-600 in the Twilite Twirlers at Country Club . . . Blue Stamp licking champs of the week are Gary Kinyon who won 10,000 of them at Pete Pantages, 5,000 at Country Club.

DOWN THE LANES — Top score of the Mixed Travel League came from Larry Williams, 626 series . . . Pat Costello took the lead of high series in the Lutheran Early League at Country Club with a 662 (246-238-178), and Stephen Graham bowled his first six, a 618 . . . Frank Davis (158 avg.) rolled a 234 in the Mixed Mates . . . Ed Perinoni went 78 pins over his average with a 223 line in the Hi-Lo's at Country Club Bowl, and Betty Miles missed her first 200 game by one lousy pin . . . First time 200s came from Betty Hillman, 200, and Karen Becker, 209, in the Monday Washday League at Nave Lanes . . . In the Merry Mixers League at Country Club, Erv Novak went 80 pins over his norm with a 231 line and Char Burr missed a 131 triplicate by just one pin.

JUNIOR DOINGS — Everbody was happy with the record turnout (32 teams, 57 doubles and 114 singles) in the Marin County Junior Bowling Association tourney the past two weekends at Greenbrae Lanes and Country Club Bowl. High scores of the tourney came from Keith Ray, 618 series, and Ron Gottheimer, 266 game. All-events scratch champ was Wayne Ziegler.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Feb. 14, the 45th day of 1969 with 320 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1886 the West Coast citrus industry was born as the first trainload of oranges left Los Angeles for eastern markets.

In 1903 President Roosevelt enacted into law a measure creating the Department of Commerce and Labor with George Cortelyou as its first secretary.

In 1933 Michigan Gov. W.A. Comstock ordered an eight-day bank holiday to check a financial panic.

In 1968 Secretary of State Dean Rusk said North Korea had rejected all efforts to negotiate the release of the Pueblo and its 82 crewmen.

A thought for the day: Robert Burns said, "But to see her was to love her, love but her, and love forever."

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Bridge Class Learns Lesson About Trumping On Slow Ship

"West leads the queen of hearts," I told a class of 60 bridge enthusiasts just a couple of hours out of Hong Kong harbor. "The defenders take three hearts and then switch to diamonds. How do you plan to play the hand?"

DRAW TRUMPS

The class studied their lesson sheets, which gave them only the North and South hands. "Take the ace of diamonds," a lady from Washington suggested.

I congratulated her, and the class laughed. It wasn't very funny, but as long as they laughed they didn't have to admit that they didn't know what to do.

"Do the trumps break well?" a lady from Winnipeg asked. I assured her that they did. "Then draw three rounds of trumps," she offered.

"You're down one," I reported. "You can trump one diamond in the dummy, but that uses up dummy's last trump, and you can't eat your other low diamond."

DISCOVERY

My pupils had crusied halfway around the world to discover that it doesn't always pay to draw all of the trumps. South must ruff both low diamonds in the dummy and must save two trumps there for that purpose.

After taking the ace of diamonds, declarer should use dummy's ace and queen of trumps to draw precisely two rounds of trumps. Then he takes the king of diamonds, ruffs a diamond in dummy and returns to his hand with a club to lead his last diamond.

MISSING TRUMP

Fortunately, for South, the defender with the last diamond also has the only missing trump. South therefore manages to ruff his last trump with the king of spades. See what you've learned without going to China!

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 no-trump (16 to 18 points), and you respond two clubs. Partner bids two diamonds (denying a major suit of four or more cards), and it is once more up to you.

Your hand is:

♠ A Q 6 3
♥ K 5 2
♣ 8 3
♦ 8 6 5 3

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid 2 no-trump.

As usual, this response promises eight or nine points. You would jump to 3 no-trump if you had a sprinkling of tens and nines, but the actual hand contains only three useful cards. If partner decides to stop short of game you will shed no tears.

A Tantalizing Idea To Save The Seals

OAKLAND — Nicely, considering all of the unkind things that have been happening to them, the Oakland Seals are proving that they are a pretty fair country ball club.

They lose two fine scorers, (Garry Jarrett, Bill Hicks) because of injuries for brief periods yet keep a winning pace. Their second best defenseman (long Bert Marshall) is hurt, yet damaging enemy penetration, save for the rigors of stacked-up scheduling, is prevented.

I wondered aloud to a Seals executive the other day about the possibility of the team cleaning up — or at least getting even — financially once the Stanley Cup playoffs roll around. (There are now less than 20 regular season games left to play in a campaign that seems to have started five years and 12 franchise shift requests ago.)

"HEAVENS, NO," said the fellow. "Because of extra expenses, we might even lose MORE money on the playoffs." That pessimism I am not quite yet ready to accept. But, in truth, Oakland's 53 owners are so deeply in the red now that the Cup playoffs would have to continue through 1984 for any profits to be visible.

And, ironically, the fact of these financial losses is what has convinced the National Hockey League's board of governors to keep the Seals in the Bay Area. Talk about the ambiguities of big business! (All right, I will.)

CLARENCE CAMPBELL, president of all that's right in professional hockey, never came right out and said it to us press people during his recent inspection trip.

So I asked. "Doesn't the board of governors consider that Barry van Gerbig and his 52 partners have been bad, inefficient boys who deserve to stew in their own juice until there's no juice (i. e., $) left?"

Instead of a no comment, Mr. Campbell gave me a "I can't speak for the attitude of the board of governors."

Later, an awfully reliable sports executive in the East Bay could. And, happily, did.

"BARRY WANTS to get out clean," said my man. "Not only clean; he wants to sell a profit to Buffalo or Vancouver or wherever. Can you imagine? A profit!"

I easily could imagine the desire of anybody to make a buck. After all, hockey is America (except for Toronto and Montreal) isn't it?

"That's just it," shrieked the awfully reliable fellow. "The hard-line hockey people in Toronto and Montreal don't feel van Gerbig has any right to profit after making such a mess with the franchise and club organization in Oakland. The board of governors would like nothing better than to see the Seals throw in the towel here and turn the franchise back to the league."

I'VE GOT the feeling, though, there's a middle ground to all of this, a way for Barry to get clean and the league to keep a team in the Bay Area and still maintain its pride.

That would be a local deal made by van Gerbig, with the league not getting involved as a middleman. Knots of syndicates are starting to form in places like Santa Clara County, Pittsburg and downtown Oakland.

THE MOST fascinating potential pitch for the Seals may come from my old friend Gerald E. Seltzer, the Roller Derby king. To him, hockey is just another game on skates — yet one that can draw in the Bay Area.

Jerry, at least, would give hockey the merchandising touch it has so sorely needed here the past two years. Although his kind of promotion may not be what the NHL board of governors would consider in the glorious tradition of hockey.

Yet, the idea is tantalizing.

Redwood Porsche Drivers To Meet

Redwood Region of Porsche Club of America will hold a special meeting tomorrow night, 7:30 o'clock at Bank of Marin in San Rafael.

Highlight of the meeting will be presentation of the auto club's charter by Lou Marable, west coast representative to the national club.

The following day club members will meet at Burge's Drive-In, Ignacio, at 12:30 p.m., for a tour to a winery at Forestville on the Russian River. All interested Porsche owners are invited to attend both events, said club officials.

University Suspends Haywood

SPENCER HAYWOOD
Out two games

DETROIT (AP) —The University of Detroit, often accused this season of having a one-man basketball team, now have the opportunity to prove otherwise in their next two games.

Spencer Haywood, the 6-foot-8 center who made sports headlines by leading the United States to the Olympic basketball title, was suspended yesterday by Coach Bob Calihan after striking a referee Wednesday at Toledo.

Haywood struck referee George Strauthers with a glancing blow after being told he was ejected from the game for allegedly hitting Toledo's Larry Miller.

This reportedly occurred after they tumbled to the floor with Toledo's Steve Mix during a tussle for a rebound. Detroit won the game 92-90.

"I can't justify what I did." Haywood explained yesterday at a news conference. "I asked the other referee (Jim Manilla) why I was thrown out and he said it was because I hit a player.

"I didn't think I had hit anyone and that's when I lost my temper."

Calihan said in a prepared statement: "The university recognizes the seriousness of the infraction. I made this recommentation and I feel it's a fair recommendation. I'm not concerned with what other institutions would do. This is our decision."

He said he didn't want to make the decision of what to do Wednesday night. "I considered it all night and all I was concerned with was what I would do with Spencer Haywood or anyone else on the team in a similar instance."

Haywood said he hoped there would be no demonstrations against Calihan over the suspension.

"If I thought the student body would do something like that, I would try to stop it," he said, adding, "I think it's a fair penalty."

Haywood will miss tomorrow night's game at Xavier and Tuesday's home game with Baldwin-Wallace. The incident also leaves uncertain the Titans' chance of taking their current 14-7 record to any post-season tournaments.

Luke Easter Returns As Part-Time Coach

CLEVELAND (AP) — Luke Easter, former Cleveland Indians' first baseman and home run slugger, will return to the club this season as a part-time coach.

General Manager Gabe Paul said yesterday that Easter would be with the Tribe for two weeks during spring training at Tucson, Ariz., and rejoin the club opening day.

Big Cage Weekend On Tap

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

This is the weekend that just about every Coast basketball title can be wrapped up.

In the Pacific Eight, for instance, UCLA could just about take it all by winning at Washington tomorrow night and Washington State Monday. The road tests in the Northwest for the nationally top-ranked Bruins figure to be as tough a test as they'll face all year as they drive for an unbeaten campaign.

Stanford and California host Oregon and Oregon State in weekend Pacific Eight games.

The West Coast Athletic Conference is idle tonight but tomorrow finds unbeaten Santa Clara ready to take a giant step toward the title if it can win at USF. Santa Barbara is at San Jose State, St. Mary's at UOP and Loyola at Pepperdine in other tussles tomorrow.

Clippers To Play Russ Soccermen

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—For the first time ever, a Russian soccer team of championship caliber will play in the United States.

The California Clippers yesterday announced they will host Dynamo Kiev, three-time Russian champs and the 1968 European Cup winner, in two exhibitions. The first is set for Feb. 23 at San Francisco's Kezar Stadium and the second March 2 at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Two more exhibitions may be played at a later date.

Laser Companies Good For Future

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. My daughter who is overseas has a well-diversified portfolio but would like to add a company in the field of laser development. What companies are there? — E. C.

A. It might be easier to make a list of companies that aren't in lasers than to try and list the firms that are connected with this new and growing technology. Among the large electronics firms, many have a hand in laser development, including: American Telephone, Bendix Corp., Gen. Telephone, Raytheon, TRW, Inc. and Union Carbide. However, lasers comprise such a small percentage of their operations that the effects of any major breakthroughs would be disseminated.

In companies such as Perkin-Elmer, with a 6 per cent of orders last year coming from laser-optics, advances in the state-of-the-art could noticeably affect sales and earnings. The company has a close, working relationship with Hitachi Ltd., Japan's largest electronics concern. Earnings record is excellent with 94 cents a share reported in the 1968 fiscal year.

Optics Technology is a small and speculative company with a sizable stake in lasers and fiber optics — 42 per cent of revenues. Precise measurement instruments, thin film and research and development contracts contribute the remaining portion to billings. Relative to earnings, share price is high; 37 cents was reported in fiscal 1968.

Q. We will soon receive $5,000 which we would like to invest.

A. At your point in life, building capital with maximum safety is of prime importance. Dividing your $5,000 equally among the following three issues could boost your retirement fund: American Hospital Supply, American Telephone, and Standard Brands.

Redwood Empire Convention Is Set For Marin

The Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau has been advised that its bid for the holding of the Redwood Empire Association's annual convention at the new Holiday Inn, San Rafael, next September has been accepted.

It will be the first time that the event has been held in Marin, due to the lack, until this year, of facilities of a sufficient size to accommodate the gathering.

The REA convention will be held Sept. 24, 25, and 26 and will attract about 200 from outside the county.

Marin is one of the constituent counties of the Redwood Empire Association and many Marinites have been active in the organization. Currently members of its executive committee are Supervisor William Gnoss, and Jack Craemer of the Independent-Journal; Charles I. Daniels Jr. of San Rafael and Marin County chairman for REA; J. Galen Foster, San Rafael; Frank P. Myer of Point Reyes, and John F. Schlette, Muir Woods.

A program of events and entertainment for the convention is being planned by the county chamber and REA representatives.

King Louis XIV of France, who lived from 1638 to 1715, said he only took a bath once a year.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Pensions Are Usually Taxed; Some Exemptions Explained

Wikel

Pensions are usually taxed.

Sometimes they are tax exempt. Sometimes a part is tax exempt. Sometimes it is all tax exempt until you have recovered your investment in the contract and then it is all taxed.

If you get compensation for a disability received during the performance of your job and where the payments are in the nature of workmen's compansation, then the amount received is not taxed.

If you did not pay into the pension plan, then the full amount received is included in your inocme.

Where you did pay into the pension, the amounts received are taxed under the annuity rules.

That is, part of the payments are excluded to the extent that they are a return of your payments into the plan.

The part excluded is the payment recieved during the year multiplied by the total you paid in and divided by the total amount you expect to receive.

The total you expect to receive is figured by multiplying the total received annually by your life expectancy, or by the number of years the payments will be made. The life expectancy figures are in tables provided by the IRS.

If the total you will receive in the first three years is more than the total you paid in, a special rule applies. All payments you receive are not taxed until you have fully recovered all that you have paid in. After that, all payments are taxed.

If the total paid to you under an exempt employees' trust is paid in one taxable year, the difference between what you paid in and the amount paid to you is taxed as a long term capital gain. Any gain represented by securities of your employer will ordinarily not be taxed until sold.

Some wage continuation plans are part of the employee's pension or profit-sharing plan. If you are permanently disabled, you get your pension immediately.

If so, your benefits from the plan would not be an ordinary pension. It would be a wage continuation plan and subject to the sick pay exclusion until you reach retirement age.

Market Closes Low In Brisk Trading

NEW YORK (UPI) — The market retreated today in the face of a flow of depressing international news. Trading was brisk.

The Vietnam peace conference remained deadlocked; the forthcoming elections in West Berlin plunged the East-West toward another crisis, and Arab-Israeli tensions kept the Middle East in ferment.

Control Data, a heavily traded electronic issue, was off several points late in the day. It traded an early block of 231,000 shares at 135 off 5¾. Burroughs, up more than 7 in the previous session, also turned easier, as did IBM.

Tobacco issues generally were on the upbeat in late trading despite a drop in cigaret use in 1968, the first such decline for a calendar year since 1964.

United was a firm aerospace issue after gaining better than 4 yesterday. The firm recently reported record earnings and sales for 1968.

Rails moved in both directions, with Missouri Pacific on the upside much of the session. Penn Central tended easier. Oils also moved on both sides of previous closings, with Sinclair firm and Cities Service soft.

Du Pont, a recent winner, turned weaker in the chemicals. Airlines were narrowly irregular.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Feb. 14, the 45th day of 1969 with 320 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1886 the West Coast citrus industry was born as the first trainload of oranges left Los Angeles for eastern markets.

In 1903 President Roosevelt enacted into law a measure creating the Department of Commerce and Labor with George Cortelyou as its first secretary.

In 1933 Michigan Gov. W.A. Comstock ordered an eight-day bank holiday to check a financial panic.

In 1968 Secretary of State Dean Rusk said North Korea had rejected all efforts to negotiate the release of the Pueblo and its 82 crewmen.

A thought for the day: Robert Burns said, "But to see her was to love her, love but her, and love forever."

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

Bridge Class Learns Lesson About Trumping On Slow Ship

"West leads the queen of hearts," I told a class of 60 bridge enthusiasts just a couple of hours out of Hong Kong harbor. "The defenders take three hearts and then switch to diamonds. How do you plan to play the hand?"

DRAW TRUMPS

The class studied their lesson sheets, which gave them only the North and South hands. "Take the ace of diamonds," a lady from Washington suggested.

I congratulated her, and the class laughed. It wasn't very funny, but as long as they laughed they didn't have to admit that they didn't know what to do.

"Do the trumps break well?" a lady from Winnipeg asked. I assured her that they did. "Then draw three rounds of trumps," she offered.

"You're down one," I reported. "You can trump one diamond in the dummy, but that uses up dummy's last trump, and you can't eat your other low diamond."

DISCOVERY

My pupils had crusied halfway around the world to discover that it doesn't always pay to draw all of the trumps. South must ruff both low diamonds in the dummy and must save two trumps there for that purpose.

After taking the ace of diamonds, declarer should use dummy's ace and queen of trumps to draw precisely two rounds of trumps. Then he takes the king of diamonds, ruffs a diamond in dummy and returns to his hand with a club to lead his last diamond.

MISSING TRUMP

Fortunately, for South, the defender with the last diamond also has the only missing trump. South therefore manages to ruff his last trump with the king of spades. See what you've learned without going to China!

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 no-trump (16 to 18 points), and you respond two clubs. Partner bids two diamonds (denying a major suit of four or more cards), and it is once more up to you.

Your hand is:

♠ A Q 6 3
♥ K 5 2
♣ 8 3
♦ 8 6 5 3

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid 2 no-trump.

As usual, this response promises eight or nine points. You would jump to 3 no-trump if you had a sprinkling of tens and nines, but the actual hand contains only three useful cards. If partner decides to stop short of game you will shed no tears.

San Rafael Offers Voters A Better School Plan

San Rafael elementary schools will soon be in the unusually fortunate position of having a few classrooms to spare if voters next Tuesday authorize a $2.1 million school building bond issue — and if current enrollment projections prove accurate.

The building program worked out by the city schools administration and a citizen committee is based on switching to a new organizational plan for the elementary schools. Instead of kindergarten-sixth grades in neighborhood schools and seventh and eighth grades in junior high schools—the traditional pattern in California — it involves sending sixth graders to the junior highs, which then become "middle schools." Kindergarten through fifth grade remain in the neighborhood schools.

This plan has been tried for two years in the Santa Venetia area, with Santa Venetia School converted from junior high to middle school. It has worked well, according to Supt. John F. Plank.

IF THE BOND ISSUE is approved, Davidson Junior High will also be converted to a middle school, and a third middle school will be built on a site the district already has purchased and filled in Bayside Acres, just below the Glenwood Elementary School.

It is the shift of sixth graders into the middle schools that will create a temporary classroom surplus when all building proposed for the bond issue financing is completed.

Assuming that enrollments do not outstrip current projections, there would be 14 rooms available, scattered through seven of the 14 San Rafael elementary schools.

Seven of these, however, would be put to immediate use to get rid of some portable classrooms and create libraries at San Pedro and Coleman Schools. The remaining seven would provide the equivalent of one small neighborhood school to absorb future growth in enrollment.

THE PLAN WOULD THUS convert San Rafael's elementary schools from the position of always being crowded and struggling to handle enrollment increases — so long familiar in most California school districts — to the happy position of having space available for more pupils.

The projections, it should be added, extend only through 1974. By that time, all the building program contemplated should be completed.

A few years after that, if population growth continues, the surplus classrooms will all be full and more will be needed.

THAT REPRESENTS, to us, the best feature of the plan: If the projections are anywhere near accurate, San Rafael residents will not be called on to vote more bonds for elementary schools within the next six years, and perhaps not for nearly a decade.

No such happy situation has existed for a long time, although the district still has $428,000 remaining from bonds authorized in 1964.

THERE IS ANOTHER "plus" to the plan that also has strong appeal for the tax-burdened public: Its total is one million dollars less than that of an elementary school building plan for which the voters rejected a bond issue in October, 1967.

Rejection of the previous issue, then, appears to have saved a million dollars, plus interest, by leading to creation of a better plan.

The better plan now presented deserves approval on just about every count. We hope there is a large turnout of "yes" votes Tuesday.

Baar Against Unusual Raise

Marin's county supervisors were uniformly guilty of cutting the ground from under their own "hold-the-line" salary policy by granting 20 per cent raises to court reporters last month.

The Independent-Journal in a news story Jan. 22 and in editorial comment Feb. 6 said the increases to court reporters and court commissioner were voted unanimously. As regards the court reporters, however, such was not the case.

Minutes of the meeting show that Supervisor Louis H. Baar voted against the raise for the court reporters.

It is good to know that at least one of our new supervisors realizes that granting such raises makes much more difficult denying comparable increases to all other county employees—at huge cost to the taxpayers. Unfortunately, one vote doesn't do much to arrest the spiral.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Border Stations, Pest Control To Produce More Hue And Cry

By HENRY C. McARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Changes in operation of California's pest control program have been pending for some time, but before they are made, much noise is going to be heard over the best way to effect them.

It started with the administration's plan to close California border inspection stations. Immediately there was the hue and cry that the state was going to be left open to the infiltration of agricultural pests which had the potential ability to destroy hundreds of millions of dollars worth of various crops.

However, it never was the intention of the Department of Agriculture to halt activity on pest control, but rather to strengthen it through revised methods of control.

IN THIS objective, the department is joined by the Senate and Assembly committees on agriculture. Assemblyman Alan G. Pattee, R-Salinas, chairman of the assembly committee, and Sen. Fred Marler, R-Redding, have announced a joint meeting of their committees for Feb. 24 in the state capitol.

Pattee said the hearing is to discuss various reforms in the operation of California's border quarantine stations, including the proposal to close them down over a five-year period.

"While we have not yet given approval to bills proposing abolition of the stations," said Pattee, "the committee has been quite critical of their traditional method of operation.

"I personally feel there has been a disproportionate emphasis on passenger car inspection, as opposed to commercial traffic, and I have supported steps taken by the department to eliminate continuous operation and inspection at times and places where the risk element was minimal."

THE ASSEMBLYMAN pointed out that county agricultural commissioners contend abolition of the border stations would be nothing more than a cost shift from the state to the counties.

However, Pattee said the committee analyzed reports of border interceptions over two years ago and concluded they produced no evidence that the operations were effective.

Regional Authority Doomed By Vote

Regarding my letter which you published Feb. 5, I find you left out the part that directly challenged your editorial.

You editorialized that opposition to a popular referendum on regional government was "holding the voter in low regard." I argued that human beings naturally reject change that they do not know much about — if they have a choice. Then, my missing conclusion was:

"Meanwhile, a new regional authority looms as a big change in government, therefore something we are naturally suspicious about if we don't know enough about it. Under that set of circumstances, a popular referendum is virtually doomed to failure and a lot of taxpayers' money will have been wasted trying it."

Positive Image For Black Panthers

The Independent-Journal has contributed largely to the public's negative image of the Black Panther organization.

The following are random samples of the I-J's editorial and feature reports regarding the Panthers:

Jan. 16, 1968 — Editorial cartoon, "Guess who's coming to dinner?"

Jan. 27, 1968 — (Major Headline) page 2, "Black Panther Battles Charge As Mob Mills."

Sept. 7, 1968 — (front page) — "Newton's Jury Still Debating" (The article "Did the Black Panther founder murder the white policeman?")

Sept. 9, 1968 — (front page) — "Newton Convicted of Manslaughter" (First sentence — "Black Panther leader Huey Newton 26, was convicted of voluntary manslaughter. . .")

Sept. 11, 1968 — (Page 5) — "Two Policemen Fired After Panther Shots."

Unless the I-J has a definite vested interest in slanting the news relative to the Black Panthers, I would suggest the Panthers humanitarian qualities be reported as front page news also.

(1) Tell it like it is about "the Black Panthers breakfast program for hungry children in Oakland."

(2) Interview the organizers. Find out how difficult soliciting food from major food and milk companies is for the Panthers, while some of these company executives enjoy the comforts of life in Marin County.

Doctors Deserve Their High Earnings

I would like to comment on Mr. Jack Morris' letter (Feb. 6) criticizing doctors and their incomes.

Mr. Morris seems to feel that all doctors "make $75,000. a year, own three cars, a boat and live in a mansion". While some may qualify for this category, it is highly unlikely that all are this well off. But this is not my point. Let's suppose for a moment that all doctors are this well off. Do they in fact deserve this type of reward for their labors. I feel they do.

In order for them to be able to practice this most honored profession they must first spend many years of preparation. . . Whey they have completed their preparation and are ready to set up a practice of their own they are 30 years old or more, and have yet to make dollar one. and just because they have that MD after their names, patients are not lined up at their doors waiting to start dropping some of that $75,000. a year in their pockets. It takes many years to develop a substantial practice, and you don't do it by lounging around on your "boat", or playing golf every afternoon. You start out at six in the morning on hospital rounds, then on to your office, or clinic, to see patients for the better part of the day. If you're lucky you'll get home for an hour or two for dinner with your family — then back to the hospital to see your patients in the evening, and if all goes well you might get home by seven or eight that night. . .

It has been my experience that the vast majority are dedicated people doing the very best of their ability to help others.

Law Helps Combat Pornography Mail

Recently there have been one or two letters in the Independent-Journal complaining or remarking upon the distribution by mail of pornography to the home letter boxes of juveniles in Marin.

While the problem of continued sending of these materials through the mail, unsolicited, to young people is not near to a final solution, there is now in effect Public Law 90-206, passed by the last Congress and signed into law by President Johnson, which provides that the mailer may be compelled to remove your name, and the name of your children under the age of 19 years, from their mailing list within 30 days from notification by the Postal Service Center in your residence area.

A form for this purpose can be obtained from your postmaster. In addition, such materials should be brought to the attention of our office for investigation to determine whether a basis for criminal prosecution exists.

Miskimen Gets Reader's Bouquet

About 15 years ago a book was published titled "Silent Spring," by Rachel Carson. In this book she tells what she believes can happen to our air, water, plant, animal life and to humans because of the pollutants we cast aside and burn. Many scoffed and said, "It can't happen."

We now have one of our great lakes so polluted, Lake Erie I believe, that fish cannot live in it. It is a dead lake. Pesticides have killed animals and people. People in Los Angeles do not see the stars at night, nor the blue sky by day. Smog. Foliage in some areas is turning brown and becoming scarce.

Last week an oil slick destroyed hundreds of waterfowl, endangered the lives of a colony of seals and horribly damaged the beautiful Santa Barbara beach. In the paper that week we read about a certain oil company that wants to establish oil drilling in our bay.

A few days ago the I-J gave brickbats to Mr. John Miskimen, San Rafael city councilman and director of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, for voting for the backyard burning ban. I guess they think he went against city government protocol by voting yes when all the other councilmen wanted a no vote.

I send him a bouquet for having the courage to take a stand, regardless of the others, for the protection of all who live in this area.

Campus Destructionists Step Up Violence Because They're Losing

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — It is dangerous to expect that the campus violence, in which so few have done so much harm to so many, is ending.

Student resistance to student violence is getting stronger.

The lure of the campus destructionists, primarily the Students for a Democratic Society, to draw fellow students to their purposes is getting weaker.

But — and this needs to be understood right now — the SDS, the Black Panthers and other violence-prone groups are beginning to resort to more force not because they see themselves winning but because they see themselves losing.

THIS MAY WELL prove to be the climactic period of the campus destructionists, and it is likely to be the most perilous. The nonviolent students, whose ranks are growing, the faculty and the administrators on every campus will need to be especially alert to what lies ahead because the anti-reform, tear-down revolters are beginning to act out of desperation.

Because destruction is their only goal and violence their only tactic, their inevitable response to waning influence is more violence.

This is why more campus violence is in the making, although the thing which is bringing it about — more students saying no to the destructionists — is favorable.

IT IS HEARTENING that the reformist, dissatisfied, liberal-radical students are coming to see that violence is the enemy of reform and to realize that they can immobilize the destructionists by openly opposing them.

This is beginning to happen.

In the early confrontations at Berkeley, the SDS was able to draw thousands of students into its melees. Now the SDS is fortunate to lure a few hundred, many of them outsiders.

The antiviolence political center on the campuses is just beginning to be roused. These students want a larger voice in their own education, but they want to get it through reason, dialogue and democratic precepts which are the hallmarks of intellectual freedom. They are realizing that they must actively oppose the tactics of vandalism and violence designed to destroy universities, which the SDS openly says it wants.

STUDENT APATHY against vandalism and violence is dropping away. Resistance is growing, and the need for it is growing, because the violence-prone are not going to give up without some desperate spasms of force.

The moderate, antiviolence students are seeking to organize for the crucial tests ahead. There is need for a student alliance to give leadership and help to the moderate students across the country.

If adults want to help and do something special to close the generation gap, they couldn't do better than to get in touch with young Charles T. Stephens, president of the National Association of Thomas Jefferson Clubs, 400 Veteran Ave., Los Angeles, Calif. 90024.

THE VIOLENT student revolters are at their work 24 hours a day. The response among the moderate students must be equally active and equally well organized.

This is why Stephens' efforts to set up a United Student Alliance deserves adult as well as student support.

Senate Group Prepares For Own Pueblo Inquiry

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — The first of many congressional inquiries to touch on the Pueblo mission will begin soon, without fanfare and behind closed doors.

Hearings will be conducted by the Senate subcommittee which oversees the Central Intelligence Agency. Periodically, the subcommittee takes a look at world trouble spots. This time it will also focus on policies and decision-making with respect to spy missions such as the Pueblo's.

The CIA subcommittee does all its business in private. It issues no reports and publishes no hearing transcript — not even a censored "sanitized" version.

RICHARD HELMS, director of CIA, has been scheduled as the subcommittee's first witness. Last week Helms repeated that neither he nor the CIA had anything to do with the Pueblo mission or any of the spy ship's crew.

By law Helms, in addition to running the CIA from its Langley, Va., headquarters, is also "director of central intelligence" — coordinator for all the government's intelligence operations.

Subcommittee members want to know how spy ship missions are conceived and authorized and how, once authorized, they are supervised and directed. If coordinator Helms played no role at all, subcommittee members would like to know how the Navy got clearance for electronic spying off the North Korean coast.

ACTUALLY, the CIA subcommittee is two merged subcommittees, from the Senate Armed Services and Appropriations committees. It is headed by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga.

Some members of the Foreign Relations Committee are interested in the high-echelon command and control of the Pueblo. Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, has formally suggested that his group join the Armed Services Committee in joint Pueblo hearings.

WORTH SAYING AGAIN

Perhaps the most valuable result of all education is the ability to make yourself do the things you have to do, when it ought to be done, whether you like it or not; it is the first lesson that ought to be learned; and however early a man's training begins, it is probably the last lesson that he learns thoroughly. — Thomas H. SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Laser Companies Good For Future

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. My daughter who is overseas has a well-diversified portfolio but would like to add a company in the field of laser development. What companies are there? — E. C.

A. It might be easier to make a list of companies that aren't in lasers than to try and list the firms that are connected with this new and growing technology. Among the large electronics firms, many have a hand in laser development, including: American Telephone, Bendix Corp., Gen. Telephone, Raytheon, TRW, Inc. and Union Carbide. However, lasers comprise such a small percentage of their operations that the effects of any major breakthroughs would be disseminated.

In companies such as Perkin-Elmer, with a 6 per cent of orders last year coming from laser-optics, advances in the state-of-the-art could noticeably affect sales and earnings. The company has a close, working relationship with Hitachi Ltd., Japan's largest electronics concern. Earnings record is excellent with 94 cents a share reported in the 1968 fiscal year.

Optics Technology is a small and speculative company with a sizable stake in lasers and fiber optics — 42 per cent of revenues. Precise measurement instruments, thin film and research and development contracts contribute the remaining portion to billings. Relative to earnings, share price is high; 37 cents was reported in fiscal 1968.

Q. We will soon receive $5,000 which we would like to invest.

A. At your point in life, building capital with maximum safety is of prime importance. Dividing your $5,000 equally among the following three issues could boost your retirement fund: American Hospital Supply, American Telephone, and Standard Brands.

Redwood Empire Convention Is Set For Marin

The Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau has been advised that its bid for the holding of the Redwood Empire Association's annual convention at the new Holiday Inn, San Rafael, next September has been accepted.

It will be the first time that the event has been held in Marin, due to the lack, until this year, of facilities of a sufficient size to accommodate the gathering.

The REA convention will be held Sept. 24, 25, and 26 and will attract about 200 from outside the county.

Marin is one of the constituent counties of the Redwood Empire Association and many Marinites have been active in the organization. Currently members of its executive committee are Supervisor William Gnoss, and Jack Craemer of the Independent-Journal; Charles I. Daniels Jr. of San Rafael and Marin County chairman for REA; J. Galen Foster, San Rafael; Frank P. Myer of Point Reyes, and John F. Schlette, Muir Woods.

A program of events and entertainment for the convention is being planned by the county chamber and REA representatives.

King Louis XIV of France, who lived from 1638 to 1715, said he only took a bath once a year.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Pensions Are Usually Taxed; Some Exemptions Explained

Wikel

Pensions are usually taxed.

Sometimes they are tax exempt. Sometimes a part is tax exempt. Sometimes it is all tax exempt until you have recovered your investment in the contract and then it is all taxed.

If you get compensation for a disability received during the performance of your job and where the payments are in the nature of workmen's compansation, then the amount received is not taxed.

If you did not pay into the pension plan, then the full amount received is included in your inocme.

Where you did pay into the pension, the amounts received are taxed under the annuity rules.

That is, part of the payments are excluded to the extent that they are a return of your payments into the plan.

The part excluded is the payment recieved during the year multiplied by the total you paid in and divided by the total amount you expect to receive.

The total you expect to receive is figured by multiplying the total received annually by your life expectancy, or by the number of years the payments will be made. The life expectancy figures are in tables provided by the IRS.

If the total you will receive in the first three years is more than the total you paid in, a special rule applies. All payments you receive are not taxed until you have fully recovered all that you have paid in. After that, all payments are taxed.

If the total paid to you under an exempt employees' trust is paid in one taxable year, the difference between what you paid in and the amount paid to you is taxed as a long term capital gain. Any gain represented by securities of your employer will ordinarily not be taxed until sold.

Some wage continuation plans are part of the employee's pension or profit-sharing plan. If you are permanently disabled, you get your pension immediately.

If so, your benefits from the plan would not be an ordinary pension. It would be a wage continuation plan and subject to the sick pay exclusion until you reach retirement age.

Market Closes Low In Brisk Trading

NEW YORK (UPI) — The market retreated today in the face of a flow of depressing international news. Trading was brisk.

The Vietnam peace conference remained deadlocked; the forthcoming elections in West Berlin plunged the East-West toward another crisis, and Arab-Israeli tensions kept the Middle East in ferment.

Control Data, a heavily traded electronic issue, was off several points late in the day. It traded an early block of 231,000 shares at 135 off 5¾. Burroughs, up more than 7 in the previous session, also turned easier, as did IBM.

Tobacco issues generally were on the upbeat in late trading despite a drop in cigaret use in 1968, the first such decline for a calendar year since 1964.

United was a firm aerospace issue after gaining better than 4 yesterday. The firm recently reported record earnings and sales for 1968.

Rails moved in both directions, with Missouri Pacific on the upside much of the session. Penn Central tended easier. Oils also moved on both sides of previous closings, with Sinclair firm and Cities Service soft.

Du Pont, a recent winner, turned weaker in the chemicals. Airlines were narrowly irregular.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By ANNE BARDWELL

Hikers Get The Message: Go Horseback–Into The Bay

"Hikers and horses don't belong in suburbia" was the message in Tiburon Monday night.

Horses and hikers will depreciate suburban Tiburon's property values, according to residents who spoke out loudly against the proposed Tiburon trails plan.

"Trails on Mount Tamalpais are fine, but not through a suburban area. We'll have all the riff-raff from all over the Bay Area coming to Tiburon," one very vocal woman said.

"Riff-raff" is a rather old-fashioned term and it is surprising to hear it popping up today, especially in reference to hikers.

UNTIL RECENTLY hikers were viewed by most of the less athletic indoor types as being somewhat odd but totally wholesome. When one thought of hikers he would envision robust, pink-cheeked European mountain types wandering over Mount Tamalpais in lederhosen singing "The Happy Wanderer."

Admittedly, hikers aren't the neatest people in the world, by the nature of their sport. It's not easy nor desirable to climb the mountain or walk the trail with white shirt and tie, shoes polished.

But, today in Tiburon, they're considered riff-raff. Send 'em to Mount Tamalpais, Angel Island or Stinson Beach, but don't let them into Tiburon.

HORSES ARE a slightly different matter.

The love of horses is similar to the love of cats. You either do or don't, rather vehemently, and there are really few who can take the middle ground — especially when horses have the habit of leaving a place a little less neat than the way they found it.

However, horses are a big thing in Southern Marin, especially on the west side of Highway 101. That's why it's a little surprising to find so many on the east side of the highway against them.

In Mill Valley, anyone who is against horses is against motherhood, chocolate fudge, Santa Claus and conservation, all wrapped up in one package. It's sort of like being against boats in Sausalito or against pot at Olompali.

But, in Tiburon, many believe horses create problems, not the least of which is the need for "larger shovels for the public works department," as City Councilman Thomas E. Drohan said.

Actually, it's all a plot by Mill Valley residents: They're sending the horses to Tiburon in revenge for all the riff-raff Tiburon's sending to Mount Tamalpais.

ADDED NOTE: MORE THAN one Mill Valley resident this week has come to the defense of trails through residential areas, saying it's not such a bad thing, despite what some of Tiburon's best might believe. The Dipsea Trail is a delight to all that know it, including those homeowners who are fortunate enough to have "more than 800 men, women and children, dressed in their underwear, running like hell for Stinson Beach" each year.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Administrator Keeps On Trying To Usurp Others' Authority

Fusselman

To recap a bit: On Dec. 20, in this column: "What a gall this fellow (Administrator Alan Bruce) has to insolently presume, with a recommendation for an increase of any sort, much less one that exceeds the one of the grand jury, for his bosses."

He had recommended, in a list of proposed legislation to be presented to the 1969 Legislature at Sacramento, that the salary of the supervisors be raised from $9,000 a year to $15,286 in 1971.

WELL, THE GALL of this man has been increasing no end. You have read the front page article last Saturday by Bryce Anderson: "Probation Officer Recruiting Plans Contradicted By Law." Bruce had related the day before his plans for recruiting a replacement for the position of probation officer from which Walter H. Busher is resigning. It was a long procession of bureaucratic procedure which ended up with his making the decision as to which one or more names he would submit to the supervisors for action.

Anderson's story, by quoting code sections of state law covering the procedure which must be followed, showed that neither Bruce nor the supervisors have anything to do with this at all.

The juvenile justice commission of the county, composed of eight members, makes the nomination to the judge of the juvenile court of the county, who makes the appointment, if he approves.

THIS NEW BOARD of supervisors is going to really have egg on its collective face if it doesn't put a curb on this "most powerful man in county government." He is pushing and pushing constantly.

Since the old board raised his salary time after time instead of doing their homework themselves, until it is within $44 of $26,000 a year, it is no wonder he thinks he can usurp the duties of the courts and their appointed commissions or bodies. He gets more money than the judges. What a laugh, if it wasn't so serious!

He even tried to abolish the West Marin Justice Court last year by refusing to put anything in the budget for its operation. For once the board became startled and said no! no! you just can't do that. He keeps coming all the time though.

With Bruce, Paul C. Zucker, the planning director, and Seymour Kashin, Marin Transit manager(?), the county has a troika which is a honey.

Antidraft Youth Sent To Psychiatric Unit

A 23-year-old student charged with threatening to blow up the San Rafael Selective Service Office last month has been committed to the Marin Community Mental Health Center and federal charges against him will be dropped, the U.S. Attorney's office in San Francisco said yesterday.

William Byron Masterson, who was also charged with threatening bodily harm to two agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, was committed to the center Monday as a result of psychiatric tests ordered by U.S. District Court Judge Albert C. Wollenberg.

Jerrold Ladar, of Mill Valley, chief of the U.S. Attorney's criminal division, said federal legal action against the youth has been halted.

Masterson, a journalism student at the University of California at Berkeley and a former Terra Linda resident, was charged after he sent a letter in December saying he was "tired of being badgered" by the Selective Service and would blow up the San Rafael office, where he was registered, if it didn't stop.

An explosion, caused by a bomb, ripped through the building in which the San Rafael Selective Service office is located the night of Feb. 2. Masterson, arrested 18 days earlier, was in custody at the time. No arrests have been made in the bombing.

Ladar said Masterson also sent another letter, threatening to "blow the — brains out" of two FBI agents, Elwin Wegner of San Rafael and Harold Hoblitt of Berkeley.

The two agents had visited Masterson's Berkeley home after he failed to show up for a physical examination to determine draft status but he was not at home.

Judge Wollenberg ordered the psychiatric tests following Masterson's arrest after Ladar said he acted erratically during his arrest on Jan. 15.

Masterson, who was held on a bond of $50,000, was formally charged as a result of the bomb threat with extortion, which includes a threat delivered by mail.

Tiburon Officials Renamed To Panels

Two Tiburon officials have been named to standing committees of the League of California Cities.

Councilman Denis T. Rice has been reappointed to the committee on undergrounding utilities and City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose has been renamed to the committee on finance administration.

Plans For Toll Booth Changes Not Ready Yet

Plans to remove some toll booths to provide an unobstructed roadway for toll-free traffic on the Golden Gate Bridge, to have been ready yesterday, will not be ready until the last week of this month, reported Dale W. Luehring, general manager of the bridge and highway district.

The district's engineering staff needed more time to draw the plans because it has been busy with the special bridge maintenance project under way, Luehring explained.

He said last month that the one-way toll collection system may be reversed because southbound traffic already is merged as it comes off the bridge, thus can flow easily through the toll plaza. Northbound traffic must merge from seven approach lanes, and toll collection would help monitor this traffic onto the bridge, he noted.

We object to the concept of a middle school (a school where 6th graders are taken away from neighborhood schools to a junior high)

- It is extravagantly expensive.
- The disadvantages outweigh the advantages.

1. We object to the EXTRAVAGENTLY EXPENSIVE CONCEPT OF THE MIDDLE SCHOOL with its questionable advantages for our children.
2. We have lost the right to determine what we want for our children in the area of curriculum or finance in education. Courses, such as sex education and sensitivity training, to which many parents object, are an infringement on family rights and are robbing our children of classroom time so that many are not learning to read or write effectively.
3. We object to the elimination of report cards and one week in the country at taxpayers' expense.
4. Citizens' committees, selected by school boards and administration, are stacked and used as rubber stamps to prevent citizen opposition to curriculum and spending.
5. Too many teachers are doing a poor job and yet are demanding and receiving higher salaries.
6. We believe that the American Federation of Teachers Union and the California Teachers Association have usurped the control of the schools. Until control is returned to the parents and taxpayers,

San Rafael Offers Voters A Better School Plan

San Rafael elementary schools will soon be in the unusually fortunate position of having a few classrooms to spare if voters next Tuesday authorize a $2.1 million school building bond issue — and if current enrollment projections prove accurate.

The building program worked out by the city schools administration and a citizen committee is based on switching to a new organizational plan for the elementary schools. Instead of kindergarten-sixth grades in neighborhood schools and seventh and eighth grades in junior high schools—the traditional pattern in California — it involves sending sixth graders to the junior highs, which then become "middle schools." Kindergarten through fifth grade remain in the neighborhood schools.

This plan has been tried for two years in the Santa Venetia area, with Santa Venetia School converted from junior high to middle school. It has worked well, according to Supt. John F. Plank.

IF THE BOND ISSUE is approved, Davidson Junior High will also be converted to a middle school, and a third middle school will be built on a site the district already has purchased and filled in Bayside Acres, just below the Glenwood Elementary School.

It is the shift of sixth graders into the middle schools that will create a temporary classroom surplus when all building proposed for the bond issue financing is completed.

Assuming that enrollments do not outstrip current projections, there would be 14 rooms available, scattered through seven of the 14 San Rafael elementary schools.

Seven of these, however, would be put to immediate use to get rid of some portable classrooms and create libraries at San Pedro and Coleman Schools. The remaining seven would provide the equivalent of one small neighborhood school to absorb future growth in enrollment.

THE PLAN WOULD THUS convert San Rafael's elementary schools from the position of always being crowded and struggling to handle enrollment increases — so long familiar in most California school districts — to the happy position of having space available for more pupils.

The projections, it should be added, extend only through 1974. By that time, all the building program contemplated should be completed.

A few years after that, if population growth continues, the surplus classrooms will all be full and more will be needed.

THAT REPRESENTS, to us, the best feature of the plan: If the projections are anywhere near accurate, San Rafael residents will not be called on to vote more bonds for elementary schools within the next six years, and perhaps not for nearly a decade.

No such happy situation has existed for a long time, although the district still has $428,000 remaining from bonds authorized in 1964.

THERE IS ANOTHER "plus" to the plan that also has strong appeal for the tax-burdened public: Its total is one million dollars less than that of an elementary school building plan for which the voters rejected a bond issue in October, 1967.

Rejection of the previous issue, then, appears to have saved a million dollars, plus interest, by leading to creation of a better plan.

The better plan now presented deserves approval on just about every count. We hope there is a large turnout of "yes" votes Tuesday.

Baar Against Unusual Raise

Marin's county supervisors were uniformly guilty of cutting the ground from under their own "hold-the-line" salary policy by granting 20 per cent raises to court reporters last month.

The Independent-Journal in a news story Jan. 22 and in editorial comment Feb. 6 said the increases to court reporters and court commissioner were voted unanimously. As regards the court reporters, however, such was not the case.

Minutes of the meeting show that Supervisor Louis H. Baar voted against the raise for the court reporters.

It is good to know that at least one of our new supervisors realizes that granting such raises makes much more difficult denying comparable increases to all other county employees—at huge cost to the taxpayers. Unfortunately, one vote doesn't do much to arrest the spiral.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Border Stations, Pest Control To Produce More Hue And Cry

By HENRY C. McARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Changes in operation of California's pest control program have been pending for some time, but before they are made, much noise is going to be heard over the best way to effect them.

It started with the administration's plan to close California border inspection stations. Immediately there was the hue and cry that the state was going to be left open to the infiltration of agricultural pests which had the potential ability to destroy hundreds of millions of dollars worth of various crops.

However, it never was the intention of the Department of Agriculture to halt activity on pest control, but rather to strengthen it through revised methods of control.

IN THIS objective, the department is joined by the Senate and Assembly committees on agriculture. Assemblyman Alan G. Pattee, R-Salinas, chairman of the assembly committee, and Sen. Fred Marler, R-Redding, have announced a joint meeting of their committees for Feb. 24 in the state capitol.

Pattee said the hearing is to discuss various reforms in the operation of California's border quarantine stations, including the proposal to close them down over a five-year period.

"While we have not yet given approval to bills proposing abolition of the stations," said Pattee, "the committee has been quite critical of their traditional method of operation.

"I personally feel there has been a disproportionate emphasis on passenger car inspection, as opposed to commercial traffic, and I have supported steps taken by the department to eliminate continuous operation and inspection at times and places where the risk element was minimal."

THE ASSEMBLYMAN pointed out that county agricultural commissioners contend abolition of the border stations would be nothing more than a cost shift from the state to the counties.

However, Pattee said the committee analyzed reports of border interceptions over two years ago and concluded they produced no evidence that the operations were effective.

Regional Authority Doomed By Vote

Regarding my letter which you published Feb. 5, I find you left out the part that directly challenged your editorial.

You editorialized that opposition to a popular referendum on regional government was "holding the voter in low regard." I argued that human beings naturally reject change that they do not know much about — if they have a choice. Then, my missing conclusion was:

"Meanwhile, a new regional authority looms as a big change in government, therefore something we are naturally suspicious about if we don't know enough about it. Under that set of circumstances, a popular referendum is virtually doomed to failure and a lot of taxpayers' money will have been wasted trying it."

Positive Image For Black Panthers

The Independent-Journal has contributed largely to the public's negative image of the Black Panther organization.

The following are random samples of the I-J's editorial and feature reports regarding the Panthers:

Jan. 16, 1968 — Editorial cartoon, "Guess who's coming to dinner?"

Jan. 27, 1968 — (Major Headline) page 2, "Black Panther Battles Charge As Mob Mills."

Sept. 7, 1968 — (front page) — "Newton's Jury Still Debating" (The article "Did the Black Panther founder murder the white policeman?")

Sept. 9, 1968 — (front page) — "Newton Convicted of Manslaughter" (First sentence — "Black Panther leader Huey Newton 26, was convicted of voluntary manslaughter. . .")

Sept. 11, 1968 — (Page 5) — "Two Policemen Fired After Panther Shots."

Unless the I-J has a definite vested interest in slanting the news relative to the Black Panthers, I would suggest the Panthers humanitarian qualities be reported as front page news also.

(1) Tell it like it is about "the Black Panthers breakfast program for hungry children in Oakland."

(2) Interview the organizers. Find out how difficult soliciting food from major food and milk companies is for the Panthers, while some of these company executives enjoy the comforts of life in Marin County.

Doctors Deserve Their High Earnings

I would like to comment on Mr. Jack Morris' letter (Feb. 6) criticizing doctors and their incomes.

Mr. Morris seems to feel that all doctors "make $75,000. a year, own three cars, a boat and live in a mansion". While some may qualify for this category, it is highly unlikely that all are this well off. But this is not my point. Let's suppose for a moment that all doctors are this well off. Do they in fact deserve this type of reward for their labors. I feel they do.

In order for them to be able to practice this most honored profession they must first spend many years of preparation. . . Whey they have completed their preparation and are ready to set up a practice of their own they are 30 years old or more, and have yet to make dollar one. and just because they have that MD after their names, patients are not lined up at their doors waiting to start dropping some of that $75,000. a year in their pockets. It takes many years to develop a substantial practice, and you don't do it by lounging around on your "boat", or playing golf every afternoon. You start out at six in the morning on hospital rounds, then on to your office, or clinic, to see patients for the better part of the day. If you're lucky you'll get home for an hour or two for dinner with your family — then back to the hospital to see your patients in the evening, and if all goes well you might get home by seven or eight that night. . .

It has been my experience that the vast majority are dedicated people doing the very best of their ability to help others.

Law Helps Combat Pornography Mail

Recently there have been one or two letters in the Independent-Journal complaining or remarking upon the distribution by mail of pornography to the home letter boxes of juveniles in Marin.

While the problem of continued sending of these materials through the mail, unsolicited, to young people is not near to a final solution, there is now in effect Public Law 90-206, passed by the last Congress and signed into law by President Johnson, which provides that the mailer may be compelled to remove your name, and the name of your children under the age of 19 years, from their mailing list within 30 days from notification by the Postal Service Center in your residence area.

A form for this purpose can be obtained from your postmaster. In addition, such materials should be brought to the attention of our office for investigation to determine whether a basis for criminal prosecution exists.

Miskimen Gets Reader's Bouquet

About 15 years ago a book was published titled "Silent Spring," by Rachel Carson. In this book she tells what she believes can happen to our air, water, plant, animal life and to humans because of the pollutants we cast aside and burn. Many scoffed and said, "It can't happen."

We now have one of our great lakes so polluted, Lake Erie I believe, that fish cannot live in it. It is a dead lake. Pesticides have killed animals and people. People in Los Angeles do not see the stars at night, nor the blue sky by day. Smog. Foliage in some areas is turning brown and becoming scarce.

Last week an oil slick destroyed hundreds of waterfowl, endangered the lives of a colony of seals and horribly damaged the beautiful Santa Barbara beach. In the paper that week we read about a certain oil company that wants to establish oil drilling in our bay.

A few days ago the I-J gave brickbats to Mr. John Miskimen, San Rafael city councilman and director of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, for voting for the backyard burning ban. I guess they think he went against city government protocol by voting yes when all the other councilmen wanted a no vote.

I send him a bouquet for having the courage to take a stand, regardless of the others, for the protection of all who live in this area.

Campus Destructionists Step Up Violence Because They're Losing

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — It is dangerous to expect that the campus violence, in which so few have done so much harm to so many, is ending.

Student resistance to student violence is getting stronger.

The lure of the campus destructionists, primarily the Students for a Democratic Society, to draw fellow students to their purposes is getting weaker.

But — and this needs to be understood right now — the SDS, the Black Panthers and other violence-prone groups are beginning to resort to more force not because they see themselves winning but because they see themselves losing.

THIS MAY WELL prove to be the climactic period of the campus destructionists, and it is likely to be the most perilous. The nonviolent students, whose ranks are growing, the faculty and the administrators on every campus will need to be especially alert to what lies ahead because the anti-reform, tear-down revolters are beginning to act out of desperation.

Because destruction is their only goal and violence their only tactic, their inevitable response to waning influence is more violence.

This is why more campus violence is in the making, although the thing which is bringing it about — more students saying no to the destructionists — is favorable.

IT IS HEARTENING that the reformist, dissatisfied, liberal-radical students are coming to see that violence is the enemy of reform and to realize that they can immobilize the destructionists by openly opposing them.

This is beginning to happen.

In the early confrontations at Berkeley, the SDS was able to draw thousands of students into its melees. Now the SDS is fortunate to lure a few hundred, many of them outsiders.

The antiviolence political center on the campuses is just beginning to be roused. These students want a larger voice in their own education, but they want to get it through reason, dialogue and democratic precepts which are the hallmarks of intellectual freedom. They are realizing that they must actively oppose the tactics of vandalism and violence designed to destroy universities, which the SDS openly says it wants.

STUDENT APATHY against vandalism and violence is dropping away. Resistance is growing, and the need for it is growing, because the violence-prone are not going to give up without some desperate spasms of force.

The moderate, antiviolence students are seeking to organize for the crucial tests ahead. There is need for a student alliance to give leadership and help to the moderate students across the country.

If adults want to help and do something special to close the generation gap, they couldn't do better than to get in touch with young Charles T. Stephens, president of the National Association of Thomas Jefferson Clubs, 400 Veteran Ave., Los Angeles, Calif. 90024.

THE VIOLENT student revolters are at their work 24 hours a day. The response among the moderate students must be equally active and equally well organized.

This is why Stephens' efforts to set up a United Student Alliance deserves adult as well as student support.

Senate Group Prepares For Own Pueblo Inquiry

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — The first of many congressional inquiries to touch on the Pueblo mission will begin soon, without fanfare and behind closed doors.

Hearings will be conducted by the Senate subcommittee which oversees the Central Intelligence Agency. Periodically, the subcommittee takes a look at world trouble spots. This time it will also focus on policies and decision-making with respect to spy missions such as the Pueblo's.

The CIA subcommittee does all its business in private. It issues no reports and publishes no hearing transcript — not even a censored "sanitized" version.

RICHARD HELMS, director of CIA, has been scheduled as the subcommittee's first witness. Last week Helms repeated that neither he nor the CIA had anything to do with the Pueblo mission or any of the spy ship's crew.

By law Helms, in addition to running the CIA from its Langley, Va., headquarters, is also "director of central intelligence" — coordinator for all the government's intelligence operations.

Subcommittee members want to know how spy ship missions are conceived and authorized and how, once authorized, they are supervised and directed. If coordinator Helms played no role at all, subcommittee members would like to know how the Navy got clearance for electronic spying off the North Korean coast.

ACTUALLY, the CIA subcommittee is two merged subcommittees, from the Senate Armed Services and Appropriations committees. It is headed by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga.

Some members of the Foreign Relations Committee are interested in the high-echelon command and control of the Pueblo. Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, has formally suggested that his group join the Armed Services Committee in joint Pueblo hearings.

WORTH SAYING AGAIN

Perhaps the most valuable result of all education is the ability to make yourself do the things you have to do, when it ought to be done, whether you like it or not; it is the first lesson that ought to be learned; and however early a man's training begins, it is probably the last lesson that he learns thoroughly. — Thomas H. Huxley.

Rafferty Says High Schools SDS Targets

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Organized efforts will be made to foment student disturbances in California high schools, Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, said yesterdy.

"I have in my hand documentary evidence of the coming organized attempt to subvert our California high schools," Rafferty told the State Board of Education.

He said the material advocating upheavals in the schools is being distributed by the "so-called and badly misnamed Students for a Democratic Society."

Rafferty said the unrest will begin after underground newspapers are circulated on high school campuses. The papers will "allege all manner of grievances and existing evils ranging from racial discrimination to administrative tyranny," he said.

Meetings will then be held off campus and student groups will pressure principals for certain innovations. Included will be demands for special courses for ethnic groups, pupil participation in reorganizing the curriculum, abolition of the grading system, discontinuance of examinations and firing of certain teachers and hiring of others, Rafferty said.

Other action will include fighting on school grounds, intimidation of parents and pressure on administrators to submit to the demands of the agitators, he added.

Rafferty said the plans also call for a pupil boycott of the schools and terrorizing students and teachers who fail to join the strike.

"It is a blueprint for short term anarchy and long term facism in our schools," he said.

Urging administrators to take steps now to prevent the problems anticipated, Rafferty said that "the techniques I have just outlined are illegal under California law."

He suggested that school boards adopt detailed written policies providing for "immediate suspension of pupils who join in such actions . . ."

School District Split Rejected

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The state Board of Education yesterday rejected a proposal for a three-way split of the Sequoia Union High School District in San Mateo County.

The board voted to adopt the state department of Education's staff recommendation, rejecting the proposal from the San Mateo County Committee on School District Organization.

The county committee's recommendation was turned down because "it did not meet criteria in the law relating to the barriers for improving the minority-ethnic situation as far as segregation is concerned," said Ray Johnson, assistant state superintendent of public instruction.

Slide Plaint Attributed In Error

A couple who complained about a slide near Tamalpais Junction at Tuesday's meeting of the Marin County Board of Supervisors were wrongly identified in Wednesday's story in the Independent-Journal.

It was Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Banyai of 257 Morningsun Avenue, whose home sits on a hill above the slide, who appeared before the supervisors to complain that their home was endangered.

The news story identified them as Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bassett. The Bassetts, who live at 167 Lovell Avenue, complained by letter that the owner of the slide property, Frank M. Gelardi, "should at least build and pay for a retaining wall to correct the damage he caused by excessive excavation early in 1966."

The supervisors, who had Bassetts' letter in front of them, kept referring to the Banyais as Mr. and Mrs. Bassett, and the error was never corrected during the discussion.

But the slide will be corrected. Public Works Director Donald R. Frost and assistant Michael King told the supervisors that the slope of the cut was steeper than shown on Gelardi's plan.

On the basis of that report, Supervisors Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and Michael Wornum declared that Gelardi had contributed to the problem by excavating more than he should have.

Gelardi denied this, but the supervisors asked him to design a proper retaining wall and instructed public works director Frost to come in with a report on Feb. 25.

By ANNE BARDWELL

Hikers Get The Message: Go Horseback–Into The Bay

"Hikers and horses don't belong in suburbia" was the message in Tiburon Monday night.

Horses and hikers will depreciate suburban Tiburon's property values, according to residents who spoke out loudly against the proposed Tiburon trails plan.

"Trails on Mount Tamalpais are fine, but not through a suburban area. We'll have all the riff-raff from all over the Bay Area coming to Tiburon," one very vocal woman said.

"Riff-raff" is a rather old-fashioned term and it is surprising to hear it popping up today, especially in reference to hikers.

UNTIL RECENTLY hikers were viewed by most of the less athletic indoor types as being somewhat odd but totally wholesome. When one thought of hikers he would envision robust, pink-cheeked European mountain types wandering over Mount Tamalpais in lederhosen singing "The Happy Wanderer."

Admittedly, hikers aren't the neatest people in the world, by the nature of their sport. It's not easy nor desirable to climb the mountain or walk the trail with white shirt and tie, shoes polished.

But, today in Tiburon, they're considered riff-raff. Send 'em to Mount Tamalpais, Angel Island or Stinson Beach, but don't let them into Tiburon.

HORSES ARE a slightly different matter.

The love of horses is similar to the love of cats. You either do or don't, rather vehemently, and there are really few who can take the middle ground — especially when horses have the habit of leaving a place a little less neat than the way they found it.

However, horses are a big thing in Southern Marin, especially on the west side of Highway 101. That's why it's a little surprising to find so many on the east side of the highway against them.

In Mill Valley, anyone who is against horses is against motherhood, chocolate fudge, Santa Claus and conservation, all wrapped up in one package. It's sort of like being against boats in Sausalito or against pot at Olompali.

But, in Tiburon, many believe horses create problems, not the least of which is the need for "larger shovels for the public works department," as City Councilman Thomas E. Drohan said.

Actually, it's all a plot by Mill Valley residents: They're sending the horses to Tiburon in revenge for all the riff-raff Tiburon's sending to Mount Tamalpais.

ADDED NOTE: MORE THAN one Mill Valley resident this week has come to the defense of trails through residential areas, saying it's not such a bad thing, despite what some of Tiburon's best might believe. The Dipsea Trail is a delight to all that know it, including those homeowners who are fortunate enough to have "more than 800 men, women and children, dressed in their underwear, running like hell for Stinson Beach" each year.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Administrator Keeps On Trying To Usurp Others' Authority

Fusselman

To recap a bit: On Dec. 20, in this column: "What a gall this fellow (Administrator Alan Bruce) has to insolently presume, with a recommendation for an increase of any sort, much less one that exceeds the one of the grand jury, for his bosses."

He had recommended, in a list of proposed legislation to be presented to the 1969 Legislature at Sacramento, that the salary of the supervisors be raised from $9,000 a year to $15,286 in 1971.

WELL, THE GALL of this man has been increasing no end. You have read the front page article last Saturday by Bryce Anderson: "Probation Officer Recruiting Plans Contradicted By Law." Bruce had related the day before his plans for recruiting a replacement for the position of probation officer from which Walter H. Busher is resigning. It was a long procession of bureaucratic procedure which ended up with his making the decision as to which one or more names he would submit to the supervisors for action.

Anderson's story, by quoting code sections of state law covering the procedure which must be followed, showed that neither Bruce nor the supervisors have anything to do with this at all.

The juvenile justice commission of the county, composed of eight members, makes the nomination to the judge of the juvenile court of the county, who makes the appointment, if he approves.

THIS NEW BOARD of supervisors is going to really have egg on its collective face if it doesn't put a curb on this "most powerful man in county government." He is pushing and pushing constantly.

Since the old board raised his salary time after time instead of doing their homework themselves, until it is within $44 of $26,000 a year, it is no wonder he thinks he can usurp the duties of the courts and their appointed commissions or bodies. He gets more money than the judges. What a laugh, if it wasn't so serious!

He even tried to abolish the West Marin Justice Court last year by refusing to put anything in the budget for its operation. For once the board became startled and said no! no! you just can't do that. He keeps coming all the time though.

With Bruce, Paul C. Zucker, the planning director, and Seymour Kashin, Marin Transit manager(?), the county has a troika which is a honey.

Antidraft Youth Sent To Psychiatric Unit

A 23-year-old student charged with threatening to blow up the San Rafael Selective Service Office last month has been committed to the Marin Community Mental Health Center and federal charges against him will be dropped, the U.S. Attorney's office in San Francisco said yesterday.

William Byron Masterson, who was also charged with threatening bodily harm to two agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, was committed to the center Monday as a result of psychiatric tests ordered by U.S. District Court Judge Albert C. Wollenberg.

Jerrold Ladar, of Mill Valley, chief of the U.S. Attorney's criminal division, said federal legal action against the youth has been halted.

Masterson, a journalism student at the University of California at Berkeley and a former Terra Linda resident, was charged after he sent a letter in December saying he was "tired of being badgered" by the Selective Service and would blow up the San Rafael office, where he was registered, if it didn't stop.

An explosion, caused by a bomb, ripped through the building in which the San Rafael Selective Service office is located the night of Feb. 2. Masterson, arrested 18 days earlier, was in custody at the time. No arrests have been made in the bombing.

Ladar said Masterson also sent another letter, threatening to "blow the — brains out" of two FBI agents, Elwin Wegner of San Rafael and Harold Hoblitt of Berkeley.

The two agents had visited Masterson's Berkeley home after he failed to show up for a physical examination to determine draft status but he was not at home.

Judge Wollenberg ordered the psychiatric tests following Masterson's arrest after Ladar said he acted erratically during his arrest on Jan. 15.

Masterson, who was held on a bond of $50,000, was formally charged as a result of the bomb threat with extortion, which includes a threat delivered by mail.

Tiburon Officials Renamed To Panels

Two Tiburon officials have been named to standing committees of the League of California Cities.

Councilman Denis T. Rice has been reappointed to the committee on undergrounding utilities and City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose has been renamed to the committee on finance administration.

Plans For Toll Booth Changes Not Ready Yet

Plans to remove some toll booths to provide an unobstructed roadway for toll-free traffic on the Golden Gate Bridge, to have been ready yesterday, will not be ready until the last week of this month, reported Dale W. Luehring, general manager of the bridge and highway district.

The district's engineering staff needed more time to draw the plans because it has been busy with the special bridge maintenance project under way, Luehring explained.

He said last month that the one-way toll collection system may be reversed because southbound traffic already is merged as it comes off the bridge, thus can flow easily through the toll plaza. Northbound traffic must merge from seven approach lanes, and toll collection would help monitor this traffic onto the bridge, he noted.

2. We have lost the right to determine what we want for our children in the area of curriculum or finance in education. Courses, such as sex education and sensitivity training, to which many parents object, are an infringement on family rights and are robbing our children of classroom time so that many are not learning to read or write effectively.

Rafferty Says High Schools SDS Targets

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Organized efforts will be made to foment student disturbances in California high schools, Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, said yesterdy.

"I have in my hand documentary evidence of the coming organized attempt to subvert our California high schools," Rafferty told the State Board of Education.

He said the material advocating upheavals in the schools is being distributed by the "so-called and badly misnamed Students for a Democratic Society."

Rafferty said the unrest will begin after underground newspapers are circulated on high school campuses. The papers will "allege all manner of grievances and existing evils ranging from racial discrimination to administrative tyranny," he said.

Meetings will then be held off campus and student groups will pressure principals for certain innovations. Included will be demands for special courses for ethnic groups, pupil participation in reorganizing the curriculum, abolition of the grading system, discontinuance of examinations and firing of certain teachers and hiring of others, Rafferty said.

Other action will include fighting on school grounds, intimidation of parents and pressure on administrators to submit to the demands of the agitators, he added.

Rafferty said the plans also call for a pupil boycott of the schools and terrorizing students and teachers who fail to join the strike.

"It is a blueprint for short term anarchy and long term facism in our schools," he said.

Urging administrators to take steps now to prevent the problems anticipated, Rafferty said that "the techniques I have just outlined are illegal under California law."

He suggested that school boards adopt detailed written policies providing for "immediate suspension of pupils who join in such actions . . ."

School District Split Rejected

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The state Board of Education yesterday rejected a proposal for a three-way split of the Sequoia Union High School District in San Mateo County.

The board voted to adopt the state department of Education's staff recommendation, rejecting the proposal from the San Mateo County Committee on School District Organization.

The county committee's recommendation was turned down because "it did not meet criteria in the law relating to the barriers for improving the minority-ethnic situation as far as segregation is concerned," said Ray Johnson, assistant state superintendent of public instruction.

Slide Plaint Attributed In Error

A couple who complained about a slide near Tamalpais Junction at Tuesday's meeting of the Marin County Board of Supervisors were wrongly identified in Wednesday's story in the Independent-Journal.

It was Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Banyai of 257 Morningsun Avenue, whose home sits on a hill above the slide, who appeared before the supervisors to complain that their home was endangered.

The news story identified them as Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bassett. The Bassetts, who live at 167 Lovell Avenue, complained by letter that the owner of the slide property, Frank M. Gelardi, "should at least build and pay for a retaining wall to correct the damage he caused by excessive excavation early in 1966."

The supervisors, who had Bassetts' letter in front of them, kept referring to the Banyais as Mr. and Mrs. Bassett, and the error was never corrected during the discussion.

But the slide will be corrected. Public Works Director Donald R. Frost and assistant Michael King told the supervisors that the slope of the cut was steeper than shown on Gelardi's plan.

On the basis of that report, Supervisors Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and Michael Wornum declared that Gelardi had contributed to the problem by excavating more than he should have.

Gelardi denied this, but the supervisors asked him to design a proper retaining wall and instructed public works director Frost to come in with a report on Feb. 25.

High School Protest, Black Panthers Linked

ON BAY CAMPUSES

Teachers Give In; A Bomb; Arrests

COMBINED AP & UPI

Striking teachers capitulated today at San Jose State College, a bomb blast echoed on the empty San Francisco State College campus last night and 36 students, teachers and other demonstrators at the University of California in Berkeley face charges following a wild outburt on campus.

Effect of the San Jose development could not immediately be determined at San Francisco State, where the American Federation of Teachers local also is out on strike.

San Jose State teachers have voted to return to work today but have failed to ratify a settlement of their strike that began Jan. 8.

"We're badly split," said an AFT spokesman in reporting the 42-25 vote, with one abstention, to return to the job today, the last day of registration for the spring semester. Classes resume Monday.

He added that after the vote and a 13-hour debate followed on the strike settlement, the president, treasurer, and acting secretary of the campus AFT local all resigned. The administration-offered settlement was rejected 24 to 7.

College president Robert D. Clark, in announcing the end of the strike, said "many of the problems...remain to be solved.

"In the case of those faculty members affected by the five-

Secret Memo Bares Disruption Strategy

The Black Panther Party is responsible for organizing protests by Negro students at some Bay Area high schools.

Its role is disclosed in a confidential memorandum prepared for student organizers, which was dropped by a student as he left a black students' meeting at an Oakland high school, and has come into the possession of the Independent-Journal.

The four-paged mimeographed instructions, titled "Organization of the Black High School Student — Some Basic Guidelines" does not refer to the Black Panther Party by name. However, it says that members of the "hard core steering committee" set up to organize the black students "should meet as many times a week as possible with a member of the BPPNC, who will provide a link between them and the party." And again: "Their first loyalty must be to the BPPNC, from which they will receive direct orders."

BPPNC stands for Black Panther Party National Committee.

The instructions go into detail on just how black students shall be brought to protest. The pattern prescribed has been followed quite closely in uprisings at several schools which were ostensibly organized by the Black Students Union.

The "basic guidelines" call for a "hard core steering committee," an "off-campus group," and an "umbrella organization."

The hard core steering committee, says the memorandum, "must be made up of trained, disciplined bloods who attend the high school," Besides meeting "as many times a week as possible with a member of the BPPNC," it says, "these hard-core bloods should attend party meetings and should be active members of the party, if possible. . . For security reasons the groups should be small, possibly five or six. They should be as uptight or more uptight than the average party member."

Further, it says, members of this group will require "several months of intensive study and training . . . before they will be able to carry on the functions of the party at their school."

The off-campus group is described as follows:

"These hard-core brothers will comprise the central committee of a black nationalist organization . . . who will hold their meetings off-campus." Its work will include "passing out leaflets, selling newspapers, talking to fellow black students, etc."

Members of this group "must be given at least one session a week in . . . black history, political philosophy, organizing techniques, karate, and any other subjects which the party leaders see as being necessary."

Policy for the off-campus group "will be set by the BPPNC, through the hard-core steering committee."

Creating the "umbrella organization" is the first job for the organization on campus. It should be set up to give all black students a chance to discuss whatever problems they wish, says the memorandum, "and no black student should be forced out as long as he is sincere in trying to get the problems solved." But, "It must be understood that this is a black

Midwestern, Eastern Campuses Quieter After Protest Flareups

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Student protesters resumed picketing at the University of Wisconsin today for a fifth straight day as a midwinter contagion of student discontent gripped several campuses across the nation. (See photo, page 7.)

National Guardsmen and police worked to keep traffic moving within the busy Madison campus. Gov. Warren P. Knowles sent in 1,000 more Guardsmen to relieve 900 on duty.

A battalion of 500 riot-trained guardsmen was billeted near the Durham, N.C., campus of Duke University where student demonstrators clashed with police and state troopers yesterday, after a sit-in to demand black studies.

A detail of 50 state troopers broke up a sit-in demonstration at the administration building of the University of Massachusetts in Amherst, last night, arresting 34. They were protesting Dow Chemical Co. recruiting.

At the University of Chicago students who seized the administration building two weeks ago to protest the dismissal of an instructor voted overwhelmingly early today to end their sit-in, and were leaving the building.

In Madison an estimated 10,000 marchers led by Negroes walked from the campus to the state Capitol last night where they chanted freedom songs and sang "America." The march ended back on campus without incident.

In previous demonstrations for black studies, the ranks of protesters had never numbered more than 5,000.

Governor Knowles told a news conference: "There's somthing behind this whole movement, from San Francisco College to Columbia. It is being directed by someone who has different idealogies than we have."

Elsewhere there were these protests:

In New York about 100 City College students, demanding a separate school of Negro and Puerto Rican studies, occupied the administration building, kicked in three doors, drank some liquor in the President's office and then left voluntarily after four and one-half hours.

About 200 male students at the University of Miami in Florida smashed several doors, windows and vending machines in a charge through dormitories early today after an abortive panty raid.

At the University of Florida in Gainsville, 125 students marched on he home of President Stephen O'Connell last night demanding his sup-

Sirhan Team Begins Case Around Issue Of Mentality

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan's defenders said today that at the moment Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was shot, Sirhan "was out of contact with reality, in a trance in which he had no voluntary control over his will, his judgment, his feelings or his action."

The 24-year-old Jordanian was pictured as "an immature, emotionally disturbed and mentally ill youth who wrote in a memorandum at the time of the 1967 Arab-Israeli war that "he wants to be recorded by history as the man who triggered off the last war."

Emile Zola Berman, one of three attorneys defending Sirhan on a charge he murdered Kennedy, told the jury in opening arguments that Sirhan had fantasies in which "he was often a hero and saviour of the people."

"In the realities of life, however, he was small, helpless, isolated, confused and bewildered by emotions over which he had no control. He was unable to plan or think clearly, unable to maintain any meaningful direction to his life", the attorney said.

Thus Berman set the stage for a defense that will not deny that Sirhan shot Kennedy but will rely on psychiatric testimony to

Tuna Boat Seized By Peru

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Peruvian naval vessels seized an American tuna fishing boat after firing on it and four sister boats today more than 20 miles off the coast of Peru, according to reports reaching Washington.

U.S. officials said they had received reports that two of the American boats, including the one taken into port, were damaged by the gunfire.

Both the White House and the State Department showed concern over the reports. Neither said it could confirm them immediately.

The White House said if reports of the incident were correct, "we would of course look on this matter with utmost concern."

Ronald Ziegler, White House press secretary, said President Nixon was looking into the report of the latest of a series of incidents involving U.S. tuna fleets off Peru.

Rep. Thomas M. Pelly, R-Wash., said the two vessels, which he identified as the Mariner and the San Juan,—both believed to be out of San Diego, Calif. —were fired on and damaged by Peruvian gunboats.

The Mariner was then taken into a Peruvian port, Pelly said. At last report, he said, the San Juan had been chased into waters claimed by Ecuador.

Pelly said the reports, from San Diego, placed the Mariner 23 miles at sea when attacked. The San Juan, he said, was last reported trying to out run a Peruvian gun boat and been pursued to a point 15 miles within waters claimed by Ecuador.

Several Latin American countries claim jurisdiction up to 200 miles out to sea. The claims are not recognized by the United

ANONYMOUS CALL

Bomb Threat Empties Center

An anonymous bomb threat emptied the Marin County Civic Center at 10 a.m. today, sending occupants into the street (above) and furnishing them an extra escalator ride (right) when the all-clear sounded.

Sheriff's deputies, led by Undersheriff Sidney Stinson, searched all four floors of the structure and reported they could find nothing out of the ordinary.

County Administrator Alan Bruce declined to reveal the name of the woman employee who got the threatening call about 9 a.m. He said the male caller told her that a bomb had been planted in the building and she should leave.

Bruce said he was notified between 9:15 and 9:30 and immediately called the sheriff, who ran a check of the building. "Then we made a mutual decision to evacuate." The building was cleared in five minutes.

About 500 employees, the assessment appeals board members and several visiting citizens marched out toward the parking area and stayed outside for about 20 minutes until the sheriff's deputies gave the all-clear sign.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said this is the tihird time that the building has been cleared since it opened in 1962. "I think the first one was also a bomb scare."

Nixon Forms Agency With Agnew As Boss

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today created a new "Office of Intergovernmental Relations" in charge of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew. Nixon assigned it the job of "strengthening federal, state and local relations."

The President signed an executive order in the Cabinet room, with Agnew alongside, setting up the new agency.

"By this action the vice president will become more directly and vitally involved in our efforts to move government closer to the people and to make it more responsive to their will," Nixon said in a statement.

Former Gov. Nils Aboe of South Dakota, a Republican, was named director of the new office.

The office, under Agnew's supervision, is to serve as a clearing house for the prompt handling and solution of federal-state-local problems brought to the attention of the White House by state or local officials, the executive order said.

Other functions include encouraging maximum cooperation among federal, state and local agencies and helping to make "the federal executive more sensitive and receptive to the views of state and local officials and to serve as the focal point where specific difficulties may be resolved," Nixon said.

The President expressed the hope that the new office will assure state and local officials access to the highest offices of the federal government and he said its overriding objective would be to bring together federal, state and local governments "in order to provide a more balance system of government."

"I want to wish the vice president well in his new assignment," Nixon said after he had signed the order in the Cabinet room.

Klan Boss Set To Enter Prison

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—Robert M. Shelton, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, surrendered today to federal marshals to begin a one-year prison term for refusing to show to a congressional committee records of his "invisible empire."

The balding, 38-year-old Shelton, accompanied by attorney Fred Blanton Jr., walked into the office of U.S. Marshal Roy L. Call shortly before 8 a.m.

The Klan chieftain was convicted Sept. 14, 1968 of contempt of Congress for refusing to turn over to the House Unamerican Activities Committee, records, books, tax returns and other secret papers.

Ray Trial Is Now Set For April 17

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The James Earl Ray trial, scheduled to begin March 3, was continued today until April 7. Ray is charged with killing Dr. Martin Luther King.

Judge W. Preston Battle granted the continuance after Ray's attorneys said they could not be ready by the scheduled trial date.

New Snowstorm Hits Ski Areas

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A new and intense storm rushed through Northern California today with heavy snow forecast for the winter sports region this weekend.

Resorts reporting to the California Automobile Association this morning said skiing conditions everywhere were good to excellent. All facilities were expected to function for the weekend.

Travelers warnings were issued for the northern mountains and expected to be ended to the central ranges by nightfall. All major Sierra roads were open but travelers were advised to check for latest conditions.

A Valentine's Gift: $12,500 Salary Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marin County's two congressmen, Reps. Don Clausen, R-First District, and William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, saw their salary jump today from $30,000 a year to $42,500.

Likewise, salaries for the state's two U.S. senators, George Murphy, a Republican, and Alan Cranston, a Democrat, was hiked the same amount.

The increase is the biggest in the history of Congress and a far cry from the one-time scale of $6 a day.

The raise took effect automatically as sort of Valentine's Day present that Congress bestowed upon itself by doing nothing to turn it down.

Besides the biggest raise in history for the lawmakers, it also was the first time they didn't have to take the political risk of actually voting on it.

Under a provision Congress put into a 1967 pay bill, the President recommends congressional salary increases which take effect automatically 30 days later unless the House or Senate vetoes them.

The raises were recommended by President Johnson just before he left office. The Senate rejected a veto attempt, but in the House the Rules Committee kept a similar motion from reaching the floor.

Under the sale law, varying increases also went into effect for cabinet members, federal judges and other high federal office-holders.

Although some members will no doubt complain that the current boost is not enough and others that it is too much, there's little question that the $42,500 will go farther than the meager wages paid the first congressmen.

"In Congress there are about five persons who look like gentlemen. All the rest come in the filthiest dress and are well indeed if they look like farmers," a British diplomat wrote home in 1805.

The scale then was $6 a day, an amount set in 1789 and unchanged until 1818 when the rate was increased $2.

Congressmen also got an allowance of $6 for every 20 miles they had to travel to get to Washington and back home—once. Now representatives are paid in full for one trip home each month Congress is in session, plus an extra one, and senators get seven.

Students Battle

KYOTO, Japan (AP) — At least 200 students were injured in a series of clashes between opposing student factions at the strife-torn Kyoto University campus today.

Police said about 1,000 students battled five hours with sticks, steel pipes, rocks and bottles. The rival factions were fighting over an attempt to call off an indefinite boycott of classes on the campus.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Storms In Texas

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Huge tides sent water surging into homes and played havoc in several towns on Galveston Bay on the Upper Texas Coast today as vicious thunderstorms pounded the area.

Winds clocked unofficially at up to 83 miles per hour hurled sea water into low areas, hitting hard at Baytown and other points east and southeast of Houston around the Manned Spacecraft Center.

The flooding occurred while a broad stretch of Texas' coastal plain was under a tornado watch.

African Jailed

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—John Okello, the self-styled field marshall who led the 1964 revolution on Zanzibar Island, was sentened to three years in jail today for being in Kenya illegally.

The court gave Okello the maximum sentence and ordered him deported to his native Uganda on compleiton of the prison term.

The prosecution told the court that Okello, a prohibition immigrant in Kenya, had been trained in revolutionary systems in Cuba.

Okello told the magistrate that he had no emnity toward the Kenya government. He also denied a charge that he trained a group of people to defy the government.

Red Radio Silent

VIENNA (AP) — Radio Vltava, broadcasting Soviet propaganda since Moscow's troops invaded Czechoslovakia last Aug. 21, has gone off the air, Radio Prague says.

The Prague report said the Soviet occupation radio stopped transmitting yesterday morning. A few hours later the East German national anthem was heard on the same wave length, followed by a routine East German radio broadcast.

Most Czechoslovaks believed Radio Vltava broadcast from East Germany because its announcers spoke with a heavy German accent. Czechoslovak critics of the occupation repeatedly demanded that the station be silenced.

Law Minister S. M. Zafar announced the decision an hour before former Foreign Minister Zulfikar Tli Bhutto was to begin a hunger strike in protest against the emergeny regulations. Meanwhile, more violence erupted in both halves of Pakistan during the one-day general strike protesting Ayub Khan's regime.

Bomb Rips Trade Area, Injuring 27

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges reopened today with clerks using blackboards and chalk in place of electronic quotation boards torn up by a time bomb that wrecked the trading floor and injured 27 persons.

Charles Neapole, president of the Montreal Stock Exchange, had announced after the explosion yesterday that business would not resume until Monday.

The bomb exploded over the trading floor in a corner of the visitors' gallery, scattering debris over 50 visitors and 300 persons on the floor below. Five of the 27 injured suffered severe cuts.

Several minutes before the explosion, which occurred about 40 minutes before the 3 p.m. closing, police received an anonymous tip that an explosive device had been planted in the 47-story building housing the exchange on Victoria Square, in the heart of the financial district.

It was the third explosion in Montreal this week and the eighth this year. During similar incidents several years ago, separatist groups seeking the secession of Quebec from Canada usually scrawled the letters of their organization at the site, but there have been no such clues this year.

Explosions Monday and Tuesday were directed at Canadian armed forces buildings.

B52s Pound Routes Leading Into Saigon

SAIGON (UPI)—In the heaviest bombing of 1969, U.S. B52s dropped 2.5 million pounds of bombs on positions of some 40,000 Communist troops threatening Saigon, military spokesmen said today.

The bombing the past 48 hours struck 14 guerrilla strongholds on trails leading to the capital where American and Allied troops have been mobilized to meet a Communist offensive in the surrounding 11 provinces.

Communist forces in South Vietnam are scheduled to open a weeklong cease-fire tomorrow morning in observance of the Tet lunar new year holidays. Informed South Vietnamese government sources said the Allies probably will call a 36 to 48 hour truce. But the Communists used last year's Tet for their greatest nationwide offensive against cities and Allied intelligence said they are planning to try again this holiday season.

An unarmed U.S. Army UH1 ambulance helicopter was shot down 30 miles northwest of Saigon, wounding two crewmen.

Inside Saigon, where GIs now go armed even to mess halls, Viet Cong terrorists hand grenaded two South Vietnamese offices. They tried to blow up a U.S. Navy compound power generator but an alert guard spotted the bomb which was safely removed.

Wilson Pays Berlin Visit

BERLIN (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson came to West Berlin today reaffirming Britain's duty to see that the city's freedom is preserved.

The British leader arrived from Bonn as the Soviet Union and East Germany put on more pressure in their attempt to force transfer of the West German presidential election out of this surrounded city.

"We shall continue—you can count on this—to do all that is in our power to ensure that your freedom is preserved," he told a luncheon in Charlottenburg Castle.

"I would like to take this opportunity to renew once again the British commitment to Berlin. Britain stands and will stand firmly by its pledge to guarantee the continued freedom of the city and its inhabitants and it will continue to support all the efforts which are being made to alleviate, to temper, the human problems caused by the division of your city."

Wilson called the Communist wall dividing the city "perhaps the most dramatic of all demonstrations of the bankruptcy of the system it represents."

Mafia Boss Genovese Dies In Jail

VITO GENOVESE
Cosa Nostra chief dies

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vito Genovese, the major underworld figure in the United States and leader of the Mafia, died in a federal prison today. He was 71.

Genovese, died at 2:30 a.m. EST of congestive heart failure at the Medical Center for Federal Prisoners in Springfield, Mo., the Federal Bureau of Prisons announced. He was serving a 15-year narcotics smuggling sentence begun in 1959.

Genovese is reputed to have convened the notorious Apalachin, N.Y. meeting of Mafia mobsters Nov. 14, 1957, to announce he was taking over the Cosa Nostra.

LINKED TO PURGE

He is alleged to have subsequently ordered the unsuccessful murder attempt on Frank Costello, since deported, and the killing of syndicate executioner Albert Anastasia in a New York City barbershop.

Unidentified members of his family were at his bedside when he lay in a coma throughout yesterday.

Genovese's reputed heirs to the New York "family" are Gerardo "Jerry" Catena of Newark, N.J., and Tommy Eboli, also known as Tommy Ryan, of New York City.

Genovese and Catena were identified by imprisoned informer Joseph Valachi as two of the 12 "commissioners" who run organized crime operations in the United States for the Cosa Nostra. Of the 12, five were from New York where Genovese was the most powerful.

Genovese was born Nov. 21, 1897, in Resigliano, Italy. He entered the United States as a permanent resident May 23, 1913 at New York City and was naturalized Nov. 25, 1936 in U.S. District Court there.

If he had lived to serve out his 15-year sentence, he would have been automatically deported for a crime of moral turpitude.

Dr. William H. Pemberton of Mill Valley, psychologist, human relations specialist and lecturer, will speak on "Antidotes to Crisis" at noon Tuesday before the Inter-City Rotary, comprising Marin Rotary clubs, at the Hamilton Air Force Base officers club. The Terra Linda Rotary will be host.

Israeli Jets Hit Jordan Arab Base

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two Israeli jet fighters struck a suspected Arab guerrilla pocket inside Jordan today, the Israeli army announced.

Israeli ground troops backed up the 25-minute air assault with firing across the border. A spokesman said the guerrillas at the Qatef outpost, inside Jordan just south of the Sea of Galilee, had fired bazookas and small arms at an army patrol.

Jordan reported two attacks by Israeli jets, one lasting 30 minutes and another an hour later. A spokesman said napalm bombs were dropped but Jordanian forces suffered no losses.

Another Israeli patrol came under light fire as it moved down a street last night in the occupied town of Hebron, south of Jerusalem. The patrol returned the fire.

The army said there were no Israeli casualties in either incident.

Israel's second largest political group, the Gahal party, voted early today to remain in the coalition government headed by Premier Levi Eshkol, ending three days of political uncertainty.

The Gahal party was angered by Eshkol's statement in an interview with Newsweek magazine that his government was willing to give up much of the territory seized in the 1967 war. The Gahalites want Israel to keep all of the occupied areas.

Pueblo Probers Flying East To See Spy Ship

CORONADO (AP) — The five admirals on the court of inquiry investigating the capture of the USS Pueblo were to fly across the continent today to get a "working knowledge" of an intelligence ship.

Accompanied by their counsel and counsel for the Pueblo's skipper, the admirals planned to inspect the USS Palm Beach at Norfolk, Va., before flying back here tomorrow afternoon.

The skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, will remain in San Diego. Looking tanned and rested, Bucher was recalled yesterday as a witness to clarify certain points about his own intelligence ship's capture by North Koreans and to comment on testimony from other witness since he opened the testimony three weeks ago with a lengthy, sometimes anguished account.

When asked, Bucher told the court he had differences with his second in command over organization of the Pueblo, but said there was no personality clash.

Bucher also said he could have steered the Pueblo from below decks, "but with great difficulty," to avoid casualties if he fled North Korean gunfire.

And he said he couldn't drill his crew extensively because it would have interfered with intelligence gathering. Some crewmen have said they weren't drilled in destroying secret materials.

The admirals "want to get a good working knowledge of what an intelligence ship looks like in general," a Navy spokesman said in announcing the trip. He gave no specifics.

The Palm Beach is described as 200 tons larger than the Pueblo and has different compartmentation.

During Bucher's appearance yesterday, Rear Adm. Allen Bergner, court member, asked if there was any personality clash between Bucher and his executive officer, Lt. Edward Murphy Jr., of San Diego.

Bucher said "there was nothing that was not resolved readily by my just making a decision . . . If you put it in terms of a personality clash, that's being a little too harsh . . . A difference of opinion, but never at any time was there a personality clash per se."

This was the first indication of any differences between the two.

FBI Agent Says JFK Shot Only From Rear

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — An FBI photographic expert testified at Clay Shaw's conspiracy trial today that the famed home movie on President John F. Kennedy's assassination shows the bullets which killed Kennedy came from the rear.

Lyndal Shaneyfelt of Alexandria, Va., said that, even though the President's head snaps backward, close examination of the film shows the bloody halo was thrown forward.

"Did you take into consideration the movements of the President's body?" Shaneyfelt was asked under cross-examination.

"No, merely the direction of the matter flying through the air," Shaneyfelt replied.

The film was screened again today for the jury over futile defense objections.

"There is no reasonable basis for reshowing this movie—it's simply a state attempt to accentuate a particular part of evidence," said defense attorney F. Irvin Dymond.

The 20-second color film, shot as the President's motorcade passed near the Texas School Book Depository, shows Kennedy's head snap back in a bloody spray.

The film was a prime exhibit in the state's contention that Kennedy was hit by bullets from more than one direction—instead of being shot by a lone sniper behind him.

Shaneyfelt was the 26th state witness called. Earlier, Buell Frazier of Irving, Tex., was cross-examined about Lee Harvey Oswald, the man named as the assassin.

Dymond concentrated on whether Frazier ever saw Oswald when he was unshaven or dirty.

"No, I did not," said Frazier, who gave Oswald a ride to work on the day Kennedy was shot.

The key state witness against Shaw, 55, the retired businessman charged with conspiring to murder the President, had testified Oswald was a dirty, unshaven beatnik type.

SIRHAN

plead a defense of "diminished responsibility."

In California, diminished responsibility recognizes that a defendant may be legally sane yet not fully responsible for his actions.

Berman said Sirhan bought the death gun six months before the June 5 assassination of Kennedy to use for sport and found that shooting "gave him strange sense of release."

Berman said Sirhan "admired and loved" Kennedy.

"Then came another shot," Berman said. "In early June of 1968 Sen. Kennedy . . . said in essence that if he were President that he would send 50 Phantom jets to Israel.

"That did it!"

Berman said "Sirhan will tell you himself from this witness stand that he never thought he ever would kill Kennedy but that through his mystic mind power he could fantasize about it and relieve that feeling of emptiness inside him."

"We have told you that from the beginning that he did in fact fire the shot that killed Sen. Kennedy, Berman said.

"The killing was unplanned and undeliberate, impulsive and without premeditation or malice, totally a product of a sick, obsessed mind and personality.

"At the actual moment of shooting he was out of contact with reality, in a trance in which he had no voluntary control over his will, his judgment, his feelings or his action."

Berman said the defense will back up his arguments 'through great men in the field of psychiatry or psychology, by tests that run the gamut of hypnosis, interviews and known and accepted psychological tests."

These witnesses will prove, Berman said, "Sirhan did not have the mental capacity to have the mental states that are the essential elements of murder: Namely, to maturely and meaningfully premeditate, deliberate or reflect on the gravity of the fact, nor form an intent to kill nor harbor malice aforethought as these are defined by the laws of California."

never have the opportunity to serve, and this could cause embarrassment to the county supervisors," said Mayor Helen Putnam of Petaluma, the association president.

The supervisors are required to appoint a representative of the association.

The Napa suit challenges the constitutionality of state legislation calling for a third director for Marin and Sonoma counties to the bridge board.

"If we're going to allow every suit that comes along to halt our actions, we might as well stop holding meetings," Rohnert Park Councilman Warren Hopkins said, gaining support for an immediate vote.

Councilman Phillip L. Joerger of Petaluma also called for action, citing the recent selection of a director by the Marin County Association of Mayors and Councilmen.

The Marin association's choice, Mayor Dean N. Meyer of Mill Valley, was subsequently appointed by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Mayor Arthur Roberts of Rohnert Park said the mayors' group had not been aware of the Marin action in making their decision to delay and suggested the board might rescind its recommendation. Calling on the officials to be more aggressive, he said: "The appointee will be aware of the Napa suit and possible consequences — this should limit any embarrassment."

The association also argued at length on the manner in which to select the nominee. It finally approved Joerger's resolution to waive the association bylaws and hold a full membership vote by secret ballot rather than have the directors make the decision.

Five candidates were presented to the group: Lucius, the ultimate winner; Mayor Lewis A. Meyers of Santa Rosa, Councilman Kenneth C. Colin of Petaluma, Councilman Vernon P. Smith of Rohnert Park, and Councilman Thomas R. Klinker Jr. of Sebastopol.

On the first ballot, the two top vote-getters were Lucius with 12 and Meyers with six. Claiming the vote was not a clear majority, the group selected between the two on a second ballot and chose Lucius by a 21 to 8 margin.

A retired Marin colonel, Lucius has served on the Healdsburg council since 1966. He is employed as a food consultant and adviser in dehydrated food products for various firms.

day AWOL clause of the education code, every instance is being treated individually as prescribed by the trustees," Clark said.

"This means no guarantees," said an AFT spokesman.

A homemade bomb exploded late last night in front of the Gallery Lounge on the deserted campus of San Francisco State College, shattering the stillness that prevailed during the troubled school's semester break.

The bomb broke two five-foot by seven-foot plate glass windows at one entrance to the empty lounge.

The campus was so deserted when police and firemen arrived, it took a full 15 minutes to locate the source of the blast.

Yesterday was the first day of regular registration for the spring semester at the 18,000-student campus.

While most members of the community were handling the business of setting up classes, college officials and a city judge took action against nearly 250 participants in recent turmoil at the school.

About 240 students, whose names were extracted from police records, received mailed notices ordering them to appear before a three-member college disciplinary committee beginning Tuesday.

Six other demonstrators were ordered to spend from 10 to 30 days in jail for violating their probations by participating in protest rallies. Municipal Judge Joseph P. Kennedy handed down the sentences to students he had put on probation last spring for taking part in an antiwar demonstration on campus.

The judge put over the case of an assistant professor of philosophy, 29-year-old Anatole Ben Anton, until a probation report is completed. The judge continued the probation of a co-ed with a small son.

The wildest outburst in the 3-week-old strike by some students at the University of California campus yesterday produced three dozen arrests, including 22 students and several picketing teachers.

About 150 highway patrolmen and Alameda County sheriff's deputies made repeated sweeps through about 1,000 chanting, screaming militants in Sproul Plaza and at Sather Gate.

Militants, reinforced by radical protesters from nearby San Francisco State, hurled textbooks, firecrackers, and obscenities at police. They chanted "pigs off campus" at officers.

Despite the many arrests, there were no serious incidents of violence.

Among those arrested was Conn Hallinan, head of the American Federation of Teachers local at the campus. A teaching assistant, he is the son of San Francisco attorney Vincent Hallinan.

The park is located on land owned by the state Division of Highways, south of the Richardson Bay Sanitary District treatment plant on Tiburon Boulevard.

In Chicago, groups of 10 to 20 Negro students at Roosevelt University took control of two classes and said the tactic would continue until the administration grants demands for more classes on Negro culture. The school has about 6,200 students, including 900 Negroes.

Bolinas Panel Hikes Deposits For Water Use

Deposits for water service were increased last night from $15 to $25 for residential areas and from $15 to $75 for commercial areas by the Bolinas Public Utility District board, president Jose A. Silva reported.

Connection fees will remain $10, Silva said. He said the returnable deposits were increased because the district is having difficulty collecting water bills.

The board also voted to require that bills be paid within 10 days of receipt with a five-day grace period. The district previously required bills to be paid within 30 days with a 10-day grace period.

The purchase of 100 metal chairs and new light fixtures for the community center building, at a cost of approximately $550, was authorized, Silva said.

Reposts Car Taken

DELAYED STORM REACTION

Farmer Explains His Job Decision

NEW YORK (AP) — James Farmer said last night he accepted the post of assistant secretary of health, education and welfare because "I haven't given up the belief that it is possible to make the establishment work on behalf of the poor and the blacks."

"At least I must try," he said in a speech at the Brooklyn College Student Center.

The former chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality, who ran unsuccessfully as a Republican for a Brooklyn congressional seat last November, said of President Richard M. Nixon, "I've said some very mean things about him. But he's the only president we have. If he fails, then we all fail."

NINE SHOW UP

Session Pinpoints Apathy Of Students

By CHARLES YOAKUM

A symposium on public apathy dramatically proved its point last night at Redwood High School.

Nine persons showed up.

Those who did attend heard four students blame apathy for today's unrest on college and high school campuses.

In the three-hour symposium was sponsored by the fledging "Chautauqua 69," — an organization which says it represents the "un-committed middle" of the population and hopes to hold public meetings on various topics of interest.

All four of the students who spoke painted pictures of mass apathy on high school and college campuses, which allows student radicals to gain control of student legislatures, newspapers and other important positions and thus be in a position to cause campus unrest.

Isabell Schmid, a senior at Redwood, repeated that recently her school took student body elections "out of the classroom" and made them a voluntary "out of class" function. She said that the turnout was about 30 per cent.

She lumped apathetic students into two catagories. "One," she said, "finds high school not very challenging and grows away from the campus. These are the intellectually higher students."

"The other group," she continued, "is those students who know they will be forced to go directly to work after high school and therefore give high school a small role in their lives."

Richard Grey, a 1968 graduate of Redwood High and now a freshman at Stanford University, said that, "At Stanford, 90 per cent of the students take no part of student politics," and because of this, the radicals control the student legislature and the student paper.

Grey said he was a staff member of a "conservation underground newspaper" which competes with the "liberal Stanford Daily."

Both Grey and Miss Schmid agreed that the reason apathy exists on campus is that the students feel that elected or appointed student leaders really don't have any authority.

Mrs. Marion Allred, a student and member of the student legislature at Oakland's Merritt College, said that "it is almost impossible to get people to run against Black Students Union candidates at Merritt."

Mrs. Allred attributed much of the apathy at her college to just plain fear.

"You don't know what it's like to have a crowd of people waiting for you at the doorway of the school. Or when you leave."

She said that Merritt was the first school to offer a black studies program — starting it in 1965.

"In the beginning, it was a good program," she said, "but now its merely used for propaganda and the screaming of obscenities."

Robert Figari of Tiburon, now attending the University of California at Davis, also used a recent election at school to illustrate apathy, noting that at Davis only 30 per cent of the students voted. "And that was up 20 per cent from the last election," he added.

Figari, son of Mrs. Marshall Figari, founder of "Chautauqua 69," said that "student apathy is not so much a lack of interest as it is a feeling the students have that everything is being done for them."

Figari said that it was time students began shaking off the apathy and presenting ideas for "a better system" if they didn't like the existing one.

Figari said he too was seeking "the right answer" but repudiated the tactics now being used by student radicals. "I can't see destroying everything and replacing it with nothing," he said.

Also speaking briefly at the symposium were Howard B. Waldron, of San Francisco State's engineering department; Richard Geno, a U.C. Berkeley graduate; Michael J. Collins, a Drake teacher, and David R. Ilchert of the federal Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Waldron outlined issues of the strike, Geno — founder of the Silent Majority Against Revolutionary Tactics (SMART) told of that organization's functions, Collins spoke on teaching government to persons seeking naturalization and Ilchert told of his department's function in examining prospective new citizens on their knowledge of U.S. government and history.

Inmate Breaks Both Legs In Escape Attempt

A San Quentin Prison inmate broke both his legs yesterday when he dropped outside the prison wall in an escape attempt.

John Strehle was reported in satisfactory condition today in the prison hospital.

Strehle, 31, committed from Los Angeles for auto theft, climbed a drain pipe to the kitchen roof and was sighted by a guard while hanging from a five-story ledge.

The tower guard, who spotted him hanging by his fingertips from a window ledge, placed a shell in the chamber of his rifle and at that point Strehle let go.

GUARDSMEN CHECK COLLEGIANS

The University of Wisconsin campus at Madison is one of the newest scenes of student protests. Yesterday, National Guard troops, some 1,000 strong, used bayonetted rifles to keep students off the street. The students attempted to block streets around the 33,000 student campus. organization, no whites allowed."

The memorandum continues: "The purpose of the umbrella organization will be to bring about a united front of the bourgeois and ghetto black factions at the school. . . Bloods for the OCG (off-campus group) could be recruited from those who attend its meetings. Through this organization, strikes, boycotts and rallies could be started."

With the three organizations — hard-core steering committee, off-campus group, and umbrella organization — set up, the memorandum outlines ways of bringing action. These include a black school bulletin, which "should immediately be started by the OCG" and distributed free.

Most important in mobilization activity by the off-campus group, says the memorandum, "is the day-to-day blowing to the bloods on campus. There can be no substitute for this! At lunch time, before and after school, and when feasible during classroom time, discussions on topics ranging from world to school to personal problems should be encouraged. . . OCG members should press their teachers to let them lead discussions on black nationalism, black history, world problems, and other topics as they come up."

Simpler things may provide the vehicle for protest, however, the organizers are told: "If the OCG and the umbrella organization decide to key on the bad food at the cafeteria, this should be the topic that the organizers direct their attention to."

The memorandum also urges running an all-black slate of candidates for as many student offices as possible. "Once in office they would continue to work for the interests of the black students through direction from the OCG," it says.

It urges also organizing black athletes, "potentially the most powerful student forces at the school," remarking: "It should be realized that during a riot or other disturbances among black students these are the mercenary forces which Whitey uses to patrol the halls or otherwise quell the violence."

It continues: "The threat of all the black athletes walking off the field during a school boycott can be a very powerful weapon when negotiating with school officials, but a lot of groundwork must be laid because this is usually the most reactionary element of the high school."

Black social events (described as "all-blood events") are advocated to keep up interest. "The OCG should hold regular on-campus lectures and discussions if possible."

These steps, says the memorandum, lead to "turning the school black:"

"Every symbol at the school should be turned into a black symbol if possible, so as to further get the black student looking to the OCG to solve his problems." Black talent productions, bongo drummer corps, etc., are urged.

Action should be determined and directed by the off-campus group, says the outline. "The OCG must constantly come up with new areas to protest and mobilize with, so that they aren't continually calling for the same old thing such as a school boycott."

Boycotts should be used sparingly, it suggests, with more emphasis on mass rallies.

"One tactic could be to have 200 or 300 bloods break up the school board meeting to protest a certain action. . . Such action as burning the school down or jumping on white students should only be taken at later stages of the struggle, and only if the OCG is not directly involved in the rebellions (publicly). The thing the OCG must always remember is that its function is to mobilize the black students to take over their school, only to destroy that school if the administration forces give it no alternative."

The memorandum closes with the words: "Black power! A change gonna come!"

An effort was made to obtain comment from George Mason Murray, Black Panther minister of education under whom the program apparently would be run, but Oakland central headquarters of the Black Panther Party reported he was not available.

Career College Held Unlikely To Pay Off

Several hundred girls including some from Marin, who paid $1,600 to enroll at the now defunct Patricia Stevens Career College on Sutter Street in San Francisco, probably cannot recover losses because the company is broke, a referee in bankruptcy declared yesterday at the Civic Center.

Referee Conley S. Brown of Eureka, sitting in the board of supervisors' chambers, appointed William Grover of Eureka as trustee to take over any of the assets the company may have.

'At first Blush, it looks as if there will be no money in bankruptcy, so the girls probably won't be able to recover," said referee Brown.

Frank M. and Louise Bergstrom of 108 Caribe Isle, Ignacio, operators of the school to teach fashion merchandizing, testified yesterday that they got a franchise and started the school in September 1967. Financing, which they had counted on, fell through, and they had to fold last October.

Stuart Kaplan, attorney for the Bergstroms, said that an affiliated school, called the Patricia Stevens Finishing and Modeling School at 111 O'Farrel Street, offered to take over the portion of the course which Patricia Stevens Career School was unable to finish.

Kaplan said the defunct school had "several hundred" girls enrolled at one time, including "perhaps a dozen" from Marin County.

JACK BENNY
Going strong at 75

Jack Benny 'Observes' 39th Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Anyone else who was born Feb. 14, 1894, would be 75 today. Not Benjamin Kubelsky. He's still only 39.

"I don't tell anybody my right age," said Kubelsky—better known as Jack Benny — last night. "I say I'm 39 and I feel it."

How does he keep feeling 39?

"I keep saying it all the time."

Benny, the straight-faced comedian who has made a fortune out of jokes about his own stinginess, was in New York for several television appearances. He said he was returning to Los Angeles today.

Asked in a telephone interview how it felt to be 39 going on 75, Benny said "fine," then added, "I'm in bed with a bad cold." He said there was no difference between being 39 today and 39—26 years ago.

Benny, the son of a Polish immigrant, wasn't always 39.

His perpetual youth didn't begin until he was 50 in 1944.

As part of one of Benny's weekly radio shows, his script writers had someone ask him how old he was. For no particular reasons, the script writers had him answer "36." The next year, also on the air, he celebrated his 37th birthday. He was 37 for two years, then three before finally turning 39 in 1950.

Benny almost turned 40 once. "A few years ago when we were doing the television series we had a show in which I was finally going to celebrate my 40th birthday," he recalled in an interview on his 74th birthday.

Board Votes Rules Against Segregation

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The State Board of Education, adopting what experts term the nation's first hard-and-fast definition of racial imbalance, is calling for an end to de facto segregation in some California school districts.

But legall, the state cannot force local school districts to comply,Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of schools, said after the board's decision yesterday.

The board voted 9-0 to adopt a policy that defines segregation as existing whenever there is an imbalance of 15 or more percentage points either way when comparing a single school's racial makeup with the school district on the whole.

Thus, as an example, a school with 40 per cent Negro students and 60 per cent white students would be considered racially imbalanced if the overall school district was 25 per cent Negro and 75 per cent white.

EARLIER GUIDELINE

Previously, one unofficial guideline used in various states held that segregation would exist if a school had more than 50 per cent minority students.

The new school policy was incorporated as an amendment to the State Administrative Code, which exerts say has the force of law in California.

De facto segregation has been alleged against several school districts in the state, including the San Francisco, Los Angeles and Pasadena districts.

The state's Commission on Equal Opportunities in Education would seek compliance from imbalanced school districts.

"Some districts are going to disregard this," Rafferty told the board. "I think you might as well face it."

NO ENFORCEMENT

Dr. John Ford of San Diego, a Negro member of the board, agreed that the state has no legal power to enforce the regulations. But he said each school district has a moral responsibility to comply.

Jose Rafael Ramos, comission chairman, stated in the amendment proposal that "failure of local districts to . . . exert all effort toward such a standard, in the face of current challenges to eliminate inequities in education, perhaps will make it necessary to seek and establish increased state authority."

Edward Maddox, vice chairma of the commission, said California's schools are becoming increasingly segregated.

Approval of the amendments heads off what Maddox called "a forward march toward disaster."

Opponents include J C. Chambers, a member of the Los Angeles School Board.

Ordinance To Be Aimed At Hippies

The Sonoma County Mayors' and Councilmen's Association was told last night that the county is preparing an ordinance to prohibit sitting, reclining and sleeping on streets and sidewalks. (Another story on page 1.)

Sonoma County Dist. Atty. Kiernan Hyland told the association the ordinance is aimed at curbing hippies in the Russian River resort area where they often block traffic. He recommended that cities with a similar problem work with the county to achieve a uniform ordinance.

Dr. Charles W. Norton, director of the Sonoma County Mental Health Service, spoke in general terms of drug problems, saying that it now involves all economic levels of society and that a study is under way to determine the extent of the problem in Sonoma County.

Driver's Injuries Minor In Accident

Catherine D. Cross, 24, of 2323 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, was treated for multiple bruises and scrapes yesterday after her car overturned on Highway 101 in Sausalito, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

The accident occurred at 8:45 a.m. Miss Cross, according to the highway patrol, said she reached back for her purse as she drove north, then oversteered when she turned forward again. The car skidded, overturned, hit the center divider and landed upright.

'Young Turk' Expects Burns Ouster Move

A coalition of junior Democratic and Republican state senators hopes to overthrow the old guard in the upper house in three or four weeks, a leader of the "Young Turk" group declared last night before a Democratic group in Corte Madera.

Sen. Anthony C. Beilensen, D-Los Angeles, speaking before the Marin Democratic Assembly, conceded it will be hard to unseat the leadership, now led by Senate Pro Tem Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, "because several Republican senators, including the one from this county (Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael) will not desert Burns."

The loyalty of McCarthy and several other GOP senators to Burns, charged Beilenson, is "apparently because they owe something to some lobbyist — they're afraid not to support Burns because they'll lose committee chairmanships."

Beilenson said he did not know who would get Burns' seat, but doubted it would be McCarthy, who said two weeks ago he would try for Burns' seat if the GOP won the special election to be held in Contra Costa County. The upper house is split 20-19 in favor of the GOP, and the GOP would have a clear majority if it captures the seat vacated by the death of Sen. George Miller Jr., D-Martinez.

Beilenson cited Marin's other legislator, Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, as "one of the outstanding Republicans in the Assembly today."

Beilenson also said that the change to annual general sessions of the Legislature had accomplished little. The legislators still "bumble along" and leave action on all bills to the last day of the session, he said.

Beilenson, who predicted that Gov. Ronald Reagan will not seek a second term, criticized Reagan for what he termed "do-nothingism."

About 50 persons attended the dinner talk at Bob's of Marin.

School Board Asks Crackdown On Stray Dogs

The Larkspur School District board last night asked the communities of Corte Madera and Larkspur for a crackdown on stray dogs.

"They knock over children, get in lunches, fight on school grounds and even snip at somebody now and then," said Supt. Milton Cohen. "It's become quite a problem."

The City-County Services Committee of Marin, he reported, has recommended that municipalities and the county adopt a uniform control ordinance requiring animals to be under the control at all times and authorizing human society officers to issue citations to offenders.

The Larkspur School District board also:

INSURANCE — Asked for a new insurance cost total from the John Barry Insurance Agency of Larkspur to be included in the 1969-70 preliminary budget. Cohen estimated an 8 per cent increase in total premiums, now fixed at about $4,500 annually.

ORGANIZATION — Heard Trustee Curtis P. Kamai, the board's representative on the Marin County Committee on School District Organization, review the four unification plans within the Tamalpais High School District under consideration by the committee.

FUNDS — Received a federal grant of $18,950 for library books and audio-visual equipment.

CLASSES — Approved operaion of two classes for handicapped students to be run by the county schools office at Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

ADJOURNED — Adjourned until 8 p.m. Feb. 27 at the district office.

Tadlock New Safety Panel Chairman

Hubert Tadlock, accountant-auditor for the Marin County schools department, was elected chairman of the Marin County Safety Commission yesterday.

He succeeeds Mario Balestrieri, deputy director of public works, who resigned from the commission because of pressure of work.

Michael King, assistant public works director who replaced Balestrieri, was elected vice chairman.

Commissioners reviewed five accidents involving county employees and found one preventable accident, involving Deputy Sheriff Wyman Tong. The deputy, in pursuit of purse snatch suspects, tried to drive across railroad tracks next to Bridgeway Boulevard near Sausalito on Jan. 3. His patrol car stopped and hit the ground inside the tracks, flinging the deputy against the windshield and breaking the glass. Commissioners issued a reprimand.

Another accident involving Sheriff's Inspector Kenneth Irving was ruled non-preventable. Commissioners, however, asked Irving's superior, Lt. Guido Battaglia, to appear before the commission to explain why the accident report was turned in late. Irving said his patrol car was dented while he had it parked in the sheriff's parking lot at the courthouse on Sept. 4 last year. Irving said he reported the mishap orally to Battaglia, but did not turn in a written report.

Launch Boundary To Be Reviewed

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A boundary change in the Petaluma launching facility project area will be presented to the state Harbors and Watercraft Commission when it meets here at 9 a.m. Monday in the Resources Building, 1416 Ninth Street.

The commission previously approved the city's application for state and federal funds for the project, but deed problems have required minor changes in the boundary of the project, thus the commission must approve the changes before the city can get the funds.

Also on the agenda is a proposed study of water pollution by boats and a staff presentation of projects proposed for 1970-71.

Northridge Street Plan Being Opposed

Corte Madera Avenue Homeowners Association board members have agreed to ask the Corte Madera Town Council and Planning Commission to disapprove the City of Mill Valley's proposed Northridge street plan, Dr. Sheldon Schwebel, member, reported yesterday.

If effected the plan would result in increased traffic on Corte Madera Avenue, which now receives 350 cars per hour, Schwegel said.

Board members will hold a general membership meeting at 8 p.m.,, April 2, at Dr. Schwebel's home at 347 Corte Madera Avenue.

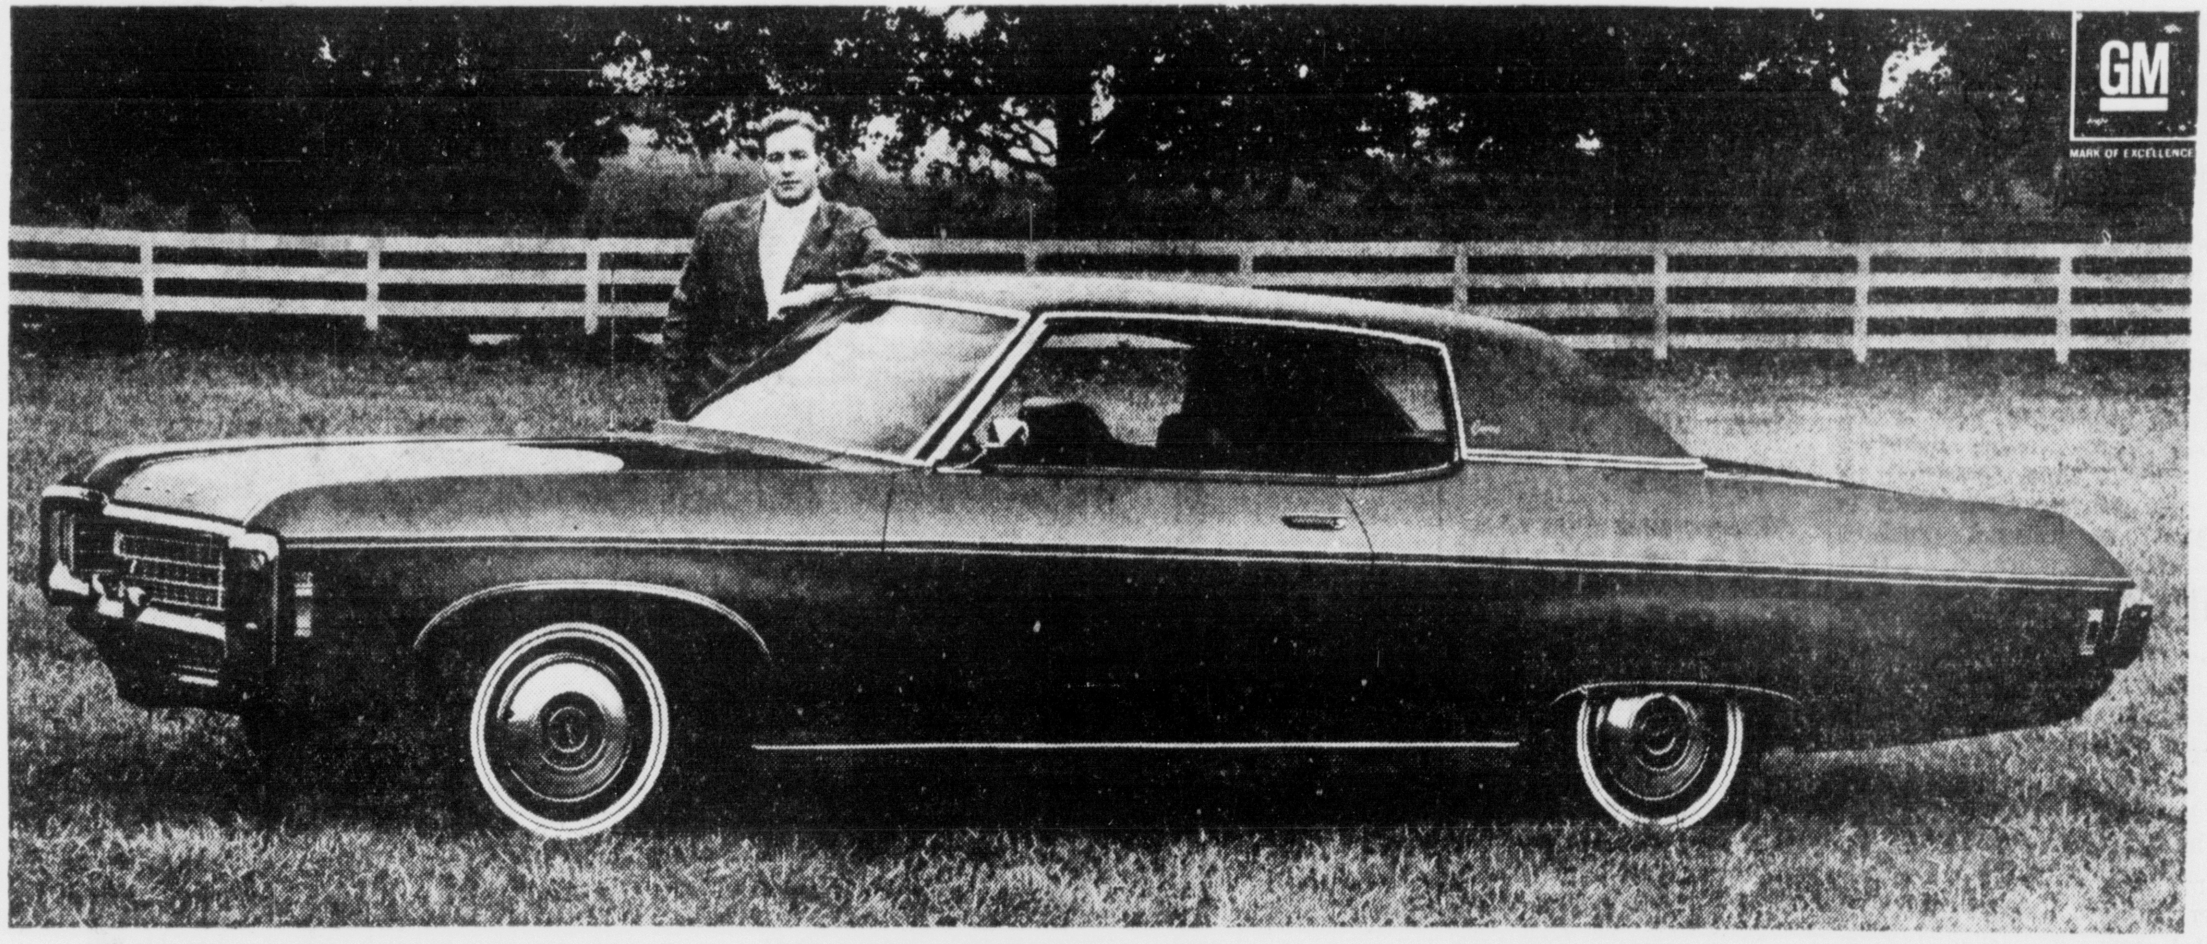
Putting you first, keeps us first. 1969 Chevrolet Caprice Coupe



Come see how many ways we put you first during our Value Showdown.

For one thing, we lowered prices in 1969 on many of our more popular extras. So, a '69 Caprice Coupe like the one shown is priced less than a comparably equipped '68 version.

The price of adding the larger V8 has been cut.

New advanced-design power disc brakes are priced $56.90* less than our power disc brakes last year.

Automatic transmissions are less, whether you ask for Powerglide or 3-range Turbo Hydra-matic.

Concealed headlights are $26.00* less—and that includes new headlight washers. Head restraints are standard now.

But price isn't all you get in Chevrolet's Value Showdown. There's real value in those solid steel Side-Guard Door Beams we build into every door. The smoother ride. The improved Astro Ventilation. The locking steering wheel. And a lot of other features that put you first.

But we don't mean to show off.

It's just that our Value Showdown can't help but show up our competition.

Show up at your Chevrolet dealer's and see why.

Flu Outbreak Shuts Catholic High School

Marin Catholic High School sent its students home today because seven of its 45 teachers were out with the flu, while student absenteeism because of sickness was increasing.

School officials, who said 120 of the school's 815 students were absent yesterday, sent students home as they arrived at their home rooms this morning. The county school superintendent's office said it has received no reports of public school closings or unusually heavy absenteeism.

The Marin Catholic closing came as state health officials warned that a new outbreak of influenza had hit the state. They said the latest outbreak was of Type B influenza, which is similar to the so-called Hong Kong flu strain which hit the state in epidemic proportions earlier ths year.

Health officials in both Marin and Sonoma Counties said so far they have had no reports of the Type B influenza virus in Marin or Southern Sonoma. They also said there has been no big increase in influenza cases.

Dr. Marilyn Hicks, assistant officer for Marin, said, however, "I suppose we'll have it like everybody else if it's in the rest of the state." She said symptoms of the Type B influenza — fever, headaches and body pains — are similar to the Hong Kong, or Type A, influenza. But, she added, you can still get Type B even if you have already suffered through the Hong Kong flu.

F. C. Jordan of the Sonoma County health office said state health officials had reported outbreaks of influenza in the county but county officials are not convinced the flu is of the Type B variety. In any case, he said, all the cases reported so far are north of Santa Rosa.

State Health Director Dr. Louis F. Saylor said the Type B outbreak poses a serious problem to the state because it could mean "two epidemics back-to-back" and because there are no large supplies of Type B vacine available.

He said the current outbreak in Calfironia was first identified in Walnut Creek with other outbreaks reported in Del Norte, Humboldt, San Bernardino and Sonoma counties. It is posible, he said, that teh state will experience only "localized occurrences" of the Type B virus.

New Satellite Will Be Busy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new Intelsat III satellite is about to become very busy relaying television coverage of two newsworthy events—President Nixon's trip to Europe, and the flight of Apollo 9.

Comsat said today that broadcasters already have booked about 40 hours of satellite time for television coverage from Europe to the United States of the nine-day tour by the President from Feb. 23 through March 3.

Comsat also has received, from abroad, requests for more than 17 hours of satellite time for TV coverage of the Apollo 9 earth-orbital mission Feb. 28 through March 10.

Indigent Legal Aid Problems Are Aired

Marin County Human Rights Commission could not meet officially last night because of lack of a quorum, but several commissioners met informally at the Civic Center to discuss legal aid for indigents.

Commissioner Lawrence A. Mayer, chairman of the legal advisory committee said that the Neighborhood Legal Aid Society, which operates in the Albert Building in San Rafael, is suffering from lack of space.

Another drawback, said Mayer, is that the legal aid society cannot handle criminal cases because of a restriction in its charter. All criminal cases are referred to the public defender, and the public defender can take a case only after the defendant has been arraigned.

Commissioner Bella Aaron pointed out that the public defender system is good, but the office is overloaded. She said one solution would be to get a list of volunteer attorneys who are willing to give legal aid to indigents involved in criminal cases.

Mayer, Mrs. AAaron, James Quiett and Rev. Francis Geddes were present last night, one short of a quorum.

Marin City Center Chief Quits Post

Charles W. Story, director of the Manzanita Center in Marin City, has resigned in roundabout fashion, and board members today refused to disclose his reason for quitting.

Story last week sent copies of his resignation letter to each member of the Marin City Community Services District board, and so, according to Chairman Douglas J. Quiett, the board can claim that it has not received such a resignation officially.

In a special meeting last night, the board made interim arrangements to run the center until a new director is hired, though it has taken no official notice yet of Story's resignation.

Story reportedly remarked at the meeting that he hoped to take a college job, but had no firm commitment.

Chairman Quiett said Story's resignation will be taken up officially, and the letter made public, at next Thursday's board meeting. He declined to say why Story was leaving, and other board members referred inquiries to the chairman. Story was not available for comment.

Story, a graduate of California Western University, worked four years with the Boys' Club of San Diego before coming Manzanita Center director in August 1967, at a salary of $11,000. He helped direct construction of the new center building, which was dedicated in April 1968.

Last night, the district board agreed to "$15 to $20 a week" raises, Quiett said, for staff members Margaret Beauchamp and Daniel Winter for their added duties after Story leaves and until a new director is hired.

Catholic Scholars Honored By School

An honors assembly was held last night at Marin Catholic High School's auditorium in tribute to the academic performance of 254 honor students, including four National Merit Scholarships finalists.

The four seniors qualifying for the scholarship competition, whose results will be announced April 30 are Katherine Colwell of San Anselmo, William Ramirez of Kentfield and Paul E. Butterworth and David M. Webb of San Rafael.

Water Boiling To Be Continued

Residents of Paradise Ranch Estates near Inverness were advised today by county environmental health department officials to continue boiling their drinking and cooking water.

Residents have been boiling water since Feb. 3 when bacteria was detected in it. Officials said the county health department will continue testing the water until the bacteria have been eliminated.

No illnesses have been reported as a result of the bacteria which only occasionally are dangerous to human health. Health authorities have identified the source of the bacteria as the coliform organism which sometimes developes during heavy winter rains.

Additional chlorine has been used in treatment of the water since the bacteria were discovered.

Three Members Resign Council

Three seats are vacant on the Marin City Council, which canceled its regularly scheduled meeting last night because of a lack of a quorum.

Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr., chairman, announced that Mrs. Helen Washington and Ephorn Freeman, representatives of low rental housing, have resigned from the council.

Banks also declared vacant the seat of Perison Knighten, a representative of the cooperative apartments, who has failed to attend meetings.

The council is scheduled to meet at 8 p.m. Feb. 27 at the Manzanita Center, Marin City.

Agreement Reached On Dredging

The Bel Marin Keys Community Service District board last night reached agreement with lending companies and Hydraulic Dredge of Oakland for dredging in the lagoon and waterways of the district, according to Mrs. James L. Zoeller, board secretary.

The district, she reported, will pay an additional $3,000 and the five lending firms in the area an additional $20,000 for the dredging, which will make the channel one foot less deep than first planned.

The original contract was for $53,775 and the new one for $76,775.

When the dredging company started the work, it found much more material to be removed than anticipated, she said. The new contract calls for removal of all material to five feet below low water where the original one called for removal to six feet below low water, she said.

The board also signed a contract with Jack L. Kinney for a 17-acre site in addition to the originally agreed upon 40 acres for spoils dumping, Mrs. Zoeller said.

The dredge, which has been shut down for the past three weeks, should be back in operation next week, she said.

The board voted to spend $250 for playground equipment for Montego Park, she said.

Suspect Booked For Card Theft

A San Rafael man was arrested on suspicion of forgery and possession of stolen credit cards today after police said they noticed he was driving with the wrong license plates.

George Edward Taylor, 822 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, was stopped by police because he was driving with New Mexico license plates after having been observed with California plates the day before.

Police reported he had bought two new tires and some gasoline totaling $32 with stolen credit cards.

He is being held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $2,500 bail.

Oil Workers Barred On Secondary Boycott

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—U.S. Dist. Judge Stanley Weigel ordered striking oil workers at Standard Oil's Richmond refinery yesterday to stop picketing truck and ship terminals and retail outlets doing business with the refinery.

He granted a preliminary injunction asked by the National Labor Relations Board against Richmond Local 1-561 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union and its Denver-based international. The union struck the refinery Jan. 4 after its contract expired Dec. 31.

The petition for injunction included photographs of pickets at the Port of Oakland Howard Terminal and Matsn Terminals and at the truck terminal of Ringsby Truck Lines in Oakland.

It said that since Jan. 6 pickets have been following trucks to terminals and picketing there, as well as other customers accepting deliveries from Standard's refineries. The NLRB said such picketing is an illegal secondary boycott under federal law.

"The evidence before me is literally overwhelming that there has been and threatens to continue to be action in violation of the law," Weigel said in granting the petition.

About 500 strikers returned to work today at the Shell Development Co. plant in Emeryville with a two-year contract generally following the terms of other settlements in the nationwide OCAW strike.

Health seekers in Iran cake their boides with black mud from Lake Urmia to relieve arthritis, rheumatism and other aches and pains, the National Geographic Society says. They lie in the thick, malodorous mud for hours, then bathe in the waters.

Downtown Study Leaders Named

Chairmen and vice chairmen for three subcommittees were named last night by the Novato Downtown Study Committee, according to City Mgr. Charles A Brown.

Charles Lewis was named chairman and Ross M. Tankersley vice chairman of the land use committee. Carolyn Crabtree was made chairman and Dr. Daniel J. Aughney vice chairman of the appearance committee. Chester A. Hibbert was named chairman and Larry L. Heon vice chairman of the circulation committee.

Additional members for each committee will be selected later, Brown said.

The committee suggested that future requests for use permits be sent to Sedway and Cooke, San Francisco planning firm, for its opinion before the permits go before the planning commission. The San Francisco firm will make the federally-assisted downtown study when the funds are available.

The committee changed its meeting time from 4 pm., to 7 a.m. each Thursday, according to Brown.

Space Program Review Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House science office, the Defense Department and the space agency will undertake a new study "to try to evolve a whole new space program proposal," President Nixon's science adviser says.

Dr. Lee A. DuBridge announced the study yesterday. He said the three agencies should have a proposal for Nixon by Sept. 1.

The study, he said, will be aimed at determining "what the space program should be in the next 10 years," following the American landing on the moon.

Petalumans Oppose Apartments Proposal

A large contingent of East Petalumans is expected to attend the city council meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. to protest the rezoning of 16.5 acres on Ely Boulevard South at East Washington Street.

The rezoning to permit apartments construction was approved over the objections of the Petaluma Gardens Homeowners Association by the planning commission on Feb. 4. The association will be joined by representatives of the East Petaluma Civic Association in charging the apartments will lower property values and place a heavy burden on local schools.

West Africans believe all food must be cooked.

Inmate Asks Delay In Murder Trial

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — An attorney for a San Quentin Prison inmate accused of murdering a Lake County sheriff's deputy Oct. 11, 1967, asked yesterday that the convict's March 3 trial date be put off.

John Lynn, 24, and Larry Taylor, 22, also an inmate at San Quentin, had been scheduled to face trial before San Francisco Superior Court Judge Joseph Karesh beginning last Monday. The date was pushed up to March 3 because of the heavy court calendar in San Francisco.

Lynn's attorney has asked for further delay so Lynn can be given more psychiatric tests, a request on which the court has yet to act.

Taylor and Lynn are charged with shooting to death Deputy David Hoyt in the Lake County Courthouse with another deputy's gun. The two men and another convict, Raymond Pettis, 24, were en route to arraignment there on a variety of charges stemming from their escape Sept. 24, 1967, from the Konocti Conservation Camp.

Pettis strangled himself in his San Quentin cell 11 days after the slaying.

The trial was transferred to San Francisco from Lake County because of pretrial publicity.

Both convicts, now in San Quentin, have pleaded innocent to the murder charge and one of attempted escape from the courthouse. Lynn also has pleaded innocent to a charge of assault by a life prisoner.

The pair also faces a later trial on charges of robbery, burglary and car theft at large after escaping the conservation camp. They won a change of venue from Lake to Marin County on those charges.

Flood Control Panel To Study Plans For Creek

The Ross Valley Flood Control Advisory board will meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Larkspur City Hall to discuss encroachments on Corte Madera Creek from Greenbrae to San Anselmo city limits.

The advisory board, headed by Neil R. Brixon, will try to set policy on whether or not encroachments such as docks and floats should be allowed on the creek, and if so, what kind of encroachments.

Charles E. Murphy, county flood control engineer, said that several encroachments now exist. These existed before the Army Corps of Engineers started flood control improvements.

Now, however, new applications are coming in, and the advisory board wants to set a policy and make recommendations to the corps, said Murphy.

Petaluman Seeks Board Re-election

Margaret Kullberg, 1036 Stage Gulch Road, Petaluma, filed candidacy papers yesterday for re-election to the Old Adobe School board.

Mrs. Kullberg is the first incumbent to file. The seats of Albin Bionda and James Gambanini will also be up for election on April 15. Robert E. Daly of Petaluma has filed for the Old Adobe race.

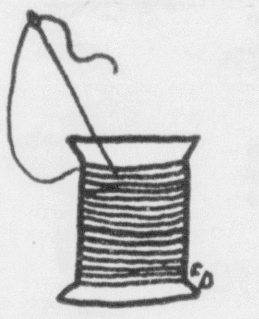
MRS. EARL DUNPHY, wife of Sausalito's mayor, studies the pattern she and other women of the Altar Society of the Star of the Sea Church will use in making new vestments for the church. She expects that this project will be her main occupation for some time. Her home, family and church are her main interests. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

Church And Family Interests Busy Sausalito Mayor's Wife

(One of a series of interviews with wives of Marin County mayors.)

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Mrs. Earl Dunphy, wife of Sausalito's mayor, is a native Sausalitan who has lived in Sausalito 58 years, 37 of them in the same house on Filbert Street where she and her husband have lived since their marriage in 1932.



Mrs. Dunphy is the daughter of James Doyle, who was chief of police in Sausalito 18 years until he retired in 1948. Her brother is Francis Doyle of Mill Valley.

A graduate of Tamalpais High School, Blanche Doyle attended San Francisco State College two years before her marriage to Earl Dunphy, who is a machinist with the San Francisco Newspaper Publishing Company in San Francisco.

They have two daughters, Patricia — Mrs. James M. McCallister of Strawberry, who has six children, and Joan —Mrs. Richard Mason of San Mateo, who has two.

"My main interests are my family and grandchildren," Mrs. Dunphy said "but I am very much in activities of the Star of the Sea Church here in Sausalito. I like to do decorating for it and I am chairman of the Altar Society.

Mrs. Dunphy says that while she is not at all active in politics, as her husband has been more than 30 years, she is deeply interested in city affairs.

"We get a lot of mail and phone calls, and there are many interruptions by phone calls, some of them in the middle of dinner, but I don't mind," she says. "Life would be dull without them."

The mayor's wife has seen many changes take place in Sausalito over the years, the main ones being that there were few tourists or tourist attractions and she used to know everyone in town. She liked the friendliness then but feels there has been much progress that is worth while.

The Dunphys share an interest in gardening and art — their house is filled with paintings done by the mayor's brother — and they enjoy watching the ever-changing aspects of the unusually good view of the Bay and hills they have from their living room and porch.

Mrs. Walter A. Andersen Heads Marin Garden Club

Mrs. Walter A. Andersen of San Anselmo will be installed president of the Garden Society of Marin tomorrow night at the club's annual banquet at 7 p.m. in Alexander Hall, San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

The new president formerly served as club president five years ago and has also been publicity chairman and twice served as vice president. She is currently corresponding secretary in the Marin Bonsai Club and a past president of the Triple Ten Club of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., a group of executive secretaries. Mrs. Andersen was employed as executive secretary to the rate department manager of PG and E in San Francisco.

MRS. WALTER ANDERSEN

She attended El Centro Junior College and studied insurance brokerage management at Golden Gate College and interior decoration at the University of California Extension.

The Andersens, who are now retired, have lived in Marin 20 years, and they are parents of Walter Alden Andersen, vice president of the Bank of New York City; Jackson P. Andersen of Daly City, who is with Select Magazines, Inc.

Together the couple served as presidents of the Come Double Club of the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo and they enjoy hunting, fishing and traveling. Their gardening specialties are camellias, chrysanthemums, azaleas and Bonsai.

Other officers to be installed tomorrow night are Alec Thomas of San Anselmo, vice president; and Mmes. H. T. Longley of Larkspur, recording secretary; George A. Peterson of Fairfax, corresponding secretary; and Harold G. Hacke of San Anselmo, treasurer.

The program, "Man's Home," will be a slide and poetry presentation by Mrs. Byron White of Corte Madera.

Garden Society of Marin is a sustaining member of the Marin Art and Garden Center. Major events include an annual garden tour and the fall flower festival, with proceeds contributed to the support of the center. In addition there are monthly meetings on horticultural and cultural subjects held at the Art and Garden Center in the Livermore Room at 8 p.m. on the third Friday of each month.

District P-TA Gives New Award

Mrs. William Rudee, member of the Santa Rosa Board of Education and a long-time worker on community programs designed to help young people, has received the first continuing service award from the 14th District Parent-Teacher Association. The presentation was made by Dr. Mitchell Soso, superintendent of the Santa Rosa city schools.

In presenting the award to Mrs. Rudee, Dr. Soso called attention to her conscientious work with the Board of Education on which she has served since 1965. He noted her activites as moderator of the Education Round Table formerly sponsored by the schools and establishing a program of volunteer aides in the Santa Rosa schools.

Dr. Soso also spoke of Mrs. Rudee's service with the 14th District P-TA. The mother of four children is a past president and program chairman of the 14th District. She was one of the leaders of the district's recent explorations of family life education courses. Mrs. Rudee had previously received an honorary life membership from Santa Rosa High School P-TA.

The continuing service award has been established by the California Congress of Parents and Teachers as a method of honoring those individuals who have received an honorary life membership but are continuing their outstanding work on behalf of young people.

When someone is honored with an Honorary Life Membership, 25 dollars is sent to the student loan and scholarship fund. Since the first loan was granted in 1925, a total of $3,650,336 has been granted to enable many students to receive higher education or vocational training.

During World War II, the California P-TA added to its program of scholarships and fellowships, at first only for students preparing to enter elementary education, later for psychiatric social work, child welfare, special education, couseling and guidance, nursing, secondary education, international relations and children's library service.

Since the program began 11,300 students and teachers have benefited from these funds. Last year 6,607 honorary life memberships were awarded in California, and 421 special donations were made to the honorary life membership fund. This year, $158,000 will be granted in loans to California students and teachers, and $104,000 will be given in scholarships and fellowships.

An honorary life membership has a lot of "give" at both ends.

Dior Shows First Men's Wear

By LOUISE COOK

NEW YORK (AP) — Much ado about nothing too surprising. That just about sums up the showing of designer Marc Bohan's first collection of Christian Dior menswear.

Dior has been hanging around the fringes of the men's fashion industry for some time with items like ties, handkerchiefs and pajamas.

Now, apparently encouraged by the success of men like Bill Blass and Pierre Cardin, Bohan, the slender, 43-year-old who has been Dior's star designer since 1961, has gone all the way with suits, coats and sportswear.

Bohan's designs were presented at what was billed as a "fashion premiere" Wednesday night at a Manhattan hotel. Unfortunately, the room was overcrowded, preventing most of the audience from getting more than a glimpse of the clothes. The commentary—by orchestra leader Skitch Henderson—never matched the costumes on the models. And the clothes were typical Dior—attractive, elegant, wearable. But not very exciting.

Suits were fitted with long jackets and deep—13-inch—single vents in the back. Lapels were wide, trousers slightly belled at the bottom. Jackets were about equally divided between single and double-breasted and two and three-button.

One encouraging note was the heavy use of brown to break up the traditional blue, gray and olive that always dominates menswear collections.

The best part of the show was the presentation of the "Boutique Collection," a group of one-of-a-kind outfits described by Dior as avant garde.

Included was a camel hair walking suit with mink paw lining; a single-breasted, four-button suit in a color that can only be described as lavender; and a collarless evening suit of burgundy velvet with matching, jewel-encrusted weskit. Another interesting evening outfit was the white silk dinner jacket worn with trousers that sat low on the hip.

Bohan himself wore a double-breasted navy pin stripe suit with wide lapels and three buttons. He wore a solid navy tie and a red and blue paisley handkerchief in his breast pocket.

Try Using Different Flowers On Valentine Dinner Table Tonight

Although its origin is uncertain, Valentine's has become one of the most traditional days on the calendar. And traditionally, the popular way of saying "I love you" on Feb. 14 has called for the expansive use of the color red, the all-too familiar hearts and cherubs complete with bows and arrows, greeting cards and, of course, red roses.

For those who are advocates of custom, following the formula is always the safest of tried roads. However, this is the decade of change, of breaking with tradition and the ways of the establishment, of the individualist who looks for something other than the social norm.

IN THE LANGUAGE OF FLOWERS each blossome has its own particular meaning, according to Florists' Transworld Delivery designers. And, for that special someone on Valentine's, they suggest a floral bouquet to express the traditional sentiments of the day. In the arrangement above, lavender orchids say, "beautiful lady," the white roses, "you're heavenly," and the blue violets, "I'll be true always."

So, too, in expressing our sentiments to friends and loved ones on Valentine's Day, why stick to the usual red hearts and roses? Instead, stray from the routine and try a bit of creative individualism in keeping with the times.

If you are one of those people looking for a different way to deliver your Valentine message, the romantic "language of flowers" provides the perfect vehicle. Each of the many flowers, with its own special meaning, offers endearing terms to express the emotions of love and friendship.

For example, blue violets say, "I'll be true, always;" the pink carnations, "I'll never forget you;" the chrysanthemum, "You're a wonderful friend;" the white gardenia, "you're lovely;" the iris, "your friendship means much to me;" the orchid, "beautiful lady;" pansies, "thinking of you;" and the white (not red) rose, "you're heavenly."

So, in recommending a departure from tradition, a unique and meaningful Valentine's message can be conveyed by giving a specially created floral arrangement of any of these flowers, or a mixed combination.

Needless to say, the romantic aura of this "language of flowers" Valentine will be long remembered by the recipient, as will the thought that went into making it something more than the expected.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'Little Brown Child' Brings Blessings To Blond Brothers

DEAR HELEN:

I feel qualified to answer questions about mixed-race adoptions (as asked by one of your readers) because we are the adoptive parents of a little brown child.

My husband and I were blessed with three natural-born, healthy, beautiful blond sons. For health reasons, we felt it unadvisable to have another child, although we did desire a daughter.

We decided to adopt a child, and in talking with the Childrens Home Society, we found there was a category of child called "hard-to-adopt." These included children who were beyond the infant stage, children with medical problems, and children of minority heritage, especially those of mixed-racial background.

We felt that our kind of home was one in which a child of any background would be welcomed, loved and accepted. Consequently, we adopted a little daughter of a minority race, with brown skin, black hair, and big black eyes.

Lisa is 16 months old now, and a lovely, happy child. She is adored by her brother and shown off with much pride as "our little adopted sister."

There were some objections from friends, and even a few relatives who felt this was not proper, and indeed would cause a hardship on the boys to have to defend such a sister. However, most of these feelings slipped away as people actually saw and could hold the baby. It is easy to be prejudiced to an idea or a group of unknown people, but rare to have negative feelings against one sweet little baby.

I would urge anyone thinking of a mixed-race adoption to give it much thought, as this is not for everyone. We have found our family is always in the limelight I am sure most of the attention is just curiosity, for the contrast between the children is striking. On occasion, I have had people question my moral integrity and this if, of course, upsetting.

The most important advice I could give would be: Go to a good licensed adoption agency — state, county or private — and talk it over with them. Be completely honest in how you feel. They will help you evaluate those feelings.

More families who are willing to show love and acceptance of all races are desperately needed in our world today. All children should be accepted and loved for themselves. What better way to live this love than to take a child of a different racial background into your family? —MRS.D.C.

P.S. We feel so strongly about this matter we are planning to adopt another daughter of mixed racial heritage.

DEAR HELEN:

You said you wished more people would show the positive side on the race question. I couldn't agree more.

We are the parents of two children, one Caucasian, born to us, and one of Negro-Caucasian mixture. We are members of an organization, "Transracial Adoptive Parents," which includes over 100 families in the Chicago area. We say to interested parents: "Come on in, the water's fine!"

We all recognize the many problems that can occur as our children grow up, but we also are terribly aware of the alternative, which is a series of foster homes or no family, at all, as you so correctly pointed out, Helen.

— MRS. S.G.

DEAR HELEN:

About mixed-race adoptions: "Mixing" does not make people change their ideas nor does it control their comments. I feel the "different race" child would be far happier in a dorm with other half-breeds, just as retarded children are happier in state homes, among their own kind. — FROM DALLAS

Homes Are Susceptible

NEW YORK (WMNS) — School fire drills are taken for granted but fire is 200 times more likely to break out in your home.

First step in remedying this situation, say fire authorities, is a family council. Children should be warned that the major danger is not the flames but accompanying deadly gases and smoke. A speedy escape is essential. There is never time to gather up favorite belongings or pets.

Since most fires break out between midnight and six a.m., bedroom doors should be closed every night to help protect sleepers. Each bedroom should have two planned escape routes. In case of fire, test the door before opening it. If it is warm to the touch, use the alternate escape route.

To prevent the inhalation of suffocating gases, you should try to cover your nose and mouth with a pillow or wet cloth. Crouch as you run because the air near the floor is cooler and cleaner.

Food Prices To Climb, But Per Cent Spent On Groceries May Be Lower

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The government reported that Americans will spend more than ever for food this year, but the percentage of the average family income spent for groceries may be the lowest ever.

The Agriculture Department predicted that consumers will spend a record $105.5 billion to $106 billion for food in 1969, up from $101 billion in 1968.

But Stephen J. Hiemstra, a department specialist in food economics, predicted the average American family will spend a record low of 17 per cent to 17.1 per cent of his after-tax earnings for food this year.

Last year, 17.2 per cent of disposable consumer income was used to buy food, either groceries or meals in restaurants, the department said.

In a report called "National Food Situation," the Agriculture Department predicted higher retail prices this year for beef, eggs, dairy products, cereal, bakery products, soft drinks and cocoa products.

Lower prices are expected for fruits, vegetables, poultry and pork.

Earlier, government economists predicted that retail food prices this year would average 2 per cent to 2.5 per cent above those of 1968. Prices grocery stores were expected to increase about 1 to 2 per cent, while restaurant meals probably will rise about 5 per cent.

Compared to the 1957-59 period, the department said, all food prices during 1968 were up 19.3 per cent. This included an increase of 15.9 per cent in groceries and 36.3 per cent for restaurant meals.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY
Is the parent an intruder when he or she attempts to teach the child to read? Is he "butting into" what is the school teacher's prerogative when he introduces the youngster to the wonderful world of thep rinted word, even before the child has entered school? A reading specialist for the San Rafael city schools answers those and other related questions in tomorrow's I-J weekend supplement, and the answers may not be the ones you expect.
Some people, says Kirby Atterbury of Tiburon, have fallen in love with Great Britain and some with Greece, "but I just happen to be nuts about Portugal." As a result, he has been there no less than 24 times. The big attarction for restaurateur Atterbury is the wine of Portugal. And Atterbury has established himself as an expert on Portuguese vintages. He discusses Portugal, its people and its grapes in tomorrow's Marin Magazine.

MUSIC REVIEW

Dominican's New Concert Series Has Good Start

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Dominican College's new Music Associates Concert Series, sponsored by the music department, opened auspiciously last night with a fine chamber music recital by soprano Joan Smith, flutist Darrell Parker and pianist harpsichordist Fae McNally.

Caleruego Hall is acoustically right for such intimate presentations — much better than Angelico Hall when a stage is not required.

While the musicians were a well-matched trio and the program well-chosen to display their talents, Miss Smith was the outstanding performer. We have heard her several times, and this was the best work we have heard from her.

All three musicians were at their best in the finale of the program, Schubert's ''The Shepherd on the Rock,'' in which Miss Smith showed instrumental ability in negotiating wide intervals and smooth control.

Her clear, light vocal quality made a beautiful combination with the flute in a cantata by Alessandro Scarlatti and especially in the cantata "The Morning" by Thomas Arne with McNally accompanying on the harpsichord. Parker played with admirable dexterity but a more full bodied tone would have been nice when he was accompanying the voice.

While McNally's and Parker's performance on the harpsichord and flute of the J. S. Bach Sonata in E Flat Major was technically proficient, there was not enough contrast in the tempi of the movements. The first allegro was more like an andante, the siciliano was not quite slow enough, but the final movement was a true allegro.

McNally's piano solo, the Brahms Intermezzo, Opus 118, No. 2 was played with too much rubato for our taste. We have heard him to much better advantage in the Inverness summer music festival.

The chickadee is the state bird of Massachusetts.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY:

"Great Race" — Elaborate comedy-parody takes place in 1908. Two rival daredevils in a round the world auto race. Great fun!

"High, Wild and Free" — Filmed in northern British Columbia. Photographer Gordon Eastman gives us a tribute to some of the last unspoiled country left on the northern hemisphere. Excellent, especially for lovers of the out-of-doors.

"Swiss Family Robinson" — Adventure story is a delight for all ages.

"Yellow Submarine'' — Sparkling animated cartoon featuring special humor and music of the Beatles will appeal to those interested in new techniques of cartooning.

ADULTS AND TEENS:

"Bullitt" — Melodrama involves gangsters, police and an ambitious politician. Violence goes all out in blood and gore for its shock effect.

"Charly" — Poignant dramatization of a fictional case history of first human subject of a new type of brain surgery on a mentally retarded young man. Thought-provoking, sensitive performances from the cast.

"Grand Slam'' — Intricate scheme for stealing $10 million in diamonds . . . good suspense.

"Salt and Pepper" — Played as comedy spoof with emphasis on so much violence, ingenious methods of killing people and constant shooting the plot gets completely lost.

"Up the Down Staircase" — Excellent drama. Realistic portrayal of young woman who teaches in New York's slum area. Touchy moments delicately handled. Humor smoothly interwoven.

BORDERLINE
(Most sources say Adults Only)

"Bonnie and Clyde" — Young man teams with pretty waitress, one grand spree. They wantonly kill and rob. Treating armed robbery and coldblooded murder as comedy will offend many people. Explicit sex and sadistic violence are revolting.

"Night They Raided Minsky's" — Filmed in New York's lower East Side set in the 1920's film recreates the burlesque shows with bawdy skits, double entendre and is garish and at times offensive.

ADULTS ONLY:

"Barbarella" — Adult comic strip goes so far beyond mere vulgarity in sex, nudity and perverted brutality that it is close to pronography.

"Candy" — A 17-year-old girl wanders through a series of sexual adventures with the strangest assortment of characters ever presented on the screen. Massively dull, ugly pornography.

"Faces" — Two middle-aged people find their marriage empty and seek satisfaction elsewhere. Dialogue is pretentious and there is much profanity and sex.

"I'll Never Forget What's His Name" — Cynical satire about a young man who rebels against his tyrannical boss. Violence and explicit sex are most offensive.

"Secret Ceremony" — A sham mother-daughter relationship in this unrewarding melodrama about the perverse games sick people play. Like a freak show it leaves one with nothing but a disagreeable aftertaste. (Parents Magazine).

"Thomas Crown Affair" — Plotting and execution of big bank robbery is ingenious. Criminal and investigator become involved in torrid love affair. Crime pays well in this case. Very modern treatment. All phases of immorality are taken for granted.

Orion, the most brilliant constellation in the northern skies, is best seen during January.

The lilac is the state flower of New Hampshire.

Marin Dining And Wining

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Restaurant Scene Continues To Change Fast Around Marin

Although at least four new restaurants not yet opened and some forthcoming changes were mentioned in our new Dining and Wining Guide published yesterday, others continue to come to notice.

Last Saturday the Hansa House Family Buffet at Northgate Fashion Mall closed permanently. The space will now be used for other purposes, possibly a breezeway connecting the mall to the west parking area, which has been badly needed, and maybe one or more stores in the remainder.

It was not a matter of poor business for the restaurant that caused the closing. Manning's, Inc., owner of the Hansa House, did well (better than its predecessor restaurant at that address) but the company had no long term lease on the property.

Undoubtedly Manning's will reopen in another Marin location, and I understand a somewhat different type of operation is planned. It may be a plush dining house and cocktail lounge.

Meanwhile the company is opening Solomon Grundy's — a new steakhouse and lounge at the Berkeley Marina next Monday. It is built out over the water and I am told that this is what is contemplated for Marin. However, at this writing, no lease had been signed.

ANOTHER CHANGE has just been confirmed.

Very soon — perhaps in a week or so — Burge's Drive-In at Ignacio will close down for two to three months for a complete remodeling and a new type of operation.

Ed Burge is having a banquet room to seat 100 constructed, and also a cocktail lounge with a capacity of 65. Tables and booths will be installed, the drive-in features will be discontinued and the place will be conducted as a coffee shop and family-type restaurant. Next year we'll include it in the new Dining and Wining Guide.

There will be a change of name, of course, but undoubtedly "Burge's" will figure in it in some way. It has been called that for more than 15 years and the term has identification value.

ONE OF THE FEW restaurants in the county that had a good word for business in January was Le Chalet Basque in Santa Venetia. Frequently the first month of the year is a letdown after the holiday season, and it happened again this year.

Both dining rooms were kept busy if not filled. If the same pace continues I can just see chef Bernard Epstein deciding to add still more dishes to his already extended list of entrees. If I am not mistaken the menu has more than 30 now. That's more than the number featured by some restaurants twice the size.

I'm not sure I'd approve if I had to pay the bills for all that food, but evidently it's one thing responsible for bringing in the customers. And Bernard claims that practically every item is ordered often enough to justify continuing serving it.

There are new chairs now in the upper dining room, adding to the improvements program which seems to be a continuous thing here.

HOUNDSTOOTH INN, 10 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael has a new menu, with most dishes available at both lunch and dinner hours. Available are a variety of omelets, sandwhiches (both hot and cold), salads, diet specials and side orders. Top menu figure is $2.75 which is reasonable enough, and daily specials that are added intermittently also manage to stay under that price.

In the popular sandwich department, grilled Reuben on rye goes for $1.40, hot pastrami at $1.50, hot roast beef at $1.65 and abalone at $1.75.

Hours are from 11:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Closed Mondays.

NOTHING HAS BEEN MENTIONED here recently about the proposed Senor Alfredo's Mexican Restaurant going into San Anselmo, but construction is in progress and you should be able to look for an opening in another month or six weeks.

Senor Alfredo's will occupy a portion of the former Safeway store on San Anselmo Avenue. The greater part of the building is being converted into San Anselmo's new Post Office. This should be ready by the first of March. Al Barthel won't have his restaurant completed until the middle or end of the month.

Meanwhile he's been acquiring more and more furnishings and Mexican artifacts and may have time for still another trip south of the border for an additional supply before his opening.

SUNDAY $3.95 BRUNCH at Cafe Bon Vin, San Anselmo continues to attract visitors. This may seem to be high for that type of meal, but it includes champagne and a choice of at least nine different brunch entrees at that price, plus a few others in higher brackets. Also supplied are fruit, several kinds of bread and a special coffee.

Just figure it this way: After all that eating you won't be inclined to make another trip out for Sunday dinner.

This week Fred Cherry has a new dinner menu out, featuring a banquet of flaming dishes. Next Wednesday's provincial dinner piece de resistance is veau Marengo. Price for the meal is $4 and there's an added $2 for the preliminary wine tasting, which really should be included to get the full benefit of the evening.

JOHN JOHNSON AND BOB MOHER opened their second Booby's restaurant in December. That new one, located in Modesto, apparently has taken hold almost as well as the one at 3741 Redwood Highway north of San Rafael.

Perhaps the output in Modesto isn't quite up to this one yet. The Marin "shack" serves close to 7,000 customers a month.

John and Bob have no intentions of stopping with these two. It's in their mind to develop a restaurant chain, which can be accomplished technically with just one more link.

Biggest sellers at Booby's are its roast beef sandwiches, and wouldn't you know it, hamburgers.

YESTERDAY'S new Dining and Wining Guide featured 29 Sonoma restaurants in addition to almost four times that many in Marin County.

This was the first year that Sonoma County became an official part of our restaurant "beat." Obviously it may be some time before we are able to give it the same coverage as we give Marin, since almost all our circulation is here.

In time we may be able to provide a more extensive Sonoma list. Meanwhile, if there are dineries in that area you consider to be particularly interesting and worthy of coverage we's like to hear about them.

CELEBRATION AT LIN FA GARDENS

Once a year Lin Fa Gardens at Northgate Shopping Center is the scene of a gala anniversary party. Polynesian singers, dancers and musicians are brought in to entertain the diners. Fifth anniversary party tonight features floor shows at 8:30 and 10:30 p.m.

Proposed Budget Includes Chunk For A Bay Park

An appropriation of $86,250 from the 1964 Beaches and Parks Bond Act fund, to help Marin Acquire a bay front park in the China Camp-McNear's Beach area, is in Gov. Ronald Reagan's budget for 1969-70.

This assurance came yesterday from William Penn Mott Jr., director of the state Department of Parks and Recreation, in a letter to Pierre W. Joske, county director of beaches and parks.

The county budget this year includes $189,000 for acquisition of a bay front park. The addition of $86,250 from the state bond act would bring the total to $275,250.

Joske said the county has also asked for federal help from the land and water conservation fund to pay for the park.

Although the exact location for a bay front park has not been pinpointed, Joske said the logical area would be China Camp or McNear's Beach.

Convicted Drug Dealer Sentenced

A 25-year-old Mill Valley man who, narcotic agents said, was a large dealer in marijuana in the San Geronimo Valley yesterday was given a 5 year-to life sentence in state prison.

William Richard Schraps, who was arrested in a county-wide narcotics raid last February, had pleaded guilty to three counts of selling marijuana. An additional charge of selling LSD was dismissed at the request of the district attorney.

Judge Harold J. Haley, who sentenced Schraps, had committed him to the California Medical Facility at Vacaville for diagnosis prior to the sentencing. Both the Marin County Probation Office and the district attorney had recommended Schraps be sent to prison.

Crew Fights New Oil Leak; Opinions Differ

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — Workmen on an offshore oil well platform struggled today to contain a fresh leak that formed a new slick of crude oil eight miles off the southern California coast.

The flow of oil from fissures in the ocean bottom was a fraction of an earlier leak which spewed more than 230,000 gallons of oil to the surface where winds pushed it onto 30 miles of beaches.

Estimates of the rate of flow from the new leak varied between 2,100 and 120 gallons daily, depending on whether a state official or Union Oil Co. spokesman was questioned.

Oilworkers today readied a huge drum which they planned to lower on top of the major portion of the leaking fissures. The leaking oil would be sucked up through a hose inserted through the top of the drum and pumped into barges for disposal.

The process was likened to a "reverse funnel" which would prevent additional oil escaping on the surface of the Pacific where it could pollute more miles of beaches.

Tugboats dragged a contraption formed from two 800-foot long booms lashed together in a V-shape which would skim the slick from the surface, weather permitting.

The prevailing winds today tended to push the new slick toward the shore but the Coast Guard said there were no confirmed reports that the new oil had contaminated any beaches as yet.

Crews were still spreading straw and chemicals on the sand on both sides of Santa Barbara to sop up the gummy mess from the earlier, 12-day leak which was thought sealed a week ago.

President Fred L. Hartley of Union Oil, which operates the platform six miles off the coast, said the new leak was "residual oil and gas coming up from the formation" which was the source of the original leak. It was "expected to work itself out," said the spokesman.

Paul De Faco, regional director of the federal Air and Water Pollution Control Administration, said the new oil leak developed Wednesday.

De Faco said of Union's statement that the leak was residual oil, "it may have been oil that was not bled off before, or it may be something else."

If the leak was actually a renewal of the original flow, it would be difficult to halt. The original well which erupted in an undersea gusher has been plugged with tons of drilling mud and cement.

Sewer Board Studies New Manhole Lids

A new, lighter type of manhole cover was described to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District directors last night by Gerry Baker, representing Phoenix Iron Works.

Baker said his product fits more tightly because it its machine edged, and therefore cuts down on storm infiltration.

The directors asked engineer J. Warren Nute to study the new cover and make a recommendation.

The Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District directors also:

EASEMENTS — Asked attorney Philip Assaf to check a request by Gallinas Village Community Services District that the sanitary district either blacktop or spray the 10-foot utility easements that run from street to street in Gallinas Village.

BACK FLOW — Asked Director William Brook to prepare a news release to inform the people what steps they can take in case of sewer overflows.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned to 7:30 p.m. Feb. 27 at the district office, 300 Smith Ranch Road.

Boat Storage Area Proposed

A small boat storage area and dock should be temporarily located adjacent to the city's sewage treatment plant on Sycamore Avenue, a Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission subcommittee agreed last night.

According to parks and recreation director Don Dimitratos, the two-member subcommittee, Sarah Davis and George M. Cagwin, said permanent facilities for the small boats should not be constructed until the city's property on Richardson Bay, west of Enchanted Knolls, has been filled.

An additional three to four feet of fill is due to be placed on the land east of Project 17 and adjacent to the city's proposed small craft harbor within the next six to eight months, Dimitratos said.

The subcommittee will make its recommendations at the Feb. 24 parks and recreation commission meeting at 8 p.m. in the Mill Valley Library board room.

Temblor Wakes Vancouver Area

SEATTLE (AP) — A brief earthquake woke residents of northwest Washington and British Columbia today, but no damage or injuries were reported.

University of Washington seismologist Norman Rasmussen said the tremor was centered 70 to 80 miles northwest of Seattle and measured 3.5 to 4 on the Richter scale. It lasted about 20 seconds.

The quake rattled windows and shook books and dishes from shelves. Police switchboards in several cities were flooded with calls.

Walkaway Prisoner Is Back In Custody

A 20-year-old prisoner, who walked out of Marin Superior Court Monday and disappeared, was back in custody today.

The California Highway Patrol booked Robert Bruce Jones, a transient, into Marin County Jail on suspicion of car theft, escaping from custody and possession of marijuana after stopping him in a car at 5:15 p.m. yesterday on Highway 101 in Alto.

Jones appearing in Superior Court Monday, pleaded innocent to a charge of car theft, and then walked out the door instead of taking his place among jail prisoners. A baliff ran after him, but Jones disappeared.

Yesterday, the highway patrol said, a patrolman flagged down a car with no license plates and found Jones at the wheel. A check showed the car was reported stolen from Adele P. Baker of Redwood Ranch, Ignacio, and Jones was sought for escaping.

While Jones was being booked into jail again, officers said, he tried to hide a marijuana cigarette tucked into his waistband.

Jones was jailed without bail on the new charges and was to appear today in Marin Municipal Court. Before he escaped Monday, a preliminary hearing on the initial car theft charge was set for March 17 in Superior Court.

Persons wishing to register to participate in a discussion group may obtain forms at the Dixie School District office at 35 Trellis Drive.

Black Leader Views Anti-Jewish Feelings

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Wilfred T. Ussery, national chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality, said yesterday Jewish businessmen are to blame for what he described as animosity of Negroes toward Jews.

The split, the Negro leader said, is "a product of how the Jewish people function as entrepreneurs in the black community."

Ussery denounced Israel as an aggressor in the Mideast. He called a news conference to report on his presence recently at the second International Conference in Support of Arab Peoples at Cairo.

Pressed about the disaffection of American Jews and Negroes, Ussery said it has come about "because one of the most important problems plaguing communities economically is the cash flow out of black communities."

He said $35 billion comes into black areas, and all but $8 billion flows out to "white suburbia, the corner drug store, the grocery store, the landlord."

"Those businesses are owned by Jewish entrepreneurs," he said.

In response to a question, Ussery said just because the Jew himself had been an object of oppression for centuries was "no reason why we should be the recipient of that kind of oppression."

On the Mideast situation, Ussery branded Israel as an invader of Arab lands and a country that accepted the support of racist South Africa to maintain its own existence.

"There is no record of Israel ever voting against the Republic of South Africa," he said. "This is of great concern to the black people in this country.

"Israel exists in its present perimeter as the result of one aggression after another and in each case having that aggression condemned by the United Nations."

The leader of the 3,000-member organization charged that Israel's land "formerly was held by the Palestinians . . . and because of Israel the Arabs of Palestine as a people no longer exist."

SYNANON CONTINUES TO GROW

Synanon's new "town hall," a social and recreation center at the institution's headquarters on Tomales Bay, can be seen under construction (left) in this aerial view by Independent-Journal photographer Bob Hax, taken yesterday from the plane of San Rafael pilot Oscar E. Montgomery. Synanon, famous for its drug rehabilitation program and "games" therapy, received a $25,000 grant from the Kresge Foundation last year for the addition to its plant, but most of the work is volunteered by foundation friends.

Injuries Are Fatal To Girl Struck By Car

Six-year-old Toni Cameron of San Rafael died yesterday of internal injuries about two hours after she was struck by a car while on her way to school at about 8:30 a.m.

Her death was the second traffic death fatality in Marin County so far this year, compared to none at the same time a year ago.

Toni, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cameron of 15 G Street, was hit while crossing Fourth Street at G Street, San Rafael police said.

Charles Von Loewenfeldt, 52, of 430 Forbes Avenue, the driver, told police his vision was impaired by equipment around a manhole at the intersection. He was driving east on Fourth Street.

Von Loewenfeldt, according to police, said he had stopped at the crosswalk at the corner to let a child across, started again and felt a bump. A witness said the back wheel of his car passed over the child.

Police said the child was not in the crosswalk when the accident occurred.

An autopsy was pending at Harry M. Williams Mortuary.

Gnoss Field Fatal Crash Cause Denied

A federal air safety investigator in Oakland said today he has not completed his investigation of the Dec. 26 airplane crash at Gnoss Field north of Novato which killed a flight instructor and his student pilot.

William Slater, of the National Transportation Safety Board in Oakland, said a Jan. 31 Independent - Journal story which said he had attributed the cause of the crash to icing of the carburetor was not accurate.

Slater said the report was based on a reporter's misinterpretation of his discussion about possible causes of the crash. He said he had reported that the crash "could" have been caused by carburetor icing, but added that the cause might have been any of a variety of other things, ranging from a collision with a bird to a pilot heart attack.

The field investigation of the crash will not be completed for at least another three months, Slater said, and the blame for the crash, to be determined by the safety board's analysts in Washington, will not be assigned until after he files his report. It is not his function to determine the cause of the crash, he said.

The crash killed student pilot William J. Filkorn, 31, of Mill Valley, and instructor Stephen McCaffrey, 23, of Santa Rosa.

It still has not been determined who was flying the Piper Cherokee 140 although Filkorn was in the pilot's seat of the dual-control plane.

New Student Club Sets A Car Wash

A car wash will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday by the members of the Chevelier, newly formed auto club, at the Grant Nelson service station at Novato Boulevard and Center Road, Novato, according to Kerry Atkinson, car wash chairman.

Chevelier is composed of members from both Novato and San Marin high schools, Atkinson said.

Mothers' Patrol Held Solution To Molesters

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

Concerned mothers should band together to patrol the shady, quiet street of Ross to scare off potential child molesters, Town Councilman Natalie G. Lewis told a group of upset parents last night.

She proposed the mother patrols during a meeting in which parents, concerned over the latest in a series of indecent exposures in the community, demanded increased police protection.

"We're just asking for these people (sex perverts) to come here," one mother told the council as she and others urged that the four-man Ross police force be increased by at least two and preferably three or four men. "Some day some little girl is not going to come home."

Another mother, angrily telling the council it should go further than its present plans to hire one extra policeman, added, "Our children aren't protected. We're raising them in a state of fear." She said talking of only one more policeman was "rationalizing the status quo."

The father of the 7-year-old victim of the most recent exposure incident urged that the council consider hiring at least two more men.

Council members, however, under the current tax rate. The hiring, they agreed would have to wait on next fiscal year's budget setting.

Insisting that the number of exposure incidents — one so far this year, nine last year and six in the three preceding years — was "not that dramatic," Mrs Lewis chided the parents for expecting too much of the police.

"Mothers ought to take more responsibility instead of complaining to the police," she said, suggesting the mother patrols concentrate on Lagunitas Road, Laurel Grove Avenue and Shady Lane where most of the incidents have occurred.

She said the best weapon against further incidents was "more involvement," adding: "Our police force suffers from the quiet, relaxed attitudes most of us have."

Mayor Frederick S. Allen and Councilman W. James Dawson vigorously supported Mrs. Lewis' insistence that the force should be expanded by only one man.

Dawson told the parents. "From my standpoint, sitting on this council, it comes down to a matter of dollars and cents." He said the town could easily afford one more policeman, that two more would be uneconomical and that the town "absolutely cannot afford" more than that. The current police budget is about $54,000 but overtime costs already this year will push it closer to $60,000, he said.

Dawson also said the number of child molestings in Ross was not out of line with the number in similar communities and said the Ross police force, in size and salaries, compares favorably with other Marin County forces.

He endorsed Mrs. Lewis' mother patrol idea, saying, "You can't always shift the burden to somebody else. You sometimes have to take the burden yourself."

This was echoed by Councilman Roy Farrington Jones who urged more "parental assistance" in teaching children how to protect themselves. Allen suggested also that parents urge their children to walk to and from school in groups.

The Ross Town Council Also:

MISSILES — Refused to consider a resolution, suggested from the audience, opposing installation of Sentinel missiles in Marin County. Allen and Dawson contended the proposed system was really none of their business, adding that decisions on deployment of the missiles should be left up "to the experts in Washington."

STOP SIGNS — Approved temporary installation of three stop signs at Chestnut Avenue and Bridge Road and Willow Avenue and Bridge Road pending further study on whether the signs are needed permanently.

POLICE — Approved the hiring of Walter Fischer to the police force at $584 a month to replace a policeman who resigned.

FIREMEN — Approved the sending of commendation letters to John Malarin, who served 22 years as a volunteer fireman, and Enrico Marchisco, who had 28 years service with the fire department.

MEETING — Set its next meeting for 8 p.m. Feb. 27 to meet with Army engineers for a report on plans for the Corte Madera Creek project.

SUBDIVISION — Approved an informal subdivision on land owned by Mrs. Joseph W. Crawford at 47 Lagunitas Road.

ORDINANCES — Adopted several routine ordinances providing for changes and amendments to various city codes.

Time In Prison On Two Charges

Kenneth Wayne Bailey, 20, of Fairfax, was sentenced yesterday to state prison for a term of one year to life for two counts of second degree robbery and one of a lewd or lascivious act with a child.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court ordered that the sentences for the offences run conurrently.

Bailey, who had been indicted by the Marin Grand Jury, committed the acts on July 20, 1968 in Fairfax.

Trial Is Set On Marijuana Selling

Jury trial for Patrick Courtney, 40, of Gate 5 near Sausalito, who is charged with selling marijuana, was set yesterday for the week of March 24 in Marin Superior Court.

Courtney was arrested in a narcotics roudup in February 1968.

Driver Cuts Heel In Auto Collision

Roberta Thorsen, 33, of Woodacre, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut heel following an automobile collision at 1:20 p.m. yesterday at Third and B streets, San Rafael, police reported.

The driver of the other car was Shelley Estes, 19, of 407 First Street, San Rafael.

Higher Property Density On Agenda

A request for higher density for property, owned by Manuel Gomez, northwest of the Christian Science Church on Camino Alto, will be considered by the Mill Valley City Council at 8 p.m. Monday in city hall.

Also scheduled is a call for bids for landscaping plans for lower Millver Avenue and East Blithedale Avenue extension, appointments to the library board and art and parks and recreation commissions, imporvements to Carmelita Avenue and discussion of the Bay Area regional organization proposal.

Art Commission To Draft Policy

Mill Valley Art Commission members last night agreed to develop a written statement of purposes and goals for discussion with the city's parks and recreation and planning commissions, Commissioner Gloria Wachs reported.

Mrs. Wachs, chairman Sali Lieberman and Commissioner Laura Devendorf were named to the committee which will prepare the statement. Commissioner Ann O'Hanlon will prepare a slide show of European parks and recreational facilities to accompany the written statement, Mrs. Wachs said.

Commissioners received requests from artists Art Grant and Dinah Hazell to exhibit in the library gallery this fall. The scheduling of exhibit dates will be worked out by the gallery committee, Mrs. Wachs said.

Commissioners also heard that a workshop group conducted by Mrs. O'Hanlon will exhibit in the library gallery during March.

Students At Vallecito Attend ACT

Two eighth grade classes at Vallecito School in Dixie School District were dismissed at 11 a.m. yesterday so pupils could attend a matinee of "In White America" at Marine's Memorial Theater in San Francisco.

The trip to the play was arranged by the Council of Music and Arts, a district-wide parent group, according to Earl Thomason, Vallecito principal. The council provided transportation, he said. Tickets cost the pupils $3 each.

Pupils from the two homeroom classes were permitted to attend classes with other homerooms during the remainder of the day if they did not wish to make the trip, the principal said. Some parents kept their children home, however.

"In White America" is a play constructed around writings and speeches regarding racial relations in American history. It is intended as a "shocker." In his review of the San Francisco production, which is by American Conservatory Theater, Independent-Journal drama critic Karl Barron wrote yesterday:

"A young cast seems diffident about smashing the play's nastiness down the throat of the audience."

Pen Contains An Explosive

A ball point pen, possibly containing an explosive, was confiscated by Ross police last night from a drainage tunnel near 223 Redwood Road.

Mrs. Willie M. Fritz of that address telephoned police at about 9:30 p.m. when she noticed a light from the culvert. Inside a coffee can in the tunnel, police found a burning candle attached to a ball point pen that contained a clear liquid.

The device was sent to the state authorities for laboratory analysis.

Trustee Contests For Three Boards

New filings for county school boards have created the first real election contests in three school districts, Kentfield, Ross and Laguna.

In Kentfield, Robert H. Berry, an accountant, has filed to join incumbents John R. B. Ellis and Gloria M. Riccardi and school music consultant Valda Kulka in the race for the district board's three vacancies.

A contest for the three vacancies on the Ross board was also created with the filing of advertising man William G. Morrisey. Incumbent Van Norden Logan and Martin S. Chase and Sally Ann Rakow already had filed.

Black Leader Views Anti-Jewish Feelings

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Wilfred T. Ussery, national chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality, said yesterday Jewish businessmen are to blame for what he described as animosity of Negroes toward Jews.

The split, the Negro leader said, is "a product of how the Jewish people function as entrepreneurs in the black community."

Ussery denounced Israel as an aggressor in the Mideast. He called a news conference to report on his presence recently at the second International Conference in Support of Arab Peoples at Cairo.

Pressed about the disaffection of American Jews and Negroes, Ussery said it has come about "because one of the most important problems plaguing communities economically is the cash flow out of black communities."

He said $35 billion comes into black areas, and all but $8 billion flows out to "white suburbia, the corner drug store, the grocery store, the landlord."

"Those businesses are owned by Jewish entrepreneurs," he said.

In response to a question, Ussery said just because the Jew himself had been an object of oppression for centuries was "no reason why we should be the recipient of that kind of oppression."

On the Mideast situation, Ussery branded Israel as an invader of Arab lands and a country that accepted the support of racist South Africa to maintain its own existence.

"There is no record of Israel ever voting against the Republic of South Africa," he said. "This is of great concern to the black people in this country.

"Israel exists in its present perimeter as the result of one aggression after another and in each case having that aggression condemned by the United Nations."

The leader of the 3,000-member organization charged that Israel's land "formerly was held by the Palestinians . . . and because of Israel the Arabs of Palestine as a people no longer exist."

SYNANON CONTINUES TO GROW

Synanon's new "town hall," a social and recreation center at the institution's headquarters on Tomales Bay, can be seen under construction (left) in this aerial view by Independent-Journal photographer Bob Hax, taken yesterday from the plane of San Rafael pilot Oscar E. Montgomery. Synanon, famous for its drug rehabilitation program and "games" therapy, received a $25,000 grant from the Kresge Foundation last year for the addition to its plant, but most of the work is volunteered by foundation friends.

Injuries Are Fatal To Girl Struck By Car

Six-year-old Toni Cameron of San Rafael died yesterday of internal injuries about two hours after she was struck by a car while on her way to school at about 8:30 a.m .

Her death was the second traffic death fatality in Marin County so far this year, compared to none at the same time a year ago.

Toni, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cameron of 15 G Street, was hit while crossing Fourth Street at G Street, San Rafael police said.

Charles Von Loewenfeldt, 52, of 430 Forbes Avenue, the driver, told police his vision was impaired by equipment around a manhole at the intersection. He was driving east on Fourth Street.

Von Loewenfeldt, according to police, said he had stopped at the crosswalk at the corner to let a child across, started again and felt a bump. A witness said the back wheel of his car passed over the child.

Police said the child was not in the crosswalk when the accident occurred.

An autopsy was pending at Harry M. Williams Mortuary.

Gnoss Field Fatal Crash Cause Denied

A federal air safety investigator in Oakland said today he has not completed his investigation of the Dec. 26 airplane crash at Gnoss Field north of Novato which killed a flight instructor and his student pilot.

William Slater, of the National Transportation Safety Board in Oakland, said a Jan. 31 Independent - Journal story which said he had attributed the cause of the crash to icing of the carburetor was not accurate.

Slater said the report was based on a reporter's misinterpretation of his discussion about possible causes of the crash. He said he had reported that the crash "could" have been caused by carburetor icing, but added that the cause might have been any of a variety of other things, ranging from a collision with a bird to a pilot heart attack.

The field investigation of the crash will not be completed for at least another three months, Slater said, and the blame for the crash, to be determined by the safety board's analysts in Washington, will not be assigned until after he files his report. It is not his function to determine the cause of the crash, he said.

The crash killed student pilot William J. Filkorn, 31, of Mill Valley, and instructor Stephen McCaffrey, 23, of Santa Rosa.

It still has not been determined who was flying the Piper Cherokee 140 although Filkorn was in the pilot's seat of the dual-control plane.

New Student Club Sets A Car Wash

A car wash will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday by the members of the Chevelier, newly formed auto club, at the Grant Nelson service station at Novato Boulevard and Center Road, Novato, according to Kerry Atkinson, car wash chairman.

Chevelier is composed of members from both Novato and San Marin high schools, Atkinson said.

Mothers' Patrol Held Solution To Molesters

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

Concerned mothers should band together to patrol the shady, quiet street of Ross to scare off potential child molesters, Town Councilman Natalie G. Lewis told a group of upset parents last night.

She proposed the mother patrols during a meeting in which parents, concerned over the latest in a series of indecent exposures in the community, demanded increased police protection.

"We're just asking for these people (sex perverts) to come here," one mother told the council as she and others urged that the four-man Ross police force be increased by at least two and preferably three or four men. "Some day some little girl is not going to come home."

Another mother, angrily telling the council it should go further than its present plans to hire one extra policeman, added, "Our children aren't protected. We're raising them in a state of fear." She said talking of only one more policeman was "rationalizing the status quo."

The father of the 7-year-old victim of the most recent exposure incident urged that the council consider hiring at least two more men.

Council members, however, under the current tax rate. The hiring, they agreed would have to wait on next fiscal year's budget setting.

Insisting that the number of exposure incidents — one so far this year, nine last year and six in the three preceding years — was "not that dramatic," Mrs Lewis chided the parents for expecting too much of the police.

"Mothers ought to take more responsibility instead of complaining to the police," she said, suggesting the mother patrols concentrate on Lagunitas Road, Laurel Grove Avenue and Shady Lane where most of the incidents have occurred.

She said the best weapon against further incidents was "more involvement," adding: "Our police force suffers from the quiet, relaxed attitudes most of us have."

Mayor Frederick S. Allen and Councilman W. James Dawson vigorously supported Mrs. Lewis' insistence that the force should be expanded by only one man.

Dawson told the parents. "From my standpoint, sitting on this council, it comes down to a matter of dollars and cents." He said the town could easily afford one more policeman, that two more would be uneconomical and that the town "absolutely cannot afford" more than that. The current police budget is about $54,000 but overtime costs already this year will push it closer to $60,000, he said.

Dawson also said the number of child molestings in Ross was not out of line with the number in similar communities and said the Ross police force, in size and salaries, compares favorably with other Marin County forces.

He endorsed Mrs. Lewis' mother patrol idea, saying, "You can't always shift the burden to somebody else. You sometines have to take the burden yourself."

This was echoed by Councilman Roy Farrington Jones who urged more "parental assistance" in teaching children how to protect themselves. Allen suggested also that parents urge their children to walk to and from school in groups.

The Ross Town Council Also:

MISSILES — Refused to consider a resolution, suggested from the audience, opposing installation of Sentinel missiles in Marin County. Allen and Dawson contended the proposed system was really none of their business, adding that decisions on deployment of the missiles should be left up "to the experts in Washington."

STOP SIGNS — Approved temporary installation of three stop signs at Chestnut Avenue and Bridge Road and Willow Avenue and Bridge Road pending further study on whether the signs are needed permanently.

POLICE — Approved the hiring of Walter Fischer to the police force at $584 a month to replace a policeman who resigned.

FIREMEN — Approved the sending of commendation letters to John Malarin, who served 22 years as a volunteer fireman, and Enrico Marchisco, who had 28 years service with the fire department.

MEETING — Set its next meeting for 8 p.m. Feb. 27 to meet with Army engineers for a report on plans for the Corte Madera Creek project.

SUBDIVISION — Approved an informal subdivision on land owned by Mrs. Joseph W. Crawford at 47 Lagunitas Road.

ORDINANCES — Adopted several routine ordinances providing for changes and amendments to various city codes.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court ordered that the sentences for the offences run conurrently.

Bailey, who had been indicted by the Marin Grand Jury, committed the acts on July 20, 1968 in Fairfax.

Trial Is Set On Marijuana Selling

Jury trial for Patrick Courtney, 40, of Gate 5 near Sausalito, who is charged with selling marijuana, was set yesterday for the week of March 24 in Marin Superior Court.

Courtney was arrested in a narcotics roudup in February 1968.

Driver Cuts Heel In Auto Collision

Roberta Thorsen, 33, of Woodacre, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut heel following an automobile collision at 1:20 p.m. yesterday at Third and B streets, San Rafael, police reported

The driver of the other car was Shelley Estes, 19, of 407 First Street, San Rafael.

Higher Property Density On Agenda

A request for higher density for property, owned by Manuel Gomez, northwest of the Christian Science Church on Camino Alto, will be considered by the Mill Valley City Council at 8 p.m. Monday in city hall.

Also scheduled is a call for bids for landscaping plans for lower Millver Avenue and East Blithedale Avenue extension, appointments to the library board and art and parks and recreation commissions, imporvements to Carmelita Avenue and discussion of the Bay Area regional organization proposal.

Art Commission To Draft Policy

Mill Valley Art Commission members last night agreed to develop a written statement of purposes and goals for discussion with the city's parks and recreation and planning commissions, Commissioner Gloria Wachs reported.

Mrs. Wachs, chairman Sali Lieberman and Commissioner Laura Devendorf were named to the committee which will prepare the statement. Commissioner Ann O'Hanlon will prepare a slide show of European parks and recreational facilities to accompany the written statement, Mrs. Wachs said.

Commissioners received requests from artists Art Grant and Dinah Hazell to exhibit in the library gallery this fall. The scheduling of exhibit dates will be worked out by the gallery committee, Mrs. Wachs said.

Commissioners also heard that a workshop group conducted by Mrs. O'Hanlon will exhibit in the library gallery during March.

Students At Vallecito Attend ACT

Two eighth grade classes at Vallecito School in Dixie School District were dismissed at 11 a.m. yesterday so pupils could attend a matinee of "In White America" at Marine's Memorial Theater in San Francisco.

The trip to the play was arranged by the Council of Music and Arts, a district-wide parent group, according to Earl Thomason, Vallecito principal. The council provided transportation, he said. Tickets cost the pupils $3 each.

Pupils from the two homeroom classes were permitted to attend classes with other homerooms during the remainder of the day if they did not wish to make the trip, the principal said. Some parents kept their children home, however.

"In White America" is a play constructed around writings and speeches regarding racial relations in American history. It is intended as a "shocker." In his review of the San Francisco production, which is by American Conservatory Theater, Independent-Journal drama critic Karl Barron wrote yesterday:

"A young cast seems diffident about smashing the play's nastiness down the throat of the audience."

Pen Contains An Explosive

A ball point pen, possibly containing an explosive, was confiscated by Ross police last night from a drainage tunnel near 223 Redwood Road.

Mrs. Willie M. Fritz of that address telephoned police at about 9:30 p.m. when she noticed a light from the culvert. Inside a coffee can in the tunnel, police found a burning candle attached to a ball point pen that contained a clear liquid.

The device was sent to the state authorities for laboratory analysis.

Demo Says GOP 'Bought' Election

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— Democratic Assemblyman Bob Moretti says Republicans won control of the Assembly in the November general election because they "simply outspent Democrats" in their campaigns.

Moretti yesterday issued figures based on secretary of state records which showed 11 Republicans and three Democrats spent more than $40,000 on their Assembly campaigns. But in every case Republicans spent more than the Democrats. (Assemblymen receive $16,000 annual pay plus allowances overaging $4,000; they serve two-year terms.)

"Several close districts were won by Republicans not because they had better candidates, not because they worked harder nor because they were better organized," the Van Nuys lawmaker said. "They simply outspent Denocrats."

Moretti said the figures prove that "elections can be and are being bought."

The assemblyman said $2.7 million was spent by both parties on campaigns for the 80 Assembly seats. Republicans won 41 and Democrats 39 of the $16,000-a-year post. Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, spent a total of $8,491 getting re-elected.

Republicans spent 58 per cent of the total of $1.57 million while Democrats spent $1.1 million or 41 per cent.

He set the GOP average at $19,724 on each district while Democrats averaged $13,974.

The biggest spender, according to Moretti's figures, was Assemblyman Henry Arklin, R-Pacoima, whose campaign paid out $79,637 to defeat incumbent Democrat David Negri. Negri's unsuccessful bid for re-election cost $34,536.

Arklin won by only 1,782 votes.

Republican Assemblyman Don MacGillivray, Santa Barbara, spent $64,365 defeating Democratic caucus chairman Winfield Shoemaker, whose campaign cost $61,950.

Republican Bruce Nestande spent $57,773 in an unsuccessful attempt to defeat Assemblyman Ken Cory, D-Garden Grove. Cory's campaign cost $49,853.

Republican Gordon Browning spent $45,989 trying to unseat Assemblyman Harvey Johnson, D-El Monte, whose campaign totaled $45,767.

Assemblyman Edwin L. Z'Berg, D-Sacramento, retained his seat at a cost of $27,991. His Republican opponent, Fred Corfee, spent $42,553.

The campaign of Republican Caucus Chairman Don Mulford, Piedmont, paid out $53,437 to retain his seat against Democrat Kenneth Meade who spent $26,985.

Republican Assemblyman Earle P. Crandall, San Jose, retained his seat at a cost of $50,697 compared to $33,180 spent by Democrat Marc Poche.

Republican Woodrow Smith spent $52,096 in an unsuccessful attempt to defeat Assemblyman Mike Cullen, D-Long Beach. Cullen's campaign cost $31,509.

Democratic Assemblyman Walter Karabian, Monterey park, held his seat at a cost of $39,234. His Republican opponent, Norma Yocum, spent $55,942.

Assemblyman William Campbell, R-Hacienda Heights, spent $48,491 to hold his seat against Democrat Philip Soto, who spent $21,709.

Republican Assemblyman Floyd Wakefield, South Gate, spent $40,859 in his successful campaign for re-election against Democrat Harold Prokop who spent $19,584.

Tax Rebate An Issue; Bagley Raps Proposals

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan and Senate Democrats are ready for a fight over how much tax should be rebated and when.

Democrats want 20 per cent this year. Reagan wants 10 per cent next year.

With both houses of the legislature in their usual three-day weekend recess, Democrats were hoping for GOP support in their effort.

And Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R- San Rafael, new chairman of the lower house Revenue and Taxation Committee, objected to both plans as "one - shot" proposals and not long range.

Senate Democratic leader George R. Moscone, who said he had the full backing of the 19-member Democratic caucus in the upper house, introduced the 20 per cent proposal yesterday.

Moscone, San Francisco, denounced Reagan's proposed 1970 measure as an "election year handout."

"The taxpayers need relief now from the $1 billion tax hike imposed two years ago," he said, referring to the 1967 tax increase package requested by Reagan and approved by the legislature.

Moscone said that middle-income families with a tax bill of $500 filing joint returns would receive a $100 refund on their 1968 liability. He said under Reagan's plan the same family would get $50 back in 1970 on 1969 taxes owed.

The rebate under Moscone's bill would be made on tax returns due April 15 and would be made before Dec. 31. It is an urgency measure that becomes effective upon the governor's signature.

"Before passing out any single - shot proposal, we're going to try to put together a more meaningful package, one that gives relief but also restructures the whole tax system to make it more fair," Bagley said.

Bagley said a tax reform report prepared by a special commission headed by state Controller Houston I. Flournoy could point the way for restructuring California's taxes.

The commission was appointed by Reagan to recommend overhaul of procedures. Its report is expected within two weeks.

Voting Age Initiative Suggested

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sen. George Moscone, D - San Francisco, says that if the Senate does not pass his bill to lower the voting age to 18 this year, he may take the issue directly to the public, via an initiative.

Moscone, who introduced similar legislation in 1967 and 1968 only to see it voted down on the Senate floor, said in an interview yesterday that it's time the people were allowed to express their views on lowering the voting age.

Under the initiative, a proposed constitutional amendment can be put on the ballot if 8 per cent of all those who voted for governor in the last election sign a petition. Once on the ballot, a simple majority is needed to make it law.

The State Constitution Revision Commission said it would make a final proposal on the voting age question when it meets today. It has three alternatives: to state a specific age, to let the legislature set the age, or to set a range within which the legislature would choose the voting age.

There also are four bills in the Assembly that would lower the voting age — two to age 19 and two to 18.

TV Receiver Stolen

The theft of a $100 television set sometime last week was reported by Myra J. Talbot of 524 Bret Harte Road, San Rafael, police said yesterday.

Festival Theater Names Executive

Jack M. Atkin of 565 Quietwood Drive, Marinwood, has been appointed to the newly-created post of administrative director of the Festival Theater in San Anselmo in a move to relieve the artistic staff of administrative tasks.

Atkins, who has completed graduate studies at the San Francisco Theological Seminary, has served on the theater board and was promition director four years ago.

The new administrator also will have the job of providing long range financial support for the theater, reported Peter Pike, board president.

The board also appointed Mrs. George Ford as office manager and Don R. Deane as consultant in community relations.

SPENCER WILLIAMS
Nixon post hinted

Williams May Replace Cecil Poole

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Human Resources Secretary Spencer Williams may be nominated by President Nixon as U.S. attorney for northern California, replacing Democrat Cecil Poole.

Political sources disclosed yesterday that Williams was holding discussions with the administration as the leading prospect for the post, with headquarters in San Francisco.

Williams, 46, was an unsuccessful candidate for state attorney general in 1966. He was defeated by incumbent Democrat Thomas C. Lynch despite a GOP sweep of other statewide offices.

He was appointed by Reagan as one of four top cabinet officers at a $28,000-a-year salary. His agency has been involved in repeated controversy. It administers the state's social welfare programs and the costly Medi-Cal program.

Lucian B. Vandegrift, former Butte County district attorney, would be considered the top prospect to replace Williams if the former Santa Clara County counsel resigns from his state post.

Poole, a Negro, first was appointed U.S. attorney by President Kennedy on June 7, 1961. He was continued in the post by President Johnson and was twice nominated by Johnson last year for a federal judgeship.

But U.S. Senator George Murphy opposed Poole's selection as a judge.

The second nomination later was withdrawn by Nixon although the president said he may resubmit some of the judgeships of the Johnson administration.

Novato Is Facing Pollution Order

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — A cease and desist order against the Novato Sanitary District to stop it from polluting the Petaluma River and Novato Creek was asked yesterday by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board.

The order, to be drawn by the district staff, will go before the board for formal adoption at its next meeting, 10 a.m. March 13 in the State Building, 1111 Jackson Street.

The board's executive officer, Fred H. Dierker, said he could not tell how much time the district would be given to comply with the order until the staff studied the matter further. The order would require the district either to improve its treatment of sewage waste or to relocate its discharge pipes away from recreational areas and into deeper water.

A similar order was issued against the Bolinas Community Public Utility District several years ago, but never enforced because the regional board wanted to give time for a joint sewage facility with the Stinson Beach County Water District. Tomorrow is the deadline for the two West Marin districts to file a joint construction schedule with the regional board, and Dierker said none has yet been received.

Pollution Issue Stalls Leases For Oil, Gas

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — No oil or gas leases should be granted in San Pablo Bay by the state Lands Commission until it can ensure that drilling will not cause water pollution, the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board voted yesterday.

Citing the disastrous oil pollution of Southern California's coast by the leak at a Union Oil Co. offshore well, the board unanimously adopted a motion declaring "there is a need for assurance" that the same thing would happen in the bay.

The motion also asked the state Water Resources Control Board to draw standards to ensure that oil and gas drilling will not cause pollution, and to investigate the adequacy of safeguards on existing leases in Suisun Bay, where one gas well already is being drilled.

The commission last week held hearings in Solano and Contra Costa counties on leases proposed in their end of the bay, and official and public opposition was virtually unanimous.

The commission's staff last year considered leases in Marin County's portion of the bay, too, but dropped the idea in the face of strong opposition.

Legislation Is Being Asked For Marina Holding Tanks

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — State legislation to require holding tanks on boats with toilets and pumping facilities at marinas to empty them was asked yesterday by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board.

The board, adopting the proposal by its staff, asked that the legislation be recommended to the State Water Resource's Control Board by a panel of the state board that has been studying water pollution by boats.

The panel already has recommended houseboats either connect to shore sewage facilities or have holding tanks, but has not yet reported its recommendation to the state board.

The legislation proposed by the regional board would not put all boats and all marinas under the regulation at present, but would apply it only to marinas designated by the board as posing a pollution hazard.

There was no opposition to the staff's proposal, and it was adopted unanimously, reported the board's executive officer, Fred H. Dierker.

Vatican, Czechs Begin Talks To Better Relations

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI disclosed today that the Vatican and Czechoslovakia's government have opened negotiations to improve relations between the Roman Catholic Church and the Communist regime in Prague.

The pontiff made the disclosure in a special audience for more than 1,000 Roman Catholics who came here on a religious pilgrimage from Czechoslovakia.

The pontiff voiced hopes for the achievement of religious and civil peace in Czechoslovakia and said he also hoped for a solution to outstanding questions regarding the Church in Czechoslovakia.

Alain Delon, Wife Divorced

PARIS (AP) — Film star Alain Delon and his actress wife Nathalie, two figures in the investigation of the murder of Delon's bodyguard, were divorced today.

The divorce was granted on the basis of mutual mental anguish.

Custody of the couple's son, Anthony, was given to the actress.

Delon was questioned yesterday again on the murder of Stefan Markovic last September.

Police expect to interrogate Nathalie at a later date. The actress, who is now making a film in Rome, has acknowledged that she was a good friend of Markovic.

PG&E Faces Quiz About Advertising

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The propriety of charging customers of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for the utility's advertising will be questioned in the California Public Utility Commission's current hearing on proposed gas rate increases of $37 million a year, a PUC attorney said yesterday.

The mammoth utility, which has no competition, spends $225 million a year on promoting gas and electricity, its advertising and publicity manager, James McCollum, told the Independent-Journal Monday.

The commission attorney, David R. Larrouy, asked to comment on an Independent-Journal report that 25,000 Marin customers of PG&E last week received monthly bills stuffed with an advertisement for a private residential, said "matters of that type will be the subject of scrutiny during the course of the rate hearings." He represents the PUC staff in the hearing.

The Marin bill stuffing, he said, will be cited specifically when he raises the issue. The bill stuffing is offered free to any developer building 10 or more homes to PG&E's standards, McCollum reported.

"It's a part of our cost of doing business to get our share of the consumer's dollars and to lower customer rates,'' McCollum said.

Larrouy, however, noted that PG&E customers have no other utility to turn to, so there may be no justification for the advertising.

Under current PUC policy, there is no bar to PG&E's charging customers for advertising costs.

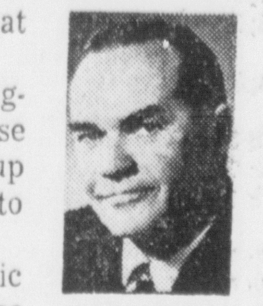
HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Older Doctors Hide The Truth When Patient Suffers Cancer



VAN DELLEN

Several weeks ago, we wrote about sick or disabled people who deny that anything is wrong.

Dr. Edwin A. Weinstein, Washington psychiatrist, found that these people had a characteristic makeup related to the way they adapted to stress.

Examples included the diabetic who refuses to take insulin because he really "does not have diabetes."

ESTIMATES ALSO indicate that from 9 to 13 per cent of those with tuberculosis deny the illness, even when they cough up blood. The same occurs to many with cancer. Thirty per cent of patients who entered Memorial Hospital in New York with signs of malignancy delayed consultation for three or more months.

Furthermore, the more conspicuous the symptom, the longer they delayed seeking help. Those who procrastinated also were reluctant to discuss the problem with their spouse or a close friend.

ALL OF US ARE GUILTY of this to a lesser degree. Every day we are greeted with "How are you this morning?" Our usual reply is "Fine" even though we ache all over, have a belly-ache, or are exhausted.

Just to be facetious, I now reply "With my hands" or "Lousy."

A poll was conducted among physicians several years ago, and they were asked whether they would want to be told they had cancer; a yes answer was obtained from 85 per cent of the internists and G. P.'s and from 93 per cent of the surgeons. Approximately 97.6 per cent of all child specialists and 100 per cent of the skin specialists answered in the affirmative.

Dermatologists do not see many patients with terminal cancer and are more inclined to say yes.

Attitudes vary with age. When asked whether they told the truth to cancer victims, 65 per cent of the doctors (40 to 65 years of age) replied yes, but only 39 per cent over 65 years did so. In other words, the closer one is to death himself the more inclined he is to withhold the truth.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

ROUTE OF DYSENTERY

A reader writes: How is amebic dysentery caught?

REPLY

By consuming liquids and uncooked foods containing the cysts of the Entameba histolytica. In 1933, an epidemic in Chicago was caused by the drinking water in a hotel which was contaminated by a cross-connection with the sewage pipes.

GANGLION ON WRIST

I. S. writes: Could a lump on the wrist become cancerous?

REPLY

Any lump may become malignant but a ganglion on the wrist seldom does. Such cysts often disappear after injections of hydrocortisone or prednisolone. Surgery is used when these injections are unsuccessful.

FAINTING AND PULSE

W. B. writes: When a person faints, is it possible to feel his pulse?

REPLY

The pulse is weak and thready and occasionally it is impossible to detect at the wrist. Fainting, more closely than any other condition, mimics death.

IRREGULAR DISEASE

D. T. writes: What is an atypical disease?

REPLY

One that follows an irregular pattern. In appendicitis, for example, pain usually is in the lower right side of the abdomen, but in an atypical case, the left side may be involved.

Marin College's Enrollment Reflects S.F. State Unrest

Students are fleeing the turmoil at San Francisco State in large numbers and enrolling at other Bay Area colleges, Marin Junior College District trustees were told last night.

Dr. Louis H. Herkenhoff, acting College of Marin president, reported up to 100 former San Francisco State students had enrolled for the spring semester at the Kentfield campus. Refugee enrollment at other Bay Area schools was reported heavier, Herkenhoff said, noting that Merrit College in Oakland and other schools in the Peralta Junior College District were "inundated."

He reported that the addition of San Francisco State students at the College of Marin probably accounted for the fact that total spring enrollment of 6,105 nearly equalled that of the fall, 6,209. Usually, spring enrollment is substantially lower, Herkenhoff said.

The college president reported that 5,102 students enrolled in the spring of 1968, reflecting a 21 per cent increase this year.

Herkenhoff said that the period during which enrolled students may add classes to their schedule has been extended through Wednesday because of the higher enrollment.

Herkenhoff said the Kentfield campus appeared "unusually crowded" and reported the addition of several study sections to the curriculum to meet student needs.

However, a number of drama and physics students appeared before the board to express a need for extra classes or laboratory space. The board directed Herkenhoff and his staff to see if the needs can be met.

Board President Theodore C. Wellman said the campus crowding pointed up the critical need for passage of the 77-cent override tax to be voted on by district voters April 15.

The Marin Junior College Board Also:

SUPERINTENDENT — Said it would act at Thursday's meeting on whether to name a district superintendent soon or wait until 1970, as favored by faculty members. The superintendent's appointment is part of a new district structure to be implemented if voters approve the override tax.

RAISE — Took no action on a request by the Associated Students to raise by $28 the salary of Paul Hogan, student center custodain, on the recommendation of Herkenhoff and the classified personnel committee. The committee said it was reluctant to review Hogan's salary and not the others in the nonteaching category.

CENTER — Asked the college staff to make recommendations for improvement of the student center after Trustees Elizabeth M. Deedy and Robert E. Rogers complained of noise, poor lighting and potential health hazards. Constant custodial care would be required to keep the building clean, the board was told.

BOLINEAS — Received a report that the number of group visits at the college marine station in Bolinas increased from 38 in 1966-67 to 65 in 1967-68.

PARKING — Approved preliminary plans for a new parking lot near the physical education complex.

ROGERS — Welcomed the return of Trustee Robert E. Oliver after two months' illness.

Teen Picks Jail Over Haircut

HAMPTON, Va. (AP) — A 16-year-old Hampton boy today valued his hair more than his time and as a result drew a 10-day jail sentence.

Russell Wayne Moore appeared in Hampton Juvenile Court on a drunk charge. After hearing the charge, Judge Macy M. Carmel told the youth he would dismiss the matter if Moore would cut his long hair, which was combed down over the forehead.

"I'm not going to get my hair cut," Moore said.

Carmel ordered the youth to jail and Sgt. R. T. Countryma, court bailiff, took him away.

Archdiocese Denies Hike In Tuition

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The Archdiocese of San Francisco yesterday flatly denied broadcast reports that tuition for all Catholic schools in the archdiocese, which includes Marin County, would be increased.

While he conceded that tuition increases are "always under consideration," Brother Oliver Aiu, assistant superintendent of secondary schools for the archdiocese, said no decision has been or will be made soon to boost tuition costs.

A San Francisco television station had reported that the archdiocese's department of education had decided on increased tuition, but that the higher school costs would not be piled on the poorer parish members who send their children to parochial schools.

Aiu said he and other Catholic officials were surprised by the report and said "there has been absolutely no indication of an increase." He added that there was "nothing extraordinary" in the education board discussing possible tuition increases as a normal part of its budget planning.

In any event, he said no official decision on any tuition changes would be made until the archdiocese's budget preparation was "much further along." The budget will not be completed until late spring.

Werber Loses Round Over Drug Evidence

Entertainment tycoon Frank N. Werber and his friend Judith Anne Sloper lost a round in their narcotics case yesterday when Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court ruled that evidence in the case had been obtained legally.

Werber and Miss Sloper, charged with possessing and cultivating marijuana on their home on DeSilva Island in Richardson Bay, had claimed that law enforcement officers entered their home the night of Oct. 14 without knocking and without announcing their entry.

After a hearing of several days, Judge Haley denied their motion to suppress evidence.

Customs and narcotics agents arrested the couple and two other persons after 258 pounds of Mexican marijuana was left in the garage of the Werber home by Stanley Mulligan and Charles Barrett, owners of Latitude 38 in Sausalito.

Werber, Barrett and Mulligan face federal charges of conspiracy to import marijuana. Werber alone faces a federal charge of importing the weed.

Charged with possession of marijuana for sale as a result of the raid are Bryce Staples Wilson of Kentfield and Frank J. Mathieson of San Anselmo.

Judge Haley ordered Werber, Miss Sloper, Wilson and Mathison to appear in Superior Court Monday at 9:30 a.m. to enter pleas.

Plea Is Set By Youth In Police Push

Carl Vestal Hayes, 19, Corte Madera, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of pushing a Corte Madera policeman and causing him to break his hip.

Police said they were called to the home of Hayes' grandparents at 2 Harbor Drive, Corte Madera, at 6:45 a.m. Monday because of a family disturbance.

During a fracas that ensued, Hayes, who said he was AWOL from the Army, smashed a bottle and pushed Officer George Koehler, who fell with his leg pinned under him.

Koehler, who was reported in good condition at Marin General Hospital, will be off work for six months according to his fellow officers.

Hayes, who was first sent to the Oakland Army Base, was returned to Marin and is in the county jail in lieu of $1,875 bail.

He is to enter a plea to the charge today.

Driver Reports Forced Ride

A Santa Rosa man was forced at gunpoint Wednesday to drive a hitchhiker to San Rafael and then to Stinson Beach, San Rafael police reported yesterday.

Angelo Anthony Flores told officers he picked up the hitchhiker on his way to work and the man pulled a gun and ordered him to go to San Rafael.

In San Rafael, he asked the man if he could stop and call his boss to report he would be late for work. Instead, Flores said, he called his wife, Lori Flores and asked her to notify authorities.

The man, about 23 years old, unshaven and with long sandy colored hair, then forced Flores to drive him to Stinson Beach where he got out of the car and went on his way, Flores reported.

Polish Moonshine

WARSAW (UPI) — Alcohol consumption rose last year by 8 per cent and a Polish newspaper said today much of it was moonshine. The paper, Gols Pracy, said police seized 30 illegal stills in Warsaw in 1968, almost twice as many as the year before.

Fire Kills Five; Caesarian-Born Baby Succumbs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five persons died last night as a fire roared quickly through a Northeast Washington rooming house, and a newborn child of one of the victims died minutes after it was delivered by caesarean section.

The bodies of two children, believed to be under 10, were found with that of an adult on the third floor of the four-story building. Another adult died on the fourth floor.

The mother, Glenna Hammond, about 32, died shortly after she arrived at a hospital. She apparently was fatally injured in a leap from an upper floor of the building.

An infant about 9 months old was admitted to D.C. general hospital in undetermined condition. Fire Capt. Anthony Mileo said children playing with matches in a first-floor room touched off the blaze.

Hourihan New Kiwanis Leader

John J. Hourihan, a San Rafael real estate broker, is the new president of the Ross Valley Kiwanis Club, succeeding Martin Hanzlik.

Elected with Hourihan were Lawrence B. Malkin, first vice president; Roger Fields, second vice president, and Dr. Ronald O. Plambeck, Dr. Warren R. Westerhoff, Ralph Peterson, William Mair, Edwin Roberts, Warren Binzley, Charles E. Monte, Jerry Frazier, Al Modet and Lawrence A. Lindberg, directors.

Eugene Farrar was renominated for a second term as secretary. Spenser Abrams was appointed to the new position of secretary emeritus.

Ted Williams To Become Senators' Manager

TED WILLIAMS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The lowly Washington Senators, seeking to counter-act the magic name of football's Vince Lombardi, have come up with a storybook name of their own and hired headline-making slugger Ted Williams as manager.

"I cannot immediately deliver a new team, but it is possible to get a storybook manager," said Bob Short, the Minneapolis millionaire who purchased the team last December and took full control of it two weeks ago.

Williams could not be reached for comment, but a source close to the famous slugger told The Associated Press that Williams was ready to sign a long-term contract.

"It's so good he can't afford to turn it down," the source said.

In Columbia, S.C., Williams said he has noting new to add about his returning to baseball as manager of the Washington Senators.

'My atorneys are handling everything," said Williams, who was in Columbia for a brief time on business.

'At this time, I cannot reveal anything. Seriously, there is nothing new at this time," he added.

Williams, the last player ever to hit .40, said he had met with Bob Short.

"The man is one of the most exciting individuals I've ever met," said Williams. "It pleased me that he thought I could actually do something for Washington."

Williams is still vice president of the Red Sox.

Earlier, the 50-year-old Williams had confirmed he was considering what he called "the most fantastic offer I've ever received."

The hiring of Williams was just as fantastic, and as shocking as the Washington Redskins' recent coup of grabbing Lombardi. A few years ago, the last of baseball's .400 hitters had said, "You couldn't pay me enough to manage." He said then he had turned down two offers to manage, presumably from the Boston Red Sox.

In Boston, where Williams still is a vice president of the Red Sox, the team for which he starred from 1939-60, General Manager Dick O'Connell confirmed Short had received permission to talk to Williams.

In fact, Williams still is drawing deferred salary from his playing days. For tax purposes, he was paid only $65,000 during several years of an estimated $103,000 contract. He also represents Sears, Roebuck and Co. as a representative for their fishing equipment at a reported $80,000 annually.

During a brilliant but stormy career, interrupted twice for almost five years of service as a Marine pilot, Williams compiled a lifetime batting average of .344, hit 521 home runs and won the American League batting title six times, hitting .406 in 1941. He was elected to the Hall of Fame the first year he became eligible.

Williams retired for the first time after the 1954 season but came back a month into the 1955 season and played through 1960. He then devoted most of his time to his fishing enterprises, while also serving as a hitting instructor for the Red Sox.

His career was marred by feuds with fans and writers in Boston. He was fined for spitting incidents on the field and also made headlines with his blasts at "gutless" draft boards and "phony" politicians concerning his recall to active Marine duty in Korea.

Williams replaces Jim Lemon, who piloted the Senators to a last-place finish in the American League last season. Short fired Lemon and General Manager George Selkirk two weeks ago.

Yellowed Clipping Tells Of Rare Feat

BELIEVE-IT-OR-NOT — Ever hear of a pitcher striking out a batter and catching the third strike himself?

As it is rather unusual, neither had I until Francis A. Baptiste of San Anselmo sent me a yellowed clipping describing the baseball rarity as accomplished by Tony Freitas, a left-handed chucker who grew up in Mill Valley and went on to become a major league and Pacific Coast League star back in the days when dad was a lad.

Freitas, who now lives in Sacramento, accomplished the freakish putout while pitching for the Sacramento Solons several years ago. The third strike hit the catcher's chest protector and bounced out to the pitcher's mound where the startled Freitas caught the ball for the putout.

Played Outfield Behind Freitas

Baptiste, who played outfield behind Freitas at Tamalpais High School for Coach G. T. "Pop" Wendering back in the mid-20's, sent another clipping that told about Freitas pitching a 2-0 no-hitter for Sacramento against the Oakland Oaks. Little Tony had quite a career.

MENTION OF Wendering brings to mind the prep baseball dynasty he built at Tam before retiring in the late 1940s.

Pop, a stern taskmaster, won the North Bay League championship virtually every year and produced such major leaguers as Freitas, Sam Chapman, Art Schallock, Joe DeMaestri and Karl Olson, a pretty fair recond for a small school.

Marin Has Its Diamond Talent

SPEAKING OF such, the Marin County Athletic League had its share of diamond talent last season as no less than four of our 1968 prep stars have been drafted by the pros.

Kenny Johnson, Redwood High's flashy shortstop, was the first of the group to be plucked, by the Yankees, and already has a minor league season under his belt.

Also drafted from our sandlots are Tom Thomas of Novato and Dave Edson of Terra Linda, both by the California Angels, and Gary Welch of San Rafael by the Los Angeles Dodgers. Edson had the distinction of being drafted by two clubs as the Kansas City Athletics picked him in the regular draft last June while the Angels tabbed him in last month's special grab bag. Edson and Thomas presently are attending Menlo College.

Semi-Pro Hurler Also Drafted

Another local draftee is Bill Clarke who pitched for Joe Anselmo's semi-pro San Rafael Braves last summer. Atlanta plucked the right hander.

MIKE CONVIS of the Drake High School faculty checks in to announce the fourth annual Drake Car and Boat Show is scheduled May 25 at the Northgate Shopping Center in Terra Linda. Mike is a bit early with the announcement, explaining he wants to give car enthusiasts plenty of time to arrange their spring schedule.

Proceeds pay for scholarship to worthy Drake High seniors. In 1965 the show paid for one scholarship; this year, says Mike, ". . . we'll award six of them. We're growing."

Only Room For Par Golfers

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The $100,000 Phoenix Open appeared ready to close today for golfers who don't shoot par or better.

Going into the second round were seven who fired six-under-par 65 for their first 18 holes over the friendly Arizona Country Club course and 82 had bettered the par 71. Another 26 had matched it.

Only the low 70 and ties survive the cut after this second tour of the 6,389-yard, par 35-36 layout.

Leading the way into today's play were Terry Wilcox, Dutch Harrison, John Jacobs, Billy Maxwell, Lee Elder, Miller Barber, and Larry Ziegler.

Wilcox, of Bronxville, N.Y., drew top billing only because he punctuated his round with a hole-in-one on the 154-yard 15th hole. There was no special prize except that without the ace, the 30-year-old New Yorker wouldn't have been with the leaders.

Neither would have been Maxwell and Elder if each hadn't scored an eagle 3 on the 477-yard, par 5, fifth.

Pressing at 66 were Hugh Royer, Frank Beard, Ron Funseth, Paul Harney, and Jerry Barber as the jam resembled a rush hour freeway.

Ten more, including Canadian George Knudson, the defending champion, were jammed in at 67 among the par busting brigade which didn't include Billy Casper, Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, who all skipped this competition.

The Wilcox ace came with some vocal encouragment from the golfer.

After deciding on a No. 5 iron from the tee, Wilcox said, "I hollered at the ball to make it to the green. It landed three feet short of the cup and jumped right in."

Wilcox also put his tee shot within two feet of the cup on the 148-yard seventh but had to be content with a birdie.

Jacobs, 23, whose older brother Tommy is a tour veteran, shot his lowest round since joining the Professional Golfers' Association tour for eight tournaments last year.

He admitted to playing conservatively on the second nine when he took a 35 compared to his 30 on the opening side.

And for the old folks, in came Dutch Harrison who five times has been national seniors champion. At 58, the Arkansas traveler played his usual rapid pace for a round which included birdie putts of 20 and 35 feet on the 11th and 12th holes.

"I pulled awfully well," said Harrison who turned pro in 1930, before some of his co-leaders were born.

IT'S TIME FOR SALMON FISHING

"There are a lot of fish out there," is the report for the opening of the ocean salmon fishing season tomorrow in waters south of Tomales Point.

Most party boats in Sausalito report reservations are sold out for tomorrow's opener, but there are a few openings left.

The limit will be three fish per person per day until March 1 when the 1969 regulations go into effect, reducing the limit to two fish.

Drag boat operators and crab fishermen have reported plenty of fish available for the opener.

Arab Pulls Another Net Upset

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — The Americans who battle for two semifinal spots in the U.S. National Indoor Tennis Championships tonight will be hard put topping the intriguing match-up of foreigners already in the round of four.

In the all-foreign quarter-finals last night, darkhorse Ismael el Shafei recorded another stunning upset while advancing along with Torben Ulrich, the bearded Dane, who beat El Shafei's father in Davis Cup play 21 years ago.

El Shafei, 22-year-old national champion of the United Arab Republic, polished off Mark Cox, the number 2 foreign seed from England, 9-7, 6-4. He previously had eliminated Cliff Richey, the defending champion and No. 4 American seed.

Ulrich, who sluffs off questions about his age, but is believed to be 40 or 41, rallied to beat Ove Bengtson of Sweden, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4. Ulrich was seeded fourth among foreigners in the 48-man draw.

In tonight's matches, second-seeded American, Clark Graebner, plays veteran Ron Holmberg and Stan Smith, the No. 3 domestic seed, takes on Charlie Pasarell, who won the tournament in 1966 and 1967.

White Sox Open Training

No Strike By Players, Just Yet

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — A total of 21 players, including veteran catcher Russ Nixon, were in uniform today as the Chicago White Sox opened spring training in the face of a threatened big league player strike.

At the same time, Vice President Ed Short said he was informed in a New York call from John Gaherin, an owner negotiator in the current pension dispute, that the player group this weekend was considering what Gaherin termed a "very generous settlement."

BATTERIES

Manager Al Lopez sent a squad of 15 pitchers and six catchers, but including only 12 rostered players, through a light morning drill as the White Sox became the first of the 24 major league clubs to launch spring training.

A surprise appearance was made by Nixon, a 12-year-major league veteran, who last December was drafted from the Louisville roster of the Boston Red Sox.

"I talked to a number of veteran players," explained Nixon. "None of them felt I should jeopardize my career because after all every year is vital after you serve 12." Nixon said he spent the winter doing carpenter work, adding, "You got to keep busy when you have four kids."

OSINSKI

The only other established player to report was pitcher Dan Osinski, a former Red Sox player who was acquired from Hawaii last October.

Also among the rostered players were rookie pitchers Mickey Abarbanel, Billy Wynne, Don Secrist, Mickey Vandehey, Paul Edmudson, Jim Magnuson and Fred Rath.

Among the four rostered catchers were Nixon, Ed Herrmann, Doug Adams and Gail Hopkins, last season a first baseman-utility man. Among the nonrostered players was Danny Murphy, a $125,000 bonus baby with the Chicago Cubs in 1960, who is trying to make the big league for the ninth year. Originally an outfielder, Murphy now is a pitcher and last year had a 3-3 record as a reliever for Hawaii.

POLL PLAYERS

Short said in his long phone talk with Gaherin that Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Players Association, was expected to poll key player representatives over the weekend and submit a reply to the owners on Monday.

"I am not at liberty to discuss points of the proposed settlement, but Gaherin expressed confidence that this was a good offer," said Short.

Short said he planned to confer with Gary Peters, a pitcher who is the chief spokesman for the White Sox veterans.

Astrojet Golf Gets Started

RANCHO LA COSTA (UPI) — Bill Mazeroski of the Pittsburg Pirates and Paul Krause of the Minnesota Vikings launch a bid today for their third straight title in the $30,000 Astrojet Golf Classic.

The 54-hole tournament at the La Costa Country Club teams a baseball star with his football counterpart. First prize in the best ball affair is $10,000.

Teams led by Jim Lonborg of the Boston Red Sox and Ron Santo of the Chicago Cubs shot 56s yesterday to tie for low net best ball honors in the pro-am prelude.

Lonborg's team consisted of Cliff Otto, Jim Braden and Dave Brinker while Santo's partners were Daryl Lamonica of the Oakland Raiders, Abe Lipsey and Jack Rickey.

The classic ends Sunday.

Huff Comes Out Of Retirement

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sam Huff's return to pro football as linebacker and coach with Vince Lombardi's Washington Redskins was the most prominent of a number of developments in the sport yesterday.

Huff called his one-year retirement "the worst year I've spent in my life." And Lombardi told a press conference "we both came out of retirement in the same year."

Two other coaches and two other players also signed pro football contracts yesterday.

Charlie Sumner, an assistant coach for six years with the Oakland Raiders, signed as defensive backfield coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers. Sumner joins John Bridgers and Walt Hackett on the staff of Chuck Noll, the Steelers ' new head coach.

Jesse Richardson, defensive line coach of the Boston Patriots, was re-hired by Clive Rush, the club's new head coach.

Mike Holovak, former general manager and coach of the Patriots, was reported by the Boston Globe to be in line for the job of director of player personnel with the New York Jets. George Sauer left that job to succeed Holovak as the Patriots' GM, joing Rush, a former New York assistant coach.

Dave Costa, Denver's defensive captain, signed his 1969 contract with the Broncos and Dave Cutler, a linebacker and kicker from Vancouver, British Columbia, agreed to terms with the Green Bay Packers.

Negro Gets Key Post In San Jose Sports

SAN JOSE (AP) — San Jose State College yesterday named Lang Stanley, a Negro, as assistant athletic director.

Recently most of the school's Negro athletes presented a list of demands, one of which was that a member of their race be named an assistant to athletic director Bob Bronzan.

San Jose's athletic program has been beset by racial problems this school year.

Seven Negro football players refused to play against Brigham Young and lost their scholarships, then three Negro basketball players refused to play for several games in sympathy with the football players.

Stanley, a 1957 graduate of San Jose, was voted the school's Athlete of the Year 1956 when he won the NCAA 880-yard track title and set collegiate 440 and 880-yard records. He was selected as an alternate on the 1956 U.S. Olympic team.

He is one of the founders of the Southern California Striders, which annually fields one of the top non-collegiate track teams in the country. For the past year he has been office manager of a large insurance agency.

In announcing his appointment, Bronzan said, "Lang Stanley was an outstanding athlete and a fine student. He has proved himself to be a capable and successful businessman.

"Further, he has demonstrated his interest and ambition to help minority students attain their full potential. We are delighted to have him join our staff."

Of the seven football players who lost their scholarships, two have since been told they will regain their scholarships in the spring.

McCoy Wins State Title

OAKLAND (AP) — Rangy Ralph McCoy of Richmond won the vacant California middleweight championship last night at the Oakland Auditorium with a 12-round decision over Charley Austin of San Diego.

The 27-year-old McCoy closed with a rush over the 30-year-old veteran to win on all three cards. Judges Frank Carter and Jack Downey voted 6-4 and 6-5 for McCoy while referee Tony Bosnich had McCoy far in front 7-2.

McCoy, 158, took his ninth victory against two losses while Austin, 159½, suffered his 29th defeat. He has 31 victories and three draws.

A crowd of 2,438 paid $8,504.

In a companion bout scheduled for 10 rounds, Jimmy Lester, 160½, San Francisco, made Gene Bryant, 159½, Las Vegas, his 27th knockout victim when the fight was stopped in the ninth.

Injury Bug Again Bugging Warriors

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The injury bug is bugging the San Francisco Warriors again.

The Warriors, racked by injuries earlier in the National Basketball Association season, face the Philadelphia 76ers tonight without veteran forward Rudy La Russo, and he is doubtful for tomorrow night's game at New York.

La Russo injured his back in Tuesday night's victory over Atlanta and missed Wednesday night's 120-110 loss at Baltimore.

Oaks Dump Kentucky Colonels

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Oaks answered the Kentucky Colonels' "twin barrels" of long range shooters Darel Carrier and Louis Dampier with twin barrels of their own last night.

Forwards Doug Moe and Gary Bradds contributed 27 apiece as the Oaks downed the Colonels 122-109 before 6,384 at the Oakland Arena.

Meanwhile, Dampier and Carrier, the top two scorers in the ABA from outside the three-point 25-foot range, were held to 19 and 13, respectively.

The victory left the Oaks at 41-8 far atop the ABA Western Division and snapped a two-game losing streak. They meet New Orleans at the Arena tomorrow night

The Jets beat the Raiders 27-23 in the championship game.

Marin 'Cats Take Shot At Redwood

Redwood High School's streaking and multi-talented basketball team continues relentlessly on its merry way tonight while the survivors of the remaining contenders continue to clash.

The Giants, now on an eight-game Marin County Athletic League win streak, and an 8-1 won-lost record, host potentially dangerous and definetely angry Marin Catholic (2-7) in Larkspur.

Two contenders will clash when San Rafael (6-3) seeks to avenge one of its league losses as the Bulldogs host fading Terra Linda (5-4). In other games, current runnerup Novato (7-2) plays host to cross-town rival San Marin (1-8) and Tamalpais (4-5) visits Drake (3-6) in San Anselmo.

HURT PRIDE

Redwood breezed to a 65-50 win over Tamalpais Tuesday but the Giants may have to be at their sharpest against the Wildcats, whose pride took a severe beating in an upset loss to San Marin Tuesday.

Marin's Mike Murray is still one of the classiest ballplayers in the league and the 'Cats have a flock of angry players to throw into battle. The Giants should probably have more than the Wildcats, however. Jerry Piro, with a 19-point per game average, is the No. 4 scorer in the league, and is backed up by good height from 6-foot, 6-inch Pete Webb and Bill Challender.

Terra Linda whipped San Rafael 84-64 the last time around, but since then the Trojans have had their troubles, despite great work by forward Pat Purcell, the league's leading scorer.

UP 'N' DOWN

The Bulldogs, with good height and speed, have been up and down, too, but they've been sharper and are still within hearing distance of the top.

Novato should have little trouble with San Marin, despite the enormous boost provided by the Mustangs' first win. E. Hernberger, who scored 35 points against Terra Linda, and Steve McNally score enough points between them to beat entire teams. The Mustangs, even with classy Gary Howard, are neither deep enough nor tall enough to cope with the Hornets.

Tamalpais will be seeking to break a two-game losing streak after a promising start. The Indians whipped Drake the last time out, but may find things tougher away from home.

Clark Jamison is the shooter to stop for the Pirates while the Indians are more balanced.

Tonight's action starts with junior varsity preliminary games at 7 o'clock, followed at approximately 8:30 by the varsity games.

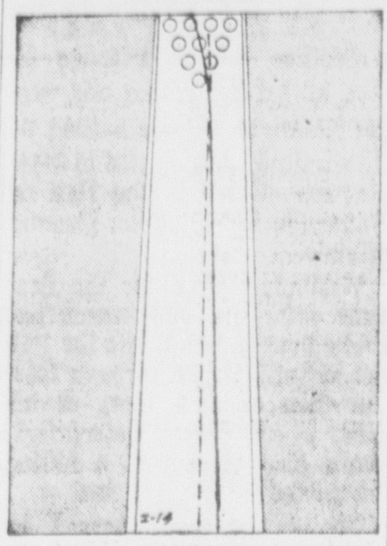
BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



If you find that the lanes are fast, not allowing the ball to hook normally, don't try to counteract this situation by giving the ball an exaggerated lift. Instead, move a few boards to the right of your usual starting point. If that doesn't get the ball up to the pocket, try slowing down a little.

Glover Leads Record-Setting Bowling Field

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Don Glover of Bakersfield, led a record-breaking field into today's match game semifinals of the Professional Bowlers Association $60,000 Ebonite Open.

Glover finished the four-game qualifying yesterday with 5,544 in a tournament which saw the 16th man set a record of 5,377. The old mark was 5,316, set in the Denver Open in 1967.

The 300-game record was tied when three more perfect games were shot in yesterday's round to bring the tournament total to six, a one-tourney mark set in the 1960 Albany, N.Y., meet.

Yesterday's 300s were rolled by Vic Vattista of New York City, Roger Fink of Lodi, and Eddy Patterson of Dallas. Ray Bluth of St. Louis, Bobby Cooper of Houston and Wayne Zahn of Atlanta had perfect games Wednesday.

The 16 semifinalists shoot 16 games today with the top five going for the $8,000 first prize in tomorrow's nationally televised finals.

Foursome Tourney

Mesdames Thomas Major, J. A. Gibbs, Lyle Bowman and Hodge Davidson teamed up yesterday to win the Marin Country Club's best ball foursome golf tournament at the Novato course with a total score of 142 strokes.

Miss Conti Sets Bowling Mark

By RALPH CHATOIAN

PENNY CONTI
Sets a record

Penny Conti has scored another Marin County first in league bowling.

She went over the 700 mark, the first woman to ever reach that plateau in Marin league competition. She had games of 246, 224 and 231 for a 701 set in the Weekenders League at Country Club Bowl.

That 701 series erased Bea Hoffmann' previous Marin high of 672 made last summer, also at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael.

Penny, who lives in San Rafael and works as a meter records clerk for Pacific Gas and Eelectric Co. in San Rafael, had only one open frame in the three games, a nearly impossible 4-6-10 split.

In her last game, she had to get at least one pin on a 6-10 leave to make it to 700. She got them both.

"I really didn't know that I had to get those pins for a 700 series," she admitted. "I knew I was close to a 700, but I just wasn't going to look up at the score."

The attractive Miss Conti bowls in four leagues, two on Wednesday and one each Tuesday and Friday. A 162 average bowler last year, she has hiked her average all the way to 185 this year in the Ladies 615 Classic. Previous to her 701, she had six series over the 600 mark this season. Prior to this season, her best effort was in the high 500s.

Penny, who has ben bowling 10 years, gives all the credit to her improvement this season to Mike Tauscher, a teammate of hers in a mixed league, who has been teaching her.

Tauscher, 168 blue book average, rolled a 696 series less than two weeks ago.

THIS AND THAT — Elmer Tynes, two-time Marin County Masters champion (1966-67) is back at it, rolling games of 203, 278 and 258 in the Lutheran Late League at Country Club for a whopping 739 series, one of three 700s rolled by men at the San Rafael lanes; Ray Miller rolled 222-256-233—711 and Frank Bernardi 217-269-215—701, both in the 905 Classic . . . Bill Henderson rolled a 279-671 in the 905 Classic for high game honors . . . Bea Hoffmann was the talk of the Bowlerettes League with that 235 game and 641 series . . . In the Mixed Mates at Greenbrae Lanes, Joe Purcell (153 avg.) rolled a 154 triplicate and Walt Carter came a pin away from a beauty, 202,201-202 . . . It was split-making time in the Novato Sportsmen League at Nave Lanes, Royal Druba cashing the 6-7-10, KTIM's Hugh Turner the 4-7-9-10, and Ray Barton, 5-9-10.

PICKIN' 'EM UP — Mike Tauscher's 628 led the 670 Scratch League when 29 games went over the 200 mark, causing league secretary Beatrice Hoffmann to exclaim, "Look out 905 Classic" . . . Sylvia Fenton picked up the 6-7-10 split in the Keglerettes League at Country Club . . . Peter Bekey led the scores in the TGIF League at the San Rafael lanes with a 234 game and 630 series, his first 600 series . . . First time 200s came from Betty Hillman, 200, and Karen Becker, 209, in the Monday Washday League at Nave Lanes . . . In the Merry Mixers League at Country Club, Erv Novak went 80 pins over his norm with a 231 line and Char Burr missed a 131 triplicate by just one pin.

JUNIOR DOINGS — Everbody was happy with the record turnout (32 teams, 57 doubles and 114 singles) in the Marin County Junior Bowling Association tourney the past two weekends at Greenbrae Lanes and Country Club Bowl. HERB MICHELSON

A Tantalizing Idea To Save The Seals

OAKLAND — Nicely, considering all of the unkind things that have been happening to them, the Oakland Seals are proving that they are a pretty fair country ball club.

They lose two fine scorers, (Garry Jarrett, Bill Hicks) because of injuries for brief periods yet keep a winning pace. Their second best defenseman (long Bert Marshall) is hurt, yet damaging enemy penetration, save for the rigors of stacked-up scheduling, is prevented.

I wondered aloud to a Seals executive the other day about the possibility of the team cleaning up — or at least getting even — financially once the Stanley Cup playoffs roll around. (There are now less than 20 regular season games left to play in a campaign that seems to have started five years and 12 franchise shift requests ago.)

"HEAVENS, NO," said the fellow. "Because of extra expenses, we might even lose MORE money on the playoffs." That pessimism I am not quite yet ready to accept. But, in truth, Oakland's 53 owners are so deeply in the red now that the Cup playoffs would have to continue through 1984 for any profits to be visible.

And, ironically, the fact of these financial losses is what has convinced the National Hockey League's board of governors to keep the Seals in the Bay Area. Talk about the ambiguities of big business! (All right, I will.)

CLARENCE CAMPBELL, president of all that's right in professional hockey, never came right out and said it to us press people during his recent inspection trip.

So I asked. "Doesn't the board of governors consider that Barry van Gerbig and his 52 partners have been bad, inefficient boys who deserve to stew in their own juice until there's no juice (i. e., $) left?"

Instead of a no comment, Mr. Campbell gave me a "I can't speak for the attitude of the board of governors."

Later, an awfully reliable sports executive in the East Bay could. And, happily, did.

"BARRY WANTS to get out clean," said my man. "Not only clean; he wants to sell a profit to Buffalo or Vancouver or wherever. Can you imagine? A profit!"

I easily could imagine the desire of anybody to make a buck. After all, hockey is America (except for Toronto and Montreal) isn't it?

"That's just it," shrieked the awfully reliable fellow. "The hard-line hockey people in Toronto and Montreal don't feel van Gerbig has any right to profit after making such a mess with the franchise and club organization in Oakland. The board of governors would like nothing better than to see the Seals throw in the towel here and turn the franchise back to the league."

I'VE GOT the feeling, though, there's a middle ground to all of this, a way for Barry to get clean and the league to keep a team in the Bay Area and still maintain its pride.

That would be a local deal made by van Gerbig, with the league not getting involved as a middleman. Knots of syndicates are starting to form in places like Santa Clara County, Pittsburg and downtown Oakland.

THE MOST fascinating potential pitch for the Seals may come from my old friend Gerald E. Seltzer, the Roller Derby king. To him, hockey is just another game on skates — yet one that can draw in the Bay Area.

Jerry, at least, would give hockey the merchandising touch it has so sorely needed here the past two years. Although his kind of promotion may not be what the NHL board of governors would consider in the glorious tradition of hockey.

Yet, the idea is tantalizing.

Redwood Porsche Drivers To Meet

Redwood Region of Porsche Club of America will hold a special meeting tomorrow night, 7:30 o'clock at Bank of Marin in San Rafael.

Highlight of the meeting will be presentation of the auto club's charter by Lou Marable, west coast representative to the national club.

University Suspends Haywood

SPENCER HAYWOOD
Out two games

DETROIT (AP) —The University of Detroit, often accused this season of having a one-man basketball team, now have the opportunity to prove otherwise in their next two games.

Spencer Haywood, the 6-foot-8 center who made sports headlines by leading the United States to the Olympic basketball title, was suspended yesterday by Coach Bob Calihan after striking a referee Wednesday at Toledo.

Haywood struck referee George Strauthers with a glancing blow after being told he was ejected from the game for allegedly hitting Toledo's Larry Miller.

This reportedly occurred after they tumbled to the floor with Toledo's Steve Mix during a tussle for a rebound. Detroit won the game 92-90.

"I can't justify what I did," Haywood explained yesterday at a news conference. "I asked the other referee (Jim Manilla) why I was thrown out and he said it was because I hit a player.

"I didn't think I had hit anyone and that's when I lost my temper."

Calihan said in a prepared statement: "The university recognizes the seriousness of the infraction. I made this recommentation and I feel it's a fair recommendation. I'm not concerned with what other institutions would do. This is our decision."

He said he didn't want to make the decision of what to do Wednesday night. "I considered it all night and all I was concerned with was what I would do with Spencer Haywood or anyone else on the team in a similar instance."

Haywood said he hoped there would be no demonstrations against Calihan over the suspension.

"If I thought the student body would do something like that, I would try to stop it," he said, adding, "I think it's a fair penalty."

Haywood will miss tomorrow night's game at Xavier and Tuesday's home game with Baldwin-Wallace. The incident also leaves uncertain the Titans' chance of taking their current 14-7 record to any post-season tournaments.

Luke Easter Returns As Part-Time Coach

CLEVELAND (AP) — Luke Easter, former Cleveland Indians' first baseman and home run slugger, will return to the club this season as a part-time coach.

General Manager Gabe Paul said yesterday that Easter would be with the Tribe for two weeks during spring training at Tucson, Ariz., and rejoin the club opening day.

Big Cage Weekend On Tap

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

This is the weekend that just about every Coast basketball title can be wrapped up.

In the Pacific Eight, for instance, UCLA could just about take it all by winning at Washington tomorrow night and Washington State Monday. The road tests in the Northwest for the nationally top-ranked Bruins figure to be as tough a test as they'll face all year as they drive for an unbeaten campaign.

Stanford and California host Oregon and Oregon State in weekend Pacific Eight games.

The West Coast Athletic Conference is idle tonight but tomorrow finds unbeaten Santa Clara ready to take a giant step toward the title if it can win at USF. Santa Barbara is at San Jose State, St. Mary's at UOP and Loyola at Pepperdine in other tussles tomorrow.

Clippers To Play Russ Soccermen

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—For the first time ever, a Russian soccer team of championship caliber will play in the United States.

The California Clippers yesterday announced they will host Dynamo Kiev, three-time Russian champs and the 1968 European Cup winner, in two exhibitions. The first is set for Feb. 23 at San Francisco's Kezar Stadium and the second March 2 at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Two more exhibitions may be played at a later date.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Feb. 14, the 45th day of 1969 with 320 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1886 the West Coast citrus industry was born as the first trainload of oranges left Los Angeles for eastern markets.

In 1903 President Roosevelt enacted into law a measure creating the Department of Commerce and Labor with George Cortelyou as its first secretary.

In 1933 Michigan Gov. W.A. Comstock ordered an eight-day bank holiday to check a financial panic.

In 1968 Secretary of State Dean Rusk said North Korea had rejected all efforts to negotiate the release of the Pueblo and its 82 crewmen.

A thought for the day: Robert Burns said, "But to see her was to love her, love but her, and love forever."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Bridge Class Learns Lesson About Trumping On Slow Ship

"West leads the queen of hearts," I told a class of 60 bridge enthusiasts just a couple of hours out of Hong Kong harbor. "The defenders take three hearts and then switch to diamonds. How do you plan to play the hand?"

DRAW TRUMPS

The class studied their lesson sheets, which gave them only the North and South hands. "Take the ace of diamonds," a lady from Washington suggested.

I congratulated her, and the class laughed. It wasn't very funny, but as long as they laughed they didn't have to admit that they didn't know what to do.

"Do the trumps break well?" a lady from Winnipeg asked. I assured her that they did. "Then draw three rounds of trumps," she offered.

"You're down one," I reported. "You can trump one diamond in the dummy, but that uses up dummy's last trump, and you can't eat your other low diamond."

DISCOVERY

My pupils had crusied halfway around the world to discover that it doesn't always pay to draw all of the trumps. South must ruff both low diamonds in the dummy and must save two trumps there for that purpose.

After taking the ace of diamonds, declarer should use dummy's ace and queen of trumps to draw precisely two rounds of trumps. Then he takes the king of diamonds, ruffs a diamond in dummy and returns to his hand with a club to lead his last diamond.

MISSING TRUMP

Fortunately, for South, the defender with the last diamond also has the only missing trump. South therefore manages to ruff his last trump with the king of spades. See what you've learned without going to China!

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 no-trump (16 to 18 points), and you respond two clubs. Partner bids two diamonds (denying a major suit of four or more cards), and it is once more up to you.

Your hand is:

♠ A Q 6 3
♥ K 5 2
♣ 8 3
♦ 8 6 5 3

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid 2 no-trump.

As usual, this response promises eight or nine points. You would jump to 3 no-trump if you had a sprinkling of tens and nines, but the actual hand contains only three useful cards. If partner decides to stop short of game you will shed no tears.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Laser Companies Good For Future

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. My daughter who is overseas has a well-diversified portfolio but would like to add a company in the field of laser development. What companies are there? — E. C.

A. It might be easier to make a list of companies that aren't in lasers than to try and list the firms that are connected with this new and growing technology. Among the large electronics firms, many have a hand in laser development, including: American Telephone, Bendix Corp., Gen. Telephone, Raytheon, TRW, Inc. and Union Carbide. However, lasers comprise such a small percentage of their operations that the effects of any major breakthroughs would be disseminated.

In companies such as Perkin-Elmer, with a 6 per cent of orders last year coming from laser-optics, advances in the state-of-the-art could noticeably affect sales and earnings. The company has a close, working relationship with Hitachi Ltd., Japan's largest electronics concern. Earnings record is excellent with 94 cents a share reported in the 1968 fiscal year.

Optics Technology is a small and speculative company with a sizable stake in lasers and fiber optics — 42 per cent of revenues. Precise measurement instruments, thin film and research and development contracts contribute the remaining portion to billings. Relative to earnings, share price is high; 37 cents was reported in fiscal 1968.

Q. We will soon receive $5,000 which we would like to invest.

A. At your point in life, building capital with maximum safety is of prime importance. Dividing your $5,000 equally among the following three issues could boost your retirement fund: American Hospital Supply, American Telephone, and Standard Brands.

Redwood Empire Convention Is Set For Marin

The Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau has been advised that its bid for the holding of the Redwood Empire Association's annual convention at the new Holiday Inn, San Rafael, next September has been accepted.

It will be the first time that the event has been held in Marin, due to the lack, until this year, of facilities of a sufficient size to accommodate the gathering.

The REA convention will be held Sept. 24, 25, and 26 and will attract about 200 from outside the county.

Marin is one of the constituent counties of the Redwood Empire Association and many Marinites have been active in the organization. Currently members of its executive committee are Supervisor William Gnoss, and Jack Craemer of the Independent-Journal; Charles I. Daniels Jr. of San Rafael and Marin County chairman for REA; J. Galen Foster, San Rafael; Frank P. Myer of Point Reyes, and John F. Schlette, Muir Woods.

A program of events and entertainment for the convention is being planned by the county chamber and REA representatives.

King Louis XIV of France, who lived from 1638 to 1715, said he only took a bath once a year.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Pensions Are Usually Taxed; Some Exemptions Explained

Wikel

Pensions are usually taxed.

Sometimes they are tax exempt. Sometimes a part is tax exempt. Sometimes it is all tax exempt until you have recovered your investment in the contract and then it is all taxed.

If you get compensation for a disability received during the performance of your job and where the payments are in the nature of workmen's compansation, then the amount received is not taxed.

If you did not pay into the pension plan, then the full amount received is included in your inocme.

Where you did pay into the pension, the amounts received are taxed under the annuity rules.

That is, part of the payments are excluded to the extent that they are a return of your payments into the plan.

The part excluded is the payment recieved during the year multiplied by the total you paid in and divided by the total amount you expect to receive.

The total you expect to receive is figured by multiplying the total received annually by your life expectancy, or by the number of years the payments will be made. The life expectancy figures are in tables provided by the IRS.

If the total you will receive in the first three years is more than the total you paid in, a special rule applies. All payments you receive are not taxed until you have fully recovered all that you have paid in. After that, all payments are taxed.

If the total paid to you under an exempt employees' trust is paid in one taxable year, the difference between what you paid in and the amount paid to you is taxed as a long term capital gain. Any gain represented by securities of your employer will ordinarily not be taxed until sold.

Some wage continuation plans are part of the employee's pension or profit-sharing plan. If you are permanently disabled, you get your pension immediately.

If so, your benefits from the plan would not be an ordinary pension. It would be a wage continuation plan and subject to the sick pay exclusion until you reach retirement age.

Market Closes Low In Brisk Trading

NEW YORK (UPI) — The market retreated today in the face of a flow of depressing international news. Trading was brisk.

The Vietnam peace conference remained deadlocked; the forthcoming elections in West Berlin plunged the East-West toward another crisis, and Arab-Israeli tensions kept the Middle East in ferment.

Control Data, a heavily traded electronic issue, was off several points late in the day. It traded an early block of 231,000 shares at 135 off 5¾. Burroughs, up more than 7 in the previous session, also turned easier, as did IBM.

Tobacco issues generally were on the upbeat in late trading despite a drop in cigaret use in 1968, the first such decline for a calendar year since 1964.

United was a firm aerospace issue after gaining better than 4 yesterday. The firm recently reported record earnings and sales for 1968.

Rails moved in both directions, with Missouri Pacific on the upside much of the session. Penn Central tended easier. Oils also moved on both sides of previous closings, with Sinclair firm and Cities Service soft.

Du Pont, a recent winner, turned weaker in the chemicals. Airlines were narrowly irregular.

San Rafael Offers Voters A Better School Plan

San Rafael elementary schools will soon be in the unusually fortunate position of having a few classrooms to spare if voters next Tuesday authorize a $2.1 million school building bond issue — and if current enrollment projections prove accurate.

The building program worked out by the city schools administration and a citizen committee is based on switching to a new organizational plan for the elementary schools. Instead of kindergarten-sixth grades in neighborhood schools and seventh and eighth grades in junior high schools— the traditional pattern in California — it involves sending sixth graders to the junior highs, which then become "middle schools." Kindergarten through fifth grade remain in the neighborhood schools.

This plan has been tried for two years in the Santa Venetia area, with Santa Venetia School converted from junior high to middle school. It has worked well, according to Supt. John F. Plank.

IF THE BOND ISSUE is approved, Davidson Junior High will also be converted to a middle school, and a third middle school will be built on a site the district already has purchased and filled in Bayside Acres, just below the Glenwood Elementary School.

It is the shift of sixth graders into the middle schools that will create a temporary classroom surplus when all building proposed for the bond issue financing is completed.

Assuming that enrollments do not outstrip current projections, there would be 14 rooms available, scattered through seven of the 14 San Rafael elementary schools.

Seven of these, however, would be put to immediate use to get rid of some portable classrooms and create libraries at San Pedro and Coleman Schools. The remaining seven would provide the equivalent of one small neighborhood school to absorb future growth in enrollment.

THE PLAN WOULD THUS convert San Rafael's elementary schools from the position of always being crowded and struggling to handle enrollment increases — so long familiar in most California school districts — to the happy position of having space available for more pupils.

The projections, it should be added, extend only through 1974. By that time, all the building program contemplated should be completed.

A few years after that, if population growth continues, the surplus classrooms will all be full and more will be needed.

THAT REPRESENTS, to us, the best feature of the plan: If the projections are anywhere near accurate, San Rafael residents will not be called on to vote more bonds for elementary schools within the next six years, and perhaps not for nearly a decade.

No such happy situation has existed for a long time, although the district still has $428,000 remaining from bonds authorized in 1964.

THERE IS ANOTHER "plus" to the plan that also has strong appeal for the tax-burdened public: Its total is one million dollars less than that of an elementary school building plan for which the voters rejected a bond issue in October, 1967.

Rejection of the previous issue, then, appears to have saved a million dollars, plus interest, by leading to creation of a better plan.

The better plan now presented deserves approval on just about every count. We hope there is a large turnout of "yes" votes Tuesday.

Baar Against Unusual Raise

Marin's county supervisors were uniformly guilty of cutting the ground from under their own "hold-the-line" salary policy by granting 20 per cent raises to court reporters last month.

The Independent-Journal in a news story Jan. 22 and in editorial comment Feb. 6 said the increases to court reporters and court commissioner were voted unanimously. As regards the court reporters, however, such was not the case.

Minutes of the meeting show that Supervisor Louis H. Baar voted against the raise for the court reporters.

It is good to know that at least one of our new supervisors realizes that granting such raises makes much more difficult denying comparable increases to all other county employees—at huge cost to the taxpayers. Unfortunately, one vote doesn't do much to arrest the spiral.

Border Stations, Pest Control To Produce More Hue And Cry

By HENRY C. McARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Changes in operation of California's pest control program have been pending for some time, but before they are made, much noise is going to be heard over the best way to effect them.

It started with the administration's plan to close California border inspection stations. Immediately there was the hue and cry that the state was going to be left open to the infiltration of agricultural pests which had the potential ability to destroy hundreds of millions of dollars worth of various crops.

However, it never was the intention of the Department of Agriculture to halt activity on pest control, but rather to strengthen it through revised methods of control.

IN THIS objective, the department is joined by the Senate and Assembly committees on agriculture. Assemblyman Alan G. Pattee, R-Salinas, chairman of the assembly committee, and Sen. Fred Marler, R-Redding, have announced a joint meeting of their committees for Feb. 24 in the state capitol.

Pattee said the hearing is to discuss various reforms in the operation of California's border quarantine stations, including the proposal to close them down over a five-year period.

"While we have not yet given approval to bills proposing abolition of the stations," said Pattee, "the committee has been quite critical of their traditional method of operation.

"I personally feel there has been a disproportionate emphasis on passenger car inspection, as opposed to commercial traffic, and I have supported steps taken by the department to eliminate continuous operation and inspection at times and places where the risk element was minimal."

THE ASSEMBLYMAN pointed out that county agricultural commissioners contend abolition of the border stations would be nothing more than a cost shift from the state to the counties.

However, Pattee said the committee analyzed reports of border interceptions over two years ago and concluded they produced no evidence that the operations were effective.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Regional Authority Doomed By Vote

Regarding my letter which you published Feb. 5, I find you left out the part that directly challenged your editorial.

You editorialized that opposition to a popular referendum on regional government was "holding the voter in low regard." I argued that human beings naturally reject change that they do not know much about — if they have a choice. Then, my missing conclusion was:

"Meanwhile, a new regional authority looms as a big change in government, therefore something we are naturally suspicious about if we don't know enough about it. Under that set of circumstances, a popular referendum is virtually doomed to failure and a lot of taxpayers' money will have been wasted trying it."

Positive Image For Black Panthers

The Independent-Journal has contributed largely to the public's negative image of the Black Panther organization.

The following are random samples of the I-J's editorial and feature reports regarding the Panthers:

Jan. 16, 1968 — Editorial cartoon, "Guess who's coming to dinner?"

Jan. 27, 1968 — (Major Headline) page 2, "Black Panther Battles Charge As Mob Mills."

Sept. 7, 1968 — (front page) — "Newton's Jury Still Debating" (The article "Did the Black Panther founder murder the white policeman?")

Sept. 9, 1968 — (front page) — "Newton Convicted of Manslaughter" (First sentence — "Black Panther leader Huey Newton 26, was convicted of voluntary manslaughter. . .")

Sept. 11, 1968 — (Page 5) — "Two Policemen Fired After Panther Shots."

Unless the I-J has a definite vested interest in slanting the news relative to the Black Panthers, I would suggest the Panthers humanitarian qualities be reported as front page news also.

(1) Tell it like it is about "the Black Panthers breakfast program for hungry children in Oakland."

(2) Interview the organizers. Find out how difficult soliciting food from major food and milk companies is for the Panthers, while some of these company executives enjoy the comforts of life in Marin County.

Doctors Deserve Their High Earnings

I would like to comment on Mr. Jack Morris' letter (Feb. 6) criticizing doctors and their incomes.

Mr. Morris seems to feel that all doctors "make $75,000. a year, own three cars, a boat and live in a mansion". While some may qualify for this category, it is highly unlikely that all are this well off. But this is not my point. Let's suppose for a moment that all doctors are this well off. Do they in fact deserve this type of reward for their labors. I feel they do.

In order for them to be able to practice this most honored profession they must first spend many years of preparation. . . Whey they have completed their preparation and are ready to set up a practice of their own they are 30 years old or more, and have yet to make dollar one. and just because they have that MD after their names, patients are not lined up at their doors waiting to start dropping some of that $75,000. a year in their pockets. It takes many years to develop a substantial practice, and you don't do it by lounging around on your "boat", or playing golf every afternoon. You start out at six in the morning on hospital rounds, then on to your office, or clinic, to see patients for the better part of the day. If you're lucky you'll get home for an hour or two for dinner with your family — then back to the hospital to see your patients in the evening, and if all goes well you might get home by seven or eight that night. . .

It has been my experience that the vast majority are dedicated people doing the very best of their ability to help others.

Law Helps Combat Pornography Mail

Recently there have been one or two letters in the Independent-Journal complaining or remarking upon the distribution by mail of pornography to the home letter boxes of juveniles in Marin.

While the problem of continued sending of these materials through the mail, unsolicited, to young people is not near to a final solution, there is now in effect Public Law 90-206, passed by the last Congress and signed into law by President Johnson, which provides that the mailer may be compelled to remove your name, and the name of your children under the age of 19 years, from their mailing list within 30 days from notification by the Postal Service Center in your residence area.

A form for this purpose can be obtained from your postmaster. In addition, such materials should be brought to the attention of our office for investigation to determine whether a basis for criminal prosecution exists.

Miskimen Gets Reader's Bouquet

About 15 years ago a book was published titled "Silent Spring," by Rachel Carson. In this book she tells what she believes can happen to our air, water, plant, animal life and to humans because of the pollutants we cast aside and burn. Many scoffed and said, "It can't happen."

We now have one of our great lakes so polluted, Lake Erie I believe, that fish cannot live in it. It is a dead lake. Pesticides have killed animals and people. People in Los Angeles do not see the stars at night, nor the blue sky by day. Smog. Foliage in some areas is turning brown and becoming scarce.

Last week an oil slick destroyed hundreds of waterfowl, endangered the lives of a colony of seals and horribly damaged the beautiful Santa Barbara beach. In the paper that week we read about a certain oil company that wants to establish oil drilling in our bay.

A few days ago the I-J gave brickbats to Mr. John Miskimen, San Rafael city councilman and director of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, for voting for the backyard burning ban. I guess they think he went against city government protocol by voting yes when all the other councilmen wanted a no vote.

I send him a bouquet for having the courage to take a stand, regardless of the others, for the protection of all who live in this area.

One day Oscar Levant was discussing with Art Linkletter the virtues (few) and the faults (many) of a ward heeler running for an important city post. "How do you think he'll handle the riots and gangsters?" asked Linkletter. "Depend on him." Levant promised, "to double-cross that bridge when he comes to it."

Campus Destructionists Step Up Violence Because They're Losing

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — It is dangerous to expect that the campus violence, in which so few have done so much harm to so many, is ending.

Student resistance to student violence is getting stronger.

The lure of the campus destructionists, primarily the Students for a Democratic Society, to draw fellow students to their purposes is getting weaker.

But — and this needs to be understood right now — the SDS, the Black Panthers and other violence-prone groups are beginning to resort to more force not because they see themselves winning but because they see themselves losing.

THIS MAY WELL prove to be the climactic period of the campus destructionists, and it is likely to be the most perilous. The nonviolent students, whose ranks are growing, the faculty and the administrators on every campus will need to be especially alert to what lies ahead because the anti-reform, teardown revolters are beginning to act out of desperation.

Because destruction is their only goal and violence their only tactic, their inevitable response to waning influence is more violence.

This is why more campus violence is in the making, although the thing which is bringing it about — more students saying no to the destructionists — is favorable.

IT IS HEARTENING that the reformist, dissatisfied, liberal-radical students are coming to see that violence is the enemy of reform and to realize that they can immobilize the destructionists by openly opposing them.

This is beginning to happen.

In the early confrontations at Berkeley, the SDS was able to draw thousands of students into its melees. Now the SDS is fortunate to lure a few hundred, many of them outsiders.

The antiviolence political center on the campuses is just beginning to be roused. These students want a larger voice in their own education, but they want to get it through reason, dialogue and democratic precepts which are the hallmarks of intellectual freedom. They are realizing that they must actively oppose the tactics of vandalism and violence designed to destroy universities, which the SDS openly says it wants.

STUDENT APATHY against vandalism and violence is dropping away. Resistance is growing, and the need for it is growing, because the violence-prone are not going to give up without some desperate spasms of force.

The moderate, antiviolence students are seeking to organize for the crucial tests ahead. There is need for a student alliance to give leadership and help to the moderate students across the country.

If adults want to help and do something special to close the generation gap, they couldn't do better than to get in touch with young Charles T. Stephens, president of the National Association of Thomas Jefferson Clubs, 400 Veteran Ave., Los Angeles, Calif. 90024.

THE VIOLENT student revolters are at their work 24 hours a day. The response among the moderate students must be equally active and equally well organized.

This is why Stephens' efforts to set up a United Student Alliance deserves adult as well as student support.

Senate Group Prepares For Own Pueblo Inquiry

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — The first of many congressional inquiries to touch on the Pueblo mission will begin soon, without fanfare and behind closed doors.

Hearings will be conducted by the Senate subcommittee which oversees the Central Intelligence Agency. Periodically, the subcommittee takes a look at world trouble spots. This time it will also focus on policies and decision-making with respect to spy missions such as the Pueblo's.

The CIA subcommittee does all its business in private. It issues no reports and publishes no hearing transcript — not even a censored "sanitized" version.

RICHARD HELMS, director of CIA, has been scheduled as the subcommittee's first witness. Last week Helms repeated that neither he nor the CIA had anything to do with the Pueblo mission or any of the spy ship's crew.

By law Helms, in addition to running the CIA from its Langley, Va., headquarters, is also "director of central intelligence" — coordinator for all the government's intelligence operations.

Subcommittee members want to know how spy ship missions are conceived and authorized and how, once authorized, they are supervised and directed. If coordinator Helms played no role at all, subcommittee members would like to know how the Navy got clearance for electronic spying off the North Korean coast.

ACTUALLY, the CIA subcommittee is two merged subcommittees, from the Senate Armed Services and Appropriations committees. It is headed by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga.

Some members of the Foreign Relations Committee are interested in the high-echelon command and control of the Pueblo. Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, has formally suggested that his group join the Armed Services Committee in joint Pueblo hearings.

Perhaps the most valuable result of all education is the ability to make yourself do the things you have to do, when it ought to be done, whether you like it or not; it is the first lesson that ought to be learned; and however early a man's training begins, it is probably the last lesson that he learns thoroughly. — Thomas H. I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By ANNE BARDWELL

Hikers Get The Message: Go Horseback–Into The Bay

"Hikers and horses don't belong in suburbia" was the message in Tiburon Monday night.

Horses and hikers will depreciate suburban Tiburon's property values, according to residents who spoke out loudly against the proposed Tiburon trails plan.

"Trails on Mount Tamalpais are fine, but not through a suburban area. We'll have all the riff-raff from all over the Bay Area coming to Tiburon," one very vocal woman said.

"Riff-raff" is a rather old-fashioned term and it is surprising to hear it popping up today, especially in reference to hikers.

UNTIL RECENTLY hikers were viewed by most of the less athletic indoor types as being somewhat odd but totally wholesome. When one thought of hikers he would envision robust, pink-cheeked European mountain types wandering over Mount Tamalpais in lederhosen singing "The Happy Wanderer."

Admittedly, hikers aren't the neatest people in the world, by the nature of their sport. It's not easy nor desirable to climb the mountain or walk the trail with white shirt and tie, shoes polished.

But, today in Tiburon, they're considered riff-raff. Send 'em to Mount Tamalpais, Angel Island or Stinson Beach, but don't let them into Tiburon.

HORSES ARE a slightly different matter.

The love of horses is similar to the love of cats. You either do or don't, rather vehemently, and there are really few who can take the middle ground — especially when horses have the habit of leaving a place a little less neat than the way they found it.

However, horses are a big thing in Southern Marin, especially on the west side of Highway 101. That's why it's a little surprising to find so many on the east side of the highway against them.

In Mill Valley, anyone who is against horses is against motherhood, chocolate fudge, Santa Claus and conservation, all wrapped up in one package. It's sort of like being against boats in Sausalito or against pot at Olompali.

But, in Tiburon, many believe horses create problems, not the least of which is the need for "larger shovels for the public works department," as City Councilman Thomas E. Drohan said.

Actually, it's all a plot by Mill Valley residents: They're sending the horses to Tiburon in revenge for all the riff-raff Tiburon's sending to Mount Tamalpais.

ADDED NOTE: MORE THAN one Mill Valley resident this week has come to the defense of trails through residential areas, saying it's not such a bad thing, despite what some of Tiburon's best might believe. The Dipsea Trail is a delight to all that know it, including those homeowners who are fortunate enough to have "more than 800 men, women and children, dressed in their underwear, running like hell for Stinson Beach" each year.

Six Seniors Named As Semifinalists

Six seniors at San Domenico School in Sleepy Hollow have been named semifinalists in the state college scholarship program after taking aptitude tests.

The six, who now must submit financial statements to qualify for a scholarship, are Christine Dohrmann and Laura Hofmeister of San Rafael, Rita Knox of San Anselmo, Jean Mariani of Novato, June Rettig of Tiburon and Toni Farrell of Galt, Sacramento County.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Administrator Keeps On Trying To Usurp Others' Authority

Fusselman

To recap a bit: On Dec. 20, in this column: "What a gall this fellow (Administrator Alan Bruce) has to insolently presume, with a recommendation for an increase of any sort, much less one that exceeds the one of the grand jury, for his bosses."

He had recommended, in a list of proposed legislation to be presented to the 1969 Legislature at Sacramento, that the salary of the supervisors be raised from $9,000 a year to $15,286 in 1971.

WELL, THE GALL of this man has been increasing no end. You have read the front page article last Saturday by Bryce Anderson: "Probation Officer Recruiting Plans Contradicted By Law." Bruce had related the day before his plans for recruiting a replacement for the position of probation officer from which Walter H. Busher is resigning. It was a long procession of bureaucratic procedure which ended up with his making the decision as to which one or more names he would submit to the supervisors for action.

Anderson's story, by quoting code sections of state law covering the procedure which must be followed, showed that neither Bruce nor the supervisors have anything to do with this at all.

The juvenile justice commission of the county, composed of eight members, makes the nomination to the judge of the juvenile court of the county, who makes the appointment, if he approves.

THIS NEW BOARD of supervisors is going to really have egg on its collective face if it doesn't put a curb on this "most powerful man in county government." He is pushing and pushing constantly.

Since the old board raised his salary time after time instead of doing their homework themselves, until it is within $44 of $26,000 a year, it is no wonder he thinks he can usurp the duties of the courts and their appointed commissions or bodies. He gets more money than the judges. What a laugh, if it wasn't so serious!

He even tried to abolish the West Marin Justice Court last year by refusing to put anything in the budget for its operation. For once the board became startled and said no! no! you just can't do that. He keeps coming all the time though.

With Bruce, Paul C. Zucker, the planning director, and Seymour Kashin, Marin Transit manager(?), the county has a troika which is a honey.

Antidraft Youth Sent To Psychiatric Unit

A 23-year-old student charged with threatening to blow up the San Rafael Selective Service Office last month has been committed to the Marin Community Mental Health Center and federal charges against him will be dropped, the U.S. Attorney's office in San Francisco said yesterday.

William Byron Masterson, who was also charged with threatening bodily harm to two agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, was committed to the center Monday as a result of psychiatric tests ordered by U.S. District Court Judge Albert C. Wollenberg.

Jerrold Ladar, of Mill Valley, chief of the U.S. Attorney's criminal division, said federal legal action against the youth has been halted.

Masterson, a journalism student at the University of California at Berkeley and a former Terra Linda resident, was charged after he sent a letter in December saying he was "tired of being badgered" by the Selective Service and would blow up the San Rafael office, where he was registered, if it didn't stop.

An explosion, caused by a bomb, ripped through the building in which the San Rafael Selective Service office is located the night of Feb. 2. Masterson, arrested 18 days earlier, was in custody at the time. No arrests have been made in the bombing.

Ladar said Masterson also sent another letter, threatening to "blow the — brains out" of two FBI agents, Elwin Wegner of San Rafael and Harold Hoblitt of Berkeley.

The two agents had visited Masterson's Berkeley home after he failed to show up for a physical examination to determine draft status but he was not at home.

Judge Wollenberg ordered the psychiatric tests following Masterson's arrest after Ladar said he acted erratically during his arrest on Jan. 15.

Masterson, who was held on a bond of $50,000, was formally charged as a result of the bomb threat with extortion, which includes a threat delivered by mail.

Tiburon Officials Renamed To Panels

Two Tiburon officials have been named to standing committees of the League of California Cities.

Councilman Denis T. Rice has been reappointed to the committee on undergrounding utilities and City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose has been renamed to the committee on finance administration.

Plans For Toll Booth Changes Not Ready Yet

Plans to remove some toll booths to provide an unobstructed roadway for toll-free traffic on the Golden Gate Bridge, to have been ready yesterday, will not be ready until the last week of this month, reported Dale W. Luehring, general manager of the bridge and highway district.

The district's engineering staff needed more time to draw the plans because it has been busy with the special bridge maintenance project under way, Luehring explained.

He said last month that the one-way toll collection system may be reversed because southbound traffic already is merged as it comes off the bridge, thus can flow easily through the toll plaza. Northbound traffic must merge from seven approach lanes, and toll collection would help monitor this traffic onto the bridge, he noted.

Rafferty Says High Schools SDS Targets

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Organized efforts will be made to foment student disturbances in California high schools, Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, said yesterday.

"I have in my hand documentary evidence of the coming organized attempt to subvert our California high schools," Rafferty told the State Board of Education.

He said the material advocating upheavals in the schools is being distributed by the "so-called and badly misnamed Students for a Democratic Society."

Rafferty said the unrest will begin after underground newspapers are circulated on high school campuses. The papers will "allege all manner of grievances and existing evils ranging from racial discrimination to administrative tyranny," he said.

Meetings will then be held off campus and student groups will pressure principals for certain innovations. Included will be demands for special courses for ethnic groups, pupil participation in reorganizing the curriculum, abolition of the grading system, discontinuance of examinations and firing of certain teachers and hiring of others, Rafferty said.

Other action will include fighting on school grounds, intimidation of parents and pressure on administrators to submit to the demands of the agitators, he added.

Rafferty said the plans also call for a pupil boycott of the schools and terrorizing students and teachers who fail to join the strike.

"It is a blueprint for short term anarchy and long term facism in our schools," he said.

Urging administrators to take steps now to prevent the problems anticipated, Rafferty said that "the techniques I have just outlined are illegal under California law."

He suggested that school boards adopt detailed written policies providing for "immediate suspension of pupils who join in such actions . . ."

School District Split Rejected

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The state Board of Education yesterday rejected a proposal for a three-way split of the Sequoia Union High School District in San Mateo County.

The board voted to adopt the state department of Education's staff recommendation, rejecting the proposal from the San Mateo County Committee on School District Organization.

The county committee's recommendation was turned down because "it did not meet criteria in the law relating to the barriers for improving the minority-ethnic situation as far as segregation is concerned," said Ray Johnson, assistant state superintendent of public instruction.

Slide Plaint Attributed In Error

A couple who complained about a slide near Tamalpais Junction at Tuesday's meeting of the Marin County Board of Supervisors were wrongly identified in Wednesday's story in the Independent-Journal.

It was Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Banyai of 257 Morningsun Avenue, whose home sits on a hill above the slide, who appeared before the supervisors to complain that their home was endangered.

The news story identified them as Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bassett. The Bassetts, who live at 167 Lovell Avenue, complained by letter that the owner of the slide property, Frank M. Gelardi, "should at least build and pay for a retaining wall to correct the damage he caused by excessive excavation early in 1966."

The supervisors, who had Bassetts' letter in front of them, kept referring to the Banyais as Mr. and Mrs. Bassett, and the error was never corrected during the discussion.

But the slide will be corrected. Public Works Director Donald R. Frost and assistant Michael King told the supervisors that the slope of the cut was steeper than shown on Gelardi's plan.

On the basis of that report, Supervisors Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and Michael Wornum declared that Gelardi had contributed to the problem by excavating more than he should have.

Gelardi denied this, but the supervisors asked him to design a proper retaining wall and instructed public works director Frost to come in with a report on Feb. 25.
